BRAVE MEN MEET DEATH

Five Lives Lost in a Factory Fire in Chicago.

FOUR OF THE DEAD WERE FIREMEN

The Remarkable Act of Gallant Fire Captain Hermanson-While Balancing Himself on a Ladder He Caught a Falling Girl and Carried Her to the Street.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 .- The interior of the Exchange building, a seven story structure at the corner of Van Buren and Franklin streets, was destroyed by fire yesterday, entailing a loss of $375,000 upon the owners and tenants of the building and causing the loss of five lives, the fatal injury of two others and the injury of six other people, all of whom are expected to

The dead are: Patrick J. O'Donnel, lieutenant of engine company No. 2; Martin Sherrick, pipeman; John Downs, pipeman; John Prendergast, pipeman, and Kittle Landgref.

The firemen were crushed by falling debris. Kittie Landgraf jumped from the fourth story window and was injured internally. She died at County hospital.

Garry Neil jumped from the fourth story window. He was internally injured and had his left arm broken, and will probably die. Nellie Turner jumped from a third story window and received internal injuries that will prove fatal.

The following were overcome by smoke, but will recover: Aggle McClain, Olga Kellar, Hattie Brennan, Edna Ritter and Mary Pink. Daniel McNally, driver of No. 3 engine, was buried beneath the debris, but will recover.

It was a few minutes before 9 o'clock when Rose Bruce, employed by Stern & Beirs, wholesale clothiers, noticed that the corridors were filling with smoke. She ran into the workroom, where thirty girls were working, and alarmed them stantly there was confusion. Although every effort was made to control the frightened girls, several opened the windows and climbed out on the ledges. One of the first to do this was Nellie Turner. She screamed for help, and some one on the ground shouted for her to jump. She grasped the escape and swung herself off from the stone ledge on which she had stood, and hundreds on the street cheered. She descended and Officer Flaherty, who was on the fire escape, started up to assist her. He was too late. She suddenly lost her balance and fell. Officer Flaherty tried to catch her, but failed. She was picked up unconscious

The escape of Olga Kellar is regarded as marvelous. She was employed by Stein & Biers, and when the room where she was working began to fill with smoke she ran to one of the windows overlooking Van Buren street. She threw up the sash and climbed out on the ledge, clinging with one hand to the narrow strip of wood on the outside of the sash. She saw a few feet below her the ladder on which two firemen stood, and she prepared to jump.

"Wait; don't jump!" shouted Captain Hermanson, who had almost reached the window.

Great volumes of smoke poured out of the window where the girl stood, and at times her form was entirely obscured. Cheer after cheer went up for Captain Hermanson as be climbed up. He had almost reached the girl when he heard her scream, and as he looked up he saw her reel and release her hold on the window siding. She had been overcome by the smoke, and had fallen. Captain Hermanson braced himself, and, as the unconscious form dropped, he seized it with his right arm. The effort nearly cost him his own life, for he narrowly escaped falling. From hundreds of throats sheers were heard as the brave captain descended the ladder with his burden.

By noon the firemen thought the worst of the day's battle was past. They were mistaken. Shortly before 1 o'clock a large safe on the fifth floor fell to the fourth carrying it and the third, second and first floor with it. Five men, members of engine company No. 2 were working on the ground floor, and were buried beneath the brick, stone and timber. All were killed but McNally.

After nearly an hour's work the rescuer had opened a passageway through the debris and succeeded in getting close enough to where the firemen were buried to assure themselves that Lieutenant O'Donnel was alive. He was just able to talk, and it was with great difficulty that his words could be heard. Gradually the Hentenant's voice became weaker, and his reply to the last questions were scarcely audible. The fire soon broke out again and the rescuers were compelled to abandon their work. O'Donnel's dead body was recovered at 7 o'clock last night.

Probable Wife Murder and Suicide. SCHANTON, Pa., Nov. 26 .- At Throop, a few miles north of here, Seera Robbins shot and fatally wounded his wife and then shot himself. He died within a short time. The woman was brought to the Lackawanna hospital, in this city, and is dying there. The shooting was the result of a quarrel, and occurred in the presence of Robert Brown Zerling, who, it is said, had advised Mrs. Robbins to leave her husband. Robbins first shot at Zerling and missed his aim. He then sent a bullet into his wife's head, and she fell unconscious. Robbins threw himself upon her and caressed and kissed her. Then he arose and sent a bullet into his brain. was 55 years old, a carpenter by trade, and well respected in the village.

Refused to Accept a Release. Lewes, Del., Nov. 26 .- At noon yester day Collector Sharp received orders from Secretary Carlisle to release the schooner Joseph W. Foster, held on suspicion of filibustering, and immediately informed Captain Whealton of the fact. The captain refuses to accept the release of his vessel, and has abandoned her to the gov ernment. The crew remain on board. Cap tain Whealton has gone to Philadelphia and will bring suit against the govern

Elwyn, just before attempting suicide, wrote a letter to a local justice of the peace, in which he gives the details of several robberies which have occurred here within the past two years, and which baffled the local police officials. The letter implicates Elwyn and several other men in the town, against whom proceedings will be begun at once.

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 25 .- John Coursey, persistent jail breaker, was finally brought up for sentence yesterday. Coursey is a burglar and his partner is doing time for a job committed a year ago. Coursey feigned insanity and escaped from a padded cell in the police station. He was recaptured, and being very bad was kept in the dungeon, most of the time, at the county jail. He spent his time in the dungeon digging out and escaped Just before court. When recaptured Coursey said he would plead guilty and get at his term of servitude. Judge Gunnison gave him two years and six months in the penitentiary.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 23 .- 2 rs. Catharine Gorman, aged 74 years, was 10 dead in her room at her home in Mill Crecis yesterday, having been strangled to death. The wounds about her neck and head showed plainly that she had had a severe struggle with her slayers. It is believed that the murder was committed by some persons who knew that the old lady kept considerable money about the house. He: purse was found on a table in the room without a penny in it, and the clothing from the closets was strewn about the rooms The bureau drawers had also been ransacked. It is not known how much money the thieves secured. BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 26 .- A cablegram was received yesterday by President Linderman, of the Bethlehem Iron company. informing him of the award to the company by the Russian government of a contract for the manufacture of nearly 1,200 tons of Harveyized armor plate. The plate is to be used on the new battleship Rostislav. This is one of the largest contracts for armor plate awarded by any nation in recent years. The work is to be completed by the close of next fall. This will keep the 2,200 employes of the ordnance department steadily at work. When the news was received the flags at the ordnance works were run up and all whistles blown There is general rejoicing throughout the WILKESBARRE,, Pa., Nov. 25 .- A strange affiction has fallen upon the family of Jacob Kline, a well-to-do dairyman of this city. Last Tuesday Katle, his 12-year-old daughter, came home from school suffer ing with very sore eyes. Her mother bathed the eyes in warm milk, and the towel which she used was thrown back on the rack. Some time after Mrs. Kline wiped her face with it, and John, the 10year-old son, did likewise. The little girl was better next day, but the mother's eyes began to pain her, and continued growing worse until Thursday, when she became blind. The eyes of the boy were also af fected, and today is blind in one and the other is weakening. The mother cannot recover her sight, and the boy may be permanently blind.

THE PHILADELPHIA ROBBERS.

How the Quaker City Is Cheated by Dishonest Contractors,

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23. - Yesterday's session of the senate investigating committee at the city hall was productive of the most sensational testimony yet heard, serious charges being made against Samuel McKee, a carpenter and builder, and also employed as a bridge foreman on city The name of Bridge Superintendent C. A. Trik was also mixed up in the affair.

The charges against McKee were the outcome of testimony given by General Agent Addis, and Thomas Warren and Frederick H. Asphyxiated His Two Little Children and Then Shot Himself.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 26 .- After killing his two children by asphyxiation Herman Hattenhorst, 35 years of age, a boxing instructor, committed suicide by sending a bullet crashing through his right temple. No cause is assigned for the deed other than despondency over business matters. The bodies were found early yesterday morning in the rooms used by the man to give boxing lessons, on the second floor of

An officer was sent with her to her husbanu's place of business. Hattenhorst was found dead with a revolver by his The bodies of the two children were found in a closet used for vapor baths, where the little ones had been placed while living, probably having been first made asen-like with chloroform. Dumas Fils Is Dving.

PARIS. Nov. 26 .- Alexandro Dumas, the distinguished author and playwright, is seriously ill. The physicians in attendance upon him at first thought he was suffer ing from a violent attack of neuralgia, but later they recognized graver symptoms. The Petit Parisien says that Dumas was seized on Saturday with cerebral conges-tion and that Dr. Pozzi diagnosed it as cerebral abscess. The patient, it is added, has been in a comatose condition since Sunday evening. His physicians do not think he can live longer than a week. His relatives have been summoned to his bedside. He is nearly 72 years old. He has been a most prolific writer, his first published poems being written when he was only 17 years old. At the age of 24 he gained world-wide fame by his "La Dame

To Remove General Hancock's Body, WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 .- It has been de cided to remove the body of Major General Winfield S. Hancock to Arlington cemetery from Norristown, Pa., where it has rested since 1886. None of the projects to erect a monument at Norristown has succeeded, and a committee has succeeded in securing the consent of members of the family to the removal. It is planned to have the burial in Arlington take place next spring, when a monument to General Hancock on one of the public squares in Washington will be dedicated.

Two Children Meet Death by Flame. NEW YORK, Nov. 26 .- Mrs. William C. Collins, occupying a flat in West Tenth street, left her three children locked in the room while she went on a short errand yesterday. In her absence the children made a fire on the floor with some news papers, their clothing became ignited, and Lillian, 5 years old, was burned to death, while Willie, 10 months old, was so badly injured that he died last night. The third child, 4 years old, was only slightly burned. The fire did but little damage to the building.
