EPIDEMIC OF MURDERS.

John Rech Makes a Full Confession of His Crime.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN OHIO.

An Isolated Farm House Entered by a Masked Murderer, Who Kills the Aged Parents and Knocks Two Others Senseless-A Girl's Wild Run for Aid.

MAY'S LANDING, March 30.-The young woman strangled to death by her supposed husband, John Rech, formerly a notorious "dive" keeper at Gloucester City, and found buried in the woods near Estelville, N. J., on Friday, was Bessie Weaver, daughter of a Germantown physician, whose youthful escapades and marriage to Willie Heft, the son of the wealthy brewer. from whom she was soon divorced, created a decided sensation in Philadelphia several years ago

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 .- John Rech made a confession to the police admitting that he murdered his wife for the purpose of enjoying the money left by Dr. Weaver to his daughter Elizabeth (Bessie). The authorities refuse to reveal the details of the confession. It is said, however, that Rech, in admitting the crime, says that the child is not the offspring of Elizabeth, but that it was obtained in this city six weeks ago as a result of a newspaper advertisement. It seems also that the couple were not lawfully married, although a ceremony was gone through before a justice of the peace in Jersey City in May, 1895. He is said to have confessed that he has a wife and daughter living in Catasaqua, Pa., but whether she obtained divorce papers is not known.

It is claimed that he and Elizabeth Weaver conspired to let him become the beneficiary under the will of her father in case of her death. Under the terms of the doctor's will Elizabeth had between $30,-000 and $50,000 left her in trust. Should she die without issue the money was to go to charity. As the first step in the conspiracy the woman made a will leaving her inheritance to Rech in trust for their child. They had yet to obtain a child.

When they appeared in Estelville she began to make it appear they had a child in this city. About six weeks ago they are said to have come here and advertised for an infant about ten months old. One was obtained, which is said to be the illegitimate offspring of a prominent society woman and a New York business man. With the child they returned to Estelville.

The resolve to murder the woman, it is said, entered Rech's mind suddenly. He strangled her while she slept, and then carried her to the grave he had hastily prepared. He came here Thursday night and Friday went to Fox Chase, and on Saturday to Somerton, where he was arrested. When the necessary requisition papers are obtained the man will be taken to Atlantic county, and there placed in the jall at May's Landing, which now confines three other alleged murderers.

A WEEK'S NEWS CONDENSED

Wednesday, March 25,

people, were lying dead in bed, horribly mutilated, and Ira Stillson, the hired man, and Emma Stone, the eldest of three daughters, were unconscious from blows dealt by the murderer.

The murderer entered the house by means of a ladder, which he raised to an upstairs window. Going quietly downstairs to the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Stone slept he attacked them with a blunt weapon of some sort, hitting both upon the head. The flend then cut off one of Stone's ears, slashed him across the face and stabbed him in the back. Then he laid Mrs. Stone's cheek open with a knife. After satisfying his flendish desires downstairs he proceeded to the room of Stillson, unstairs. The hired man heard the intruder, apparently, for he had arisen, when he was dealt a stunning blow on the head. Next the murderer turned his attention to Emma Stone, who slept in a room by herself. When he entered her room she screamed. That awakened the two other girls who slept across the hall. Hattie Stone arose to go to her sister's assistance. but was felled to the floor by a blow on the head, but fortunately was not rendered unconscious. Regaining her feet she ran to her own room and locked the door. Throwing a bed quilt about her she leaped from the window and ran through the rain and mud to the nearest neighbors, a quarter of a mile away. The murderer returned to Emma's room and struck her on the head, leaving her unconscious. Then he tried the door to the room in which Hattie had left her younger sister, Flora, when she jumped from the window. Finding the door locked he battered it down, finding only Flora in the room. He asked Flora where the other girl was, and being told that she had gone for help he hastily left the house and made his escape. Hattie, with the blood streaming from the wound in her head, managed to reach the neighbor's house, told her story and then fainted. The neighbor, calling for help, went to the Stone house. The only person in the house who was able to speak was Flora Stone, aged 16, and she was so badly frightened that she could tell nothing about the murder, except that the man who committed it wore a mask over his face.

Ira Stillson, the hired man, and Emma and Hattie Stone have not yet recovered consciousness and it is feared that Stillson will die.

Anson B. Strong, an ex-convict, who was twice convicted on the testimony of Mr. Stone, is under arrest on suspicion.
