THE CURRENCY BILL.

Carlisle's Measure.

SIBLEY'S SENSATIONAL SPEECH.

The Pennsylvania Democrat, in Opposing the Plan, Makes Caustic References to the Chief Magistrate-Tom Johnson, of Ohio, Also Speaks in Opposition.

WASHINGTON, Jan 9 .- Yesterday was the last day of the general debate on the currency bill in the house, and the opponents of the measure had their innings. All the speakers except Representative Cox, of Tennessee, antagonized it. The feature of the day was the speech of Mr. Sibley, of Pennsylvania, who made an attack on the president and arraigned the Democratic party generally for drifting away from its traditional moorings. His speech created much confusion and a great

Referring to the published reports that the executive department of the government, in the person of the secretary of the treasury, was using its power to influence votes in favor of the bill Mr. Sibley said: 'If I have read the constitution of the United States correctly, it defines the powers and duties of the chief executive and the powers and duties of the membership of this house; and I tell you that today if ever a rebuke was needed to one who has trampled down the prerogatives of the people it is to that man who has used his influence, or attempted to use it, to create in himself the sole governing power of this nation. It has come to the time when to be the government of this people requires something more than a combination of brains, belly and brass.

We saw our distinguished executive after the election of 1892," Mr. Sibley continued, "hie himself away for recreation. Where on earth did he go? To the classic shores of Hog Island. The Bible says that when they are set at liberty each man will go to his own place. Where did he go to? To Buzzard's Bay. And ever since the old ship of state has been bumping her nose into Hog Island and floundering in the waters of Buzzard's Bay with prosperity but a cable length away."

the outset he said he thought he owed an apology to the house for speaking against a bill which was as dead as this was. He denied that this bill was designed to take the government out of the banking business, and asserted that no bill could be devised for sound currency issues which would not place them under government supervision, and in effect make them al-ternately redeemable by the government. It was the office of government to furnish money. This bill proposed to confer on banks without limit a right that could only be conferred on a monopoly. It gave them a monopoly or it was a failure. He attempted to demonstrate that the bill would confer the same monopoly on the banks that the Bank of England and the Bank of France had.

The leading men of the various elements opposed to the Carlisle currency bill, Democrats, Republicans and Populists, held informal conferences with a view to agreeing on a plan for foreing the contest to a speedy close. As a result of the talks the combined opposition may vote against the rule to be reported by the rules committee. As the rule is regarded as indispensible to passing the measure the defeat of the rule would be equivalent to a defeat of the bill.

Further debate on Mr. Lodge's resolution asking for information why the American ships had been withdrawn from Hawaiian waters took place in the senate yesterday. Mr. Palmer (Ills.) delivered a speech against the resolution, regarding it as an invasion by the senate of the powers of the president. He defended the acts of the present administration in Hawaiian affairs. His remarks provoked a number of interruptions by Republican senstors, including Messrs. Lodge, Teller and Aldrich. Mr. Gray (Del.) also opposed as adoption. The day closed with eulogies a the late Alfred H. Colquitt, of Georgia.

The Tariff War Growing.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The tariff war between the United States and Europe reached an acute phase yesterday. LEGISLATIVE BUILDING MOBBED.

Broke Open the Doors in an Attempt to Interview the Ministers, Who Were Conveniently Absent-Stores Broken Into and Looted.

St. John's, N. F., Jan. 9.-A serious riot occurred here yesterday. The crowd of unemployed workmen, largely increased in numbers, met before the legislative building and hooted the ex-premier, Sir William Whiteway, who was formerly their idol. They marched again to the dock where the Tourmaline is lying in order to receive the captain's answer to their petition of Monday. Captain Sir Richard Poore, the commander of the warship, received a deputation and told them that the matter was in the hands of the govern-

The crowd became deeply exasperated, and the leader's suggestion that the ministers be seen was quickly acted upon. Proceeding to the chamber the crowd found that their coming had been anticipated, for they found the doors barred against them. Nothing daunted in their determination, the crowd set to work to force an entrance, and doors and windows were soon battered in, and ingress was gained. The police attempted to check the crowd in their work of destruction, but the officers fared badly in the scuffle that followed, the rioters for the time berioters withdrew. Later the crowd again visited the governor and made another appeal to him, but this was also ineffectual. Then they returned to the legislative building, but this time they were unable to force an entrance. They, however, remained in the grounds, demanding relief and bitterly cursing the government. Hoping to pacify them Prime Minister Greene appeared and addressed them. He promised that in two or three days extensive public works would be commenced, sufficient to give all remunerative employment through the winter.

his promises, and demanded that immediate relief be furnished them. When they were told that it was impossible to accede to this demand, the leaders of the crowd held a short conference, and it was decided to attack the stores on Water street, where large quantities of provisions were supposed to be kept. The first place attacked was Duder's. The place was soon broken open, but the mob was disappointed in finding no provisions there. Then atte tion was turned to Steer's stores, which were quickly looted of their provisions.

At this point armed police intervened and the mob was driven back at the point of the bayonet. Four men, Bussey, Brown Coady and King, the promoters of the riot, were arrested. The crowd displayed an inclination to attack the police for th purpose of rescuing the prisoners, but th officers prevented this by driving the mo Tom Johnson, of Ohio, also created a back and then suddenly closing the goto
