

NOW A TOTAL WRECK.

No Hope of Saving the Old Warship Kearsarge.

WHOLLY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

The Steamer Orion, which sailed to take the Kearsarge off Roncoard Reef, found that there was nothing left of the historic old vessel.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The gallant old war vessel Kearsarge, which went ashore on Roncoard reef Feb. 2, has been destroyed, notwithstanding the heroic efforts that have been put forth to save her. Telegrams conveying this information reached Secretary Herbert after office hours last evening. One came from Boston, signed by Mr. Alfred Winsor, the president of the Boston Tow company, which contracted to save the Kearsarge, if possible, and sent the Orion to Roncoard reef with this object in view. The second dispatch was from Mr. F. W. Houghton, the superintendent of Maritime Exchange at New York, and read: "Steamer Orion, which sailed to assist the Kearsarge off Roncoard reef, reports from Havana that the Kearsarge is burned and a total wreck."

Official information regarding the burning of the vessel is lacking, and these two telegrams are all that has been received by Secretary Herbert concerning the matter. The news of the destruction of the historic old vessel was a subject of genuine regret on the part of those officials of the navy department who were apprised of the contents of the telegrams. They had sincerely hoped that the efforts that had been undertaken to save her would be successful and that she would yet be serviceable as a training ship or could be set aside for exhibition as a relic of her deeds in the late war.

As the telegrams do not indicate the cause of the burning of the vessel there is some curiosity to learn the details. The impression, however, is that it is the work of the natives of New Providence and vicinity. The belief is that they set fire to the hull of the vessel in order to secure the brass and other metal used in its construction. Further intelligence regarding the burning is awaited with interest.

Congress authorized an expenditure of $45,000 to be used for saving the vessel, if possible. The towboat company will secure some remuneration for the expense entailed, but the limit was fixed by congress within $10,000.

A CRANK WITH A GRIEVANCE.

Wanted to Kill a Mayor for Appointing a Catholic.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 27.—An exciting episode occurred last evening at the residence of Mayor-elect Edward S. Smeltz, which created great consternation in the neighborhood. Mr. Smeltz has been lying dangerously ill since the day following his election, but during the past week had been sufficiently recovered to be able to consider his police appointments. Yesterday he made public his appointments, and they seemed to give general satisfaction. In the evening a man called at Mr. Smeltz's residence and asked to see him. He was told by one of the ladies of the family that he was too ill to see strangers.

The man grew very excited, and said he must see Mr. Smeltz on important business. Again the caller was denied admission, when suddenly he pulled a revolver from his pocket and exclaimed with an oath: "He appointed a Catholic on his police force, and I am going to kill him for it." The screams of the woman and the excited demonstrations of the man with the pistol attracted a large crowd, to whom the crank continued to denounce the mayor for appointing a Catholic. The man quietly walked away before the arrival of a policeman, but he was subsequently arrested at his home. His name is Theodore Klinger, 50 years of age, and he has given the police trouble before.

Gravesend Indebted to McKane.

BROOKLYN, March 28.—The board of auditors of the town of Gravesend received from George McKane and George W. Roderick an itemized account of the accounts of John Y. McKane with the town for the year 1893. It shows that he received from various sources the sum of $644,466.75, and that he paid out $651,946.45, leaving a balance due McKane of $7,520.30. It is stated as a matter of fact that the town owes McKane a great deal more, as he has been paying for years from $8,000 to $10,000 annually for police service in excess of the state allowance, which has been $30,000.

Looks Like a Double Murder.

RACINE, Wis., March 28.—A startling discovery has been made in the case of Mrs. Moyer, who was recently brought back from Brooklyn, N. Y., on a charge of poisoning her former husband, Herman Groenke. About two years ago an adopted son of the woman died very suddenly and was interred at Mount Hope cemetery. The body of the child was exhumed yesterday, and the liver of the little one was found to be in a perfect state of preservation, indicating that it contained large quantities of arsenic. The liver will be submitted to a careful analysis.

The Treasury Deficit.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The aggregate receipts of the treasury from all sources for this month are $21,539,236 and the aggregate expenditures $28,810,000, showing a deficiency to this date of $7,270,763. The fact, however, that nearly all of the large amounts to be met during March already have been paid makes it a safe prediction that the net deficit for the whole month will not exceed $6,000,000.

Gloucester Sports Give It Up.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 28.—That the last hope of horse racing at Gloucester has expired was evidenced yesterday when the last of the racers which have been wintered in the stables at the track were shipped to the west. The only horses now remaining at the track are those in the hands of the sheriff, held to satisfy feed bills contracted by their owners.

Gravesend Election Crooks Sentenced.

BROOKLYN, March 28.—The sixteen Gravesend election inspectors who pleaded guilty of conspiracy were called before Justice Brown yesterday in the court of oyer and terminer and received sentences ranging from twenty-nine days to six months' imprisonment. Many of them were fined various amounts up to $500.

Not Guilty of Rioting.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March 28.—John C. Leonard, president of the Miners' union, was acquitted yesterday of a charge of rioting and disturbing the public peace.

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

Matters of Interest from All Over the Commonwealth.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., March 28.—Annie Walker, an unmarried colored woman, was arrested here, charged with the murder of her child. Unknown to any of the people in the house where she lived, she gave birth to the child a few days ago. It was found dead under her bed, wrapped in a coat.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., March 26.—Matthew J. Andrukatis, aged 47 years, shot himself fatally in the office of Dr. S. M. Supter while waiting for the physician. He attempted to remove a revolver from a high shelf and the weapon was discharged. Before dying Andrukatis said the shooting was accidental. He didn't know it was loaded.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 27.—John Saunders, the Hungarian who shot and killed little Christopher Hendershot and wounded two other persons at Midvale last week, was given a hearing yesterday. The hospital physicians testified that Andrew Boshock, one of Saunders' victims, was still in a dangerous condition. The prisoner was recommitted to jail.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., March 27.—For some time past Mrs. Joseph Urably has been separated from her husband, and has been employed as housekeeper for R. Frankel. Yesterday her husband called at the house and assaulted his wife, cutting off her nose and hacking her face terribly. She was stabbed in seventeen places, and physicians say she will die. Urably was arrested.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 26.—Andro Bartlett became enraged at his sister because of some slight affront and the crying of his infant. He went to the cradle in which she was rocking the child, seized it and going to the stove, in which a hot fire was burning, raised the lids and tossed the child upon the fire. The sister quickly snatched the child from the fire, but it was terribly burned, and may die.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., March 26.—Twenty-eight persons converted to the church in this place were baptized by immersion in the Juniata river yesterday afternoon. While the converts were returning to town in an omnibus the horses became unmanageable and upset the load upon the highway. Miss Elsie McManamy and Mrs. Westley Elliott sustained fatal injuries, and four others were badly bruised.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 28.—An angry and perhaps fatal fight took place at Mine Hill Gap, a small mining village, between two parties of Hungarian mine laborers who had been to Minersville and were on their way home drunk. In the fight John Wickolosi and Anthony Kadish were beaten to insensibility, and were left for dead on the roadside. Besides his other injuries Wickolosi lost one of his eyes. He is believed to be fatally hurt.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—Mary Berger, aged 73 years, and her daughter Clara, 40 years old, were frightfully burned last night as the result of the explosion of an oil lamp at their residence on North Tenth street. The mother will die, and little hopes are entertained for the recovery of the daughter. Ida Thornton, 22 years old, of Eaglesfield street, was preparing supper when her dress caught fire from the stove, and she was severely burned that she died a few hours later.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 24.—Charles Rawd, a man of 18 years, of good family connections, last Saturday night tried to fire the large hardware establishment of Steinman & Co., of this city, where he was employed. He made a full confession, but could give no motive for his crime. Later investigation indicates also positively that he is the person who, within the past six weeks, has exploded two dynamite bombs in the heart of the city. His mind is believed to have been affected by cheap literature.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 24.—A Hungarian named Pathick entered the pump house at No. 5 strippings with a lighted lamp on his head. A cotton bag containing twenty sticks of dynamite hung on the wall. The bag, it is supposed, became ignited from the lamp and the dynamite dropped to the floor. A terrific explosion followed. Several boxes of dynamite, which were kept there, also disintegrated. The pump house was destroyed and the machinery and pipes were broken and twisted and carried a hundred yards away. Not a trace of Pathick has been found.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 27.—Professor Hartschorn was yesterday sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Notwithstanding he had pleaded guilty, he broke down when he heard the decision of the court. A timely discovery by Sheriff Douthitt prevented another jail delivery Sunday night. The prisoners said to be interested in the plot were Professor Hartschorn, Charles Jacobs and Samuel Schell. Schell and Jacobs had succeeded in getting out of their cells by unscrewing bolts. They had several saws, and intended to release Hartschorn before sawing the iron bars over the windows.

PITTSBURG, March 28.—Sheriff Wilhelm, of Fayette county, Pa., passed through Pittsburgh with a gang of workhouse prisoners. Among them was Oliver Cooley, of the notorious Cooley family. Young Cooley is the last of the family, the rest of the members having been imprisoned, except those who died or were killed in the raid when the gang was captured over a year ago by Sheriff McCormick. The Cooley boy was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and undergo three months in the workhouse for disturbing a religious meeting, and ten months in the workhouse for carrying concealed weapons.

SHARON, Pa., March 28.—Whentland, the deserted iron town twenty miles south of here, was the scene yesterday of either a terrible accident or a horrible tragedy. Early in the morning fire broke out in the residence of William Laird and destroyed five of the company's houses. After the fire the partially burned body of Laird was found in the ruins. Laird's family was away visiting at Youngstown, and he was alone in the house. His watch and money were gone, and the corpse was at least twenty feet from where he had slept. The authorities have strong suspicion that Laird was robbed, killed and his house fired to conceal the crime.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 28.—C. J. Boyle, owner of a grocery at Plymouth, was aroused from his slumbers about 2 o'clock in the morning by hearing some one walking around in the store room. He finally heard the door close and, looking out the window, he saw the intruder carrying off a sack of flour. In less than twenty minutes the thief came back, and re-entered the store. When he picked up another sack of flour Boyle, who was concealed in the store, shouted to him to halt. The burglar paid no attention, and Boyle fired, the ball entering the back of the thief, who fell. The burglar was found to be George Jones, a well known character about town. He said his family was
