THE "COMBINE" BROKEN.

Philadelphia Political Leaders Split on the Mayoralty Fight.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The Republican ward "combine" of this city, which has controlled the politics of its party for many years, went to pieces last night as a consequence of the mayoralty contest. Throughout the campaign it has been popularly supposed that, with the exception of Senator Porter, the "combine" was in favor of Senator Penrose for the office Last night, however, the rumor became current that Penrose had been "dumped" by the leaders, and this proved to be true. At the eleventh hour a meeting of the "combine" was held at the Union Republican club. Senator Porter occupied the chair, and the main spokesman was David Martin What had occurred between the leaders before the meeting could not be learned, but it was evident that the breach was a wide one. Magistrate Durham, an influential member of the "combine," is the leader of the Penrose forces, and he tried to bring up the question, but Mr. Martin refused to talk or listen to anything concerning Senator Penrose's candidacy. Leader Martin's attitude has all along been uncertain, but last night he boldly expressed his opposition to Penrose and declared himself for Charles F. Warwick, now city solicitor, who has been somewhat of a dark horse in this, one of the bitterest fights known to municipal

Mr. Martin brought things to a crisis when, addressing Chairman Porter, he said he believed the time had come when the usefulness of the "combine" as a political organization was at an end. The members were divided seriously and irre-trievably on the question of nominating a mayor, and in his opinion nothing could bring them together again.

Then he emphatically denied the rumor circulated that he would retire as a political leader, and his words were very generally construed by those present to mean that he intends to be the sole and only leader in his party. He concluded with the suggestion that the meeting adjourn sine die, and after the murmur had subsided the motion was carried unanimously.

NEW JERSEY'S SENATORSHIP.

Friends of Sewell and Murphy Equally Confident of Victory.

TRENTON, Jan. 8 .- The 119th New Jersey legislature opened today. Mr. Stokes was chosen president of the senate and H. B. Rollinson clerk. The house elected ex-Judge Cross, of Union, for speaker, and ex-Assemblyman James Parker, of Passaic, for clerk.

The United States senatorship, of course, is the all absorbing topic. General Sewell and Franklin Murphy, the rival candi-

The friends of both candidates express positively assert that there has been no break in the lines of the Camden statesman, and the consensus of opinion is that Sewell's success is assured. The senatorial caucus will be held next Monday night.

Franklin Murphy, in an interview, gave out that his strength for United States senator is thirty-one votes, with twelve votes unpledged, conceding to General Sewell a total of twenty-seven sure votes. General Sewell's friends laugh at this and say that Sewell has over fifty votes Thirty-six votes are necessary to Jay Gould's Personal Estate.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 .- The estate of Jay Gould has been appraised in its personal property for the purpose of taxation in the surrogate's court. Appraiser David Mc-Clure has prepared a report, in which he finds the estate is worth exactly $80,934,-580.79, aside from its $2,000,000 in realty This value is given as of the date of the death of the testator. The appraiser finds, however, that it should be taxed for about $6,000,000 less than this amount, as he de cides that the estate of George J. Gould owns that much of Jay Gould's estate because of the services of young George for twelve years at $500,000 a year.

Debs Taken to Jail.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 .- At 5 o'clock last evening seven of the men convicted of contempt by Judge Woods left Chicago in charge of officers to serve out their sentences in the Woodstock jail, of McHenry county. The party was made up of Eugene V. Debs, L. W. Rogers, Sylvester Keliher, James Hogan, William E. Burns, R. M. Goodwin and George W. Howard. Mr. Gregory, one of the counsel for the defendants, represented the Cook county jail to be overcrowded. The request to transfer was suggested to their attorney by the prisoners.

Turkish Injustice to Armenians.

VIENNA, Jan. 9. - Advices received here from Erzinghian, Armenia, say that fortythree Armenians were tried for the alleged murder of a Musselman at Armedan, in the district of Kemanch. Of this num ber twenty-four were condemned to death in spite of the fact that some of them produced passports showing that they were in Constantinople at the time of the murder. Five others of the accused were sentenced to penal servitude for life, and the remainder were sentenced to imprison ment for terms ranging from three to six

To Close the Debate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.-By a vote of 81 to 59 the Democratic house caucus voted yes terday to indorse the Carlisle substitute currency bill, now before the house. Speaker Crisp took the lead in presenting the resolution and in vigorously urging the necessity of its adoption. The committee on rules was instructed to bring in a rule to close the debate. Efforts to amend Mr. Crisp's resolution were voted down, one of the adverse votes showing only thirteen members of the caucus favorable to an issue of bonds to retire the green-

The Income Tax Suit.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 .- The case of John G. Moore, of New York, against Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller, to test the constitutionality of the income tax feature of the new tariff law, came up yesterday in the district supreme court, and was set for a hearing on the 15th inst.

CLEVELAND AND HAWAII.

The Alleged Meeting with Emissaries of Royalty.

GAVE THEM NO ENCOURAGEMENT.

Explained Through a Letter That the Whole Matter Had Been Taken from the Executive Branch-The New Government Entitled to Recognition. WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.- The attention of President Cleveland having been called to a hint thrown out in the senate discussion on Friday that the visit of a certain committee of royalists from the Hawaiian islands" was connected in some way with the departure of American ships from that locality, the president said to an Associated Press reporter:

"Of course such an insinuation is very absurd. Its propriety and the motives behind it, I am sure, can safely be left to the judgment of fair and right thinking Americans. I am entirely willing that all our people should know everything I know concerning the visit of the so called committee of royalists.'

"Last year, in the latter part of July or early in August, three gentlemen from Hawaii arrived here and asked through the secretary of state my designation of a time when they could have an interview with me and present a message from the deposed Hawalian queen. Though I could not with propriety recognize them of-ficially, I was not disposed to refuse them personally the courtesy of an audience. Therefore, a future day and hour were fixed for the interview. In the meantime, at my request, transmitted through the secretary of state, these gentlemen made known the precise purpose of their visit in a note to the effect that they desired to ask the pres-ident whether there was any hope for his doing anything for the restoration of the constitutional government of the Hawaiian

"After this had been submitted to me I prepared in writing with some care a reply to the question it contained to be read by me to the commissioners at our meeting. I intended to avoid all misunderstanding and misconception by absolutely confining myself to such written reply, of which the following is a copy:

"'Gentlemen: You must permit me to remind you that this interview is not an an official one, and that, instead of receiving you in any representative capacity, I meet you as individuals who have traveled a long distance for the purpose of laying a certain matter before me.

"'You ask me if there is any hope of my doing anything for the restoration of the constitutional government of the Ha-waiian islands. I suppose that this question is largely prompted by the fact that soon after the overturning of the late gov ernment by the queen I investigated that transaction and was satisfied that there had been such an unjustifiable interfer ence in aid of that movement on the part of the representatives of the government of the United States, in its diplomatic and naval service, as to call for correction, not only to rectify what seemed to be a wrong done to others, but also through that rec tification to ward off what appeared to be a danger to American honor and probity. "'Fully appreciating the constitutional hintations of my executive power, and by no means unmindful of the hindrances that might arise, I undertook the task. Having failed in my plans I committed the entire subject to the congress of the United States, which had abundant power and authority in the premises. The executive branch of the government was thereby discharged from further duty and responsibility in the matter, unless moved thereto by congressional command. The con gress has, both by its action and its omis sion to act, signified that nothing need be done touching American interference with the overthrow of the government of the queen. 'Quite lately a government has been established in Hawaii which is in full force and operation in all parts of the islands. It is maintaining its authority and discharging all ordinary governmental functions. Upon general principles, and not losing sight of the special circumstances surrounding this case, the new government is clearly entitled to our recognition without regard to any of the incidents which accompanied or preceded its inaug-

'This recognition and the attitude of the congress concerning Hawaiian affairs, of course, lead to an absolute denial of aid or encouragement on my part to an effort to restore any government heretofore existing in the Hawaiian islands.'

"When the day appointed for the meeting arrived I was confined to my bed by illness and unable to keep my engagement I therefore signed the paper I had expected to read, and it was delivered to the commissioners. I never saw any member of this commission, and have never had any communication or transaction with them, directly or indirectly, except as I have here

The Albany Holocaust.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The charred and black-ened remains of eight victims of the Dela van house fire have been found in the ruins. Of the few remnants of bodies, in the shape of fleshless bones and mangled trunks, there was no possible means of identification were it not for the almost extraordinary fact that near the almost totally consumed fragments of human beings were found remnants of clothing that in two cases led to recognition. Those so identified were Simon Myers, the coffee man, identified by his vest, which lay near the iron cot on which he slept, and Agnes Wilson, a fluttering bit of whose brown and black dress served as a guide to the identity of the poor mangled fragment that could hardly be called a body.

An Accidental Murder.

OAKLAND, Md., Jan. 9.—Cornelius Bit-tinger was lodged in jail here last night charged with the murder of his brother-inlaw, George Burkholder. Warrants had been issued for Bittinger and Burkholder on the charges of assault and larceny re spectively. On Saturday evening they were warned of a probable arrest. Bittinger hid up stairs in the Bittinger home, leaving Burkholder on watch down stairs. Burkholder became frightened and rushed up the steps. Bittinger, thinking it was an officer, hit him over the head with a twenty pound club, crushing the skull and brains into a jelly.

Fleeing Armenian Prisoners Killed. VIENNA, Jan. 8. - Fifteen Armenians who were imprisoned at Shabinkarahissar, province of Sivas, charged with being conzerned in a political agitation, escaped resently and were pursued by troops, who shot five of them. The others escaped.
