

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
Regular Price $1.50 per year.
If paid in advance $1.00 "

CLUB RATES:
THE CENTRE DEMOCRAT one year and the twice-a-week World one year for $1.75
THE CENTRE DEMOCRAT one year and Phila. Weekly Times one year for $1.45

The New Racket.

No. 9 and 11, CRIDER EX., BELLEFONTE, PA.

She Came on a Bicycle and said: "I am in a hurry, and passed a dozen stores to get to a place where I can always find what I want, get the lowest price without 'jewing,' and be waited upon promptly."

Warm Weather Fixin's

are here in abundance. India Linens, Dimities, Persian Lawns, Cream Habutai and Kalki Silks, White Parasols. Palm and Jap. Fans, Bamboo Window Screens, Tarlatan, Mosquito Net, Fly Screens, Little Tanglefoot, Everything—and at lower prices than you can find 'em in this "neck 'o the woods."

JUST IN—Genuine W. L. Douglas Shoes for men and boys.

G. R. SPIGLEMYER, JR.
SHEM SPIGLEMYER, JR.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

—Huckleberries are in market and selling at 8 and 10 cents per quart.
—Pawnee Bill's wild west Indian show will be at Bellefonte July 10th.
—The Episcopal Sunday School picnic at Hunter's Park on Wednesday.
—A festival will be held at Axeman this Saturday evening for the benefit of the Union church.
—Mrs. Weaver, wife of deputy sheriff J. C. Weaver, is quite ill at her home in the jail residence.
—The railroad companies will offer the customary excursion rate of two cents a mile on July 4th.
—The picnic of the Veteran Club of Centre county is to be held at Hunter's Park early in September.
—The commissioners are having a busy siege traveling over the county holding triennial assessment appeals.
—By an error our last issue got the Jones-Armor wedding just one week too early, on the 19th instead of the 26th.
—Mr. Daniel Bartges, one of Gregg townships prominent citizens was in Bellefonte on Tuesday, and paid us a short visit.
—The Ladies Village Improvement society has a fund of over two hundred dollars and don't know what to do with it. Suggestions are in order.
—John Bayard, formerly of Bellefonte, now a traveling salesman for the Canton, Ohio, bridge company, spent Sunday at his parents home, this place.
—On Monday Wm. Corman's barn, on Judge Férst's farm, in Marion township was struck by lightning. Several persons were in the building at the time but no damage was done.
—Mr. E. E. White and Miss Minnie Steele, both of Axeman, were united in holy matrimony by Rev. Young, at the residence of Wm. Kerstetter, at Pleasant Gap, last Tuesday evening.
—The Undine fire company desire it to be understood that they have advertised no fake attraction for their coming picnic at Hecla Park, on the Fourth. The band contest will attract many musical organizations from all sections of the county.
—Next week no paper will be issued from this office on account of it being 4th of July week, and the boys will be taking their customary summer vacation of one week. The office will be open for the transaction of business and will be prepared to turn out job work on short notice.
—M. L. Smith, of Johnstown, passed through Bellefonte on Tuesday, on his way to visit friends in Pennsylvania. He says the iron works are running double turn. Last Saturday pay day amounted to $96,000, the largest ever known there, and July there is to be a general advance of 15 per cent. Smith thinks that is a pretty good record for the Wilson tariff under which our republican friends predicted the country would go to ruin.

GOV. BEAVER'S APPOINTMENT

As a Member of the New Superior Court.

IS RECEIVED ON WEDNESDAY.

Immediately Telegraphs his Acceptance—Gov. Hastings' Appointment Praised by the Members of the Bellefonte Bar—A Salary of $7,500 in the Position.

For several days past there were reports to the effect that Gen. James A. Beaver, of this place, would be selected as a member of the new Appellate Court or sometimes called the Superior Court created by the recent legislature and sanctioned by Gov. Hartings.

On Wednesday morning a special delivery letter from the Executive department at Harrisburg, reached Gen. Beaver's office and notified him of his appointment to this position. He immediately telegraphed back his acceptance of the same.

The appointment soon became known about town, and there was a constant stream of friends to call upon the Gen. and extend to him their congratulations.

Gov. Beaver was no applicant for this honor and it came to him as a deserving compliment from Gov. Hastings. Many prominent attorneys throughout the state urged Gov. Beaver's appointment but Gen. Hastings needed none of them. He knew Gov. Beaver's ability and worth, also he wished to remember one who had befriended him but a short time ago.

For some year's the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has been burdened with too many appeals. They were unable to give the necessary attention to the mass of work before them. It became necessary to seek relief. At the last session of the legislature a bill was passed authorizing the organization of an additional or Superior Court to consist of seven judges. They are to divide the state into five districts and hold sessions at Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Williamsport, Scranton and Harrisburg. All appeals taken from our local courts on which the amount at issue is less than $1,000 or any criminal act under felonious homicide will be heard before this court. The salary of these officials will be $7,500 per year. The appointment is in effect until January 1896. It is necessary for the different parties to place six candidates in nomination and the highest minority candidate will be the seventh, who of course will be a democrat.

It is generally supposed that the men appointed by Gov. Hastings will receive the republican nomination this year. The bitter fight between Quay and Hastings throws an element of uncertainty in the matter. Quay people declare they will oppose all of Hastings' superior court appointments. If Gen. Beaver should receive the nomination and election, and we presume he will, he will hold the position for ten years. He will judge the judges of the new court assemble at Harrisburg to hold their first meeting and take preliminary steps for future work.

Judge Beaver, we congratulate you upon your appointment. May success attend your judicial labors.

Married at State College.

Thursday morning, at State College, the home of the bride, Arthur O. Goheen, of Tyrone, and Miss Mary E. Gray were married by the Rev. A. W. Gayer. The wedding was a very quiet one, none but immediate friends of the contracting parties being present. Miss Anna Gray, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Harry Goheen, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. The wedding march was performed by Miss Kephart, of Fillmore.

After the ceremony was performed Mr. and Mrs. Goheen left State College for Niagara Falls and other points of interest.

Col. Spangler's Orator.

Extract from the account of commencement exercises at Penna. College, New Berlin, Pa., in Lewisburg News:
"On Wednesday evening Col. J. L. Spangler, of Bellefonte, delivered a masterly address before the Alumni on 'The Signs of Our Times.' With rare breadth of comprehension he analyzed the present state and tendencies of the moral, political and industrial condition of our country."

Abolishing Days of Grace.

Governor Hastings has signed the bill abolishing days of grace on promissory notes, drafts, etc. The act goes into effect January 1, 1896, and provides that all commercial notes shall be due and payable as therein expressed without grace. It also provides that papers falling due on Sunday or a legal holiday shall be payable on the next secular day thereafter.

Boro School Teachers

On Tuesday the school directors of Bellefonte boro held their annual meeting for the electing of teachers for the ensuing year, all the former instructors were retained. The position of Principal of the High school has not been filled yet; there are several applicants for it.

—Brakeman named Wilkinson had his hand smashed on the Lewisburg railroad on Friday while assisting in making a flying switch.

Proposed—Disposed.

An amusing story is going the rounds about the unfortunate adventures of a certain young man, of Bellefonte. One evening, the early part of last week, this gay Lothario was dressed in his usual stunning costume of sailor cap, negligee shirt, fair-leather belt, duck trousers with about a foot of unnecessary sail reefed in at the bottoms so as to display to an advantage his Trimby foot, encased in a pair of faultless patent-leather shoes constructed on the railroad spike plan. On this occasion, it is necessary to note, that he wore those fetching, plate-glass, nasal ornaments. In this bewitching attire this gay youth started for the object of his love—his "fond Juliet"—who resides at her parents' cozy home on Thomas street.

He found his fair dove at home. Time flew with unmeasured pace, and as the old, town clock pealed forth the hour of eleven, he realized that soon they must part. There, in the fervor of his devotion and in the presence of his fond love, he passionately pronounced his love and ardently pleaded for her hand. Calmly, though considerably, she told him it could not be; again he vowed and pleaded, and again she refused. Upon this shattering of his fondest hope, the suppliant became a raging demon, threatening vengeance upon his cruel deceiver. The frightened young Miss gave a shriek of fear and at this critical moment the stalwart papa appeared on the scene; in about two seconds the form of a young man was seen to fly through the front window amid a shower of glass and splinters, strike the porch and roll prostrate into the lawn unobserved in the darkness. About a half hour later the remnant of this gay, festive youth regained consciousness and sadly wended his way homeward. Thus he proposed, and was summarily disposed.

N. B.—If any misstatements have been made in the above, Francis Speer, of the Gazette, can, if he likes, make the proper corrections. This latter remark does not necessarily imply who the unfortunate young man was.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—The bridge men are on hand to put the Lamb street structure in place. Those abutments at last are completed and proved rather expensive for the boro.

—About fifty people from Bellefonte and vicinity, attended the Phillipsburg band concert and races. They report a fine time and clever entertainment by the people of that section.

—Mr. J. H. Sand, expects to make some extensive improvements upon his building on High street occupied by Richard Brothers jewelry store and others.

—On Monday a splendid rain set in that will be a wonderful help to all kinds of vegetation. There is time yet for a good crop of corn, if the weather continues favorable.

—Forrest Magee, a son of R. M. Magee, the insurance man, was one of the graduates of the Philadelphia High schools and completed the course with honors.

—On Monday Wm. Jones, the polite collector and First National bank attache, was seventy-five years of age. He celebrated the event by giving a dinner to some of his friends.

—Rev. Gerhart, pastor of the Reformed congregation, paid our office a pleasant visit. We found him an interesting conversationalist and one who is a close student of current events.

—Chas. P. Hewes, Esq., and family left on Thursday for a trip to Erie, Pa., to visit friends at Mrs. Hewes' former home. The family expect to be away for some time. Mr. Hewes will be gone about two weeks.

—James I. McClure, the harness dealer, shipped to W. A. Marshall, Shamokin, a pair of red foxes, pair of coons, two horn-owls, two screech owls and a porcupine. They will be placed in a public park at that place. Mr. McClure has quite a collection of animals.

—Paul Gerhart, son of Dr. Gerhart, pastor of the Reformed congregation, registered on Monday as a student at law in the office of Orvis, Bower & Orvis. Mr. Gearhart was a member of the graduating class of Franklin & Marshall college this year and is a young man of ability which along with industry will surely make success attainable in the legal profession.

—The Christian Rally, at Hecla Park, on last Thursday, drew a large crowd, and many came to hear and see the famous John Wannamaker who had been so extensively advertised for this occasion. The fact of the matter was Mr. Wannamaker could not come, as was announced, and the managers of this money-making enterprise, gotten up in the name of Christianity, did not have the many courage, or honesty if you please, to better inform the public, but continued the deception until the end so that as many dollars as possible could be made. The papers, no doubt, are strongly censured for deceiving the people. This paper published the announcements in good faith, having obtained its news from what has proven unreliable source. When it comes down to the actual test, some of our shouting Y. M. C. A. leaders are about as weak as the average publican.

HASTINGS WINS HIS CASE.

O'Connor Withdraws his Plea of Not Guilty.

THE LABEL PLAINLY SHOWN.

General Beaver and other Prominent Men Testify—The Governor on the Stand—A Complete Denial of all the Statements—A Verdict of $3,000 awarded.

The long-looked for O'Connor-Hastings libel case was tried at Ebensburg last week. Ex-District Attorney Francis J. O'Connor was indicted for making defamatory remarks concerning the governor during the last gubernatorial campaign. The trial was concluded at 6 o'clock by the defendant withdrawing his plea of not guilty and entering a plea of nolo contendere. By agreement of counsel, and under instructions from the court, the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff and assessed the damages at $3,000.00.

General Beaver was the first witness called by the plaintiff, and he explained how Mr. Hastings came to take charge at Johnstown, and the duties he performed there. Those duties, he testified, were performed creditably. Witness detailed how the various flood accounts were kept, the methods adopted in disbursing money and supplies to the flood sufferers, and explained the workings of the state committee. Witness stated that Mr. Hastings was not bankrupt before the flood, did not build a fine mansion at Bellefonte either before or since the flood, and did not buy $60,000 worth of Bellefonte boro bonds.

Several witnesses were examined who had charge of various departments at Johnstown shortly after the flood, including Colonel T. J. Hudson, assistant postmaster at Pittsburg, who was on the governor's staff at that time; Col. Gregg, of the national guard; Colonel Hill, quarter-master-general of the national guard; Col. J. L. Spangler of Bellefonte; Colonel Douglass, Boston; ex-Lieutenant-Governor Watres; ex-Attorney General Kirkpatrick; Colonel Frank Reeder and a number of others, some of them Johnstown people, familiar with General Hastings' conduct at the flood stricken city, and all testified that the General did not handle any portion of the money there, and that the money was disbursed by others and receipts taken; that the system of keeping accounts was so arranged that the General or anybody else could not have misappropriated a dollar of the fund if they wanted to.

General Hastings in his own behalf testified as to his duties and the way he performed them. He stated that for the first few days at Johnstown he had charge of the policing of the town, acting as court, jury, district attorney and everything else. He told how he sentenced the thieves and cutthroats to 24 hours in a box car, and then got Mr. Pitcairn, of the Pennsylvania railroad, to haul them to Pittsburg. He stated that he had never made any contracts, never expended any money, and dramatically declared that he never handled a dollar of the fund. In fact, he said he made it the one condition of accepting the responsibility that he should not have anything to do with the disbursement of the money.

Mr. Hastings said he did not own a mansion at Bellefonte or elsewhere, and never did, and also stated that the allegations that he owned or bought $60,000 of the Bellefonte or other bonds after the flood would cause every man in Bellefonte to smile. He testified emphatically that he did not spend $30,000 for the gubernatorial nomination against Delamater, because he didn't have the money, and thought the fact that the other fellow got the honor was the best evidence that he did not spend the money. He stated that the slanderous reports really did not do him damage, because the people did not believe them.

The plaintiff then rested his case, and the defence proceeded by placing O'Connor on the stand, but he having practically admitted the offence, his counsel withdrew their plea and compromised on a verdict of $3,000.

Received a Position.

Dr. S. E. Noll, of Pleasant Gap, who graduated at the Medico-Chirurgical college, of Philadelphia, a few weeks ago, was notified last week of his appointment as a resident physician for the hospital connected with the institution from which he graduated, and to report for duty at once. This he did, and is now on duty in the surgical department of the institution. This institution is one of the most popular in Philadelphia. Mr. Noll is a young man of pluck and energy and will succeed because of his ability and industry.

Typhoid Fever Epidemic.

The village of Coleville, adjoining Bellefonte boro on the west, is afflicted with an epidemic of typhoid fever. At present there are sixteen serious cases and it is the general opinion that it comes from a contaminated spring, as the persons using this water are afflicted. The real cause is not definitely known and every precaution is being employed to stay the spread of the fatal disease. An appeal has been made to the state board of health for assistance.

A Queer Experience.

The other evening Mr. Andy Lonberger, of Bellefonte, related a most startling experience he had out in the Green Woods, in Clearfield county. He said it was about two o'clock at night, while sitting high up about forty feet in the crotch of a large pine tree, that his winchester rifle slipped from his hand and began to drop down. Every few feet in its descent it would strike against a limb or the trunk of the tree and the shell was liable to be discharged at any time, and might send a cold ball ripping through his own anatomy. It was a trying suspense, with every thump he would clutch the trunk of the tree closer, and dodge imaginary missiles. A happy relief came when he heard the weapon strike the ground and all danger was over. Slowly he felt his way down the tree and found his trusty rifle standing erect with the muzzle imbedded about a foot in the earth. At this fortunate conclusion of the exciting narrative the crowd drew a deep sigh of relief, and he gave his pipe a fresh start.

The curiosity of the writer was so intensely aroused that he bursted out: "Why Andy, what were you doing out in the green woods at this time of the year, up in a pine tree at 2 o'clock in the night, with a winchester rifle?" He paused for a moment at the frank and blunt inquiry, and then with a disgusted look at our innocence remarked "Shooting porcupines, of course; what did you think." We never knew that sportsmen went to so much trouble for small game.

A Fitting Recognition.

Rev. R. L. Gerhart, pastor of St. John's Reformed church, of this place, just returned from a visit to Cleveland, Ohio, where he spent a week in attending the commencement exercises of Calvin College. He delivered the annual address on Wednesday evening, his subject being "Shakespeare's Plays." The reports contained in the daily papers of the city of Cleveland, show that the address was highly appreciated and was a superior production. The board of trustees, at their meeting the next morning, conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon Mr. Gerhart, thus recognizing in a substantial way his ability as a minister and a scholar. Mr. Gerhart is one of the ablest young men in the Reformed church, and one who fully deserves the high honor conferred upon him.

At Long Reach.

Last Saturday the young people of this section had a delightful gathering at a shaded nook along the course of Spring creek. It was their 6th annual picnic and was by far the most enjoyable of any. The following is a list of the young people who were present:

Miss Esther Garbrick, Annie Garbrick, Wm. Smeltzer, Minnie Smeltzer, Harry Guntzel, Annie Brooks, Chas. Garbrick, Agnes Fishburn, Clyde Jodon, William Mayes, Annie Kline, Oliver Hazel, Gertie Keller, Geo. Fishburn, Aggie Struble, William Fishburn, Sue Keller, Wm. Wetzel, Lettie S. Smeltzer, Thos. Jodon, Emma Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. David Keller, Mrs. Shuey, Olive Leathers, John Garbrick, Geo. Brumgard, Minnie Hoy, Bessie ReinSmith, Florence Leathers and L. C. Wetzel.

Program for the 4th, at Hecla.

Following is the program for July 4th, issued by the Undine Fire Company, of this place: 8 a. m., Undine company and band, with all bands that leave this place for the park, to parade to depot. 9 a. m., special train to park; 10:15, steamer contest at lake; 11, band concert; 12 m., dinner; 1 p. m., tub race on lake; 1:30, boat race; 2, band contest; 2:30, boxing match; 3, barrel race; 4, wheelbarrow race; 5:30, supper. Dancing at all hours during day and evenings. Grand display of fireworks in the evening. Special trains will be run every few hours over the Central railroad.

Marriage Licenses.

{ Harry P. Crispin, - Snow Shoe
{ Cora R. Fye, - Moshannon
{ Isaac G. Holt, - Julian
{ Sallie A. Barr, - - -
{ L. D. Thorp, - Boggs twp
{ Annie McAuley, - Milesburg
{ Wm. H. Twigg, - Rush twp
{ Florence L. Jinks, - Osceola
{ Claude Jones, - Tyrone
{ Stella A. Armor, - Bellefonte
{ Wm. M. Gilbert, - Marion
{ Frances Packer, - Boggs twp

WANTED—Several bright, energetic young men to solicit and collect. For further information apply to this office.

Bellefonte Grain Market.

Corrected weekly by Geo. W. Jackson & Co:

Red wheat, per bushel.....	75
Rye, per bushel.....	50
Corn, ears per bushel, new.....	25
Corn, shelled per bushel.....	50
Oats—new per bushel.....	32
Barley, per bushel.....	45
Buckwheat, per bushel.....	40
Ground plaster, per ton.....	9.50

PROVISIONS, GROCERIES &c. (as corrected weekly by Bauer & Co.)

Apples, dried, per pound.....	05
Cherries, dried, per pound, seeded.....	18
Beans per quart.....	10
Onions, per bushel.....	70
Butter, per pound.....	12
Tallow, per pound.....	07
Country shoulders.....	10
Sides.....	10
Hams.....	12
Hams, sugar cured.....	12
Breakfast Bacon.....	12
Lard, per pound.....	12
Eggs per dozen.....	12
Potatoes per bushel.....	60
Dried sweet Corn per pound.....	10

A Chance

For you to save money that you cannot afford to miss.

To make it plain for you we have started what we call a

Remanent Sale!

It is simply the remnants of the best stock of Clothing ever shown in Centre county. Some people might call these goods Odds and Ends. But they are too New, too Nice and too Desirable to be confounded with the ordinary odds and ends. They are merely one or two suits of a kind left from THIS SPRING'S STOCK and if you can find anything among them that will suit you we will save you big money. We do not quote prices because you must see the goods to appreciate their value. We would have you call early if you care to take advantage of this money saving sale.

FAUBLES, Clothiers & Furnishers, Bellefonte, Pa.

Picnic at Blanchard.

The Christian Sunday School, of Blanchard, will hold a picnic on Murray's Island, between Beech Creek and Blanchard, on July 4th, 1895. They also will hold a festival in the evening. Refreshments of all kinds will be served, and a good band will be in attendance to furnish music. All are cordially invited to be present.

MONEY ROOM. MONEY ROOM.

The Dollar of our Fore-Fathers Has become the Dime of to-day.

We have many wonderful bargains—for example a $2 Cravenette 60 in. wide, now $1.25. Five yds. ample to make a dress. Grandest Cape material made. Perfectly waterproof.

52 in. Dress Cloth for Capes and Dresses. Was last season's 75 cent quality, now 48c. 2 yds. plenty for a cape, 96c, and 5 yds. for a dress, $2.40. Always holds its color.

Table Oil Cloth, 12 1-2 and 15c. Buttermilk Soap, 7c. Lancaster Gingham, 5c.

GARMAN'S STORE.