Interesting Events and Happenings from About the county—Doings of our People Briefly Told.

—And the next day it snowed—after Tuesday's election.

—Everybody admires the sale bills printed at the Centre Democrat office. We have good material, good workmen and ask reasonable prices.

—The wonderful Hindoo jugglers, who are making a successful tour of this country, will be at the Garman Opera House on Monday Feb. 24th.

—The Hindoo Fakeers to be at the Opera House next Monday evening will give a novel entertainment. Something new, original and entertaining.

—Hindoo Fakeers at the Opera House next Monday Feb. 24th. It will be a rare treat. They have the reputation of being the very cleverest artists in their line.

—O. N. Yarnell, of Mt. Pleasant, who has been reading this paper for a number of years, but votes the other way, called on Monday to have his date changed to 97.

—Gregg Post will serve an elegant turkey dinner in their rooms on Saturday, Feb. 22nd, Washington's Birthday. All kinds of refreshments will also be served during the day.

—A musical singing class has been organized at the Reformed church, this place. It began on Monday evening under the direction of Prof. J. Ellery Johnson. All are invited to attend.

—Mr. S. H. Williams, the wall paper man, called this week to say something about his business in the columns of this paper. Be sure and read his new advertisement in another column.

—Ollie C. Miller, of Bellefonte, an experienced workman on roofs of all kinds is prepared to do any thing in that line. He will guarantee good work and will always be here to insure it. Give him your work.

—Superior Court for the Eastern District, is in session at Williamsport this week, and a number of our attorneys are in attendance. Several causes have been taken there from this county for further hearing.

—The steam heat is rendering good service to its patrons during the present severe cold weather. They believe in sending heat into the radiators instead of melting the snow along our streets, as was formerly done.

—A six inch vein of coal, at Julian, is among the latest sensations. J. C. Nason, while boring a well at that place, came across such a find. Had it been six feet instead of six inches it would be worth while talking about it.

—In almost every section of Centre county religious revivals are in progress, this season. We hope the world is growing better as there are many of us poor sinners who can endure a bit of improvement to a great advantage.

—Ex-Treasurer Adam Yearick, of Walker, who had been on the sick list for some time, was about on Monday and in the best of humor. We need men like Mr. Yearick to keep down republican majorities in Marion township.

—Dr. R. G. Hayes of this place has been quite ill during the past week. He had a fall by which he injured his head and at the time he was not enjoying the best of health. A severe fever set in and there has been some apprehension as to his condition.

—A fire on Sunday evening came near destroying James Noll's house at Collins Furnace. The roof on the kitchen was burned off and the side of the house was considerably charred. Timely assistance of neighbors succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

—The revival services, in the Court House, attracted large audiences during the past week. The evangelist, Rev. Leonard Weaver, is an enthusiastic speaker and has awakened a religious sentiment among our people that cannot fail but have a good and lasting effect.

—Mr. J. S. Ewing, recently in the drug business at Tyrone, and formerly of Snow Shoe, is frequently seen in Bellefonte. For some years Mr. Ewing was a confirmed invalid from rheumatism but he seems to have completely recovered from his ailment. It is likely that he will locate at Snow Shoe again.

—A. Baum, the liveryman, will remain at the same old stand at the rear of Lyon's store. On account of refusing to rent in time, another party leased and it required, some say, considerable stuff to get the lease in his control. A stitch in time saves nine, and this was one of the times that brother Baum got left.

—The "Missionary Tea," to be given at the home of Mrs. L. A. Shaffer, on Friday evening of this week, has been postponed until Tuesday evening of next week. That refreshments, consisting of wafers cake, chocolate and coffee, will be served, at five cents each. Both vocal and instrumental music will be rendered during the evening. All are invited, and will be welcome.

Kindly Remembered.

Last Friday, among the editor's voluminous mail was a delicately-tinted envelope, with the address carefully written in a feminine hand. The pretty missive at once attracted attention and awakened pleasant speculations as to what it might contain and who the fair dove might be that dared to trespass upon our time, and probably attentions—for it is leap year, you know, and they are entitled to certain license, not permissible at other seasons.

Curiosity became so strong that this letter was given preference, and eagerly opened. Sufficient was there, too, to satisfy the most craving curiosity—three beasty, ugly valentines! Our fondest hopes were now changed to indignation, keen disappointment and burning rage, which was heightened all the more by the office devil shouting and roaring at the editor's discomfiture and misfortune. "Rejected," was the first one read; then came another: "We Know You"; and lastly the keener of all: "You Foppish Little Runt." The ordeal was trying. Vindication, revenge and even gore were the thoughts that raced through the mind, mingled with an appropriate line of adjectives, that in a measure soothed our feelings towards the unknown fair dove.

In order to reduce pressure, the writer started out for a bit of fresh air, and unconsciously drifted into Francis Speer's den at the Gazette. On our approach there were significant mutterings that closely resembled profanity. He raged like a demon that was aflame with indignation. "God-darned the dog-gone d, blasted fool; think I must be a dod-blasted gilly! I know em; dont you forget it. Nothing but a dirty son-of-a-sea-cook anyway, that did it. Dog-gone their dirty pictures anyhow," and other words, more forcible than appropriate.

This strange jumble of words aroused curiosity and upon inquiry found that poor Speer had been the recipient of no less than sixteen valentines, and many of them were beauties.

Misery always loves company and here we forgot our own trials in trying to pour oil over brother Speer's exceedingly lacerated feelings, and console him. But it was all in vain. Upon departing, he was raging and tearing worse than ever and to his misery and with his valentines we left him.

Announcement.

I am with great sorrow compelled to make this public announcement, that by the advice of the best oculist in this country it becomes necessary for me, owing to increasing difficulty with my eye sight, to give up the teaching of music entirely. After carefully reviewing the situation, I have decided to devote all my time to the sale of musical instruments of any description, particularly Pianos and Organs, of the best make procurable. Any one wishing to purchase an instrument will save money by calling on me at room 28, Crider block, and learning particulars.

3-12x MISS S. OHNSMACHT.

To Our Correspondents.

There are a number of sections of the county from which we have not received any communications for some time. Don't know whether our correspondents are away, sleeping or dead. Try and send us the news next week without fail. Let us know what is going on in your community. It will be interesting read to many of our readers. Correspondents who have used up all their stationery should notify us at once. Send us the news.

ELEGANTLY BANQUETED.

John C. Miller Given a Pleasant Surprise By Council.

Mr. John C. Miller, one of Bellefontes well known citizens, has concluded to try his hand at farming and on Wednesday he flitted from his pleasant home on Linn street, to one of Col. W. Fred Reynolds farm's in Benner township. Here he will reside and devote his attention to managing the Col's farms in that vicinity.

Mr. Miller, for a number of years, has been an active and prominent member of our town council and for the past year had the honor of filling the presidents chair. Monday evening was the last session of the present council, and the remaining members concluded to show their appreciation of their worthy president by giving him a banquet, and to express their regret at losing him as a citizen by a few farewell greetings.

At 8.30 p. m. the members of that august body adjourned and all wended their way to Ceader's parlors where they sprang a surprise upon Mr. Miller by showing him the hall and banquet table—all prepared for the guests, and by council in honor of him.

There sat down to the feast of good things the following: Burgess, W. E. Gray; councilmen: Samuel H. Williams, Henry Brockerhoff, Geo. T. Bush, C. T. Gerbrick, Harry Curtin, Harry Keller Esq. and W. R. Brackbill; clerk Isaac Mitchell, Mr. John Ardell aud editors T. H. Haier, Geo. R. Meeck, N. S. Bailey, Chas. Dorworth and the writer. Clerk Isaac Mitchell presided as master of ceremonies and acquitted himself with grace and dignity. An elaborate feast was served of all kinds of dainties that were elegant prepared. It embraced nine courses, after which toasts were in order. The general theme of the remarks were splendid efforts of those present in eulogising Mr. Miller's career. All vied in heaping encomiums upon the gentleman and predicting a new career for him as an agriculturist. There was mirth and humor amid the compliments that was highly amusing, and amid which Mr. Miller never for a moment was disconcerted—only to modestly smile and bow.

The banquet was brought to a close at 12 p. m. when all bid Mr. Miller a hearty good night and amid a profusion of good wishes for his success as a Benner township farmer, each and every one quietly wended his way homeward.

Case Settled.

Among the cases to have been argued before the Superior Court, at Williamsport, this week, was the appeal of John W. Shuey, guardian of Frances M. Shuey, now Zones, of College township, from the decree of the Orphans Court of Centre county. In his account the guardian charged her for keeping from the time she was two years old until seventeen years of age, being for boarding clothing etc.—$780, also five per cent commissions for services as guardian. The item of $780 was the contention and was refused by the court.

The case was not argued before the Superior court for the reason that the appellant dropped the suit by yielding and paying the costs. Thus J. C. Meyer Esq. attorney for the ward, won his first case in the Superior court without appearing. His brief must have completely converted the opposing council—something unusual, indeed.

Charming Hostesses.

Miss Isabella Gentzle daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Gentzle, Spring twp., is visiting friends at Ceaderville, Ill., for several months past. She was one of the hostesses at a party at that place of which the Preport Ill. Bulletin says: "There was a large attendance of guests from Preport and Ceaderville. Misses Neidigh, Gentzel and Rocky proved to be charming hostesses."

Trout Fry Scarce.

The Pennsylvania fish commission announces that it is receiving applications for brook trout fry for distribution in the free streams of the state. Only 1,000 fry will be allowed to an application, because the entire output will not exceed 3,500,000. Blank forms of application may be had from any of the commissioners.

ATTACKED BY HIS DOG.

Centre Hall Reporter: It's not often a dog will attack his master, but there was a case in point Monday evening at this place, when Mike Condo's large white dog suddenly made an attack upon him while sitting in the room with his wife and children. Mr. Condo had stooped to get his rubbers from under the stove, when the dog suddenly sprang upon his back and bit him back of the neck. Mike with a swing of his arm brushed the dog off, and the brute made another spring fastening his teeth on one of Mike's elbows entering the flesh and tearing his coat and shirt sleeve.

With a kick Mike again drove the dog from him; but the now infuriated brute made a third spring and for the man's face, one of his teeth entering the upper lid of the left eye, causing a painful wound with a black eye in addition to some scratches. On this round Mike grabbed the dog by the throat, hurled the brute from him, and by grabbing a chair kept the dog from doing further harm.

Mike is able to be about and is delivering meat as usual, only his face looks as though he had loaned it to fight a bulldog.

Song Service.

On Sunday evening the spacious room of the Presbyterian church was more than filled by a gathering to hear the song service especially prepared for this occasion. The choir was composed of the Misses McKibben, Butts, Dorworth, and Mrs. Meyers; and Messrs Meyer, Laurie, Rutt, Harris and McCalmont. Miss Grace Whitley, of Millburg also assisted by rendering a beautiful solo. Prof. W. T. Meyer the director presided at the pipe organ and to his untiring labors much of the success of programme must be credited. The service was appropriate and highly appreciated.

Elite Hindoo Fakeers.

The next attraction at the Garman Opera House will be something sure to amuse and entertain a large audience, because it is something new to our people. These Fakeers come from the far East and their feats in legerdemain are original and only produced by them. The Hindoo people are experts in this line. They are conjurers who perform the most remarkable feats that appear as un-fathomable mysteries to the spectators at the Opera House Monday Feb. 24th.

Festival.

A festival will be held by the I. O. O. F. of Boalsburg on Friday and Saturday evenings Feb. 28 and 29th. All kinds of seasonable delicacies will be served. Proceeds will be devoted to furnishing their new hall, at that place.

Musical Convention at Mill Hall.

A musical convention is being held at Mill Hall this week, closing with two concerts Friday and Saturday evenings. In the chorus there will be sixty voices.

Broke an Arm.

On Saturday evening 8th Mrs. Leonard Rhone, of near Centre Hall, had an arm broken, at Tusseyville, by being thrown from a sleigh that upset.

Woman's Work

As never done, and it is especially wearing and weakening to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. The only remedy for tired, weak, nervous women is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. For troubles peculiar to Women at change of season, climate or life, great cures are made by do not cause pain or gripe. All druggists, etc.

No Corns Here

There is no good reason why there should be such things as corns. There is a reason, however, but it isn't a good one. The reason is that people buy and wear ill-fitting footwear that makes corns faster than chiropodist can cut them off. All this is caused by not beginning right. If you will bring the children to me, and take the Shoes I recommend, and keep on bringing the children year after year, those boys and girls will never have to spend a cent for corn medicine.
