Court Notes.

The trial of the action to recover $20,000 damages for the loss of eyesight, Lyman Korman vs. A. G. Morris, the lime stone operator was concluded on Thursday evening. The jury, after being out over an hour, returned a verdict for the defendant. By that they mean that they were not satisfied that there was negligence on the part of Mr. A. G. Morris in furnishing unsafe material for Mr. Korman in blasting rock. It was claimed, by the plaintiff, that cotton fuse was used because it was cheaper, and against the protests of the workmen because it was liable to hold fire by smouldering after squibbing, and that this could be the only way the premature blast occurred. Various opinions are heard in regard to this verdict.

Adam Grenoble vs. the Bellefonte Central Railroad company—constructed a "Y" on Mr. Grenobles farm near State College and it destroyed a fine piece of meadow land. A body of viewers awarded him $600. Thinking that too low, the case was tried April 1892 and a verdict of $1384 was awarded the plaintiff. The court thought that was too high and gave the plaintiff the choice of a reduction of $800 or a new trial, and the latter was taken. The verdict was $975 damages for the plaintiff. The original claim was $2000.

Judge McPherson who has been presiding during the week left a very favorable impression with the legal fraternity. He presided with the ability and dignity becoming the position. His manner of dispatching business was admired. On Thursday evening Hon. A. O. Furst, entertained Judge McPherson and members of the bar, at his residence on Linn street

Council Meetings.

The boro council met on Monday evening. The principal business done was: Street committee reported a number of necessary improvements made.

The water committee had a portion of the water main on North Allegheny street lowered below the frost line. Also that a water main was laid from Spring street to the C. R. R. of Pa. station for filling engines.

The Water street board walk question came up when councilman Hillibish moved that James Harris be given the contract at $150 for building same.

After considerable discussion the motion carried and the board walk will be laid for by the boro treasurer. An arc light was ordered for Water street in the vicinity of the new station. Supt. Kitson, in the behalf of the electric light company, made a proposition to furnish the boro with 40 arc lights, all night service, at $8 per month, or $3.84 per year. No action was taken.

Musical Conventions.

A convention of vocal and instrumental music will be held in the Presbyterian church, at Hunters Park, commencing Monday, Jan. 1, 1894, with three rehearsals daily, and closing on Saturday evening, Jan. 6th, with a grand concert. The convention will be under the direction of Prof. P. H. Meyer, of Boalsburg.

A musical convention will be held at Madisonburg, commencing on Christmas and continuing during that week, conducted by Prof. Geo. E. Wise, who will be assisted by Prof. Lowell Meyer. A grand concert on Saturday night. Proceeds for the benefit of the Lutheran, Evangelical and Reformed churches of that place.

A Bad Cut.

Last week while Mr. Alf Ossman was assisting in butchering at the home of Cyrus Durst, near Linden Hall he met with a painful accident. Mr. Ossman was operating the chopping machine, which was of an old pattern, four heavy knives fastened to the ends of long hickory sticks and drop on a cutting block. These arms were thrown back and Mr. Ossman was leaning forward over the cutting block when they dropped forward on the side of his head and face cutting four deep gashes in the scalp and neck. Fortunately no vital part of his anatomy were injured, but he carries a number of deep and very painful wounds.

A Large Check.

Last Friday, Mr. W. H. Musser, agent for the Union Central Life Insurance Co., of Cincinnati, delivered a check for $10,000 to the executors of the late Hon. John H. Orvis, of Bellefonte, it being the full amount of insurance in that company. That makes $45,000 paid thus far by two companies. Mr. Orvis invested a large portion of his income in this manner, and his wisdom in this direction is being practically demonstrated. These are the largest sums of life insurance paid in this section for years.

Cruel Evictions.

Last week thirty-five families of coal miners were turned out of their homes by a coal operator at Blue Ball, Clearfield county. There has been no work for them for a long time, and they could not pay their rent, so eviction followed. The poor families made a long procession as they left Blue Ball with their household effects tied to their backs, and their children stringing along laden with tin ware and other articles. Nobody seemed to know where they were heading for, but it was thought to some near by mining town. They were Swedes and Huns.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

IN SESSION IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

Well Attended by the Teachers—List of Instructors Present and What is Being Done—Other news.

On Monday morning the trains were packed with school teachers from every section of Centre county, on their way to Bellefonte to attend the annual sessions of institute. There are 270 teachers in Centre county and on Monday 250 of them responded to the roll call. By this time nearly every one is present. The institute is being held in the opera house this year instead of the court house. Each teacher is assigned to a numbered seat and when that is vacant the roll clerk makes a note of it. Institute was practically opened on Monday afternoon, the forenoon being devoted to the enrollment. Rev. Hoshover offered the opening prayer and Rev. M. O. Noll delivered the address of welcome. His remarks were appropriate. Among the things he said was that he was a book agent; his book being the Holy Bible. As secretary of the Centre county Bible Society he was authorized to offer them at cost.

Dr. G. M. Phillips, a famous and popular instructor, from West Chester then spoke of "Measuring and Weighing the Earth" in which he imparted some original ideas and new theories. He does not believe in all that old nonsense, that the interior of the earth is a molten mass of fire with a mere shell, the earth's crust, for our habitation. Under such a state of affairs, the Doctor thinks, old Mother Earth would have busted long ago.

Prof. Geo. Twitmyer, of Honesdale, who is acquainted with many of the teachers, gave his idea of what a "recitation" should be. Ex-county Superintendent Brumgard, of Lock Haven, explained his system of teaching writing. Dr. Phillips address on "Bits of Europe," Monday evening, was highly interesting and attracted close attention. The Dr. left Bellefonte on Tuesday afternoon.

Prof. Swift, ex-superintendent of Elk county, made a brief address on "School Organization." He was followed by Dr. Phillips with a talk on "Arithmetic in the school room." Prof. Bussey, of Williamsport, spoke briefly on "Art and drawing." Prof. Brumgard followed with an instructive talk on "Primary reading." An opportunity was then given to any of the teachers to ask questions, which opportunity was taken advantage of by many. Tuesday afternoon Prof. Twitmyer continued his talk on "Recitations", in which he pointed out good methods and the pleasures of study.

Dr. Phillips was called on to answer a number of questions and showed the difference between "stocks" and "bonds." Prof. Bussey spoke next on drawing. Dr. Phillips again spoke upon funds appropriated for county institutes; and Prof. Brumgard gave an idea of the prices paid eminent instructors. Tuesday evening Prof. Twitmyer, of Honesdale, delivered his lecture upon "Spirit of a New Education."

Wednesday morning, after devotional exercises, the question box was opened. A short talk on "Music" by Prof. Geo. G. Groff, of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., one of the best instructors in the country, gave an interesting talk on "Rocks and Soils." The following committees were then appointed: NOMINATIONS—G. W. Johnstonbaugh, R. J. Snyder and Mary Ward; RESOLUTIONS, Ira N. McCloskey, James Gregg, J. H. Harpster, Annie Essington and Frances Thompson. The session concluded with an address by C. M. Wolf, of Jacksonville, upon "Self Improvement."

The attendance at the Wednesday afternoon session was very large. The building was packed. Prof. Lose, of Phillipsburg, gave his idea of how "Literature should be taught." Prof. Rutt, of Milesburg followed and spoke upon the same subject. The remarks of Prof. Hubbard, of Snow Shoe, were in the same line.

Prof. Enoch Perrine, of Bucknell University, delivered an able lecture on Wednesday evening upon "American Humor." It was original, instructive and highly entertaining.

NOTES.

James C. Noll, Esq., was appointed secretary of institute and is filling the position admirably.

Superintendent Gramley is afflicted with an attack of the grip which taxes his energies.

J. C. Morris, the roll clerk, has a new system; roll call has been done away and a note is made when a vacant seat appears.

The following ex-county superintendents attended the various sessions: R. M. Magee, Esq., of Philadelphia; Dr. D. M. Wolf, of Spring Mills; Prof. D. O. Eitters, of Bellefonte; Prof. D. M. Brumgard, of Lock Haven; Prof. Swift, of Elk Co., and Prof. Lose, of Phillipsburg.
