The Great Coronation Ceremonies Formally Inaugurated.

THE RUSSIANS' POMP AND PRIDE

While the Wealth Producers Live in Virtual Slavery and Want, Fortunes Are Being Lavishly Expended in Brilliant Pageantry and Elaborate Decorations.

Moscow, May 19.—The arrival of the czar and ezarina yesterday afternoon may be said to inaugurate the festival season in celebration of the coronation, and for which the city and the whole empire has made months of preparation. Their ma-jesties arrived in their special train at the Smolensk station at 5:30 p. m. The station is about half way between the Kremlin and the Petrovsky palace, which is to be the abiding place of the exar until the triumphal entry into the city on Thursday.

The rain was pouring down in torrents as the train arrived at the station, but this seemed to have no effect on the loyal ardor of the people, and they were gathered at the station to the number of several thousands to accord a welcoming greeting to their sovereign and to catch a glimpse of

An imperial pavillon had been erected at the station, into which the imperial party stepped from their train, and from which they stepped into the equipages which carried them to the Petrovsky palace. The pavilion was carpeted and was bright with floral decorations. A squadron of the czarina's regiment of Uhlans was the guard of homor on the

of the czar and governor general of Moscow, with a brilliant suite of officers, awaited the arrival of the imperial party me the station.

The czar and czarina descended the carpeted stairs from the pavilion, entered a carriage and were driven to the Petrovsky palace, escorted by cavalry officers of the highest rank. Following the carriage came three troikas, which were occupied by the Grand Duke Sergius and his grand duchess, the Grand Duke Michael-Michailovith, cousin of the late ezar, and his grand duchess, and by the infant Grand Duchess Olga Nicolaievna, daughter of the ezar. who is now 6 months old.

The passage of the party through the street was greeted with great enthusiasm, the route being lined with great crowds of cheering spectators.

One of the special features of the present events in Moscow is the doing away with the custom of employing special constables in citizens' dress to guard the route of the czar's coming and going. It has been the custom of late years for these special constables to stend behind the military. On the occasion of a spectacular progress the guards were about the only ones who could see the procession. On occasions the route of the czar's progress is guarded by a double line of military, a double rank of sworn civilians, the ordinary police in uniform, the police of the defense department and the detective police. The doing away with the sworn civilian ranks will give a better opportunity for the czar'z subjects at large to witness his progress to the coronation. Preparations for the grand entry into the city are not yet completed, though they are far advanced, and on all sides are evidences of the confusion and hurry of the last touches for every great celebration. The character of the preparations is most imposing. The palace of the Grand Duke Sergius is especially magnificent. This is situated upon the Tverskaja street, along which the czar goes from the Petrovsky palace to the Kremlin on Thursday. Op posite the governor general's residence is a great frame screen built to mask an un-sightly building used as a guard room for the troops on official duty at the palace. Near at hand is a watch tower of the fire department, which was a clumsy and unsightly object, but has been masked from base to top of tower with evergreens and thousands of lamps for illumination by

The Tverskaja street, being the route of the czar's progress from the Petrovsky palace to the Kremlin, has concentrated within its length much of the preparation. The streets have along their entire length many pavilions set aside for the use of fa-

Great iron columns have also been liant electric fillumination. Huge wooden obelisks, draped and vividly colored by day, and carrying brilliant lights from top to bottom by night, are also features of the decorations. Electricity is used for the first time in the illuminations for a czar's coronation, and elaborate preparations have been made by the authorities to avail themselves of this new agent.

THE BISHOPS CHOSEN.

Chaplain McCabe and Rev. Earl Cranston the Winners.

DR. M'CABE THE FIRST SELECTED.

"The Fighting Parson" Chosen on the Fifteenth Ballot, and on the Sixteenth Ballot Another Veteran of the War Was Elected and the Great Contest Ended.

CLEVELAND, May 20 .- The deadlock in the Methodist Episcopal general conference over the selection of two bishops was broken yesterday by the selection of Dr. Charles C. McCabe, of New York, and Dr. Earl Cranston, of Cincinnati. It was apparent when the delegates assembled in the morning that they were tired of the balloting, and were determined to bring matters to an issue. The ball was set rolling by Rev. C. L. Stafford, of Iowa, who moved that the election of bishops be indefinitely postponed. This precipitated a lively discussion, and the motion was defeated. Then Dr. A. B. Leonard, of Cincinnati, moved that in future ballots the name of no candidate be announced who 16.78 knots an hour, and wins $175,000 prereceived less than ten votes. The motion carried, and it smashed the deadlock.

From the first the conference had been voting for two candidates on each ballot; that is, each delegate had two votes on each ballot. On every ballot from one to two hundred votes were scattered among a score or more candidates who had no chance of election. As soon as it was decided that candidates must receive more than ten votes to be counted the delegates saw that the time to do something had arrived, and a combination was quickly formed.

On the fourteenth ballot Dr. McCabe's vote jumped to 258 from 190, what he had received on the ballot taken Monday night, and Dr. Cranston's from 245 to 261. That indicated clearly who the leaders were, and on the fifteenth ballot Dr. McCabe's vote rose to 344, or eight more than were needed to elect, while Dr. Cranston polled 328, or eight less than were needed. next ballot gave the victory to Dr. Cranston, and the west and east had both elected their candidates.

The vote on the fifteenth ballot was as follows: C. C. McCabe, 344; Cranston, 328; Buttz, 112; Hamilton, 100; Neely, 50; Bowen, 30; scattering, 35. On the sixteenth ballot 504 votes were cast, making 336 necessary for a choice. Of these Cranston received 366, thus electing him by thirty. Buttz received 82, Hamil-

Bishop Walden, speaking of the result, said it was an Ohio day. Both of the bishops elected are natives of the Buckeye state, and six of the sixteen bishops now on the board were born in Ohio. They are Stephen M. Merrill, John M. Walden, Isaac W. Joyce, Charles C. McCabe, Earl Cranston and James M. Thoburn. Bishop Foster, who was retired: is also an Ohio

"Chaplain McCabe," the "fighting parson," is the most picturesque personage in the Methodist Episcopal denomination. He derives his special sobriquet from having served as chaplain of an Ohio regiment during the war. When advising soldiers dry." At the battle of Winchester he was taken prisoner and sent to Libby prison. His experience as a prisoner has been given to the world in his popular lecture, "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison." As a member of the board of church extension since the war he has done heroic service for the denomination. Bishop McCabe will be 60 years old in October.

Rev. Dr. Earl Cranston is also an army veteran. At the age of 21 years he gradnated from the Ohio university and enlisted in the army of the Union. He fought superbly throughout the contest and won a captain's commission. After the contest he prepared himself for the ministry, and became a popular exhorter and preacher. He is an able financier and business man, and has for years been a member of the firm of Cranston & Stowe, book publishers, of Cincinnati. He has for some years been agent of the Methodist Book Concern. Dr. Cranston will be-56 years old in June.

Marphy's Confirmation Reconsidered. WASHINGTON, May 20.-The senate in executive session yesterday confirmed the nomination of Mr. Dominic I. Murphy to be commissioner of pensions, and then reconsidered its vote and postponed confirmation to a future day. This latter action was due to an objection made by Senator Pasco to immediate action upon the nomination of General Napoleon J. F. Dana, to succeed Mr. Murphy as deputy commissioner. The objection was suffirient to throw the matter over. The friends of the two men cencluded that courtesy demanded that notification in the two cases should go to the president at the same time, and Murphy's case was reconsidered with that end in view.

McKinley's Nomination Assured.

WASHINGTON, May 19. - Returns from the state of Idaho and the Fourth congress district of Illinois bring the number of delegates now chosen to the Republican national convention to 916. Only two names, those from the Territory of Alaska, remain to be added to the roll. Modified by these trifling additions to the list of delegates-elect, the result may be set down as follows: McKinley, 559; Reed, 99; Morton, 62; Quay, 36; Allison, 41; Bradley, 16; Cullom, 12; doubtful, 71; total, 916; necessary to a choice, 459.

Protesting Against Weyler's Order.

TAMPA, Fla., May 20.—General Weyler's proclamation forbidding the exportation of tobacco from Cuba after ten days has caused great consternation among the large manufacturers in Tampa. Many of them have large quantities of tobacco al-ready purchased in Cuba, and they fear they cannot get it out in the time prescribed. A scarcity of bonded warehouses here has caused a large amount to be stored in Havana, and a fleet of schooners will be necessary to take it away, the regular steamers being inadequate. Almost the entire Spanish population of Tampa has forwarded a vigorous protest to Madrid against the enforcement of the proclamation. The move is regarded here as one
