METROPOLIS MYSTERIES

Two Tragedies That Are Puzzling the Police Authorities.

WAS MISS FULLER MURDERED?

The Important Story Told by a Nassan Street Bartender-The Revolting Murder of Little Susie Martin, Whose Dismembered Body Was Found in a Cellar.

NEW YORK, March 21.-The development of the day in the shooting of Miss Martha J. Fuller, the typewriter, shot in Mullen's law office on Saturday, was the result of the second autopsy. It showed that she was shot in the right side of the head, not the left, as formerly reported. In several other directions skilled and patient investigation is gradually dissipating the fog of mystery with which the shooting has been surrounded, and the more clear it becomes the less reason there seems to be to consider it at all a suicide.

Editor Kernan, who rushed to the room after the tragedy, is confident that there was no revolver by the side of the body when he picked the dying woman up. It was not until he had gone for a policeman that the revolver appeared. Lawyer J. F. Riley agrees with him. Lawyer Riley heard Magee, the managing clerk, reproving the boy Brannigan for having removed the revolver from beside the body, but neither he nor Kernan saw it there, and there was any amount of daylight in

What seems to be an important link in the chain of facts associated with Miss Fuller's death came to light for the first time last night in an interview with Henry C. Vett, bartender in Timothy Flynn's billiard rooms, 117 Nassau street, on the opposite side of the street to the Nassau chambers, where Miss Fuller met her death. Vett said: "Shortly after 5 o'clock on Saturday evening a man about 27 or 28 years old, of medium height, wearing a derby hat, and who had a small short cropped black mustache, suddenly rushed into the saloon. He was in an exceedingly excited state, and hurriedly called for a glass of whisky, saying: 'Make it a big one. There is a young lady sick across the street.

"I gave him the whisky. He picked up the glass, placed his hand over the top of it, and rushed out again without paying for it. I am confident that there was no ambulance in sight when the man ran Nittany valley and other portions | into the saloon. He did not return for at least an hour afterward. He then came in and brought back the empty glass, and published in Bellefonte. We can said 'That girl is dead; she was shot.' I know the man perfectly well by sight and have seen him in and out here frequently,

"When the man who took the whisky over the way brought back the empty most desirable trade. Advertis- glass he was accompanied by a friend. I there and gone again.

The story told by Vett suggests the idea that some one knew of Miss Fuller's condition before an ambulance call was sent out, and had time to run for the whisky before any alarm was raised.

Vett said he could easily identify the two men who came into the saloon with the empty glass.

THE MURDER OF SUSIE MARTIN. The Body Dismembered and Boiled to Prevent Identification.

NEW YORK, March 21 .- The trunk of the child that was found headless and without arms and legs in the celiar of the tenement house 517 West Thirty-ninth street has been positively identified by Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, of 656 Eleventh avenue, as the body of their 11-year-old daughter Susie, who disappeared mysteriously on the afternoon of Thursday, March 8.

A more complete and careful examination of the body confirmed the fact that it was sawed and hacked to pieces by some one other than a medical student, and that it was afterwards boiled, probably to hide the evidences of the crime. The most commonly accepted theory is that the child strayed from home, and was enticed into a resort by some of the dock laborers who abound in that vicinity.

The Nuns May Teach Again.

PITTSBURG, March 16.—The withdrawal of the nuns from the Riverside public school does not mean the abandonment of the fight between the school board and the Junior Order of American Mechanics, and is only a truce, pending the settle ment of the question in the courts. If the petition of the Mechanics for an injunction is not granted members of the board say the parochial school children and the nuns will return to the public school, and action will then be taken to compel the central board of education to sign the warrants for their salary as teachers. In case the injunction is granted they will give up the contest, but not before.

Governor Rich Sustained.

LANSING, March 21 .- The supreme court rendered a decision sustaining Governor Rich in removing Secretary of State Joachim, State Treasurer Hambitzer and Land Commissioner Berry for gross negligence in failing personally to canvass the returns of the amendment election of 1893. The governor has made these appointments: Secretary of state, Washington Gardner; state treasurer, James Wilkinson; land commissioner, William A.

A Bomb in Church. PARIS, March 16 .- Pauwells, a French anarchist, entered the Church of the Madeleine here with the evident intention of throwing a bomb after the congregation had assembled for the Lenten service. As he entered the church the spring door struck against the infernal machine in his pocket and it was exploded. He was instantly killed, his body being fearfully mangled. Though there was quite a large number present, none others were injured.

MADRID, March 21.-Advices received here from Mindanao, capital of the island of that name in the Malay Archipelago, show that a large body of Mohammedan natives made an attack upon the Spaniards on the Island of Pantar. In the fighting that ensued one Spaniard was killed and many wounded. The Spaniards inflicted severe losses upon the natives, 200 of them being killed.

Heyerman to be Court Martialed. WASHINGTON, March 21.-Commander Heyerman is to be tried by court martial at the Brooklyn navy yard on Thursday for suffering a vessel of the navy, through his negligence to run upon a reef and be stranded, and for culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty.

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

Matters of Interest from All Over the Commonwealth,

SUNBURY, Pa., March 20.—The Sunbury board of health has ordered all inhabitants of this city, both adults and children, to be vaccinated.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 16.-The body of the fourth man found was reached in the Gaylord mine at Plymouth at midnight. It is supposed the corpse is that of Samuel Morgan, who was working with the three men already found.

Shamokin, Pa., March 17.—William Welker, 16 years old, and Lillian Hornberger, a domestic, 28 years old, have eloped from here. They were arrested at Williamsport while on the way to Elmira to marry on a warrant issued at the instance of Welker's mother, charging the girl with the larceny of $50.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 21.—The railroad fight has subsided as suddenly as it broke out. The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg company is now master of the situa-tion, and have control of the property involved. The W. N. Y. & P. people have withdrawn from the fight, and will have the case settled in the courts.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19 .- Annie Bailey, colored, died suddenly at her home in this city last night, aged 121 years. She had been able to be about the house until within a few hours of her death. She was born in the house of General Chambers, who lived near Chambersburg, where her mother was employed as a nurse.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 20.-Dr. William H. Walker has resigned as assistant professor of chemistry at the Pennsylvania State college to accept a similar position in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston. Franklin E. Tuttle (Ph. D., Gottingen) has been appointed to fill the vacancy at the State college.

HARRISBURG, March 21 .- A close friend of Deputy Attorney General James A. Stranshan said today: "Notwithstanding some newspaper accounts to the contrary, Mr. Stranaham will accept the chairman ship of the Democratic state central committee, and will be supported by the friends of the state administration for that position."

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 19.—Andrew Bocker, a well-to-do citizen of Smithville, was murdered last night. His skull was crushed in, and his murderers had placed the body on the railroad to hide any evidence of their crime. Stephen Consko and Frank Ruse, two young men of Smithville, have left their homes without any apparent cause, and it is thought that they may be in some way connected with the LEWISBURG, Pa., March 20.-The appearance of smallpox has caused great excitement in this town and vicinity. John Rarick returned to this place from Danville, and shortly after his arrival here was taken violently ill. Doctors pronounced it a case of smallpox of the most virulent type. The authorities have placed a strict quarantine on the house on North Fifth street where Rarick lives. There are eleven children in the family.

WILKESBARRE, March 21.-The coroner's inquest in the case of John Rohl, whose dead body, riddled with bullets, was found last Saturday morning in a field near Lewis Vitoski's boarding house, at Plains, was held yesterday. Vitoski and his wife are suspected of having some con-nection with the affair, and they were held for trial. A man named Jack Burke has been missing from his home in Plains since last Saturday, and Detective Whaley, who is working on the case, has a theory that he knows something about Rohl's mysterious death.

PITTSBURG, March 21.—The officials of the Monongahela Iron and Steel company. at Hays Station, near here, have applied to the sheriff for protection. Last week the puddlers quit work, owing to a dispute with the firm concerning a wage agreement. The officials started a part of the plant. Since then the strikers have attacked and beaten a number of the nonunionists, and have interfered with them on their way to work. A number of arrests have been made, and deputies are now guarding the property.

HARRISBURG, March 17 .- Colonel Andrew J. Herr, one of the best known and most successful lawyers in central Pennsylvania, died suddenly last evening while conversing with his family. The cause of his death was neuralgia of the heart, from which he had been a sufferer for some time. He was elected district attorney of Dauphin county for three successive terms was a member of the senate from 1875 to 1884, and president pro tem. of that body during his last term. He was 62 years old, and is survived by his wife and two children. He was possessed of a large fortune.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 19.-Ex-Cengressman Washington Townsend died at his residence in this place yesterday afternoon of paralysis of the brain, aged 82 years. He was elected to congress from this district in 1868, after a bitter fight in which the present minister to Italy, Wayne MacVeagh, was his opponent, and served eight years. He opposed the unit rule in the national Republican convention when the late Simon Cameron was aspiring to the presidency. He was the oldest mem ber of the Chester county bar. He was the president of the National Bank of Chester county and a member of several of the philanthropic institutions of the town. Three daughters survive him. SCRANTON, Pa., March 19 .- As John Higgins was searching in his dressing case he came across what he supposed was a toy pistol, but which afterward proved to be a 22-caliber revolver that had not been used for a number of years past. He took it into the sitting room where his sister and father were and pointed it at them. They warned him against such reckless actions, but his reply was to the effect that the weapon was not loaded. To prove his assertion Higgins placed the weapon against his temple and pulled the trigger. The revolver exploded and the bullet entered Higgins' brain. He fell to the floor in a heap and was dead almost before medical aid could be summoned.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 20 .- A sense tional scene occurred in the court room here. In settling up the estate of the mother of Benjamin Good, of Conestoga township, the auditors found that Good's sister was entitled to $900. Benjamin Good was the administrator, and refused to pay over the cash, stating that his sister had already got all she was entitled to. He had been in jail for contempt, but was brought to court on an application for a discharge as an insolvent. As he refused to sign the papers, his lawyers told him he would have to go back to jail. He pretended to draw a pistol, when an under keeper quickly covered him with a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands, which he did, but he still refused to leave the court room. The under keeper and his assistants then seized Good. During the struggle nearly all his clothes were torn from him. A search showed he had no revolver. Good offered the under keeper $50 to allow him to escape.

Impure Blood Asserts Itself

But Hood's Sarsparilla Cures the Disease and Restores Health.

C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "During the winter of 1887, I was injured on one limb while coasting. It did not trouble me much at first, but soon became more painful, my strength began to decline and I could not rest at night. I was attended by several different doctors but all failed to check the trouble and I grew rapidly worse. Early in 1890 I had to use crutches and my health was very poor, having lost my appetite and being reduced in fiesh. In the fall of 1891 I had to take to my bed and it was thought

I Would Not Live until spring. During all this time I had tried many different medicines but did get relief. In the meantime to give me relief, the several bunches around my knee were lanced and later every effort made to heal the running sores but all in vain. Then it was, while confined to my bed last spring, that my father, having read much about the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla,
