LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Rush and Wm. Larimer are on the sick list. H. I. Bouse sold his drug store at Snow Shoe. John Powers, the shoe man, who has been sick for some time, is no better. "Little Nugget" at the opera house, this Thursday evening. It will be a benefit for Jim. Derr, the bill poster. Edward C. Humes, president of the 1st National Bank, is quite sick at his home. His illness is of a serious nature. The new turntables for the C. R. I. of Pa., at this place and Mill Hall are completed and no more engines will need to run over the road reversed. The residence of Abraham McCollum at Milesburg, caught fire in the attic from a defective flue. Active work by the bucket brigade saved it. Sheriff Condo has more business at present than he and his deputy can well attend to. They have been on the jump ever since the first of the year. During the past year there were 343 marriage licenses issued in Centre county. Notwithstanding the hard times, the marriage list has increased over the previous year. Commissioners Clerk Robert F. Hunter, has reason to feel delighted; an interesting little son called at his place on Monday evening and you can be assured that he was welcome. Centre county Pomona Grange, No. 13, will meet in hall of Bald Eagle Grange, Milesburg, this Thursday, Jan. 11, at 10:30 a. m. sharp. Installation of officers and exemplification of unwritten work during the day. "Grimes Cellar Door," a lively jolly farce comedy, will be presented at the opera house next Tuesday evening. If you want to drive dull care away go to the opera house next Tuesday evening and take a good hearty laugh. On Monday evening Thomas Caldwell and Miss Mamie Mushaw were married by Father McArdle. After the ceremony a reception was held at the groom's home. The boys paid their usual respects on the outside. On Tuesday J. S. McCargar sold his tobacco store and pool and billiard room, located in the Conrad building, to Geo. B. Crawford, the ex-deputy sheriff. Mr. Crawford expects to move to Bellefonte in April and will continue the same. The following news item is going the rounds and we presume it is correct: "The engagement of Mr. John Hogan Furst, son of Mr. A. S. Furst, of Cedar Springs, to Miss Miriam Scott, daughter of Mr. Jacob Scott, of Lock Haven, is announced." The Bellefonte Minstrel company are preparing to give a performance in the opera house, February 22nd, for the benefit of the Logan fire company. The boys always gave very creditable performances, and no doubt will be quite liberally patronized. It looks as though the town council and the Edison electric light company will have some difficulty in arriving at an understanding. The company are not willing to continue during the year according to the terms of the old contract which expires January 10th. Until next council meeting we may dwell in darkness. Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Lydia Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris, of this place, to Mr. Wm. H. Galway, of Radway, Va. The event will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Howard street, at this place, at high noon, on Tuesday, Jan. 16th. Mr. Galway, several years ago, was book keeper for the Centre Iron Company. A night school in penmanship and book keeping has been organized in connection with the Y. M. C. A., at this place. The first session was held last Monday evening. It will be under the direction of Messrs. George Williams and John Walker. There are plenty of young men in Bellefonte who could turn their evenings to a good advantage by attending these sessions. Hon. P. Gray Meek, J. C. Meyer, Esq., James Alexander, Esq., Jas. C. Noll, Esq., D. F. Fortney, Esq., S. A. McQuiston, Wm. C. Heinle, Esq., John Q. Miles, Al. S. Garman, Ed. Brown, J. M. Cunningham, James Cornely, Mart Garmas and others from this place attended the democratic state convention, at Harrisburg, Tuesday and Wednesday. It is said that nearly everyone has an axe to grind—some of which are double bladed.

THE DEATH LIST.

IN CENTRE COUNTY FOR SIX MONTHS.

Copied from the Assessors Returns—Grouped by Districts, giving age, single or married. Two districts not reported.

Last week we gave the totals of births and deaths in this county during the past six months from June 6 to December 1st, 1893. It showed 411 births and 199 deaths, with two districts not reported—Rush south precinct and Gregg south precinct. Thinking that a complete list of all the deaths in the county would be of interest to the public the same was copied. Some of the assessors made very poor returns by misspelling the names of deceased ones. Often widows and widowers were marked single, so that if the list is not thoroughly accurate, it is the fault of the assessors' returns. BOROUGHS. Bellefonte, north ward—John A. From our exchanges we gather the following items in regard to flittings that will take place in Bellefonte and in other parts of the county: Register G. W. Rumberger will move from Philipsburg to Joseph Fox's brick residence, on Bishop street. Mr. Fox and family will move to Graysville, at a point along the branch of the Lewisburg & Tyrone railroad leading to Tyrone. Mr. Fox has a large lumbering operation at that place. Prothonotary Smith will move from Millheim to Bellefonte. W. H. Musser, insurance agent, will move from Milesburg to Bellefonte. Henry Meyer, of Centre Hall, formerly of near Linden Hall, has purchased a farm in Virginia and will move about the 1st of February. Mrs. John Odenkirk, widow, will move from the Old Fort hotel to the Rishel property close to the Centre Hall railroad station, which she recently purchased for $1600. Mr. Isaac Strunk, of Centre Hall, has purchased the Hecla mill property. J. G. Rider, of Gatesburg, this county, has gone to Los Angeles, California, where he will spend the winter. At Zion, Mr. Jacob Garbrick and Mr. Austin Brumgard will both quit farming and move to the village of Zion. Mr. A. J. Shreffler, of the same place, will move to near Salona. Mrs. Gettig, widow of Samuel Gettig, deceased, late of Spring township, will move to Pleasant Gap. Some of the Sick. Morris Cowdrick, contractor, has been confined to his home, on East Linn st., during the past week. He seems to be battling with the grip. Mrs. Burnett, daughter of ex-Governor Curtin, has been quite ill at the home of her parents, this place, during the past week. Mrs. Edward Cooke is dangerously ill and her friends are alarmed lest she may not recover. Dr. Roland Curtin, of Philadelphia, was consulted. Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton, both well advanced in years, are confined to their beds by serious illness. They reside on Willowbank street. Grimes Cellar Door. James B. Mackey, the clever young comedian who has scored such a great success as "Billy Grimes" in "Grimes Cellar Door" for the past four seasons, will give a performance of the musical farce comedy at the opera house next Tuesday evening January 16th. Mr. Mackey is well and favorably remembered for his clever work as "Grimesey Me Boy" in a "Bunch of Keys," which part he played successfully for four seasons, but his present work as "Billy Grimes" in "Grimes Cellar Door," is by far the best he has ever done, and firmly established him an original comedian of many accomplishments. Fire at Madisonburg. Last Friday morning the alarm of fire aroused the people of Madisonburg and it was found that the general store of J. W. Hasel, was enveloped in flames. In a short time the building, with all its contents, was doomed. The building, part of which was a private residence, was owned and occupied by Mrs. Luther Stover. The Lutheran church, standing close by, caught fire several times and it was only by heroic work that it was saved from destruction. The fire was caused by a lamp falling to the floor and the oil igniting. The loss will be over $5,000; partly insured. Heavy Forks. Among the heavy forks killed this year the following are among the best heard of: John Powers, Bellefonte, one that dressed 515 and another 525. Ex-Commissioner John D. Decker, of Potters Mills, goes a bit better with two at 538 and 557. On Tuesday, Dec. 12th, John Houser, living on Nittany mountain, 3 miles east of Centre Hall, killed a fine specimen that tipped the scales at 609 which is the best yet heard of and entitles him to the belt. John Coble, of Lemont, head butcher, will testify to this weight. Returned to Bellefonte. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Nagney moved from Athens, Pa., to Bellefonte. During the past year Mr. Nagney was engaged in the furniture business at that place. It is his expectation to again resume business in Bellefonte. We are glad to see Frank back again in Bellefonte. Going to Clearfield. Mr. G. A. Walthers, formerly proprietor of the Lloyd house, Philipsburg, has purchased the Mansion House, at Clearfield, and will take possession March 1. Mr. Walthers is an experienced hotel keeper. Great January reduction sale at Meyer's Bazaar.

WILL GET A FORTUNE.

A Story Related of Pathetic Hardships and Suffering. Word has been received here of a decision by the supreme court, of Illinois, by which a romantic and pathetic story of the hardships of a young girl are happily ended and she becomes the possessor of over $100,000. In 1878 Samuel Sankey, one of the California pioneers of '49, came east to visit relatives in Lyeonung county, in this state. While there he was attracted by his little niece, Carrie Sankey, an orphan, and he proposed to adopt her. Sankey was worth $100,000, and his proposition promised every benefit to the girl, but strange to say the relatives she lived with opposed the plan. Sankey kidnapped the girl and took her to Illinois. He returned to this state and was arrested. He compromised the case by formerly adopting the child and then he took her to California. He made a will in her favor and she lived with him and his wife at their home in San Francisco. Sankey developed marked mental disorder and after the death of his wife in 1886 he began to abuse his daughter. On July 26, 1886, Judge Coffey gave the child into the possession of the Society to Protect Children from Cruelty and the next day Sankey tore up his will and executed another, disinheriting Carrie. For a time the girl had a hard life of it trying to make a living, but finally she found a home and friends with Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Cummings, of San Francisco. In the meantime Sankey came east to visit his brother, John Sankey, of Millinburg, this state, where he died on October 15, 1888. Since then John Sankey and his brother's adopted daughter have waged a legal battle in the state of California, Pennsylvania and Illinois for possession of Sankey's money. In both California and Pennsylvania the courts decided that Sankey was insane when he tore up the will in Carrie's favor and that she was entitled to the money. Now word has been received that the court of last resort in Illinois has also decided in her favor and she will now get over $100,000. A Vivid Imagination. The Bellefonte correspondent to the Williamsport Grit more than surpassed himself in the last issue. As it is the aim of the average newspaper man to furnish articles that will attract and cause comment, facts are frequently pushed aside in order to accomplish the desired end. For generations the quiet populace of our beautiful mountain city have spoken with pride of the beautiful large spring, within our boro limits, from which the town draws its supply of water. This spring is credited with furnishing the name for the town—Bellefonte being a combination of the two words Belle and Fonte, meaning beautiful fountain or spring. The origin of this name, which is so appropriate, was always conceded to be from this source and no one ever ventured to trespass upon this familiar tradition until the article appeared in the Grit. It is cleverly conceived and nicely put together and we must compliment the writer upon his fertile imagination, even if it can not be supported by historical facts. Here it is. "Many persons think that Bellefonte derived its name from its big spring—'beautiful fountain.' Nothing could be farther from historical truth. In 1797, when Colonel Dunlap purchased from William Lamb, of Philadelphia, the tract of land on which he is aftering located this place, there was an old Indian by the name of Go Easy, a full brother to Logan, the Mingo chief, had his wigwam near the bank of Spring creek, where the Bush House now stands. A few rods from his wigwam was a deer lick, where the deer used to come for their salt. That lick was right under the present cafe of the Bush House, where many persons now go to get a lick of John Barleycorn. Thus we see local history repeating itself with but slight variation. Colonel Dunlap had several cows with bells on them, the noise of which frightened the deer the noise of the lick thereby depriving poor Lo of his venison. That Go Easy stopped by taking the bells from the cows and hiding them in a hollow tree where the Presbyterian church now stands. Colonel Dunlap, with his German servant, made a search in the woods for the lost bells. The German found them, and in his broken English called to the colonel saying, 'bells found.' The place was soon known in the neighborhood as the place where the bells were found, and to keep up the remembrance of the locality, when Dunlap laid out his town he named it 'Bells Found,' which name gradually became corrupted to 'Bellefonte.' So far as the borough being called after the 'beautiful fountain,' it is mere historical gush; for two miles along the creek there are several springs, some of which were known during the revolutionary war as the 'clear springs' because they all came out at the foot of the bluffs from a subterranean cavern, consequently their waters were never muddy." Important to Ladies. A general reduction has been made on ladies coats, wraps, etc., at J. A. Aikens store, south Alleghany st., Bellefonte. The prices are from $3, $6, $8, $10, $12, on up to the finest at $25 and $50. The assortment embraces all grades of goods. This is a rare opportunity for the ladies to purchase a stylish and serviceable garment at the lowest price. These rates will prevail for one month only. Sale bills printed at this office are always gotten up in an attractive form, printed on good paper and at a reasonable price.
