WITHOUT THE

Non-pull-out BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped that little game!

The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendant (stern) and fits into the groove, firmly locking the bow to the pendant so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

STEADILY MARCHING ON

The Free Lunch Army Travels Three Miles an Hour.

COXEY HAS LEFT FOR OHIOAGO,

But He Promises to Return to the Wanderers—The March Thus Far Has Been Orderly, but Creates No Enthusiasm Among the People.

CANTON, O., March 28.—In the face of a sharp, cold wind that brought shivers to the frames of well clad people Coxeys' army marched eight miles yesterday on the road to Washington. There were a few less than a hundred of them. Not to exceed a dozen had overcoats or gloves. They had slept Saturday night on pallets of straw in the airy and cheerless circus tent.

The start from Massillon resembled the moving of an old time country circus, more than anything else. There was no godsend of peace in the procession, as Coxeys had designed, his divorced wife refusing to permit her daughter to go with the army in that capacity. Coxeys' son Jesse, a boy of 16, was mounted on a blooded stallion from the stock farm, and wore a military uniform. Brown and the other officers were similarly mounted, while the "general" rode in a phaeton behind one of his favorite horses. Mrs. Coxeys, her 3-year-old son and the housekeeper for the Coxeys' residence in a buggy. The rank and file of the army brought up the rear on foot.

The band wagon, which very much resembles a gypsy's traveling conveyance, followed. The musicians did their best to enliven the soldiers, and the many gay banners added fantastic elements to the pageant. Before the start the noonday rations were dispensed. They consisted of a can of salmon and a loaf of bread for each group of five, and a small slice of ham for each man. This seemed to satisfy the men, and they marched away with light heart and buoyant step.

Bets were offered in the hotels today at 2 to 1, with no takers, that the army would disband before they reached Pittsburg.

But seventy-two of Coxeys' Commonwealthers had the courage to march away from Canton yesterday afternoon in the face of the wintry blast that was blowing at the time set for the start. The band deserted at that point also, and that took much of the spirit out of the soldiers.

ALLIANCE, O., March 28.—Twelve miles of the longest free lunch route on record was mapped out for the Coxeys caravan yesterday. January weather was also on the program, but the sympathy of the

The French Ambassador Takes a Philadelphia Girl for His Bride.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—The marriage of M. Jules Patenotre, French ambassador to the United States, to Miss Eleanor Louise Elverson, daughter of James Elverson, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer, Golden Days and Saturday Night, was performed at the bride's home on Walnut street by Cardinal Gibbons yesterday afternoon.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, and Prince Cantacuzane, Russian ambassador, were witnesses for the groom, and Mayor Stuart and Mr. James Elverson, Jr., brother of the bride, for Miss Elverson. The French consul was also present in an official capacity.

Owing to the difference in the religious affiliations of the bride and groom the ceremony was abridged from the usual full choral ceremony, which is never performed in a private residence.

After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast, after which the couple left on a wedding tour of a few weeks. They will then return to Washington and occupy the new embassy building.

M. Patenotre has been in the diplomatic service from his youth, rising through all grades to the highest rank. He is 42 years of age and his bride is 22.

Like an Earthquake.

PITTSBURGH, March 24.—Ten thousand pounds of dynamite blew up at Black Run, near Hulton, yesterday, and the only four people who knew anything about it were scattered in fragments over a quarter of a mile of territory. The dead are: William Arthur, aged 25 years; Mrs. Belle Arthur, aged 17, wife of William Arthur; Sallie Reamie, aged 21, sister of Mrs. Arthur; Charles Robbins, aged 19 years, of a Lehigh City, who was employed as a puncher; Nellie Reamie, aged 19, sister of the other woman, was fatally injured and brought to Pittsburg, where she died in the West Penn hospital.

Depend on Pensioners Reinstated.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The pension rolls will be greatly enlarged by a decision of Assistant Secretary of the Interior Reynolds. It will add to the rolls the names of a large number of insane, idiotic and permanently helpless minor children of deceased soldiers where the pensions of the former had ceased by the children attaining the age of 16 years prior to the passage of the act of June 27, 1890. The decision holds that the act of 1890 has the effect of restoring these dependent persons to the rolls during life or a continuance of the disability.

Terrible Double Murder in Florida.

JASPER, Fla., March 28.—There is great excitement at Ellaville, a few miles south of this place, over the murder of Mrs. Turner, an aged woman, and Miss Epsey, a 15-year-old girl. The woman and girl were alone in the house at night. In the morning the girl was found in the road in front of the house with her brains beaten out. Old Mrs. Turner was found dead in the house, her head having also been beaten to a jelly. An examination of the body of the girl shows that she had been ravished.

A Juvenile Train Wrecker.

HONESDALE, Pa., March 28.—Charles Young, an 11-year-old boy, whose parents live in Carbondale, was brought to this city and lodged in jail upon the charge of train wrecking. It is alleged that he and a youthful companion named Arthur Taylor threw a switch at Plains Eleven and derailed a train of Delaware and Hudson coal cars. A passenger train following the coal train narrowly escaped disaster from the same cause. The boys said they only did it for fun.

Both Duellists Killed.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 28.—Fleming, a small place in Wayne county, was the scene of a terrible shooting affair. Henry Collins and Hoke Napier are neighbors there. Napier had a lot of timber land, and to get out any timber he was obliged to pass through Collins' place. In a quarrel over this matter both men drew revolvers and began shooting. When the smoke cleared away both men were found to be fatally wounded, and died soon after.

Congressman Wilson's Health.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 28.—Congressman W. L. Wilson was yesterday afternoon conveyed in a carriage to the ranch of ex-Congressman Ben Cable, eight miles south of this city. Dr. Underwood stated that Mr. Wilson is gaining strength very rapidly, and if the weather remains favorable he will be able to take a great deal of outdoor exercise during the next ten days. Mr. Wilson will remain here until his health is completely restored.

Wholesale Destruction of Grapes.

DUSKIRK, N. THE ORATOR'S DEFENSE

It Is a General Denial of Miss Pollard's Statements.

CLAIMS TO HAVE BEEN INVEIGLED.

The Plaintiff's Virtue Before Her Meeting with Breckinridge Will be Impugned. Miss Pollard Said to be Financially Backed by Washington Society People.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Yesterday was a field day for the colleagues of Representative Breckinridge, of Kentucky. Congress had taken a recess ostensibly to sail down the Potomac on an excursion and witness the trial of some big guns at Indian Head, but the trial progressing in the circuit court held greater charms for many than the junket on a government gunboat. They heard the defense of Colonel Breckinridge outlined by his law partner and attorney, Colonel John J. Shelby, and the last words of Madeline Pollard's story.

The defense will be partly denial and partly explanation—denial that Colonel Breckinridge seduced Madeline Pollard, or that she gave birth to a child at the Norwood convent, and an explanation that she trapped him into a promise to marry her on the mutual understanding that this promise was only a device by which she was to withdraw from his life and be able to break off her relations with Mrs. Blackburn. The long continued illicit relations between the two are admitted without excuse or palliation except a reference to the inherent weakness of human nature, but the orator's spokesman represents that he was often anxious to break them off, but was always inveigled into continuance by the young woman; that she followed him, demanded money from him and compelled his promises to marry her under threats, several times repeated, and emphasized by a display of pistols.

Moreover, it is promised to be shown that Miss Pollard's early life had not been one of virtue before the silver tongued orator crossed her path.

It is stated that Miss Pollard is being furnished with funds for the prosecution of her case by leading society people of Washington. This is said to be in revenge for Mr. Breckinridge having introduced her into exclusive circles as his intended wife.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Counsel for Colonel Breckinridge have decided to follow the example of their opponents by reserving their client's testimony for the closing card in their case. Accordingly the silver haired congressman disappointed many people by failing to go upon the witness stand, and one of the disappointed ones was Madeline Pollard herself, who left court as soon as she learned of the program for the day. The entire day was dragged out by the reading of depositions, all aimed at two points, viz: To prove that Miss Pollard did not give birth to a child at the Norwood convent in 1885, and that she is older than she represents herself to be.

There will be nothing more for the jury until Monday, as the court is observing Good Friday, and the session tomorrow will be devoted to arguments over the admissibility of depositions to show that Miss Pollard had been intimate with other men than the defendant, to which the plaintiff has given notice of objections.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Pollard-Breckinridge testimony yesterday consisted in the reading of depositions taken in Kentucky. Among them were depositions from Joseph C. Bailey, clerk of the Woodford county circuit court at Versailles, Lawyer Edward M. Wallace, of Lexington; Judge J. R. Morton and Joseph D. Hunt and others. These tended to prove that Colonel Breckinridge was in attendance on a murder trial at Versailles on the dates that Miss Pollard had testified that he was with her in Lexington. The deposition of William G. Wood showed that he had been engaged to marry Miss Pollard in 1882, but the match was broken off. The deposition of Aleck Julian, who has been blind since 1882, was to the effect that on the night of Dec. 24, 1882, he had spent the night with a merry party at the house of Squire Tinsley, near Grassburg. While there a mock marriage ceremony was performed between him and Miss Pollard, and he subsequently assisted the plaintiff, who had been drinking, upstairs to bed, while he sat on the edge of the bed. He had kissed Miss Pollard, but had taken no other liberties.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—In the Breckinridge-Pollard case yesterday the plaintiff called as his witness the Chief of police of the District of Columbia, Major Moore. He denied that in either of the two interviews Colonel Breckinridge had said "this is one of life's tragedies," or that he had said anything about Miss Pollard's having had two children. Dr. E. W. Shaffer, deputy coroner of district, and Edwin B. Hay testified as experts in handwriting that in their judgment the black bordered letter which Miss Pollard had declared a forgery and those of which she acknowledged authorship was written by the same person.

Peixoto Was Labeled.

RIO JANEIRO, March 28.—The representative in this city of the Associated Press has been at great pains to learn if there was any basis of truth in the report cable to the United States in regard to the revival by President Peixoto of the imperial decrees of 1888 and 1891, which relate to the treatment to be accorded all persons, natives or foreigners, who in any way aid or abet a revolt against the government. It can be positively said that no decree has ever been issued by President Peixoto ordering executions without the forms of trial. The martial law decree was in no sense a revival of the imperial decrees.

Urging Reduced Salaries for Officials.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Representative Boen, of Minnesota, introduced in the House a bill for the reduction of compensation of persons in the government service. The bill recites that the unit value of money is decreasing, and that private wages are falling while public salaries are kept up to their old figures. It provides that salaries from $1,000 to $5,000 be reduced 25 per cent.; those from $5,000 to $20,000, 30 per cent.; all above $20,000, 50 per cent.

Charged with Defrauding a Soldier's Home.

DENVER, March 28.—A Grand Army committee has demanded of the government an investigation into the affairs of the soldiers and sailors' home at Montevista on the grounds of misappropriation of funds. The state board of charities and corrections will probably take up the matter. The charge is that the manager, $100,000 was used for the purchase of the property, and that the money was used for the purchase of the property.

This Decided Change Brought About by Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen—I wish to certify to the following facts: My little girl, Lilla May Guthrie, had a severe attack of the grip, and got somewhat better, but she did not seem to get right well. She lingered along from day to day, poor, weak and languid. We consulted a leading physician, and he said it was the grips of the grip still about her. We gave the medicine he ordered, but she seemed to get

More and More Delicate.

She could scarcely eat anything, and what little she did take seemed to do her no good. Her flesh was soft and not healthy, and she was stupid and dull with no ambition. We were very much concerned about her. No medicine seemed to have any effect until about two months ago we commenced to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She had not taken half a bottle before she began to eat heartily, and we could see a decided change in her. Today she is in the full enjoyment of Perfect Health.

Her flesh is solid, her appetite good and cheeks rosy, her sleep sound and refreshing, and her spirits high. She is full of life, and as mischievous as she can be. All this improvement was brought about by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife joins with me in recommending this medicine as the best in the world for building up the system.' IRA GUTHRIE, Heathville, Penn. N. B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.
