Great Damage Caused by Cyclone in New Jersey.

THREE DEAD AT CHERRY HILL.

Great Destruction of Property in the Narrow Belt Visited by the Mighty Wind. Two Lives and Much Property Wiped Out on Long Island.

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 14.—A terrific storm swept over this section Saturday afternoon, doing great damage. At Cherry Hill, a small village a few miles from this place, it developed great fury, attended by the demolition of the village and a number of deaths. Cherry Hill received the full sweep of the wind's fury, and within a minute after the storm broke twenty-seven houses, nearly the entire number in the village, were wrecked. The tornado made a clean path through the center of the place, carrying everything before it. Houses were unroofed and thrown down; trees were uprooted, and the crops in the fields leveled to the ground.

The storm center was about 300 feet in width, and the strip over which it passed was a mass of ruins. Not a building in its path was spared; those that were not demolished were unroofed and moved from their foundations. Great masses of wreckage were carried through the air by the gale, adding to the destruction.

Among the buildings wrecked was the Dutch Reformed Church, a brick structure recently erected. The walls are still standing, but they will have to be pulled down. Three large beams, plucked from the wreck of other buildings by the wind, were hurled against the side of the church, and they went through the walls like cannon balls. The depot, standing between the tracks of the New York and New Jersey railroad, was demolished. The wind first tore the roof from the building and landed it one hundred feet away. Then the walls fell. The station agent was taken from the ruins later and badly injured. A freight train, carrying several hundred feet from its place.

Twenty or more families were rendered homeless, and there were but few houses that escaped a touch of the terrific wind.

Conrad Friedman, a Cherry Hill hotel keeper, was in the act of shutting a window upstairs in his hotel, when he was drawn out by the current and hurled headlong to the ground below. His skull was fractured and death was instantaneous.

Anton Fiedor, employed by August Mund as a helper, was crushed to death when the barn in which he worked fell on top of him.

The infant child of William Ahrens was carried up in the air with the house and was dead when picked up.

Mrs. Ahrens' right ear was torn off. She and her injured son are at the Hackensack hospital.

Percy Cole, of Paterson, while on his way through Cherry Hill, was blown from his rig and seriously injured. Edgar Chismock was so severely injured by flying timbers that his recovery is doubtful. Six persons are in the Hackensack hospital suffering from injuries received.

In addition to the wreck in Cherry Hill, almost every house along the river from this place to River Edge was damaged to some extent. Many merely had the chimneys blown down, while the roofs of others were badly started. Sections of many houses were in danger of toppling over and firemen were busy yesterday tearing down the doubtful portions. The buildings blown down in the village of Cherry Hill were valued at about $60,000.

Belief committees have been organized in several of the towns. Prompt measures were taken, and between the amount subscribed and that gathered in boxes at the ruins of the village, there is now enough money to keep the unfortunates in food for a few days.

A Woman Killed on Long Island. NEW YORK, July 15.—The first tornado in many years struck New York and Long Island Saturday afternoon and resulted fatally in one instance, besides wrecking a large amount of valuable property. The tornado wrecked thirty houses at Wood Haven and a very large school house there. There were twenty residents of Wood Haven hit by the various objects which were carried through the air. Trees and chimneys sailed through the air as though they were no heavier than feathers.

At Wood Haven a woman was in an out-house. The house was picked up and carried by the storm for more than a block. Finally the woman was landed on one side of the street and the house on the other. The woman had an almost miraculous escape, receiving only a slight cut on the forehead. Mrs. Louisa Petrovich, of Third avenue, near Rockaway, was killed. She stood in the doorway of her house when a flying beam struck her on the head, crushing in her skull and killing her instantly. The loss to property in a direct way has been estimated at about $100,000, but this is not taking into consideration the damage to crops in the neighborhood of Wood Haven.

Houses have been provided for those who lost their abiding places, and relief has come in from many directions.

Ballstones as Big as Hickory Nuts. NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 15.—During a heavy thunder shower at South Amity there was a terrific downpour of ballstones, many of them as large as hickory nuts. Nothing like it has ever been seen in this section of the state. Grain standing in the field was beaten to the ground, and vegetation suffered greatly from the terrible fall.

Another Victim of the Cyclone. WOODHAVEN, L. I., July 15.—Another death, the second resulting from the storm which swept over this town on Saturday afternoon, has occurred. The name of the victim is John Kolb, a boy aged about 11 years. The total number of injured is twenty-two, besides several others slightly wounded.

Vegetation Cut to Pieces. PLAINFIELD, N. J., July 15.—A terrific hailstorm visited this vicinity. Horses were frightened and ran away and crops were ruined. The photographers' galleries are wrecked and conservatories are in a like condition. Vegetation is cut to pieces and many costly plants are stripped of leaves.

Grain Crop Ruined. SOMERVILLE, N. J., July 15.—This section was visited by a deluge of rain and hail. The storm extended over an area of twenty miles. The grain crop throughout the Raritan valley is reported to be ruined.

When the horses were caught Mr. Wendling was dead.

Two Murderers Lynched. CAMDEN, Ark., July 15.—At Hampton, thirty miles east of here, two negroes were mobbed by five white men. Two weeks ago a white man by the name of Martin was killed by three negroes. Two of them were arrested and confined in jail. A mob marched to the jail at midnight and demanded of the sheriff the surrender of the murderers. It was useless to resist a mob, so the keys were delivered to the mob. The culprits were carried to the neighboring forest and hanged to trees. The lynchers made no effort to conceal their identity.

Charles Schlick, a white man, who is said to have lived with the King woman in Kansas City, was arrested on suspicion of having committed the murder, which he strongly denies.

"ONE GRAND, SWEET SONG."

Four years ago President Cleveland, on receipt of an invitation to attend the wedding of an intimate friend, John Temple Graves, who paid a beautiful tribute to the President's own married life, wrote the following tender letter:

"My Dear Mr. Graves—We received the card of invitation to your wedding a day or two ago, and I am glad that your letter, received only a few hours ago, justifies me, on behalf of my dear wife and myself, to do more than formally notice the occasion. And first of all let me assure you how much we appreciate the kindness bestowed upon me by the best of all His gifts—a loving and affectionate wife—all else, honor, the opportunity of usefulness and the esteem of my fellow-countrymen, are subordinated in every aspiration of gratitude and thankfulness.

"You are not wrong, therefore, when you claim, in the atmosphere of fastidious bliss which now surrounds you, kinship with one who can testify with unreserved tenderness to the sanctification which comes to man when heaven-directed love leads the way to marriage. "Since this tender theme has made us kinship, let me wish for you and the dear one who is to make your life doubly dear to you all the joy and happiness doubly-safed to man. You will, I know, feel that our kind wishes can reach no greater sincerity and force than when my wife joins me in the fervent desire that you and your wife may be as happy as we are, and that the same felicity which has made our married life 'one grand, sweet song.' "Very truly, your friend, "GROVER CLEVELAND."

The above should be enough to melt the calloused hearts of some of our noted bachelors.

An Amusing Mistake.

A clergyman was very anxious to introduce some new hymn books into the church and arranged with his clerk that the latter was to give out the notice immediately after the sermon. The clerk, however had a notice of his own with reference to the baptism of infants to give out; accordingly at the end of the sermon he arose and announced that "all those who had children whom they wished to have baptised were to send in their names at once to the clerk." The clergyman, who was stone deaf, assumed that the clerk was giving out the hymn book notice and immediately rose and said: "And I should like to say, for the benefit of those who haven't any, that they be obtained in the vestry, any day from three to four o'clock; the ordinary little ones at one shilling each, and special ones with red backs at one shilling and four pence."

Saved 12,000 Lives.

William Deemer is earning a scanty living by washing windows and polishing door knobs in South Bethlehem. He was in the American army during Mexican war and at Chapultepec saved the lives of 12,000 of our soldiers. He discovered a fuse and traced it to a tree in which was a Mexican soldier whom he shot. Investigation showed that the fuse connected with a mine of 30,000 pounds of powder. General Winfield Scott the same day sent for Deemer, thanked him personally, gave him a ninety day's furlough, $65 in cash and a body guard to visit the city of Mexico. He is 72 years old and gets a pension of $12 a month.
