

THE RACKET.

NO. 9 AND 11, CHIDER EX., BELLEFONTE, PA. NEW YORK CITY SYNDICATE BUYER AND CORRESPONDENT.

A Modern Department Store.

AS OTHERS SEE US. "My stars! what have you been doing here? This looks like a city store."

A car load of new goods came to the store this week—specials for every department.

G. R. SPIGLEMYER, SHEM SPIGLEMYER, JR.

Your attention is hereby called to an important announcement to be found in another column from LYON & CO.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Messrs. Karstetter and Reighard have opened up the Bishop street bakery in handsome style.

If you want to see Bellefonte's centennial anniversary appropriately observed, go to the court house on Friday evening.

The annual commencement exercises of the Bellefonte High School will be held in Garman's opera house, on Friday, May 31st.

Everybody who is inclined to speculate is talking about investing in oil. There were fortunes in it, but only a few will reap the benefits.

Margaret Catherine, the six-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. George Garman, died at its parent's home in Bush's addition on last Tuesday.

From the large number of handsome spring bonnets to be seen on Easter morning, no one would think that there was any such a thing as hard times and depression in business.

Last Tuesday 1,700 car loads of coal passed over the Beech Creek scales, on the Beech Creek road, and the tonnage on the Tyrone & Clearfield was the heaviest in the history of that road.

The funeral services over the remains of Jacob V. Thomas were held on Saturday afternoon at the residence of the deceased, conducted by Dr. Laurie D. D., of the Presbyterian church.

John A. Beaver, Col. W. F. Reider, Chas. P. Hewes, Esq., John B. H. ... and Ellis L. Orvis, Esq., will attend Supreme Court, at Philadelphia, next week, to argue the cases of ...

In another column we publish a letter from ... to the effect that Nigh bank has not closed down for the ... According to his estimate there is enough of the mine in sight to supply them for the next ...

The ... of Bellefonte ... from ... N. J. where he is now employed in a ... mill. The ... is a ... of our ... M. W. H. ...

The ... police are ... all ... on ... The ... on the streets has caused many of the citizens to become alarmed at the ... and their children and they have protested. The dogs ... in the ...

The court house yard is quite a handsome plot. The grass is ... yet and growing nicely. McSuley gave the fountains a ... with his ... brush and as they ... the ... sprays they are ... by ...

Mr. David L. ... of Philadelphia, a ... is ... in ...

Last ... the county commissioners were in session at Bellefonte, in regard to the ... of the ...

When the ... of the ... parents ...

Scott & Bowne, New York. All Druggists, 80c and 81c.

DEATH OF AARON WILLIAMS.

OCCURRED AT NOON ON MONDAY LAST.

At the Home of his Sister, Mrs. Nancy Ebberts, near Martha Furnace, after a brief illness.

The news that Aaron Williams had died, at noon on Monday last, was received with sorrow by his many friends. It will be remembered that he was the democratic candidate for Congress, in this district, and that he was one of the many worthy men who were defeated at the last general election.

He was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Nancy Ebberts above, Martha Furnace, about ten days ago, and there within a short distance of the place of his birth and the scenes of his childhood and early successes, in the beautiful Bald Eagle Valley, at the foot hills of the Alleghanies, surrounded by sorrowing friends, he passed away.

Aaron Williams was born in Half Moon township, January 21, 1833. The advantages for schooling, in that section, at the time, were limited, but Aaron at a very early age developed an astonishing amount of pluck and determination in overcoming difficulties which would have deterred many a one from acquiring the most meager knowledge of books.

Aaron Williams was born in Half Moon township, January 21, 1833. The advantages for schooling, in that section, at the time, were limited, but Aaron at a very early age developed an astonishing amount of pluck and determination in overcoming difficulties which would have deterred many a one from acquiring the most meager knowledge of books.

The regular April term of court begins next week. The quarter sessions will not have very many important cases. Many of our leading attorneys will be attending Supreme court in Philadelphia the same week.

Major R. Bruce Petriken, of Huntingdon, one of the best known lawyers in the state, died at 7 o'clock Monday morning at the Medico-Chirurgical hospital, Philadelphia, where he was undergoing treatment for a cancerous growth in the throat. Deceased was aged 68 years and is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Mr. Chas. R. Kurtz, editor of the DEMOCRAT, left on Wednesday noon for Philadelphia, accompanied by his brother, Will Kurtz, who recently purchased the Lewisburg Journal, on a business trip in the interest of that paper. He carried with him a good sized satchel, and will not likely report such a lamentable occurrence on his return home as he did upon a former trip to that city.

In another column the announcement of Wm. F. Smith as a candidate for reelection to the office of Prothonotary, appears. Mr. Smith was elected to this position three years ago and there is no apparent reason why he should not be accorded the customary usage of a re-nomination and election. He has been a faithful official in every respect. The records in his charge have been carefully kept, and the business of the office transacted with a promptness that is admirable.

The sorrowing wife, who so lovingly cared for him during his illness, and the large number of brothers and sisters who survive him, have our heartfelt sympathy and condolence. The large circle of his acquaintances will miss his genial companionship, sage counsels and generous help. He never forgot the friends of his youth, nor failed to most generously aid them when they needed his assistance, and his loss will be sorely felt by those who knew him.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—Dr. Gutelius, of Millheim, for some time has been on the sick list.

—The Bishop street bakery opened up for business on Monday of this week.

—Mart Garman, of this place, has concluded to try to study law. He is with Ira C. Mitchell, Esq.

—John Bower, came home from Franklin and Marshall College to spend his Easter vacation at Bellefonte.

—Joe Cushion, a fireman on the Central Railroad of Pa., who for several weeks past has been confined with fever, is slowly recovering.

—The "Trolley System," advertised to appear in the opera house last Tuesday evening, closed their season at Carlisle, Pa., and failed to reach here.

—The funeral of Mr. Jacob Thomas of this place, occurred on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended. Internment was made in the Union cemetery.

—Mr. John Rumberger, a son of Register Rumberger, who is station agent at Salona, on the C. R. R. of Pa., spent Sunday with his parents at this place.

—J. C. Meyer and W. G. Runkle, Esqs., have had their law office repainted and linoleum laid on the floor. They have one of the neatest offices in Bellefonte.

—Rev. H. A. Grant has been selected to deliver the memorial sermon to Gregg Post, G. A. R., which will be on Sunday, May 20, the Sunday previous to Memorial Day.

A new course in practical Experimental Chemistry has been added to the Bellefonte Academy, and will be under the care of Mr. Frank Basset. Admission is offered at any time.

A large number of young people from Bellefonte, expect to attend Senior Assembly, at State College, on Friday evening. A special train leaves here at 7 o'clock, over the Bellefonte Central.

The attendance at the Spring session of the Zion Normal school will be larger than usual this year. This is largely due to the special efforts of Dr. Fisher, who takes great interest in school work.

The regular April term of court begins next week. The quarter sessions will not have very many important cases. Many of our leading attorneys will be attending Supreme court in Philadelphia the same week.

Many farmers in this section are through sowing oats, and nearly ready to plant corn. The heavy rain of last Saturday put a stop to seeding for several days. Thus far, however, it has been too cold, and the grain is much better in the bin.

The fine farm of Daniel Lesh, dec'd., of Zion, which was offered at orphan's court sale on last Saturday, was purchased by the heirs for $71.50 per acre. The Walkey estate, at Hecla, which was also up for sale the same day, was not sold, it not bringing what the land was worth.

Major R. Bruce Petriken, of Huntingdon, one of the best known lawyers in the state, died at 7 o'clock Monday morning at the Medico-Chirurgical hospital, Philadelphia, where he was undergoing treatment for a cancerous growth in the throat. Deceased was aged 68 years and is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Mr. Chas. R. Kurtz, editor of the DEMOCRAT, left on Wednesday noon for Philadelphia, accompanied by his brother, Will Kurtz, who recently purchased the Lewisburg Journal, on a business trip in the interest of that paper. He carried with him a good sized satchel, and will not likely report such a lamentable occurrence on his return home as he did upon a former trip to that city.

In another column the announcement of Wm. F. Smith as a candidate for reelection to the office of Prothonotary, appears. Mr. Smith was elected to this position three years ago and there is no apparent reason why he should not be accorded the customary usage of a re-nomination and election.

The sorrowing wife, who so lovingly cared for him during his illness, and the large number of brothers and sisters who survive him, have our heartfelt sympathy and condolence. The large circle of his acquaintances will miss his genial companionship, sage counsels and generous help. He never forgot the friends of his youth, nor failed to most generously aid them when they needed his assistance, and his loss will be sorely felt by those who knew him.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

A CORRECTION.

The following appeared in the Daily News on Friday. It is from the pen of J. W. Gephart, president of the Valentine Furnace Company, and is a correction of an item that appeared in our last issue, and as usual, copied by our esteemed contemporaries:

Editor: One difficulty Bellefonte industries have to contend against is the disposition of our local press to publish every silly rumor about our business interests without the slightest effort to verify them by inquiring of the parties interested. One of the latest blunders is the item about the Nigh bank mine. This mine is not shut down or abandoned by any means. Since 1891 the present company has worked this mine on territory which their predecessors had about abandoned. In this time over 25,000 tons of ore have been made from this territory. The shut down is only temporary for the purpose of changing the plane and plant so as to reach out and work the territory which had been tested and developed more than five years ago. This new territory is much larger than the old working, full as rich and unless the tests made are misleading, it will enable the company to make at this plant, in the future, fully as much ore as has been made there in the past fifty years. To make these necessary changes will require but a few weeks time and after they are made fully as many men will be employed there as at any time in the past.

Will you therefore correct the following misstatements in your item in yesterday's issue. That Nigh bank is not shut down forever; that the ore connected with that bank is not exhausted; and that a number of men living there will not be thrown out of employment. When these corrections are made in your issue, and as it is being copied in other papers, how it gives a false impression as to our mineral wealth in the county.

The corrected facts are: That the Nigh bank is shut down temporarily to change the plane so as to work an adjacent territory; that the new territory is ample to enable this mine to be worked for many years to come; and that the changes now being made are only carrying out plans mapped out more than five years ago by the Centre Iron Company.

You might also add that there is enough ore in Nittany valley east of Bellefonte to supply the Valentine Furnace and west of Bellefonte to supply the Central Pennsylvania; and in four years they have always kept themselves stocked so as to be able to supply their patrons with their well known "Nittany" brand of iron.

Mr. Editor, would it be asking too much of the local press, to verify rumors about our business interests before sending them broadcast over the land. A public misstatement such as I have corrected above does more harm to our business interests than a dozen Boards of Trade can counteract. Your and the CENTRE DEMOCRAT's starting Nigh bank item has already been copied in more than a dozen papers, totally unreliable and misleading as it is, and I will venture to predict that its correction will not appear in one-fourth of the papers. By this business you have, I feel sure, not helped to build up Bellefonte's iron industries.

From the tone of the above letter, the writer must have been considerably agitated. It is not the intent of a newspaper to publish misleading or incorrect news. Much that is published is gathered from rumors, reports, conversations, etc., and if every item that is printed had to be proven geometrical, and verified by eye witnesses there would be very little printed.

"By this carelessness" we are charged with doing an injury to our business interests. The alleged misstatement was made upon the information furnished by one of Spring township's representative farmers, living close to Nigh bank, who was interested in the operations there in various ways, and whom any one would consider sufficiently intelligent to know what he was talking about and whose word is beyond question. He stated the substance of the item published by us, and under the circumstances, we do not feel guilty of "carelessness."

The CENTRE DEMOCRAT may have been guilty of carelessness (?) but it is not the first to commit the offence, nor will it be the last. At the same time, "to err is human" and by no means are the errors of humanity limited to the newspaper fraternity.

It is gratifying indeed to know that there are some people in Bellefonte who do appreciate the earnest labors of the local press and are always ready to compliment and encourage it for what good it has accomplished, instead of eagerly seizing every opportunity to magnify a mole-hill into a mountain.

This "careless," "blundering" press of Bellefonte, which publishes "every silly rumor" and is so "unreliable" as some would have it appear, is not seeking sympathy, nor do we consider it necessary to make any apologies, as in its own line it is equally up-to-date with some other lines of trade and professions.

The Improved Order of Heptasoph is an organization, primarily intended as a life insurance scheme, and secondly one in which sociability is also a prominent feature. It is claimed that the rate of insurance with them is far below that of the old line insurance and for that reason is rapidly growing in popularity. The Bellefonte Conclave is composed of about thirty-seven members; it contains many of our foremost citizens in the professions and trades.

During the past week Mr. G. A. Patton and Capt. Robert Johnson, two prominent officials in the order, visited Bellefonte and succeeded in adding twenty-four new members to the roll.

The order holds its meetings in the G. A. R. hall.

Bishop Street Bakery Opened.

On Monday Mr. Web Karstetter opened his store for business. We dropped in a few minutes that afternoon and found everything neat and tastily arranged. Out in the bake shop he was busily baking bread and cakes and they looked so appetizing that it made one hungry to see them. His line of confectionery is fresh and of the finest. He has fitted up his ice cream parlors with brand new furniture which gives it a cozy and artistic appearance. We wish him success in his venture.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

Gov. Hastings, Wednesday of last week, signed the Fow bill, abolishing the form of oath by kissing the book. It provides three ways to take an oath, laying hand on open book, uplifted hand and holding book in hand. The approval of this bill abolishes a law as old as the nation. Mr. Fow's bill was enacted by the state board of health because of the danger of spreading infection by the indiscriminate use of the Bible by witness in court.

OUR CENTENNIAL.

LET US CELEBRATE THE EVENT.

Bellefonte Should Observe the event with Appropriate Ceremony—Public Meeting Called.

On Tuesday evening a public meeting was held in the Court House to determine the sentiment of our people in regard to celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of Bellefonte. The meeting was called to order by Burgess W. E. Gray, who stated the object. John C. Miller, was made chairman. He urged the holding of a centennial anniversary in June, in connection with the Firemens Convention. A number of business men in the audience were called on and each spoke encouragingly of the project. A unanimous rising vote was taken in favor of the Centennial.

Gov. Beaver offered a motion that a committee of five be appointed to prepare a program for the occasion and report at a public meeting to be held in the court house on Friday evening of this week.

Let every person turn out at this meeting, and take an interest in the project. The reputation of the town and of our people depends upon the manner in which this affair is conducted. If you have any local pride in you show it by your presence at the court house. We have allowed much valuable time to pass by and less than six weeks remain. Let us be up and a doing.

The ladies of Bellefonte are especially requested to attend this meeting. Let everybody turn out.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Issued During the Past Week—Taken from the Docket.

- Wm. Emerick, - - - - - Karthaus
Lucy Force, - - - - - Burnside twp
Daniel A. Grove, - - - - - Lemont
Catharine Longwell, - - - - - Benner twp
Charles E. Rupert, - - - - - Liberty twp
Maggie E. Kessinger, - - - - - "
Frank D. Young, - - - - - Potter twp
Mary C. Royer, - - - - - "
J. Harry Pickle, - - - - - Lancaster county
Fannie I. Twitmore, - - - - - Bellefonte
John W. Benner, - - - - - Benner twp
Jennie Breon, - - - - - "
Frank E. Wieland, - - - - - Linden Hall
Carrie M. Miller, - - - - - Rock Springs
R. M. Krebs, - - - - - Pine Grove Mills
Laura E. Musser, - - - - - "

Undine Ball.

On Monday evening the Undine Fire Company held their select ball in the Bush Arcade, and it surpassed in every respect their most sanguine expectations. The attendance was large, and only by those who received invitations. It was a very orderly crowd and that was a pleasing feature. The Undine orchestra of six pieces furnished choice music for the dancing, and the floor was crowded continually.

Refreshments were served in an adjoining room, consisting of coffee, ice cream, sandwiches and cake. The receipts of the ball were larger than usual, and the company will realize about $75. It was the most successful affair of the kind ever given by them.

A Sample.

The following is from the Magnet: The Magnet DID NOT publish the item about Nigh bank which Mr. J. W. Gephart so severely criticized. The Magnet never publishes statements that are not correct, and in its entire history has never been shown to be inaccurate in a single assertion.

The conceit of Bailey is only equalled by his religious bigotry. It is wrong to take offense at his utterings. He is doing the best he can.

Closing Dance.

On Tuesday evening Miss Minnie Brew closed her term of dancing school with an appropriate assembly. An orchestra was secured for the occasion and the music was excellent. A large number of students from State College and many visitors in town were present.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce the name of Wm. F. Smith, of Bellefonte, formerly of Penn township, as a candidate for the office of Prothonotary, subject to the decision of the Democratic county convention.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Notice is hereby given that I have duly purchased for a valuable consideration, the personal property of John D. Gardner, of Curtin township, as follows, to wit: 2 horses, 1 cart, 1 buggy, 1 cart-all, two-horse wagon, 2 sets of harness, 3 milk cows, 4 sh. osts, 2 head young cattle, 12 acres grain in ground, corn and rye in bin, bees, beds and bedding, stoves, chairs, tables, carpets. All persons are forbidden to interfere or meddle with any of said property, as it is mine. JOHN LYONS, April 18.

Bellefonte Grain Market.

Table with 2 columns: Grain type and Price. Includes Red wheat, Rye, Corn, Oats, Barley, Buck wheat, Ground plaster.

PROVISIONS, GROCERIES & C. (as corrected weekly by Bauer & Co.)

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Apples, Cherries, Beans, Onions, Butter, Tallow, Country shoulders, Hams, Lard, Eggs, Potatoes, Dried sweet corn.

4 DAYS' WAGES SAVED

On the purchase of a Serge Suit of Clothes, is the way one of our customers expressed himself after buying one of our $10 SUITS.

He was right. You can do the same thing. These goods can not be duplicated elsewhere for less than $15.00.

You See Them, You Buy Them

Once yours you have saved an even five dollars. Do you think it worth your while to see them. Costs nothing.

YOUR MONEY BACK FOR THE ASKING.

FAUBLES, BELLEFONTE, - PA.

BEST FOR SHIRTS.

THE PROCTER & GAMBLE CO. CHICAGO.

GARMAN'S STORE.

Embroideries have never been so fine and low priced as this season. White goods in dozens of styles, beginning at low grades and up to the finest.—Garmans.

Kai-ki—Kai-ki—Kai-ki. Ask to see it at Garmans.

25 styles in percales, all new; in linings the largest line in town. Ask for the 500 yard thread, all the dress makers know of it, called basting thread, but both go in for regular hand sewing.

In tin and wooden ware we can fit you out at about half ordinary rates—Garmans.

Kai-ki—Kai-ki—Kai-ki.

Pretty new patterns in glass ware. Cuticra, Cashmere Boquet, Pears, Fells and Buttermilk soap—Garmans.

Kai-ki—Kai-ki—Kai-ki.

GARMAN'S STORE.