

WE HAVE THEM.

An immense line of Ladies and Misses Coats and Wraps. Just received a new stock of the latest designs and patterns. You are invited to come and see them.

At the same time we keep a complete line of all kinds of dress goods. Our low prices are the greatest inducements.

LYON & CO.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

"Will of the Wisp" next Monday evening.

Mr. J. J. Orndorf, of Woodward, was a pleasant caller at our office on Tuesday.

The first real snow of the season fell on Tuesday morning to a depth of several inches.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium is being fitted up with steam heat and bath rooms.

Mrs. Joe. W. Furey, of Lock Haven, is soliciting subscriptions for a work entitled "The World's Fair Book."

From the number of raffling matches going on in our part of the town, Thanksgiving turkeys should be plenty.

The next attraction in the opera house will be McCloud & Melville in "Will of the Wisp," next Monday evening.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve dinner and supper in the Y. M. C. A. rooms this Thursday. Dinner 35 cents; supper 25 cents.

Thursday of next week the Phillipsburg football team will be in Bellefonte to play a return game. The contest will occur on the glass works meadow.

An Egyptian mummy, said to be over 3,000 years old, is an attraction in the Racket store window. It is quite a curiosity and large crowds of people can be seen regularly at the front of their store.

W. R. Camp and family, of Tyrone, formerly engaged in the furniture business at Bellefonte, have moved from Tyrone to Milroy. He will engage in the furniture and undertaking business with his father at that place.

The music rendered in some of our churches, at present, is far beyond that heard heretofore. It has the effect of attracting many to Sunday services who otherwise would be somewhere else.

Rev. Wheeler, who holds services regularly each night in the Centre County Bank building, is creating some stir among theologians. His views upon the Sabbath are making some uneasy.

Unclaimed Letters. Annie Clemson; James Henderson; George Durner; H. S. Hicks; Mary Dukeman; Lillie Hooper; A. G. Delamater; Moscaro Maccario; Addie R. Gilliland; Moscaro Rosario; Travasso Carmine. When called for please say advertised.

Mr. S. H. Diehl will give an exhibition of his World's Fair and Johnson's floor stereopticon views in Garman's opera house on Wednesday evening, November 29th. Mr. Diehl has a fine collection of views, among the latest are scenes from the World's Fair.

The Thanksgiving Ball to be given next Wednesday evening, Nov. 29th, by the Undine Fire Company promises to surpass former occasions. An elegant orchestra will be on hand and many visitors from adjoining towns are expected.

The Bellefonte Board of Trade, at their meeting on Tuesday night decided to extend a reception and banquet to the gentlemen who were successful in securing for Bellefonte a competing line of railroad. This is a just recognition of their efforts to promote the interests of our town.

It is reliably rumored that Editor Newton Baily at last has decided to double-up, catch-on, trot in double harness, tie himself to calico—in short we mean, get married. The young lady lies at Punxsutawney, Jefferson county, Pa. Everybody will be invited to dance at the wedding.

An old chestnut—wormy long ago—about the deeds of Lewis & Connelly was reviewed and rebashed by some of our local papers. Then in addition there was about a half column of one writer's expanded imagination that was palmed off to create a sensation. The Lewis and Connelly stories are too old for us; our readers are not deserving of the punishment.

Over ten thousand envelopes were printed at this office, during the past week, with the Bellefonte Board of Trade advertisement on the back of the envelope. This printing will be put on the back of envelopes for any one, the Board of Trade paying the expense. It is an elegant method of advertising the advantages of Bellefonte as a manufacturing centre. And every business man in Bellefonte should use such stationery.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

TO ASSEMBLE MONDAY DEC. 18TH, 1893.

In Garman's Opera House, at Bellefonte—Some of the Instructors—List of School Teachers in the County—where located.

County Superintendent C. L. Gramley has superintended all arrangements for holding the 47th annual Teachers' Institute of this county. The session will be about one week earlier than formerly, beginning on Monday, December 18th, and continuing until Friday following. Heretofore the sessions were held in the court house, but the room is not suited for such a gathering as it is too small and the audience is never in full view of the instructors. The arrangements of the opera house are such that better facilities will be afforded.

Among the instructors who will take part in the exercises during the week are: Dr. Phillips, of West Chester Normal; Dr. Geo. G. Groff, of Bucknell University, Lewisburg; Prof. George Twitmyer, Honesdale, Pa.; Prof. Swift, Ridgeway, Pa.; ex-County Supt. Brumgard, of Lock Haven, and others. The evening entertainments are: Monday, lecture, "Bits of Europe," by Dr. Phillips; Tuesday, lecture, "Mind your own business," by Dr. Enders; Wednesday, lecture, "Patrick Henry," by J. J. Pinkerton; Thursday, musical entertainment by the Schuman Concert Co.

On Thursday the annual convention of the school directors of Centre county will be held at this place, likely in the court house. Other information concerning sessions of institute will be given later on.

Through the kindness of Superintendent Gramley we are enabled to give our readers a list of the school teachers in our county, the names of the schools and the townships or towns in which they are located. If some of the names are incorrectly spelled, don't blame the printer for they were copied from the returns made by secretaries of school boards and the manuscripts, in a number of cases, were horribly bad:

There are in all about 250 school teachers in the county, which gives Mr. Gramley a large scope of work to visit each one and see that the teachers are properly performing their work.

Gen. Beaver and Prof. John Hamilton of State College, will address the institute upon the work of the State Forestry Commission and the observance of arbor day.

The complete and correct program of county institute will be given in a later issue.

Railroad Opening.

The next important event will be the formal opening of the new Central railroad of Pennsylvania. By this time the track has been about completed to the Bellefonte terminus. The depot building is rapidly advancing with a strong force of carpenters. This week masons are laying the foundation for the round house and repair shops in the vicinity of the Bellefonte mill works. All the iron bridges are about completed and track is about finished to Mill Hall.

The company expect to open the road for travel and traffic by Monday, Dec. 4th, and will be able to do so if the weather remains favorable.

Death at Zion.

On Thursday afternoon, of last week, Mr. Martin Brumgard died at the residence of his son, Martin Brumgard, near Zion. Mr. Brumgard was ailing from an attack of dropsy for over a year and it caused his death. He was 75 years of age. The interment occurred on Sunday at Zion. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Daniel Johnson, of State College and Mrs. George Garbrick, of Spring township, and one son with whom he lived for several years past.

The Bonanza.

The Bonanza Farming Mill Co., of this place, made a contract with the Phoenix planing mill to build a large number of their machines. A great many orders have been taken already and they expect to be doing business on a large scale in a short time. The planing mill and grain separator catches the eye of every person who sees it work.

New Postmasters.

On Monday two new post office appointments were made for Centre county: Lemont, J. I. Williams; at Linden Hall Mrs. F. T. Keller was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her husband, J. Wm. Keller.

Headquarters for ready made clothing for men, boys and children. Clothing made to order. Dunlap, Youman and Sherman's latest styles of derby hats. Full line of Men's Furnishing goods. A new sales room has been added under the first floor. MONTGOMERY & CO.

SHOOT A HORSE.

An Amusing Incident Down in Brush Valley. A serio-comic affair took place down in Miles township, a few mornings ago, which has hardly yet been paralleled in its line as to the ludicrous and serious, the actor being a scarce 6 year old toddler of Ira Brungart one of the best farmers in that section.

Mr. Brungart has living with him a young hired man, named Bierly, who had permission to keep a horse of his on the farm, the animal having its regular stall in the stables. Young Bierly, a few days ago, hitched his in a buggy and drove on a visit to his parents, a few miles distant, returning late at night, with a horse exchanged for another belonging to his father, and thinking he might sell it to Mr. Brungart. The horse was that night put into the stall in which Bierly had kept his horse.

The next morning the lad happened to wander into one of the fodder gangs and in Bierly's stall he spied a strange horse, in the place of the one he was used to seeing there, and naturally the lad concluded the strange horse must be a tramp, an intruder, and that he would attend to him.

Some farmers are in the habit of keeping a loaded gun in their barn for an emergency an such was the case here. The lad knew where the gun was and he got it; with some effort he got it up to rest on the manger, and set the hammer; the horse instinctively brought his nose close to the muzzle to take the smell, and the little fellow pulled the trigger. The result was a pretty bad hurt; along the one side of the snout, while the recoil kicked the juvenile Nimrod sprawling into the fodder gang.

The veterinary feels confident he can heal the wound received by the horse. Reporter.

Council Meeting.

Bellefonte council had an interesting session on Monday night. The borough surveyor was directed to give Mr. Reeder a proper grade for a pavement in front of his residence on north Allegheny street with notice that if the same would not be put in proper shape council would complete the same.

Complaint was made of damage done by bad drainage of water on Howard street that flooded many cellars.

The necessity of building a substantial board walk from High street along Water street to the new depot was apparent but whose duty it should be was a disputed question. Engineer Butts and the street commissioner were appointed to go over the ground and report to special meeting of council on Friday evening.

The contract for electric lighting expires Jan. 1st, 1894, and that was taken up and discussed at some length. The advisability of a one, three of five year contract was discussed. The Edison Illuminating company, through their manager, Mr. Kitson, made a proposition to keep all arc lights burning all night for 75 cents additional per light each month. It was accepted, without fixing upon any definite period. The usual bills were paid.

After council meeting a racket occurred between Dr. Dartt, councilman and the Bell brothers, masons, who laid the brick crossing on the diamond. An exchange of warm compliments passed and several blows followed. No serious damage was done except some marked places.

Thanksgiving Ball.

The members of the Undine Fire Company, of Bellefonte, will hold their second annual Thanksgiving ball on Wednesday evening, November 29th, in the Bush Arcade hall. Music will be furnished by a full orchestra under the direction of Prof. Chas. Spangenberg. The admission will be fifty cents.

The Undine Fire Company is deserving of patronage. The handsome engine purchased by them is a safeguard to every property holder in Bellefonte. It takes money to keep a fire company equipped and for that reason it is the duty of everyone to assist them; buy a ball ticket as the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the company.

Death of Wm. Wagner.

Wm. E. Wagner, a former resident of Pennsvalley, this county, died at St. Louis, Mo., on Nov. 11th, aged 57 years. A wife, one grown son and a daughter survive him. Mr. Wagner was raised in Pennsvalley, being a son of Capt. John B. Wagner now deceased. He was clerk of the probate court of St. Louis, at the time of his death.

Fine Weather.

The past fall season was attended by the most pleasant weather known for years. There was an ordinary amount of rain but not enough to put the roads in bad shape. There were no severe cold spells to frost late fruit or vegetation and our farmers had the most favorable conditions for gathering the late crops. It has been a delightful season attended with comparatively little sickness.

The Philad. Branch makes a specialty of childrens clothing this season. Four brands—"The Little General," "The Little Czar," "The Little Senator," "The Little King." All of them have double knees and double seats. You get double wear, therefore the best value. This is positively the finest and best line in the market.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Table listing marriage licenses issued during the past week, including names of couples and their locations.

Death of Gen. Hoffer.

Mr. George Hoffer died on Thursday morning of last week, at his home, "Hoffer's Boarding House," Huntingdon, Pa. At times he had been subject to slight sinking spells, and while on the road to church on several occasions he would falter and for a few seconds could not move. These attacks did not alarm him, and otherwise his health was as good as could be expected of a man nearly 70 years old.

He retired Wednesday night in his usual health, but his actions at three o'clock Thursday morning awoke his wife, and she had only time to summon the two daughters at home to the bed chamber, when the husband and father breathed his last. The interment occurred at that place the following Saturday.

Mr. Hoffer was born near Centre Hall, where he resided for the greater portion of his life. He afterwards kept a hotel at State College. From there he moved to Alexandria and in 1886 to Huntingdon. He leaves a wife and nine grown children, as follows: Mrs. A. C. Mingle, of Bellefonte; John, a farmer in Wyoming; Christian, a dairyman at Altoona; Philip, a saddler in Georgia; Olie, a merchant tailor in Philadelphia; William, associate editor of the Mansfield (Ohio) Shield; Miss Emma, residing in Philadelphia; Misses Fannie and Ella, at home.

Deceased was a brother of the late John Hoffer, of this place, of Peter Hoffer and also Mrs. Jared Murray, at Centre Hall.

Mistakes of Others.

One of our county papers recently made the statement that J. C. Meyer, Esq., had connected himself with the law firm of Orris, Bower & Orris. That is a mistake; no such arrangement was agreed upon or thought of by any of the above parties. The law firm of Orris, Bower & Orris will be continued by Messrs. C. M. Bower and Ellis L. Orris under the old firm name. Both gentlemen have had years of experience in the practice and are among the foremost members of this bar association.

GARMANS.

BULLETIN FROM GARMAN'S. One woman's fancy in the matter of color in dress runs to blue, another to green, another to red, another to brown, until their diversified tastes have run the whole gamut of colors, and yet they unite on black. It is safe to say that not one woman in the country who can afford it—and all can nowadays when the rage of fabric and price is so extensively varied, and a good black dress can be bought for so little—no matter what her preference in color, but has at least one black gown.

The usefulness of a black gown, owing to its adaptability to almost any occasion, makes it doubly desirable. Many women who cannot afford to keep pace with the changing colors adopt black exclusively and preserve an appearance of gentility and refinement.

Consider what an enormous quantity of black fabrics is distributed throughout this broad land of more than sixty million people, a large proportion of which is women—what buying and selling—and you can form some idea of the magnitude of the Black Goods Industry. And let us add that our Black Dress Goods Department cuts no mean figure in this branch of trade; in fact, that it stands boldly forth in the front rank.

We carry everything that is new and desirable in black goods besides the old favorites, such as Cashmere, Henrietta, Serges, etc., which cannot be dispensed—and we have always plenty of them.

FROM SAMPLE DEPARTMENT.

We cheerfully send samples of any kind or quality of piece goods without charge, on application by postal or otherwise, and would endeavor to impress upon you the advisability of being as explicit as possible as to color, price and width, and we can then send more suitable samples instead of a great lot that would be useless to you.

JUST IN!

We closed a small lot of men's overcoats; They are worth every cent of $13, we bought them cheap and you get the benefit. They are on our tables, marked

TEN DOLLARS. Last week Mr. James Alexander, Esq., moved his law office from the Garman block and now occupies part of E. B. Chambers' law office. No legal partnership, as was announced, was formed by these gentlemen. They are partners only in paying room rent.

They are the biggest value we ever offered. They won't last long. SEE THEM.
