Twenty Perished in the Collapse of a Big Building.

THE WORK OF RESCUE RETARDED.

The Men Who Were Digging in the Ruins Forced to Quit Work for Fear of a Further Collapse-Bracing Up the Tottering Walls.

CINCINNATI, May 5 .- At 8 o'clock last night the five story building at Nos. 430 and 432 Walnut street was blown to the ground by an explosion of gasoline. The shock was so terrific that it was felt all over the city, and not one brick on another is left in the front and rear walls of the building, while the adjacent buildings are badly damaged, and the glass in the windows in the Gibson House and the large Johnson building, across the street, were all broken. The glass was broken out of street cars that were passing at the time, and one of the cars was badly wrecked, but none of the passengers were seriously hurt. All the horses in the immediate neighborhood broke from their fastenings and ran away, and there was not only intense excitement, but also the greatest confusion.

The ground story of No. 439 Walnut street was occupied by A. C. Drach as a saloon. He owned that part of the building and the other was owned by M. Goldsmith, and the first floor of this building at No. 430 Walnut street was also occupied by a saloon run by Louis Fey. The apper floors of the five story building were occupied as flats. It is not yet known how many people were in the flats or how many were in the saloons, but none escaped, as the building immediately collapsed.

The saloons in the building had put in their own electric plants for incandescent lights, and had just secured a gasoline engine with which to run the dynamo. The plant got out of fix, and there was a flash which communicated to the engine and caused the explosion. The sudden collapse of the large building smothered everything in the cellar, so that there was no fire. The debris seemed to all fall into one heap, and not scatter about the street, so that there was the greatest difficulty in recovering dead bodies and rescuing the injured.

Herman Nolte, Jr., was standing by a barber shop pole in an adjoining building when struck by some debris and suffered a broken leg and other injuries. There were many that suffered slight injuries who were taken to their homes and whose names cannot be learned.

Mr. John J. James, of the Salt Lake City Herald, was just leaving the Gibson House at the time of the explosion, and with his heavy grip was blown into the doorway of an adjoining store. He was knocked sepseless, but afterward recovered sufficiently to take the train for St. Louis on his way west. Noland Davitt, a traveling man for the Columbia Carriage company, was walking along the street at the time of the explosion and blown under a street car and killed.

CINCINNATI, May 6 .- The burial alive of well known people has caused general distress here. After the explosion of Monday night that demolished the five story buildings occupied by Adolph Drach and Louis Fey on the first floors, and with flats on the four upper floors, relays of workmen continued removing the debris till almost noon yesterday, when everybody was ordered from the premises, and Walnut street between Fourth and Fifth streets was kept clear. Holes had been made in the walls of adjoining buildings through which to extricate victims. The great mass of debris supported these walls, and its removal caused the adjacent walls to bulge out so that a still greater calamity has been momentarily expected from both sides of the wreekage. When the street cleaning force and firemen were ordered away it was believed that there were several persons still in the debris, and some of them alive but the engineers agreed with the building inspector that loss of life to the workmon was inevitable if they proceeded. Braces were put up against the walls and scaffolds quickly constructed. The work of tearing down adjacent walls is progressing with all possible speed. Meantime those still in the debris had to be left to their fate, and no more are likely to be taken out alive. There have been eight dead bodies recovered, two are in sight and ten are still missing.

Truth Against Rhodes.

PLAN TO AFFECT STOCK MARKETS.

Mr. Labouchere Declares He Can Prove the Existence of a Syndicate That Hoped to Profit in Speculation Through Dr. Jameson's Disastrous Attempt.

LONDON, May 6 .- Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Liberal leader in the house of commons, made a speech last night at the banquet of the National Liberal club, in which he promised to support the government in probing the discreditable business of the Jameson raid in South Africa to the bottom was tried and steady improvement fol-Truth claims to have uncarthed addilowed its use, and a permanent cure retional details of the conspiracy leading up to the Jameson raid, which paints the parsulted. ticipators in the plot in still darker colors than have disclosures made by the Transvaal government. liver complaints, and in all disease

Truth says it is credibly informed that President Kruger possesses evidence that the intention of Dr. Jameson was to march upon Pretoria first, to seize President Kruger, and then to proceed to Johannesburg with the president a prisoner.

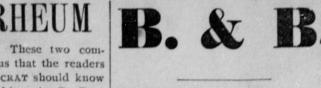

In an editorial the paper dilates in still more embittered terms upon the Jamesen raid. It says: "The main object of the raid was to annex the rich mining district of the Transvaal to Rhodesia. It is obvious that the first news of the raid would cause a fall in shares. I am prepared to prove that a syndicate was formed just prior to the raid, including a leading di-rector in, and one of the chief officials of, the British Chartered South Africa company, for the purpose of making large bear sales. The seed having thus been sown for securing a profit by the immediate fall and an ultimate profit by rebuying when the raid was successful and a rich slice of the Transvaal had been added to Charterland, steps were taken to carry out the conspiracy.

"The tenor of the cryptograms shows that there was a divergence of opinion be-tween Cecil Rhodes and his brother, Colonel Francis Rhodes, and Alfred Beit's representatives among the reformers, and that those not connected with the gang were responsible for the failure of the schem

"These telegrams are damning alike to the Chartered company and to Mr. Rhodes. It is clear that the raid was planned by Cecil Rhodes, Alfred Beit and the secretary of the Chartered South Africa company. The telegram from Hammond to Rhodes saying "cannot arrange respective interests without Beit" shows that the aim was purely for a stock exchange deal. These miscreants, therefore, planning a raid which must have led to the death of many, and which was based on robbery, were actually already disputing in regard to their respective shares of the plunder.'

The article then proceeds to severly attack Cecil Rhodes, comparing him to Jabez Balfour, "the first statesman to apply to imperial politics the methods of the shady company promoter."

Truth then concludes its article as fol-lows: "Had Cecil Rhodes remained premier of Cape Colony, I am convinced that as soon as it suited his purposes he would have turned on us (the British government) and sought to cut the chain which binds us to South Africa."

His Neck Broken with a Fist Blow.

BUFFALO, May 6 .- Oscar George Westphal, a barber, struck Ceorge Bischoff, a tailor, such a blow with his fist yesterday as to break his neck. Westphal gave himself up to the police when he learned the fatal effect of his blow. His story is that Bischoff was choking one of the pin boys in a bowling alley, and he commanded him to desist. Bischoff turned and grappled with Westphal, when the latter struck him with all his might. Westphal is a tall, lank man of rough appearance, but said to be quiet and respectable. Bischoff never stirred after he was hit.

Battleship Amondment Defeated.

WASHINGTON, May 6 .- The opponents of four battleships sustained an overwhelm-ing defeat in the house yesterday on the proposition to accept the senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill re-ducing the number to two. After some pertinent remarks the house voted, 141 to 81, to non-concur in the senate amendments, and the bill was sent to conference.

The Daily News says that it understands that Mr. Rhodes left his resignation here before he left England, to be tendered whenever the directors of the company might desire. "Mr. Beit probably did the same," says The Daily News. "He is a German subject, not having been naturalized here.

The Daily Telegraph says that the government will not accept the proposal to refer the conduct of Cecll Rhodes and Dr. Jameson to a parliamentary committee. This paper favors a tribunal similar to the Parnell commission, but says that the Radicals will not agree to this unless Mr. Rhodes is recalled.

The Daily Mail, a new London paper, says it understands that Colonial Se tary Chamberlain has asked Mr. Rhodes to return to England, and that his answer is expected today. "Meanwhile," says The Mail, "it has been practically decided to recall Sir J. A. Dewett, British agent at Pretoria, and to replace him by a member of the government. We are also in a position to state that the South Africa republic contemplates making Dr. W. J. Leyds, at present secretary of state of the Transvaal, its consul at London."

The Standard, in its editorial on President Kruger's address before the volksraad yesterday, takes the same grounds as The Times, that President Kruger's speech is unfriendly, that the reformers' sentences have not been revised, and that the presence of Cecil Rhodes is necessary to crush the Matabele uprising. It advises the gov-ernment not to recall Rhodes.

Death of Colonel North.

LONDON, May 6 .- Colonel John T. North, the "nitrate king," expired suddenly yesterday at the Nitrate company's offices in the Woolpack building. The death of Colonel North has caused great excitement in financial circles, and it also created a sensation when it was announced in the lobby of the house of commons. The belief is growing that Colonel North died from a stroke of apoplexy.
