COLUMBIA, Pa., Aug. 20.—Bankers E. K. Smith and C. E. Graybill, of this place, will be tried for embezzlement. They failed a year ago, and the creditors brought suits. The court on Saturday sustained the indictments. There are about twenty-five charges of embezzlement against him.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Aug. 21.—Seven prisoners who were confined in the jail here escaped Sunday night by sawing a hole in the floor, through which they got into the cellar, thence to the yard and over the wall. Two have been recaptured, but the others are thought to be out of reach.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 22.—The latest move in the affairs of the Second National bank was the arrest yesterday of Harry Claiborn, another clerk in the bank, on the same charge as that preferred against Mayberry Miller, falsifying the books of the bank with intent to deceive the examiner. HEAVY SENTENCES, Pa., Aug. 18.—The heaviest sentences that have been given in Chester county for years were imposed yesterday upon Charles Wills and Walter Carmichael, young men. They pleaded guilty to burglary, larceny and horse stealing, fourteen indictments each, and were sentenced by Judge Hemphill to twenty years' imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 20.—At Tunnel Hill, a small mining town in the western part of Blair county, James McAvoy, a young miner, went home drunk and began quarreling with his wife. LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 22.—The grand jury yesterday afternoon returned twenty-two bills of indictments against Abe Buzard, the notorious "king" of the Welsh mountain outlaws, who, after serving a long term in the Eastern penitentiary, was pardoned two years ago. HARRISBURG, Aug. 21.—George F. Work, who was instrumental in the winding up of the Bank of America, will have to serve out his term. Governor Pattison yesterday refused to approve the pardon. The commutation Work carried insures him against losing his citizenship.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 21.—Mayberry Miller, a young clerk in the suspended Second National bank, was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out by Chief Bank Examiner Coffin. Miller's alleged offense is altering the figures in the balance book, which he is said to have done under the direction of Cashier Gardner. The alteration is alleged to have been made six months ago, on the day previous to the visit of the bank examiner, and changed back on the day following that official departure. This prevented the discovery of the shortage at that time.

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 21.—M. M. Denlinger, proprietor of the largest and most prominent boarding house in this city, and Charles C. Ricker, a young man of good family, were arrested here yesterday on the charge of printing and circulating immoral literature through the mails. The arrests were made through Anthony Comstock, who came here with evidence that immoral books and pamphlets had been sent to schools in various sections of the state. In the upper story of Denlinger's house was found a well equipped printing office, where the matter was printed. Comstock took Ricker to Philadelphia to answer the charge of illegally using the United States mails, while Denlinger was locked up here to answer the charge of printing matter prohibited by the state law. Two large sacks of immoral literature were found in Denlinger's office.

TARIFF BILL BLUNDERS

The Senate Alone Responsible for the Errors.

THE MISPLACING OF A SEMICOLON.

It is Responsible for the Placing of Diamonds on the Free List—Musical Instruments Under the Head of "Explosive Substances."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The enrolling clerks of the house and the chairman of the house committee on enrolled bills deny most emphatically that they are responsible for any of the errors in punctuation or otherwise that threaten to defeat the intention of congress with reference to various tariff schedules. They say that four comparisons of the enrolled bills and the measure as passed by the senate were made, and that congress is responsible for many errors. It is asserted that a careful comparison would show that the enrolled bill is an absolutely perfect copy of the bill as it passed the senate.

Mr. George B. Parsons, the chief enrolling clerk, said: "We cannot go by scholastic standards, but are obliged to follow copy to the strict letter. We suppose that the house and the senate know what they are about. Now, I do not deny that there are mistakes in the bill; that is very apparent. But these mistakes were made in the drafting of the senate amendments, which, as you know, were adopted entire by the house without a stroke of difference."

"The main item of error seems to be that diamonds have been placed upon the free list. This occurred evidently because the senate used a semicolon instead of a colon after the word 'diamonds' in the free list. Although it occurred to me after we had copied the item that a colon was meant, we had no authority here to make a change, for that would be for us to assume the right to legislate. We have no such right whatever, nor have we a right to construe the intention of the legislators, for that would give us the authority of a court."

"Now, if we want to go ahead and have some fun out of this bill we can do it just as easily here as the folks in the treasury department, for we have found some very funny things in the official copy of the bill. I will instance one of them. Musical instruments are to be noted in the bill under the head of 'Explosive Substances.' The senate amendment read to insert the musical instruments paragraph after line 25 on a certain page, which brought it between the item of friction matches and that of percussion caps. Of course this surprised us somewhat, but we concluded that the author of the amendment lived next door to some chap who has a young daughter who is learning to play on a second hand piano."

Representative Pearson, of Ohio, the chairman of the enrolled bills committee, affirmed all that Mr. Parsons had said as to the accuracy of the enrolled copy.

A member of the house, in speaking of the number of mistakes discovered, said: "The house adopted the senate bill entire. To have amended even the semicolon after the word diamonds would have necessitated the return of the bill to the senate, which was precisely what the house managers did not desire. Had an effort been made to amend this and other errors of punctuation it is more than probable that the bill would have by this time received a totally different fate than that which it met."

A Husband's Terrible Discovery.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—Thomas Harris, of Epslen borough, returned yesterday from Mt. Clemens, where he had been for his health. He found his home closed, and after considerable trouble broke in. He found the dead and decomposed body of his wife on the bed, and by her side slept their two children, aged 2 and 4 years respectively. The woman died last Thursday from hemorrhage, and her head was saturated with blood. The neighbors supposed that the family was away. The children are in a precarious condition from lack of food and breathing the contaminated atmosphere so long.

Killed His Coachman in Self Defense.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 22.—Frank F. Harl, junior partner in the legal firm of Harl & Harl, shot and killed his coachman, Charles Martin, yesterday. Harl's story is to the effect that Martin robbed a safe at his residence of $160, and when he accused him of the crime admitted his guilt and returned a portion of the money. Harl then told Martin that he was going to hand him over to the officer, when Martin seized an ax and made for him, and Harl shot the coachman. Harl surrendered, and at the coroner's inquest was discharged. The verdict was self defense.

They Died for Love.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Park Officer Thomas Flynn, while patrolling in Central Park, discovered the bodies of a young man and young woman lying dead on the grass near the pathway. They had committed suicide by shooting. The man was Julius de Marcus, who lived at 52 East Broadway. The woman was Juliette Fournier, of 354 South Fourth street, Brooklyn. A number of letters, signed by each, showed that they "died for true love." The woman was married, her husband being also her uncle.

The boiler was blown 400 feet away. The mill was completely wrecked.

HALLOO!

HALLOO! I want everybody in Centre county to know that I eat bread made from the grain produced by the fertilizers sold by McCalmont & Co. This firm introduced their Champion $25 Ammoniated Bone Super Phosphate six years ago. It now has the highest reputation over all complete fertilizers, which have been sold in Centre county.

The State Board of Agriculture, computed from the analysis, gives it a commercial value of $31.36 per ton, nevertheless McCalmont & Co. supply to the farmers of Centre county at $25 per ton. The high reputation already gained for the Champion Fertilizer, has induced one farmer to purchase from thirty to forty tons for use on his farms in Benner twp. during the fall seeding of '94. Another farmer has purchased seven and one-half tons, and more if he needs it, for use on his farms in Spring twp. during the fall seeding; and many other farmers of Centre county have purchased one, two, three and four tons according to the size of their farms; the sales now aggregating more than double the sales of last year, which were large. It is a source of great satisfaction to McCalmont & Co. to know that their customers, who have been using this already celebrated phosphate, commend its use so highly to those who have not tried it. In the language of one farmer, we quote, "I am satisfied with the goods and I am satisfied with the price; put my order down for one more ton this year."

McCalmont & Co. have enlarged their warehouse and will keep in stock ready for prompt delivery their Champion $25 Ammoniated Bone Super Phosphate, High Grade Acid Phosphate, Buffalo Honest Phosphate, Nitrate of Soda, Murate of Potash, Dried Blood, Ground Bone and all other fertilizing materials, by the ton or car load; shipped to all stations in Centre and adjoining counties at the lowest prices, quality of goods considered. We guarantee the highest grade fertilizers in the market—we do not deal in shoddy goods. Orders solicited in any quantity, including Land Plaster and Agricultural Salt.
