State College Changes.

The main college building is soon to undergo remodeling which, when completed, will make it one of the handsomest college buildings in the State. The main improvement designed is the addition of a new roof of modern drawing, and perhaps a number of balconies on the front, with two large porches, one on each side of the main entrance. The trustees are now pushing the matter so that the work may be completed for the commencement exercises in June.

The seventh story will be finished in one large room, varying in height from 16 feet at the dome to about 6 feet at the eaves. Around the room shelving will be placed, and it will be otherwise fitted up for a museum, which it is contemplated adding to the college in the near future.

Another proposed improvement is the placing in the college of an elevator. The net cost of the proposed repairs will be about $12,500.

Large Opening.

Prof. Eldon expects that at the opening of the Spring term of the Lock Haven State Normal there will be about 700 pupils in attendance. That will be quite an increase over former records.

LICENSE COURT.

Held on Tuesday—How the Applications were Disposed—A new one.

On Tuesday the annual session of License Court was held with Judges Love and Faulkner presiding. It brought a large gathering of hotel men to Bellefonte, yet the session failed to attract the usual attention. There was but one remonstrance and that to the application of J. A. Gramley for hotel license at Rebersburg, in Miles township. The ministers of the place were united in opposing it and had a long petition signed with those remonstrating. On the other hand, Mr. Gramley had a larger petition for license. Hearing on this case consumed considerable time. From the testimony produced, almost every inhabitant in Brush valley must keep a jug of old-tangle-foot in his closet. It seems that wagon loads of the "good-old-stuff" is regularly delivered in that community by the distillers from Snyder county and many of the old pillars in the churches are among their patrons. All applications were granted except the following:—Martha Ashcroft, Phillipsburg; held over; Jeffrey Hayes, of Rush township—refused; Thomas Deakin, Phillipsburg—refused. Mr. Gramley's license at Rebersburg was granted. Judge Love notified all applicants that failure to close their bars at 10 p. m. would be sufficient cause for recalling any license.

Evangelist Weaver Gone.

Not in many years was Bellefonte and vicinity so thoroughly aroused to religious effort than by the labors of Evangelist Leonard Weaver. He came to Bellefonte and labored earnestly for about a month, conducting two and three meetings daily. He was a forcible and very earnest speaker and always attracted large audiences and at the closing week many, who came late, could not gain admittance to hear him.

As the result of his efforts it is estimated that almost three hundred persons arose for prayers and professed a change of heart. Large numbers have associated themselves with the various churches of the town. It has also awakened a strong religious sentiment among our people that has not been felt for some time.

Last Friday Rev. Weaver took his departure, and a large number of people assembled at the depot to say "good by" and thus show their appreciation of his untiring labors in our community.

An effort is being made here to collect about $1000 to construct a large movable tabernacle for Mr. Weaver, to be used in his evangelistic work. Committees have been appointed to solicit funds in the different wards of Bellefonte for this purpose. Mr. Weaver expects to return to Bellefonte sometime this coming summer.

—Wetzel Brothers, the proprietors of the machine shops at this place, are making some important improvements in their plant.

—The balance of the clothing at the Philadelphia Branch is being sold at any price. They intend to dispose of the entire stock before moving.

—You can buy an overcoat for about one-half the customary price now at the Philadelphia Branch. They expect to vacate that room and are selling goods at any price.

—From a card appearing in another column of this issue, it will be noticed that W. T. Meyer has decided to remain in Bellefonte. He had decided to move to Allentown Pa.

—The Undine Fire Company will hold their annual Easter ball on Monday evening, April 6th. Extensive preparations are being made for this event. Their dances always are enjoyable affairs and largely attended.

—On Tuesday constable Dunlap went to Lock Haven where he arrested Owen McMann on a charge preferred by a young lady of Bellefonte. He is now boarding with Sheriff Condo, until April court.

—As the Philadelphia Branch will be located in Temple Court, after April 1st, they are disposing of their present stock quite rapidly. The prices have been put down about one-half. This is your opportunity for a bargain in overcoats and clothing. Don't wait long.

—Prof. P. H. Meyer, the musician of Boalsburg, was in town on Tuesday. The Prof. held six very successful conventions this season and is pleased with the result. Mr. Meyer is frequently mentioned as a candidate for county commissioner. He would be a hustler on the ticket and is a loyal democrat.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION.

Professor Watson of State College, Makes a Statement of Interest to Farmers.

The question of spontaneous combustion has long been a mooted one so far as its relation to hay or fodder in a stack or mow is concerned. George C. Watson, professor of agriculture State College, in a bulletin soon to be issued from the experiment station, presents an irrefutable argument in substantiation of the theory in a recent happening at one of the college barns. Sparks of fire were seen dropping from the ceiling of the cow stable underneath the east wing of the college barn. Investigation soon proved that the fire was confined to a mow of hay. To prevent the mass of hay bursting into flames every hole was stopped up which might by any possibility admit any draft and the hay was covered with wet blankets, on which water was constantly thrown. Then, to save the barn, a hole was knocked in the side and the entire mow of hay was thrown out, some 30 tons in all.

An examination of the pile of hay showed that the entire mass was so thoroughly charred that it would crumble when handled, and the whole of it was rendered unfit for stock food. While positive proof of the origin of the fire may be lacking, the circumstances are such that it seems safe to consider it of spontaneous origin. There was no fire near the barn, nor was there any way by which an incendiary could get in his work. For several days previous to the fire a peculiar odor was noticeable in the vicinity of the barn, which was compared by many to that emitted by burning grain. The bulletin prescribes as the best way to act under such circumstances, to save the building, is to keep the hay as wet as possible and remove the same from the building in the quickest possible time, taking the utmost precaution to at all times exclude all draft or air currents.

What's In a Name.

For some time there has been agitation for the incorporation of the village at State College, and the same will be consummated in a short time. Of late, a controversy arose in that peaceful community in regard to changing the name, and necessarily the post office name. The faculty and attaches of the college favored the adoption of the name "University Heights," or any other suitable name containing the word "University." To this there was considerable objection among villagers. They did not want a change. Once known as "Farm School," then "Agricultural College," and now "Penna State College," should be enough variety for the present generation, and they opposed it.

On Saturday evening a public meeting was held to settle this momentous question. Speeches were made pro and con. The villagers proceeded to the meeting wearing badges and a large banner protesting to the proposed innovation. Long petitions were read for the more cosmopolitan title. "Members of the faculty indulged in persuasive arguments and flights of oratory upon the advantage of being known as "University Heights." As there is an end to all things, the conclusion was reached only by submitting the matter to a vote and the villagers came out ahead by a small majority of but four, and the new borough, in all probability, will be known as heretofore "Penna State College." In this case there was enough in a name to cause a lively tilt among neighbors.

A Bald Eagle Valley Record.

An employee of the Bald Eagle valley, sends us the following account of a remarkable record made on that road. The crew on the train was composed of George Gibbs, engineer; John Priest, fireman; R. D. Farrell, conductor, and O. W. Henry and W. C. Chaney, brakemen. The Bald Eagle Valley mail, No. 55, left Lock Haven at 4:15 p. m. 13 minutes late, and arrived at Snow Shoe intersection on time at 5:28 p. m., making nine full stops on the way. The distance is 31 miles, and the time 73 minutes. On the run the engine was cut loose from one end of the train and ran around and coupled on to the other end, and the crew had five switches to throw, this work having been done at Milesburg and Bellefonte.

A Mighty Hunter.

George Smith, who resides in the wilds of Elk county, has during the past sixty years, killed in the wilderness of that and Jefferson counties 14 panthers, 500 bears, 30 elk, 3,000 deer, 500 catamounts, 500 wolves and 600 wild cats. He has killed seven deer in a day and as many as five bears in a day.

—Col. Dunham is authority for the statement that at one of the hotels in town there are no less than thirty-two distinct brands of whiskey on sale. It must be true, comes from a reliable source.

To Our Friends and Patrons.

Bellefonte Pa., March 2 '96. For the past three months we have been closing out our stock with the intention of leaving town. It was not done for the purpose of booming trade, or deceiving you, our intentions were sincere. Having been offered a position as Pipe Organist in Allentown, Pa., at a remunerative salary, we have been trying to shape our business affairs accordingly, in order to accept said position, but having failed to dispose of our store, unless at a great loss, we have finally decided to stay. We shall therefore endeavor to concentrate all our energies to one purpose, namely, serving you to the best of our ability with honest and reliable goods. Hereafter we will confine our line principally to staple dry goods, notions, and mens furnishings, goods that are medium in price, and come within the means of all classes. As heretofore, we will sell only for cash, which means a neat saving to you of many dollars in a year. We will immediately put in a full line of new goods, and sell them to you at the very closest living profit. Hoping to have the pleasure of sharing a large portion of your patronage We are yours respectfully Wm. Meyer.

Arbor Days.

Governor Hastings issued a proclamation on Wednesday last designating April 1 and 24 as Arbor Days. The choice of dates is left to the discretion of the people in the various sections of the state. The people are urged to observe one of the days, that the trend of national tendency may be diverted from tree destruction to tree protection.

PLEASANTLY SURPRISED.

On last Saturday afternoon there was a large gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Musser, State College, Pa., to celebrate Mrs. Musser's birthday anniversary. As it comes on the 29th of February, a date that occurs but once in four years, and in 1900 will be omitted so that her next birthday anniversary can only be properly observed in 1904 if still living, the children arranged a surprise party for their mother. Mr. and Mrs. Musser were away visiting that day and did not reach their home until 4:15 where they found their home in the possession of their relatives, a number of friends and the children. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harter, Bellefonte; Rev. and Mrs. Leshar, Boalsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hess, Boalsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dale, Lemont; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bortorf, Pine Grove Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Foster, Sr., State College; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Patterson, State College; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Stewart, State College; Mr. Hiram Thompson, State College; Prof. Eiters and family, and all the children except Mrs. Bowman, J. A. Musser and G. F. Musser.

This gathering was a great surprise to the parents and was much appreciated. All then sat down to an elaborate dinner prepared by Mrs. Eiters. The remainder of the afternoon passed by quickly as friends met and renewed acquaintanceship and recounted incidents of years gone by.

Many handsome presents were received by Mrs. Musser on this occasion, from the children and friends. Owing to the inclement weather on Saturday many were unable to attend the birthday celebration. The children are as follows: Luther W. Musser, teacher, Roland; Lillie Musser Eiters, wife of Prof. Eiters, Supt. of Bellefonte schools; George F. Musser, salesman, Phila; Jacob A. Musser, gents furnishing dept. Strawberger & Josephs, Allegheny City; James F. Musser, with the Demorest Machine Works, Williamsport; Boyd A. Musser, in the law office of Spangler & Hewes, Bellefonte; Lydia Musser Bowman, wife of Roger Bowman, commission merchant, Phila; Mamie L. Musser, at home, State College, and Helena D. Musser, student in the Bellefonte High School.

The Big Silver Dollar.

Some editor, while musing over the "Old Oaken Bucket," and the scant amount of provisions in his larder, put together the following pathetic lines: "How dear to my heart is the face of the dollar, when some kind subscriber present it to view. A round silver dollar I hail as a treasure, for often expenses overwhelm me with woe; I count it the source of an exquisite pleasure and yearn for it fondly wherever I go. How ardently I seize it—that lovely round dollar—the root of all evil 'tis commonly named. Loving money is sinful, some good people tell us, but the poor penniless printer can hardly be blamed. The penniless printer, the hard working printer, keeps sending out papers that interest you; so hand in your dollar, the big dandy dollar: dear reader, now will you present it to view."

No Criminals.

The regular February term of the courts of Snyder county is on, and it is a noteworthy fact that there was no criminal business for the grand jury to act upon. Judge McClure so informed the grand jury, remarking that since there were no indictments in the hands of the District Attorney he had nothing to charge, and that all that was left for him to do was to discharge them with thanks. Snyder county is abundantly supplied with liquor licenses. Can the temperance people explain this remarkable coincidence?
