PROTECTING OUR SHIPS

Admiral Benham's Prompt Action at Rio Janeiro.

A WARNING TO ADMIRAL DA GAMA

The American Ship Amy Escorted Up the Harbor by the Cruiser Detroit - A Blockade of American Vessels Will Not be Permitted.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 31.-The following statement has been made to the Associ ated Press correspondent by Admiral Benham, commander of the United States fleet in this harbor:

"The insurgent forces on Cobras Island last Friday fired upon a ship flying the United States flag. I protested to Admiral Saldanha da Gama against this action, and his response was that he had warned the commander of the ship when it was at the bar at Rio de Janeiro as to the whereabouts of the danger line, I ordered Admiral da Gama to cease the firing. Both the guns on the Island of Cobras and the guns of the insurgent warship Trajano opened fire Saturday upon the bark Agate, a vessel hailing from New York.

"I warned Admiral da Gama more than once that if the fire was repeated I would fire back. I also warned him that if he touched an American ship or American goods I would consider him a pirate. I told him that I would protect American property absolutely from the fire of his guns, and that I should retaliate upon him for any damage done unless it was entirely apparent that the damage was due to chance shots." Admiral Benham says that he notified Admiral da Gama, unofficially, that firing by the insurgents upon the wharves for the purpose merely of creating terror and to prolong a blockade would not be permitted so far as Americans and American vessels were concerned. To this communication the insurgent admiral made no answer. The captains of three American vessels, Admiral Benham continues, intimated that they wanted to go to the wharves and the American admiral notified Admiral da Gama that it was his intention to convey them at sunrise on Monday. Fearing trouble, Admiral Benham ordered that the vessels of his fleet be cleared for action. The three ships referred to were the Amy, the Good News and the Julia Rollins.

The captains of two of the ships weakened and failed to come into the harbor. The Amy was the only one that ventured in, and she was escorted by the United States cruiser Detroit. No guns were opened on her by Da Gama's vessels, and as a matter of course the American vessels did not fire upon the insurgents' ships. The insurgent protest consisted of

As the Amy got abreast of the Guanabara a marine on the last named vessel aimed a musket at her and fired. Two musket shots were fired at the Guanabara and the Trajano from the Amy's escort, the Detroit, in return. This was all the firing done during the Amy's trip, and it was enough. All opposition ceased at once, and the use of heavy guns was not considered necessary at any time.

At a later hour Admiral da Gama conferred with his officers upon the advisibility of surrendering to the Detroit in consequence of the musket shots fired. He was dissuaded from doing so, but it is thought possible that he may yet decide to surrender to the American commander.

YORK, Pa., Jan. 80.—The York rolling mill resumed work in all its departments this morning.

SUNBURY, Pa., Jan. 29. - The frozen body of Alfred Herman, 70 years old, was found in a mill race here yesterday. It is supposed that he had fallen into the race Saturday night while mentally deranged. HARRISBURG, Jan. 27 .- Governor Pattison has received the resignation of Congressman Sibley, of the Crawford-Erie district. It is intimated that the governor will be in no hurry to issue the writ for a special election

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 27.-A fine vein of silver ore has been discovered on the farm of Charles Walker, in Lower Providence township. This farm adjoins the one on which coal was recently discovered. Experts pronounce the ore of a superior CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 27.— Diphtheria is epidemic in Bulskin township, and is especially bad in the vicinity of Moyer. About twenty cases are reported from that neighborhood, and several deaths have already resulted. Other deaths will probably result.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—John Romele, who was recently convicted of murder in the second degree in shooting his mis-tress, Mary Bradshaw, at her home, No. 2339 Philadelphia street, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Bregy to twenty years in the Eastern penitentiary.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 27. - Two small children of William Moon, who disappeared from school Tuesday, were found near Ohio Pyle, thirteen miles up the river. The children had boarded an express train and the conductor put them off at Ohio Pyle, where friends took them to the home of their uncle.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27 .- The Sixth Ward Democratic club of this city adopted a resolution calling upon the the constituents of Congressman Beltzhoover, of Carlisle, to request that gentleman either "to resign or die, so that a man can be elected who is a true tariff reform Democrat or an honest high tariff Republican."

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 29 .- While lying on his bed with his young wife on one side of him and his ten-months-old babe on the other, George D. McCrum,of this city, pulled a revolver from under the pillow and fired a 38-caliber ball into his brain. He died almost instantly. McCrum had been out of work for several weeks, and had become despondent.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 80,-A petition was presented in the court for the removal of the school directors of Rappo township, charging that the members of the board have been negligent; have squandered the school money and have accepted bribes from firms supplying school furniture and supplies. The matter will be argued next month.

HONESDALE, Pa., Jan. 29.—The receiver of the defunct Order of the Iron Hall has taken steps to collect the reserve fund of the branches of the order in Honesdale and Hawley. The Honesdale branch surrendered $1,054.34 without a contest, but the Hawley branch will endeavor to retain the $555.46 in its possession, and the receiver will bring a suit for it.

CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 30. - A woman's shrick startled the people living in the neighborhood of Third and Wilson streets, South Chester. Investigation found that the cry came from Mrs. Michael Smith of Bunting street, who was attacked by two men, who snatched her pocketbook. Edward Smith, a bartender, ran to Mrs. Smith's assistance, and was struck on the nose by one of the men, breaking it. The highwaymen then escaped.

ex-convict, shot his wife and lo year-old daughter last night, because they refused to sleep in the house with him. Both will probably die. Three years ago Costello was sent to the penitentiary for criminally assaulting his daughter. His time expired last Saturday and he went home, but his wife refused him admission. He was arrested.

PITTEOURG, Jan. 29.-The incinerated body of a man, supposed to be a tramp, was found in the furnace under a large still at the Freedom oil works by some workmen engaged in tearing down the walls to repair the furnace. The tramp doubtless crawled into the furnace, thinking it a warm place to sleep. As oil is used as fuel, and was turned on while he slept, he was burned up.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Jan. 29.-Eugene Conners was pulling driftwood from the Shenago river when he spiked a mysterious looking box that came down with the drift. Hauling it ashore and opening it he found the dead body of a baby girl. The little one was nicely dressed, and its perfect preservation showed that it had been dead only a short time. Subsequent examination showed that the child was undoubtedly murdered before it was placed in the box.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Jan. 30. - Enoch Houseknecht, a farmer, aged about 45, who resided on his farm three miles from Muncy, has disappeared. On Saturday Houseknecht drove to Muncy. William Buch, who resides on an adjoining farm, was with him for a while, but they became separated. Houseknecht's overcoat was found in an alley in Muncy. It is said that he had $60 when he left home, and it is thought that after he became separated from Buch he was waylaid and robbed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 29.—The parents of little Eddie Brotherstone, the boy who disappeared from Ashley more than a week ago, and who it is believed was kidnaped and possibly murdered, have determined that an organized search shall be made of the mountains in this vicinity. With this end in view they have mortgaged the little farm upon which they live, in order to raise the money with which to defray the expenses

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 30 .- Harry Gainer, a farm hand, was driving along the new Danville turnpike, three miles south of this city, early in the morning, when he was stopped by two highwaymen, who, at the point of a pistol, compelled him to get out of his buggy. They bound his hands and feet, searched his pockets and laid him beside the roadway. The robbers then got into the buggy and drove away. Gainer managed to release himself some time afterward.

HONESDALE, Pa., Jan. 29 .- The diphtheria is raging with unabated fury in the villages in this vicinity. Three children of Randall Stephens, of Number Sixteen, have died with the disease, and the fourth and only remaining child is incurably ill with it. In the family of Jehn Sheenan, of Mast Hope, one child has died and the mother and six other children are ill with it. The town of Tus-tin, N. Y., across the river from Mast Hope, has quarantined against the latter

DIFFERING OPINIONS.

Discussing the Income Tax in the National House.

BOURKE COOKRAN'S ARGUMENT.

The Eloquent New Yorker Denounces the Proposed Tax as Class Legislation-Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, as Eloquently Pleads for Its Justice.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.-Yesterday was field day in the house. The opponents of the income tax had their opportunity. Messrs. Covert and Bartlett (New York), Dunn (N. J.) and Johnson (O.), all Democrats, presented their opposition along with the Republicans to the proposition to impose a special tax on wealth. But it remained for Bourke Cockran, the great Tammany orator, to eclipse with his eloquence against the measure all speeches he has ever made in congress. Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, closed the debate for the day in defense of the income tax, and he, too, made an eloquent speech.

Mr. Pence (Colo.) also made an able ar gument in support of the tax. Referring to General Sickles' characterization of the income tax as a war tax Mr. Pence said: "I glory in the great services he rendered to the cause of the Union, and I am willing that he should be paid not only one salary as a retired major general, but a salary as a congressman and another as a pensioner. We do not shirk the burdens of the pension list, which are war burdens, and we are not afraid of this tax as a war tax."

Mr. Johnson (O.) made a rather sensa tional, theoretical arraignment of the income tax proposition, which gave him an opportunity to advocate the imposition of the Henry George land tax. "I am for any kind of a direct tax in preference to any kind of a tariff tax," said he. "Any tax on what men have is better than a tax on what men need, and so I support this income tax bill. But I shall do so as a choice of evils.

"I protest as a Democrat and a single tax man, against any discrimination against the rich, as I have protested and do protest and will protest against any discrimination against the poor. You Republican protectionists and you Democratic protectionists are really but social ists, and at that socialists of the worst sort, for those who avow them-selves socialists wish to have the state interfere with production and exchange for the purpose of improving the condition of the poor; but you want the state to interfere for the purpose of adding to the wealth of the rich.

Mr. Cockran (N. Y.) spoke as the especial champion of the Democratic opposition to the income tax.

"While willing to vote for the tariff bill," he said, "we are now asked at the behest of a party caucus to vote for a special tax on 85,000 out of 67,000,000 people. When a proposition goes further than mere taxation and is deliberately designed to tax a class those who believe in equality before the law must array themselves against it. It strikes at the funda mental principles of Democracy, at the very root of the government. It is the entering wedge in the shape of retaliatory legislation in this country.'

In presenting his other objections to the tax Mr. Cockran said it was essentially unjust in its burdens. Take a man with $50,000 capital. If he loaned his money at b per cent, he would escape. He would be a drone, but he would bear no burden. Gentlemen misunderstood the temper of Pirrsnung, Jan. 30.—John Costello, an the rich if they believed the rich opposed this measure. Not one of his acquaint the rich if they believed the rich opposed ance opposed it. Of the 10,000 votes cast for him-and 9,000 were cast by men who who would not pay taxes under this billnot one had protested, but every one would feel humiliated and humbled if two classes were to be created, one a tax paying class, the other participating, but not paying. He believed the rich would welcome it. Why? Because they knew it would ultimately give them greater control in governmental affairs. He pro-

"Men have an idea that they are going to make equality by creating inequality. I have always opposed inequality. posed the civil service law because it gave the children of the rich a better opportunity to enter civil service than the chil dren of the poor. As I oppose discrimination against the poor, so I oppose discrim-Ination against the rich.'

The cheers which greated the conclusion of Mr. Cockran's speech continued, despite the efforts of the chairman to preserve or der, for fully three minutes. When order was restored Mr. Bryan (Neb.), the champion of the income tax, took the

In the course of his speech he referred to a recent showing that 91 per cent, of the people of the United States own only about 29 per cent, of the total wealth, while the remaining 9 per cent. own 71 per cent, of the total wealth. The people of the United States who have small incomes pay on an average more than 10 per cent of their incomes to support the federal government, while the rich pay a smaller per cent. Why should not this tax be added in order that the burdens may be partially equalized?

"It is objected," he said, "that this tax will endanger the tariff bill. I am not afraid that any Democratic member will refuse to relieve the common people of the heavy burdens placed upon them by the McKinley bill for fear he will impose a light burden by means of an income tax upon those who are amply able to bear it.
"Ward McAllister, the leader of the

New York four hundred, said the other day that the income tax, if adopted, would compel many of the best people of New York to live abroad where living is cheaper. But whither will they fly? England taxes incomes more than 2 per cent. Prussia as high as 4 per cent., Switzer land as high as 8 per cent., Italy as high as 12 per cent., and Austria as high as 20 per cent. But who will expatriate him self rather than support his government? Who will choose life under a monarchy, even without an income tax, rather than live in a republic with a 2 per cent tax? If such there be let them depart. We can better dispense with their wealth than submit to the contamination of their pres-

At the close of Mr. Bryan's speech he was accorded an ovation rivaling that which had just marked the close of Mr. Cockran's attack on the income tax.

To Muzzle the Press. DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 31 .- A feature of yesterday's session of the legislature was the introduction in the house by Mr. Yomans of a bill calculated to prohibit the publication by the newspapers of this state of prize fight accounts or descriptions of prize fights.
