Pugilism Is Only a Misdemeanor in Arkansas.

80 DEGLARES GOVERNOR CLARKE.

He Will Not Convene the Legislature in Order to Prevent the Contest-The Fight Managers Summoned Before the Grand Jury in Travis County, Texas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 9 .- "You can ay that I would not convene the legislature in special session to stop it if they were to fight in the state house yard.' Governor Clarke used this language in conversation with an Associated Press representative in reference to his probable action in the event that the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest should be advertised to take place in Hot Springs. His manner was so deliberate and emphatic that there could be no possible doubt of the earnestness of the governor. Governor Clarke was in a most amiable frame of mind, and talked freely concerning the latest phase of the situation. 'I do not really know anything about it," he began, "but I have heard a great many rumors about such schemes to hold the contest in Arkansas. It looks though as if they mean to bring it off at Hot Springs sure enough. The fact that Mayor Waters and City Attorney Martin, of Hot Springs, are in Dallas negotiating with the managers of the affair indicates beyond doubt that Hot Springs wants the contest, and they will very likely get it." "Will you interfere should they attempt to bring it off there?" "My position in regard to it is well known. You may say that I will do everything in my power to prevent the fight, that I will go as far as the law as it stands gives me authority, and no farther. Mr. Martin is city attorney at Hot Springs, and is a lawyer of much ability. He knows as well as myself or any one else just how far my authority as governor extends, and he seems to have proceeded in the matter on the theory that I, as an officer who has taken the oath to execute the law as I find it, will go to the end of my authority and stop, and that is just what I shall do. I am not disposed to say just now what my action will be should they attemp to bring the contest off in Arkansas, but you can say for me that I will not put the people to the expense of a special session of the legislature to prevent a misdemeanor and then perhaps have the legislature refuse to indorse the action. "Personally, I am opposed to pugilism. In 1891 the legislature passed an act making prize fighting a felony. I was in the legislature at that time and voted for the

with the law, for the very next session repealed it and enacted in its stead a law reducing the offense to a misdemeanor. That is the law now, and it will be enforced. Were the legislature to be called I have little reason to believe that the state law would be changed. Nine out of ten sen-

bill. But the people were not satisfied ators now in commission are members who voted for the law as it stands on the statute book."

CULBERSON AFTER STUART.

Fight Managers Summoned to Appear Before a Texas Grand Jury.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 9.—A puzzling turn was taken by Governor Culberson and his administration yesterday, which ground a the headquar some surprise, not only at the headquar gave a patriotic greeting to the old Liberty ters of the Florida Athletic club, but bell and its escort when it reached that city among the people generally who heard it. It looks as if the glove contest affair has reached the war to the knife stage so far as Governor Culberson and Attorney General Crane are concerned.

Attachment papers were received by Sheriff Cable from Austin to be served on W. K. Wheelock, secretary of the Florida Athletic club; W. A. Brady, manager of . James J. Corbett; Martin Julian, manager of Robert Fitzsimmons, and Joe Vendig. These parties are summoned as witnesses before the Travis county grand jury.

Mr. Stuart's friends say that it is now clear that the governor and attorney general are not so fiercely after prize fighters as they are after Dan Stuart, whom, for political and other reasons, they have determined to crush if there is sufficient power in their positions.

The friends of Mr. Stuart say that the very fact that Stuart is not summoned before the Travis county grand jury shows that his testimony is not desired, but rather testimony against him. They claim that the governor and attorney general have trumped up an old musty law which they hope to make serve their purpose.

The Liberty Bell at Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Oct. 9 .- Never before was such homage paid to the old Liberty Bell, or for that matter, to any relic of any character in this country, as was bestowed upon the revolutionary treasure when it arrived here yesterday. Fifty thousand people lined the railroad tracks from the city limits to the Union Station. Every house top, car, telegraph pole and bridge was a point of vantage for a cheering spec-The official reception today, which was witnessed by cheering thousands, included a parade, followed by patriotic exercises at the Pennsylvania building, in which the school children participated.

Says the Missionaries Are Avenged. SHANGHAI, Oct. 7 .- The Chinese authorities are contesting every point of the in-quiry into the massacre of Christians at Kucheng. They maintain that the seven executions of natives that have already taken place have amply avenged the murders of the missionaries and members of their families. The British vice consul has started from Foochow. He will go to Pekin with dispatches to Sir Nicholas O'Conor, explaining the hopeless situation and the futility of continuing the farce of inquiring into the massacre.

Steamer Dostroyed by Fire at Sea.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 .- The following notice was posted on the Maritime Exchange bulletin board yesterday: "The British ship Garfield, from Liverpool for Val-paralso, has been destroyed by fire at sea. All hands saved and landed at the port of destination." The Garfield was built of tron and steel, registered 2,290 tons, was 300 feet in length, and carried a crew of thirty-four men.

Killed by Giant Powder.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Oct. 9.-James Moore was instantly killed and "Doc" Morrison fatally injured by an explosion of giant powder in a shaft of the Matchless mine. The explosion occurred Monday night, but the men were not found until yesterday. Morrison lay at the bottom of the shaft all night in terrible agony, his eyesight being destroyed and his body frightfully man-

Remarkable Statement from the Ex-British Minister.

HE DENOUNCES OUR STATESMEN,

And Refers to the Alleged Influence of the Fenian Organization in Both Houses of American Politician Will Not Resort."

NEW YORK. Oct. 9.—A special cablegram to The World from London says: An extraordinary and in many respects unprecedented publication by a British or of Allegheny, and Captain M. N. Baker, of other high diplomat has been discussed during the past few days among the foreign representatives to the court of St.

This is a handsomely printed pamphlet, marked "For private circulation only," and entitled "My Mission to the United States, '81-'89," and has just been issued by Lord Sackville, who, as Sir Lionel Sackville West, K. C. M. C., was the English minister to Washington for the period named.

It will be remembered that President Cleveland, almost on the eve of the election of 1888, sent Sir Lionel his passports because of a letter written by him to an alleged Englisman in California, commenting upon the approaching election. This pamphlet is Lord Sackville's defense and explanation, after seven years, of that incident. But the unprecedented part of it, and the part which has aroused very excited comment, is, first, the freedom of his strictures upon the American people and American public men, and, second, his own expressed indignation that the British ministry should have accepted Mr. Bayard as ambassador to this country, while as secretary of state of the United States Mr. Bayard had wantonly insulted in person its accredited representative.

Lord Sackville says he entered upon his duty with great solicitude. He continues: "I was well aware of the great trouble I should have to contend with to combat the influence the Fenian organization exercised over the government, and which was so powerful in both houses of the Lord Sackville quotes a private letter he wrote to Lord Granville, then foreign minister, in April, 1882, in regard, apparently, to a request or demand made by Secretary Frelinghuysen for the immediate release of certain Irish suspects. In this letter Lord Sackville distinctly states that Assistant Secretary Bancroft Davis represented to him that President Arthur felt embarrassed by the action of congress in the matter, and "that he, the president, trusted to the courtesy of her majesty's government in enabling him to avert it.' Lord Sackville here deliberately states that Lord Granville, upon representations of Lord Spencer, then lord lieutenant of Ireland, and lately in Lord Roseberry's secretary of state saying that his (Lord Sackville's) life was in danger, and asking for protection.

Secretary Frelinghuysen, he says, declined to take any step officially, but sent him to General Sherman. The latter invited him to a trip in "the president's yacht." All preparations were made in secret, and they spent ten days cruising in the James river, after which "it was deemed that the excitement caused by the

He says danger again be tradition of Patrick Sheridan for complic ity in the Phœnix park murders. He felt that such a demand would be hopeless, and so reported to Lord Granville, and the instructions were revoked.

A presidential election was approaching and Mr. Blaine was likely to be the Re publican candidate. "It was at this time that Mr. Blaine spoke to me in the most condemnatory tones of the conduct of her majesty's government in dealing with the Irish question. His language clearly indicated his intention to trade upon their hostility to England in order to gain the Irish vote for his election.

He notes Mr. Blaine's defeat with not greatly repressed exultation, and says he looked hopefully to the new Democratic administration and Mr. Bayard. The latter, he says, deprecated to him "the influ ence which the Irish party had obtained in the constituencies, and expressed himself as determined not to allow his action to be dictated by it." Lord Sackville reviews at length the negotiations over the Behring sea question, and asserts that neither England nor the Dominion could get justice, because the government dared not interfere with the Alaska Fur company, which corporation was rich and influential in both houses of Lord Sackville treats of events prior to Mr. Cleveland's renomination in 1888, saying: "It was necessary for him to show himself more anti-English than his oppo nents." He then quotes the Murchison letter and his reply, which he refers to as "incautious," both of which, to his amazement, were published in the New York Tribune on Oct. 22, 1888. He learned from private sources that no such person as Murchison existed.

Lord Sackville gives credit for the publication to "one Quay, a senator and chief of Republican wire pullers."

"Subsequently," says Lord Sackville,
"Mr. Bayard told me of the injurious effect of my letter upon a certain faction whose votes were necessary." He declares he was furnished with a copy of a telegram sent by the Democratic national committee to a cabinet officer. This dispatch rend:

"Does the president know that the Irish vote is slipping out of our hands because of diplomatic shilly shallying. See Lamont (the president's secretary and chief wire puller) at once. Something ought to be done today. Accordingly he received his passports that afternoon. Lord Sackville quotes a statement he made to Lord Salisbury, accusing Secretary Bayard of flagrant mistatement of facts and of duplicity.

He refers to President Cleveland in bitter terms, and adds there is no base action which an American politicianwill not resort to in order to gain an election."

"It is unnecessary," adds Lord Sackville, for me to comment further on the political degradation of the United States, nor of the difficulties which beset a British minister in a government influenced by political necessity and controlled by a faction hostile to his own country."

An "Obnexious Foreigner" Arrested. BRESLAU, Oct. 9 .- Dr. Ellenbogen, of Vienna, the Austrian delegate to the socialist congress, now in session here, was arrested yesterday on the ground that he was an 'obnoxious foreigner.'

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 7 .- The borough of Sugar Notch, which has been without water for some time, was the scene of a conflagration Saturday evening which threatened the destruction of the town. The fire engine from Ashley went to the rescue and the fire was gotten under control. Loss, $10,000.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7 .- Governor Hastings has appointed Miss Cora Stuchfiel Corry, deputy factory inspectors. Baker was originally appointed by Factory Inspector Martin when the department was organized six years ago, and has been retained by every succeeding inspector. Hamburg, Pa., Oct. 7 .- Death in awful form was the fate of Annie Dresh, 9 years of ago, at her home in West Hamburg While playing near a wood fire the child's dress ignited, and before the flames were put out the child had been roasted alive and died in a few hours. The child's mother was also seriously burned while extinguishing the flames. BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 7 .- Although the long continued drought is severely affecting in various ways this section of the country, the water supply of Bethlehem shows no sign of giving out. The artesian well which was added to the water works two years ago continues to give an apparently never ending supply of pure and wholesome drinking water. Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 7 .- Reports from the West Virginia coal regions are to the effect that the operators will grant an advance to prevent a strike. The men have been organizing for several months to be ready to join the movement in case a general strike occurred in the Connellsville region, which was prevented by the operators of this region granting an advance.

WILKESBARRE, Oct. 7.—Constable George Lawrence, of Pittston, had a fight with a gang of tramps late Saturday night and was severely beaten, sustaining, among other injuries, a broken leg. While lying in bed at his home yesterday Lawrence was examining a revolver which had failed to discharge when he was assaulted. It did so yesterday, and the bullet lodged in his hand. Lawrence died an hour later, it is believed from the shock.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 7 .- The Syracuse university football team took a game from Scranton Saturday by a score of 12-0. The game was an exceedingly rough one, and at least four of the Scranton players were painfully injured. Captain Walsh was kicked in the head during a most exciting period of the game, but resumed play. On the next line up he did not move from his tracks, quickly became delirious, and is now raving like a maniac.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 8.-The sucabinet, telegraphed the first assistant day sustained the verdict of murder in the first degree rendered in the case of William Penn Bowman, aged 20 years, in this city. The condemned man was notified of the court's decision last evening. He was unmoved, and said he still hoped for the best. A strong effort will be made to have the board of pardons commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9 .- State Senators Thomas and Crouse and Speaker Walton, of the house, came to Harrisburg yes day from their Philadelphia homes. These committee created at the last meeting of the legislature to investigate convict labor, and part of their duties will be to visit the penal institutions of the state and ascertain what labor is being done in them, and how it conflicts with regular labor or the manufacture of goods in the manufacturing establishments of the state.

HONESDALE, Pa., Oct. 8 .- Two boys, aged 10 and 13 years, respectively, were gunning in Pike county, about eight miles from Hawley, when the elder exclaimed, "How easily I could shoot you;" and suiting the action to the word he fired, mortally wounding his companion. The affair has created indignation, in view of the refusal of the county commissioners to appropriate money to capture and prosecute Chris Hauseman, who fatally shot 'Squire Newburger last Wednesday, thus allowing murder to become an unpunishable offense in the county.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Oct. 8 .- During the absence of her nurse Mrs. John Knox Marshall, wife of a prominent Boston manufacturer, jumped from the third story window of Croasdale's boarding house, at Delaware Water Gap, and sustained injuries which will cause her death. She fell a distance of twenty-five feet, striking on her head. Physicians found that she had broken one rib, cracked a shoulder blade and was internally injured. She was a victim of nervous prostration, and her act was probably the result of temporary insanity.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9 .- Pennsylvania's supreme court has added a decision to the many on the original package question. The point decided is that a package de vised by a non-resident manufacturer, or put up by him, adapted for sale at retail to individual consumers, such, for example, as a flask of whisky or a tub or pall or roll of oleomargarine, and actually sold by him or his agent to the consumer for use as an article of food or drink, in violation of the laws of the state where such sales take place, is not an original package within the meaning of the law relating to interstate commerce.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 7 .- John Richards. an 18-year-old boy, from Natalie, employed at the Patterson colliery, had one of his hands caught between a revolving pul-ley wheel and belt. His body was raised from the floor and hurled against the engine room wood roof with terrific force Although the space between the pulley and the ceiling measured only five inches the poor fellow's body was pulled through this narrow opening before the machinery could be stopped. When released his head and body were horribly crushed and mangled. His limbs were fractured, and he also sustained internal injuries that will prove fatal.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 4 .- Edwin Bookmyer and his son, Edwin H., pension agents, were arrested yesterday on plaint of Special Pension Examiner Jenks. and held for a hearing before Commissioner Montgomery for attempted fraud. It is alleged that they endeavored to secure a pension for one Frank Hart, who did not serve in the army, under the name of Francis Isalah Hart, affirming that he is Isalah Hart, a member of Company E, Thirty-second regiment, United States colored volunteers. Bookmyer, his son and daughter were arrested several months ago for pension irregularities, but were | Central State Normal School, Lock Haven, Pa. acquitted on trial.
