

That's Claimed

I have a better appetite and do not feel tired. I can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as an excellent spring or fall medicine to keep the blood in order. Myself and three daughters have taken over six bottles, and it has done us much good. We do not now have to call upon a doctor, as formerly, in the spring time, and I can say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is what I claim for it. I most heartily recommend it, and shall always keep it in my house.

Here's the Idea Of the Non-pull-out Bow The great watch saver. Saves the watch from thieves and falls—cannot be pulled off—costs nothing extra.

The bow has a groove cut in it. A collar runs down inside the pendant (stem) and is held in place by a spring, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

Can only be had with cases stamped with this trade mark.

JAS. BOYS FILLED WATCH CASES are now made of this great bow (ring). They are made of solid gold cases. Cost only about half as much, and are guaranteed for twenty years. Sold only through watch dealers. Remember the name

Fatal Fire in a Crowded New York Tenement House.

SEVEN HUMAN LIVES SACRIFICED.

The Fire Came While Seven Families Were Asleep, and Those Who Escaped Were Awakened by the Shouts of People on the Street.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Seven people were smothered to death by smoke in a tenement house fire at No. 218 West Thirty-second street early in the morning. The fire came suddenly and cut off all escape by the stairways. In the excitement everybody looked only to his or her own safety, and rushed down the fire escape.

The following perished in the building: George Friedman, aged 4 years; Levy Friedman, 3; Annie Appleblatt, 22; Lena Mitchell, 34; Mrs. Margaret Killian, 70; Jacob Killian, her son, 40; George Levy, Mrs. Killian's grandson, 22. Lena Friedman, mother of the dead children, jumped from the third story window. She was badly crushed and mangled, and will die.

The house is a five-story brick tenement, the ground floor being occupied by a grocery and the upper stories being arranged with front and rear apartments. There were seven families in the house. The only means of exit for the people is by means of a stairway, narrow and dark, which runs directly up through the centre of the building.

The fire was discovered at 3 o'clock by passers-by. When a policeman came up the door of the tenement was open, and on the inside the fire glowed like a torch. He could see that the stairway was being rapidly burned away. Still there was not a sign of life from the people sleeping in the house.

To enter the house meant death. The only hope for those within was in arousing them by shouts, in which the policeman was aided by those who had been attracted by the fire.

Suddenly to the noise of the flames as they burned away the stairway there was added an awful cry. One of the tenants in the upper part of the house had been aroused and stood at the window on the fifth floor. It was Mrs. Eberwein, the janitress, who lived on that floor. In a minute there was not a window in the front of the house that did not contain the wild and frightened face of some man, woman or child, each of them appealing for aid.

In the absence of the firemen, who had not yet arrived, the spectators were powerless to assist those in the building further than to remain there of the fire escapes. By these first one woman and then others of the tenants to the number of twenty reached the ground, descending in the midst of flame and smoke, before the ladder trucks arrived.

The Friedman children and two boarders, Annie Appleblatt and Lena Mitchell, slept in an inner apartment on the third floor. The fire had not reached them, but the smoke had filled the room, and at least three of the occupants had suffocated without having awakened to their peril. George and Levy Friedman and Lena Mitchell were still in bed when found, and the peaceful expression of their faces showed they had no knowledge of the death that came to them so suddenly. Annie Appleblatt was lying dead on the floor. Her face was black. She had her dress and shoes on. Evidently she had been aroused and had stopped to don her clothing, and had died before she finished her task.

On the fourth floor were found the remaining victims of the fire. Mrs. Killian and her son were dead in bed, while the grandson was on the floor, half way to the rear window.

The fire was extinguished soon after the hose was turned on, and though the work of rescue was prosecuted with zeal from the instant the firemen arrived on the scene they were too late. The property damage will not exceed $2,000.

Death of Dr. Peterson. ASBURY PARK, Oct. 31.—Dr. Robert E. Peterson, who had been here during the summer, died yesterday from apoplexy. He was 82 years old. Dr. Peterson was at one time associated with the late George W. Childs in the publishing business under the firm name of Peterson, Childs & Co. He studied medicine when about 30 years of age, and graduated with high honors, but did not practice. Nine years ago Dr. Peterson was stricken with paralysis, which left him an invalid. His only daughter is Mrs. George W. Childs.

Express Robbers Arrested. THE DALLAS, Ore., Oct. 30.—Frank Kline, son of ex-City Marshal Kline, and Otis Savage, whose father was circuit judge of this district for years, have been arrested for the Pacific express robbery of $14,000. All but $400 was recovered, of which $5,000 was found in the house of the ex-marshal. The men have confessed, and the arrest has caused a tremendous sensation.

Explosion Boiler Kills Two. PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 31.—By the explosion of the boiler at the sawmill of A. P. Kreps, in South Parkersburg, John Kreps, son of the owner, and David Jones were killed instantly, and Benjamin Mounts was severely injured.

A Good Record

During the last year 39,055 new pensioners were added to the rolls and 2,388 restored; and more than eighty thousand certificates were issued during the year. The number on the rolls was larger June 30, 1893, than it was June 30, 1892. Many other interesting facts appear, showing Democratic work in favor of the soldiers and widows of soldiers.

The fact is, the Democratic party gave pensions to soldiers before the Republican party was born as to revolutionary soldiers, soldiers of the war of 1812, and of the war with Mexico. No soldier has any charge to make against Col. Lochren, commissioner of pensions.

A Queer Spectacle. On the farm of Bilger Smeal, in Graham township, Clearfield county, can be seen a remarkable spectacle. When the terrible hail storm passed over that section last July it destroyed every green thing on Mr. Smeal's farm, including his fruit. Apples, peaches, pears, grapes, everything was annihilated. Strange to say the trees and vines budded and blossomed again and now are loaded with a second crop of green fruit. Does any one know of a similar instance?

Touching Spectacle. There is something exceedingly touching in the spectacle of a Confederate soldier appearing before a national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and moving the old soldiers of the Union by the fervor of his eloquence to elect a southern city as the next place of meeting for that body. The reception which Gordon and Waterson received at Pittsburg is a gratifying evidence of the final disappearance of all the old war times bitterness and we thank God that it is so.

Curtin Monument. An exchange says: A movement has been made at Bellefonte to erect a $25,000 monument to ex-Governor Curtin. The tablet will be of the finest marble, surmounted by a figure of the old War Governor, and will be placed in the public square of the town. The Pennsylvania Reserve Association, the Loyal Legion and various soldiers' organizations throughout the state have already tendered financial assistance.

John Sourbeck, the groceryman, is enlarging his room and will soon have a candy factory in operation at the rear of his building. It will be in operation in a few weeks.

Does the democratic party of Centre county owe Gen. Hastings anything? Has he ever done anything else than antagonize it, bitterly oppose it and assail its nominees? That is all.
