TERRORS OF THE ARCTIC

Details of the Loss of the Steamer Ragnvald Jarl.
BOTTOLFSEN'S PERILOUS TRAMP.
He and Two Companions Traveled Two Hundred and Thirty Miles, Dragging an Aluminum Boat Behind Them, to Bring News of Walter Wellman's Expedition.

TROMSØ, Norway, Aug. 8.—Captain Bottolfesen, who brought to this place the news of the loss of the Wellman Polar expedition steamer Ragnvald Jarl, gives, in an interview, further details of the adventures of the Wellman party. He says that the expedition reached Walden Island on May 17, when the pack ice was becoming troublesome. Mr. Wellman and his party started north on sledges on May 24. On May 28 the screwing of the ice commenced in real earnest. Near the steamer were icebergs which towered as high as the yard arms of the vessel's masts. While the crew were drinking their afternoon cup of coffee on that day the steamer was suddenly crushed by the ice as if it were a match box. The water rushed in with terrific force, and in a few minutes the vessel was a complete wreck. The crew in the meantime had escaped to the shore.

The crew had been occupied for several days previous in bringing provisions and the aluminum boats ashore. They were now obliged to take shelter in a great dog kennel until they were able to build a hut from the wreckage of the steamer. Through a hole which had been made in the side of the wrecked vessel the party were enabled to save a quantity of coal and other useful articles. An express party was sent after Mr. Wellman, and overtook him and his companions at Marten Island. Wellman, Dodge and two others returned to Walden Island and held a council. Captain Bottolfesen, Webfeldt and a sailor volunteered to go and seek for sealing vessels to the southward.

Mr. Wellman resumed his journey northward on May 31, but Bottolfesen and his party were unable to start on their trip, owing to the heavy pack ice, and were still detained at the island on June 23, when Sando, Iversen, Wipshup and Heyerdahl returned to Mr. Wellman, owing to lack of provisions and to troubles in regard to ice and water. On June 27 Captain Bottolfesen and his party started southward in search of sealers, hauling behind them a twelve foot aluminum boat. They passed four terrible weeks of storm and heavy snow, sometimes hauling their boat, and sailing or rowing where there was open water. In this way they traveled 230 miles along the Spitzbergen islands. They were compelled to throw away nearly all their extra clothing and much of their equipment, as the boat was overloaded. Their passage across Henlopen strait was particularly difficult and dangerous. All of the party were wet to the skin, and the cold being intense, their sufferings were most severe. The cold on the nights of July 10 and 12 was simply awful.

In a hut at Momet Bay they found and repaired an old gig. On July 13 they tried to cross Wijde bay, but were obliged to return, owing to the fog and ice. They made another start on the 15th, but the ice proved to be dense, and they were obliged to leave the gig and proceed, hauling the aluminum boat. Seven Norwegian sealers were seen east of the Norse islands, but failed to respond to the party's signals. At Norse bay they found Nordenskiöld's hut, where a provision depot was maintained by the explorer and his crew. The party had to take their boat around Welcome Point. On July 19 they were taken aboard the steamer Mallygeen, Captain Pedersen. Heyerdahl was landed at Dane's Island to join Professor Oyen, who was well, but still declined to leave the island.

Captain Bottolfesen says that during the journey along the coast his party were able to shoot a few Polar bears and reindeer. He says that Captain Pedersen proved a splendid ice-master. Bottolfesen is high in his praise of aluminum boats. The dogs he had with him proved useless, becoming sorefooted, and had to be shot. He says that Sando and his companions left Wellman June 17, six miles east of Platen, on his way to Ribes Island. All his party were well. He says it is probable that the two engineers and a doctor who were left at Walden Island will be rescued by sealers as soon as the ice and weather becomes favorable enough for them to proceed eastward.

A French Explorer Murdered.

The French envoy to China has sent a protest to the government, demanding the recovery and return of the body and papers, and also that the Chinese government make an apology for the occurrence and provide a proper compensation for the family of the murdered man.

Underwood, who died at Leith, Scotland, yesterday, at which place he was United States consul, has been for some years in the consular service, in which he had earned a high reputation. ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

Matters of Interest from All Over the Commonwealth.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—The United States steamship New York has arrived at League Island, where she will take aboard the Pennsylvania naval militia for a five days' cruise.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Fire in the two story brick stable of Stend & Murphy, on Somerset street, spread to two adjoining buildings, which were slightly damaged. Eleven horses were burned to death in the stable.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 8.—Harry Manfred, the murderer of George Ochs, was hanged in the county prison jail yard, in the presence of 300 people, yesterday. Manfred was a native of Italy, and was 22 years of age. He came to this country when but 15 years old.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 7.—A. S. Vanwickle, a coal operator of this place, gave out yesterday a contract to Henry King to build eighteen miles of railway from Beaver Meadow to New Boston, where it will connect with the Pennsylvania system. Two hundred men began work on it this morning. The surveys have been made and work will be pushed.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 6.—Samuel D. Matthews, a miner employed at Leisenring shaft, No. 1, of the Frick company, was severely injured by a mob of striking coke miners, who waylaid him on the road home from the mine. When he defended himself one of his assailants drew a knife and stabbed Matthews in the breast and shoulder. He is expected to recover.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 4.—Miss Edna Peush, a daughter of Dr. Samuel Peush, a farmer, of Arcola, this county, died as a result of injuries received while assisting in the work in the hay field. She was operating a horse rake, when the horse ran off, throwing her to the ground. She sustained concussion of the brain, and lingered in an unconscious condition until death ensued.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 4.—While Mrs. Gray and her 9-year-old daughter Ida were driving down the mountain side near Shepton their horse took fright and ran away down the steep road. The carriage overturned and both were thrown out. Mrs. Gray struck the ground on her head and broke her neck, dying in a few minutes. The child was horribly mangled, but will recover.

EDENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 6.—The striking miners of Barnesboro, a coal town about fifteen miles north of this place, became violent Saturday and burned the coal tipples and several other buildings at the Cambria Coal company's mines. The cause of this riot is due to the low wages paid to miners in that district. They were receiving thirty cents per ton, and refused to work any longer for those wages.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 7.—Harry Gross, a colored man of White Horse, met with a peculiar experience during a thunder storm which raged in the Chester valley yesterday. He was walking in the public road when he was struck by lightning in the mouth. Three of his upper teeth were knocked out and his lip cut and bruised. He was knocked unconscious for a few minutes, but recovered soon.

WOMELSDORF, Pa., Aug. 6.—An attempt is being made to amend the will of Daniel Sahl, who bequeathed $15,000 to the Zion church, of this place. He died ten years ago, leaving the property to his widow, who died a year ago. John F. Filbert and his brother William, nephews of Sahl, claim that the contingency of the will are so remote that the church bequest fails, and they, as the legal heirs, claim the estate.

HAMBURG, Pa., Aug. 6.—In a number of townships the school directors have closed the schools for the summer. In several instances reduced the term. As the legislature granted an increased appropriation some of the patrons protest against the action of the school directors. Attorneys were consulted, but they stated that there is nothing in the act relative to school appropriations to prohibit directors from reducing salaries or school terms.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 7.—Valentine Nowacki, the leader of the foreign forces of the coke strikers, proposes to make an offer to the Japanese government to furnish 5,000 soldiers for use in their war against China. Nowacki will confer with the Japanese legation at Washington. He is a soldier, and so it is claimed is every adult foreign coke striker in the region. Their marching and camping the last three months has made them enthusiastic to once more carry gun and saber. All seem anxious to go.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 6.—The vault in the Scranton jail, which was robbed last Thursday night, $5,000 in stamps being taken. How the robbers effected an entrance is a mystery. Postmaster Vanding offers a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the thieves and the recovery of the stamps. The affair has caused a profound sensation here, and skilled detectives have already been put at work upon the case. The postmaster is greatly worried over the robbery. He has said that he suspects no one in the office.

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Aug. 8.—Although the coal strike was not as generally resumed in this section yesterday as was expected. The danger is that unless the miners at many of the mines go to work in a day or two several operators will consider themselves released from the discriminating clause in the agreement, and many former employes will find themselves unable to get work. In the Houtzdale district work was resumed at only three out of the twenty mines. In the Philippsburg and Oseola districts resumption was general.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 6.—A strange showing of transplanted customs of the Slav element in this region was made near Leith. The victim was a young woman who had violated the moral code that is supposed to govern these people. A party of Slavs took her from her friends, stripped her of clothing, lashed her to a stake and whipped her savagely for over an hour. She was reviled, tormented and spat upon by anybody who cared to. A young man offered to release some of the cords and was beaten off by the mob. When the girl was taken down, after six hours of torment, she could scarcely move.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 7.—Forest fires are threatening serious damage in this vicinity. Yesterday the entire department was called out to fight a long line of flames which had already reached the city limits on the southeast, and men were on duty all last night to protect the buildings on the outskirts. Near Conneautville, in the western part of the county, similar fires have already done serious damage, and hundreds of citizens and farmers have been fighting the fire since last Saturday night. Several large timber slashings and many acres of standing timber have been burned.

"This is the way I appear after Dr. Salm's operation."
JOHN MORGANROTH,
Aitona, Pa.

A Blind Eye made to see by Dr. Salm making a wonderful operation.
For over ten years I have been badly cross-eyed. Dr. Salm operated upon me without giving me chloroform or causing pain or loss of blood. My eyes are straight once more, and the eye that heretofore was almost totally blind I can again see splendidly with.
MARY E. LONG,
Somerset, Pa.

Four of the best doctors in the county said she was incurable, but Dr. Salm made her well.
For over 5 years I have been suffering with heart trouble and a bad case of dropsy. We thought I was going to die. I went to four of the best doctors in the county for relief, but all of them said a cure was impossible. At times I felt so bad that I was certain I had to die. I fainted away very often and my friends told me afterwards that they thought every moment would be my last. I hereby affirm that had it not been for the splendid treatment received from Dr. Salm, I would have been under the sod long ago. I have been cured me of that great trouble. In fact my neighbors tell me that I look 10 years younger, and I can assure you I feel that way. Thanks to the doctor's wonderful cure of my case.
MARY M. FRASER,
Wilmore, Pa.

A peculiar affection of the legs cured by Dr. Salm.
For the last ten years our son had the most peculiar affection of both legs. They became covered with scabs and scales. They oozed out considerable secretion, and the disease troubled him constantly, even interrupted his sleep on account of the terrible itching. We tried the best doctors in our county and was cured by, without any result. None of them made the correct diagnosis, until we brought him to Dr. Salm, who diagnosed the disease as a scrofulous affection, and as a result of his treatment he has succeeded in making a permanent cure in the time stated. We believe he understands his business, and hence we do not hesitate to recommend him to our citizens.
FRED S. COOK,
Milesburg, Pa.

Suffered with catarrh and bronchitis for 25 years but was cured by Dr. Salm.
For the last 15 years I have been suffering with catarrh, bronchitis and general trouble. I took cold very easily. Then I became choked in my chest and could hardly breathe. My lungs became badly affected, lost flesh rapidly and altered in looks amazingly. In fact it was a terrible disease. After a course of treatment, without effect. After a course of treatment, without effect. I am now more a well woman, do not take cold any more, and can rest and eat splendidly. In fact my neighbors tell me that I look 10 years younger, and I can assure you I feel that way. Thanks to the doctor's wonderful cure of my case.
MARY M. FRASER,
Wilmore, Pa.

Spinal and brain trouble cured by Dr. Salm.
Our boy became suddenly affected with spinal trouble, and it was but a short time before he had lost almost the entire use of his legs. Of course we became very much alarmed and worried about him, particularly as the four physicians we consulted told us there was no hope for him. But Dr. Salm has again done a wonderful piece of work, for he can again use his limbs as well as ever, and he is cured of a terrible disease by this wonderful physician. We believe he is one of our best doctors and pronounce him incurable.
