Milner Morris, a Baptist clergyman at Duryca, a suburb of this city, who mysteriously disappeared two weeks ago, has returned to his home. He refuses to give any account of his wanderings. A BALTIMORE HORROR.

Terrible Loss of Life in a Sunday Morning Blaze.

EIGHT DEAD AND FIVE INJURED.

Of the Thirteen Persons in the House Not One Escaped Without Injury-Here. Rescue of the Lady of the House by a Fireman-A Servant's Terrible Leap.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 24 .- Seven people were sphyxiated, one fatally hurt by jumping from a window, and five others more or less injured by a fire in the residence of James R. Armiger, a prominent jeweler, at 1806 Charles street, yesterday morning. The dead are: James R. Armiger, aged 55; William B. Riley, his son-in-law, aged 36; Richard Riley, son of W. B. Riley, aged 4; Marian Biley, daughter of W. B. Rtley, aged 21/2; Mrs. Marian Champlin, daughter of James R. Armiger, aged 30; James Champlin, her son, aged 3; Horace B. Manuel, aged 56, of New York city, a guest; Alice Williams, colored servant, skull fractured, died in hospital today.

Mrs. William B. Riley, who was burned about face and arms and suffering from inhalation of smoke, will recover; Mrs. James R. Armiger, aged 50, slight burns and suffering from shock and exposure; Miss Eleanor Armiger, aged 14, slightly burned; Miss Virginia Armiger, aged 25 ankle slightly sprained in jumping; Ida Whiting, colored servant, slightly burned and suffering from inhalation of smoke, will recover.

The house in which the holocaust occurred is one of a row of granite front residences belonging to the A. S. Abell estate, on Charles street, just north of Lafay ette avenue. It is four stories high, and at the time of the fire was filled with costly furniture and much rare bric-a-brac, plate and unique jewelry, of which Mr. Armiger was an enthusiastic collector. In the house were just thirteen persons. Of these ten were members of the Armiger house hold, two were servants, and the other, Mr. Manuel, was a guest who has been visiting the Armiger family for the past two or three days. It was his purpose to have returned to his home in New York Saturday night, but Mr. Armiger prevailed upon him to remain until Monday. All of these people were in their bedcooms on the upper floors, some of them being partially dressed, when fire was discovered issuing from a partition in the cellar. It had ignited from an overheated furnace flue, and was first seen by Louis Whiting, the colored man of all work, who was at the time cleaning the front steps. Whiting ran to the adjacent corner and gave the alarm to a policeman, and hurried back to the house, entered the front door, closed it behind him and ascended to the second floor, where Mr. and Mrs. Armiger had their bedroom.

The house was by this time filled with a dense, stifling smoke, and when the negro and Mrs. Armiger attempted to descend they found it impossible. Whiting aided Mrs. Armiger to the front window and helped her to reach a small balcony in front, upon which he placed her and re-turned to the aid of Mr. Armiger. He found the latter had gone, and came back to Mrs. Armiger, who, clad in nothing but her night clothes was shivering on the narrow balcony and shrieking in agonized tones for help.

Half a dozen men who were passing hastened to the power house of the Charles street cable car line, a block below, and procured a short ladder. When they returned they found Deputy Fire Chief Mc-Afee, a noted life saver, who quickly mounted the ladder. It was not long enough, but by standing on the uppermost round he could reach the frightened woman. As he attempted to lift her from the balcony her scanty clothing caught on an obstruction and she fell forward with her whole weight upon the outstretched arm of the fireman. Just then the ladder slipped, and everyone below expected to see both the rescuer and the woman he was trying to save dashed to death on the pavement below. By a tremendous effort. however, McAfee steadled himself, and, holding Mrs. Armiger with one hand, grasped the balcony with the other. Hanging thus, he slowly replaced the ladder with his feet and brought the now fainting woman down in safety. In the meantime the other inmates of dows making the most piteous appeals for help. The people below shouted to them not to jump, but Alice Williams disre garded their warnings, and with an ap palling shrick sprang from the fourth story window and struck the stone steps full upon her forehead, fracturing her skull, and sustaining other injuries from which she died. The unmarried daughters of Mr. Ar miger were rescued from a rear window, only slightly injured. Mrs. Riley was carried out unconscious, but in time to save her life. The others were dead when found, their bodies being terribly burned.

"But, after all, they are only Americans by adoption, and the general, during his ent months of travel in your country. had abundant opportunity of seeing what has been accomplished among your people by the self sacrifice and toil of officers the army, many of them American born, and others of them laboring in the sountry for years before the present leaders were appointed. It would, I am configent, be exceedingly distasteful to him to find an effort for the exaltation of his som and daughter, based on any want of appreciation and esteem for the devoted unselfish men and women who have served under them, and whose toil, they would be the first to admit, has so largely ministered to their success."

Br-Commander Ballington Booth and Mrs. Booth left the national headquarters at the Salvation Army, in Fourteenth street, at 7 o'clock last night for good. Mr. Booth said that they proposed to retire quietly, and that they should turn over verything to their successors.

The ex-commander affirmed that he had fmen dismissed, and that Colonel Nicol1 and Commandant Herbert Booth came there with power to oust him. He gave the reasons why he had refused to go to Kondon. He said that he was asked to go to London to be court martialed. This he would not submit to.

Ballington Booth was offered the leadership of an independent American Salvation Army yesterday. The brigadiers, adintants and majors whom he had created in all parts of the country besought him to become their general. He firmly declined, saying that he and Mrs. Booth would quietly retire from the army.

No Desire to Oust Commander Booth.

Lospon, Feb. 25.-Bramwell Booth was interviewed yesterday by a representative of the Associated Press in order to secure his views upon the disturbance in the Salmation Army in the United States. He mid: "I do not believe that the attempt of ngton Booth to destroy General woth's influence and to divide the army will seriously disturb many of our people St the time of his withdrawal Ballington Booth was listed for the command of another large territory. Eva Booth will remain in command in the United States until General Booth's return. MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 26 .- The flag of rebellion has once more been raised in Nicaragua, and reports received here from the north show that the whole district north of Lake Manasea is in open rebellion against President Zelaya. Martial law has been proclaimed, and the pressing of men into the army is being pushed rapidly. The president is supported by a wing of the Liberal party, and 2,000 men are already under arms. This town, the capital, is being actively made ready for defense, as the insurgents, whose headquarters are at Leon, the old capital of Nicaragua, and the center of the old Roman Catholie population, as opposed to the Catholics of more modern views, are expected to make an attack upon this city.
