NINE MEN WERE KILLED In a Crash on the Morris and Essex Railroad.

THIRTY-SEVEN OTHERS INJURED.

Of These It Is Thought That Three Will Die-An Engineer Failed to Take Proper Precautions, and Telescoped the Train Ahead.

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 16 .- About two miles from Hoboken, and a few hundred feet from the drawbridge across the Hackensack river, the Orange accommodation crashed into the rear of the Dover express on the Morris and Essex branch of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. The scene of the accident was on the long meadows through which flows the Hackensack river. Nine lives have paid the penalty of some one's carelessness, and the list of known injured is thirty-seven, some of whom will probably die.

So far as can be learned one cause of the accident was the heavy fog which prevailed. Both trains were well filled with passengers, and it seems a miracle that the death list was not increased many fold. The Dover express had slowed up to make sure that the drawbridge was all right The engineer of the Orange express, who should have done likewise, failed to take this precaution, and crashed into the rear of the preceding train.

The last car on the express was a combination baggage and «moker, and into this plunged the buge engine. cutting through the woodwork and sending splin ters in all directions with a force that showed the tremendous speed at which the train was traveling. The coach ahead of the smoker was telescoped by it, its roof torn out and the seats torn and twisted as though they were made of paper. The roof was thrown ahead and partially telescoped the third car.

In the smoking car every seat was occupied, and it is estimated that of the forty passengers in the car not one escaped un injured. Four men were playing cards at the last table in the smoker and three of these were among the killed

A short distance from the scene was a railroad telegraph office, and from this a hurried call was sent for assistance. Relief trains were immediately started from Hoboken, and almost before those on the train had realized the situation it had arrived and a crowd had already gathered. Ambulances and physicians were aiso sent by the police from both Jersey City and Hoboken.

In a few minutes something like order was followed in the work of rescue, and the victims were rapidly taken out from among the twisted iron and splintered timber. The dead were so covered with dust and blood that it was almost impossible to identify them. The cries and moans of the injured were terrible. T wounded and dead were placed on train and taken to Jersey City The dead are as follows: William Ferguson, aged 55, Summitt, N. J.; William R. Adams, age unknown, married, leaves a widow and five children. Summit, N J.; W. J. Turner, Basking Ridge, N. J : Edward Kinsey, Morristown, N. J.; John Fish 55, married, Summit, N. J.; Walter K. Purinton, 35, mar-

JERSEY'S SENATORIAL SNARL

The Attorney General's Opinion Sustains the Democratic Attitude.

TRENTON, Jan. 17 -- Governor Werts sent Attorney General Stockton's opinion on the legal status of the two senales to both organizations, and with it a brief message addressed to Senator Adrain, as "presi-dent pro tem. of the senate" The governor sava:

"I inclose herewith the reply of the attorney general, whereby I am advised the body over which you have the honor temporarily to preside is the constitutional senate, and that the body organized under the presidency of Mr Rogers did not represent the senate of New Jersey.

The governor further says that he hopes both bodies will come to some settlement soon. The attorney general's opinion is very long, but it sustains the contention of the Democratic members that it is the only legally constituted senate in New ersev

The conference committees met here this morning, and are still in se-sion It is believed by many that they will not be able to arrive at a conclusion, as both sides are very firm Governor Werts refused to receive the race track repealer from the house committee on passed bills, on the ground that the bill had been passed by a senate which. under the advice of the attorney general he could not recognize.

Both the Republican and Democratic senators have issued manifestos insisting upon the justice of their claims
