THE CLEVELAND STRIKE

It Will Probably Not Extend to Other Industries.

OPPOSED TO A SYMPATHY STRIKE.

Labor Leaders Do Not Agree to the Wisdom of Such a Move-The Brown Hoisting Works Still Heavily Guarded-Strikers Said to be Armed.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5.—It is not likely that a sympathetic strike will be ordered to aid the Brown Hoisting company strik-Eight of the leaders of the Central Labor union, all representing different trades, were interviewed last evening, and all but two of them expressed themselves as opposed to such a strike, declaring that it would be unwise and could not benefit the strikers. The question will probably be decided at the meeting of the Central Labor union tonight. Should such a strike be ordered it will call out upwards of 15,-000 men, nearly all of whom would obey the strike order.

Yesterday morning two men stopped in front of Mrs. Lind's boarding house, a few squares from the Brown Hoisting works, where boards a man named Gettner, who is employed at the works. The two men yelled for the non-union man to come out, and then they began to throw stones at the house. Presently one of the men fired at the door, the bullet passing through the panel and entering the house.

The noise attracted the attention of the militia, and a detachment of Company I men were ordered to the scene on the double quick. As the old soldiers turned a neighboring corner the two men started to run. The lieutenant in charge shouted "Halt!" The pursued men paid no attention to the order, and the soldiers began firing at them. They returned the fire, and for a few moments there was a lively fusillade. One of the men suddenly made a cry. A moment later, however, both had disappeared in the darkness. The affair caused the utmost excitement in the neighborhood for a time. The bullets struck several houses. Two went clean through the side of a grocery store.

On every street within a radius of nearly a mile of the plant both soldiers and locked out men patrolled the sidewalks. Many of the soldiers were doubly armed, wearing belts and revolvers, as well as carrying guns. A number of the strikers also carried guns. It is given out by the physicians at St. Clair hospital that Prinz, the man who was shot near the Brown works on Saturday, is still in a critical condition, and that his chances for recovery were about one in a thousand. Inflamation has set in and the wounded man suffers untold agony. A committee of locked out men keeps close tab on his condition, and everything possible is being done to save his life. Ever since the shooting of Prinz there have been ominous mutterings by the men as to what they will do should Prinz die. A secret committee of the locked out men has been at work for several days investigating the shooting and trying to fix the blame for it.

Great Damage to the Cotton Crop.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 5 .- The regular monthly cotton crop report for the Memphis district says: In nearly every section of the district the plant is reported suffering from blight and rust. The damage by states is as follows: Arkansas, 241/2 per cent.; Mississippi, 22½ per cent.; Ala-bama, 10½ per cent.; Tennessee, 11½ per LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 4.— If the present spell of weather continues for ten days longer the damage will be in the nature of a great disaster. The corn crop has suffered greatly from drought, and the yield will not exceed half an average crop.

Johnston's Big Majority.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 5.-Further returns received from Monday's election in this state confirm the first reports of a complete Democratic victory, with surprisingly large gains in many counties. It is believed that the complete returns will show a majority of not less that 45,000 for Johnston, and possibly 50,000. The Democrats have carried certainly fifteen counties that gave a Populist majority two years ago. The Democrats will have twenty-four out of thirty-five members of Setback for Salisbury's Government, LONDON, Aug. 5 .- In the house of lords last night that body, by a vote of 25 to 19, inserted a clause in the Irish laborers' bill. which the government resisted, as it would endanger the passage of the bill in the house of commons. The defeat of the government caused a stir in the lobby. It has disconcerted the government, which fears that the Irish land bill will suffer considerably at the hands of the Irish landlord peers.

No Fusion in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 5 .- It can be announced authoritatively that the present Democratic state committee will not consider any proposition from the Populist state committee to divide electors in this state. Inquiry at both Populist and Democratic headquarters show that there is no probability of the two parties coming together in state or national affairs.

Held on a Charge of Murder.

LA PLATA, Md., Aug. 5 .- George Matthews, an oysterman, is held here charged with the murder of James J. Irwin on Saturday night last. Evidence brought out at the inquest held shows that Matthews has been on intimate terms with Mrs. Irwin and that the murdered man was cognizant of the fact. Matthews denies all knowledge of the crime.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 3. - Primary elections were held Saturday night in the Seventh district, composed of the counties of Bucks and Montgomery, to elect delegates to the congressional convention at Lansdale today. SHENANDOAH, Pa., Aug. 3.—The effort of Tax Receiver M. D. Scatlon to collect me of the back taxes from the foreign element on Saturday precipitated several riots, in which Scanlon and his constable were badly cut. Three of the ringleaders were landed in jail after a desperate struggle and several attempts at a rescue. The mob is still threatening, and the police are prepared for more trouble.

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 3.-Frank Morris, the boy murderer of Barnard Loker. who is sentenced to be hanged on Sept. 1 has made a statement which, if proved to be true, may have an important bearing on his case. LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 4.-James Adams is doing time in jail here for felonious assault and battery upon his mother-in-law, He also is implicated in a statement made by a man named Jordan to an Oxford magistrate, alleging that John G. He says that at the time Mrs. Richards was killed he was working in Philadelphia.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 3 .- The death from starvation of the 2-year-old daughter of William and Josephine Lee, who live near this city, reveals a case of destitution which is scarcely to be credited. The father of the home has been sick for months, and Mrs. Lee is demented. The humane agent investigated the case, took the starving people to the poorhouse and interred the dead child at the county farm. Two other children, aged 4 and 7 years, who were almost dead from privation, were given into the care of the Children's Aid society.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 4.—The resolu-tions adopted by the Republican convention yesterday indorse the St. Louis national Republican platform, and condemn as anarchistic and socialistic the utterances of certain portions of the platform adopted by the Democratic national convention. He was unopposed. Mr. Connell up to a few years ago had vied with the present congressman, Joseph A. Scranton, to secure control of the local Republican or ganization, and recently Mr. Connell has had that control. This is the first office he has ever sought. Lyon peddled meat through the country and was often away from home. He suspected Patterson with being too intimate with his wife, and on Wednesday night planned to ascertain whether or not his suspicions were groundless. He started as usual on one of his trips, but when he had driven a short distance he tied his horse, and with a big skinning knife went to his home. He stole quietly up stairs and found Patterson in the hallway. Without a word of warning he stabbed Patterson again and again. Suddenly he came to his senses, and sent for a physician and helped to dress the injuries he had so cruelly inflicted. Patterson lived about six hours. dying Thursday noon. In his ante-mortem statement he said that he heard some one sneaking up stairs, and thinking the intrudera burglar went into the hall to cap-ture him, when he was stabbed. Lyon is

DEATH LIST REACHES FORTY-FOUR

Reading Express Engine Crashed Through a West Jersey Excursion Train, Cutting It in Two-Only Two Employes Killed on the Reading Train.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 31 .-- A railroad accident, horrible in its details and sickening in its results, occurred last evening just outside this city, and as a result fortyfour persons were killed and as many more injured. The Reading railroad express which left Philadelphia at 5:40 o'clock last evening crashed into a Pennsylvania excursion train at the second signal tower, on the meadows, about a mile from here. The Pennsylvania train was returning to Bridgeton with a party of excursionists from that place, Millville and neighboring

At the second signal tower the tracks of the two roads cross diagonally. The Reading train was given the signal, but it either failed to work or the speed of the express was too great to be checked in time. It caught the excursion train broadside and ploughed through, literally cleaving it in twain. The engine of the Reading train was shattered to splinters.

The excursion train was made up of fifteen cars, the foremost of which was a baggage car. This and the next two coaches caught the full force of the crash, and were utterly demolished. What remained of the third car was tumbled into a ditch at the roadside. Edward Farr, engineer on the Reading train, was killed outright. The engineer lay in what remained of the cab, and his right hand still clasped the throttle. He had been faithful unto death, and met it at his post. Fireman Halihan escaped with trifling injurtes.

An Associated Press reporter was on one of the first relief trains sent out by the Pennsylvania railroad, and he was the first newspaper representative on the and stumbling over masses of broken timber with only a few fitful lanterns to help their straining eyes the rescue gang set bravely to work. Axes and shovels were plied with the greatest vigor, and almost at every half dozen strokes a mangled the waiting pallets.

A heap of bloodstained timbers, turned aside by one of the rescuers, brought to sight a woman's arm. It had been wrenched off almost by the roots, and nothing remained but a dripping stump, even the hand being gone. It had been clad in a dainty white linen glove, the sleeve of which still clung to it. Not five minutes later a chance blow from a pick revealed a still more ghastly remnant, a human heart that only a few short hours before had been throbbing with life and love.

One woman whose body was recovered still held in her dead hand a plate bearing a picture of Atlantic City. It was unbroken. Scattered about the ground near the wreck were many pieces of clothing which had been torn from the bodies of the victims, hats, dainty parasols, fans and gloves.

George F. Hauser, who had charge of the signal tower, was arrested and bailed. The official list of the dead is as follows:

The following among the dead all resided in Bridgeton: Charles Muta and his daughter Pearl, John Griner, Sr., Charles McGear, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Trenchard, Joseph Peters, J. D. Johnson, Charles Burroughs, Mr. and Mrs. H. Frazier Bell. William C. Loper, Mrs. Hattle Loper, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Goldsmith, Miss Tillie Leeds, Elmer Wentzell, Harvey Hughes, Mrs. Sallie Freas, James N Bateman, Mrs. Lizzie Bateman, Frederick Cheney, Joseph Chency, Minnie Chency, Joshua Ernst, Morris Peters, William Prickett, Charles Sooy, William Carr, Benjamin F. Wood, Charles W. Sooy, Jr.

The dead who resided in other places than Bridgeton are as follows: Samuel Thorne, Reading baggage master, Atlantic City: Edward Farr, Reading engineer Atlantic City; Patrick Feighan, Philadelphia; Charles Eackler, Salem, N. J.; Franklin Dubois, Woodruff, N. J.; Nannie Freas, Yorktown, N. J.; Mary Wentzell, Alloway, N. J.; Lydia Carl, Hancock Bridge; Mrs. Ellen May, Palatine, N. J. Reba Loper, Yorktown, N. J.; Mizael May (boy), Palatine, N. J.; William Spaulding, Philadelphia: Kate Freas, Yorktown.

FIXING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

The West Jersey Train Had Been Given the Right of Way.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 5.-There were several new developments at yesterday's session of Coroner McLaughlin's inquest into the recent disaster. All the men most closely concerned in the accident gave testimony, including the night towerman. George F. Hauser, Fireman Thomas Hallihan and Conductor Pinkerton, of the Reading express, and Engineer Greiner and Fireman Newall, of the West Jersey excursion train. Arthur Stiles, a resident of Atlantic City, who was riding on his wheel along the turnpike road, and saw the collision, also testified.

Nearly all these witnesses agreed that Engineer Edward Farr, of the Reading train, who was found dead with his hand on the throttle, had done everything in his power to stop his train when he saw that a collison was imminent, and everyone of them except Greiner stated or inferred that the West Jersey train could either have been stopped after Engineer Greiner saw the Reading thundering along towards him, or so handled it that only the two engines would have come together. This would have meant the death of the men in the two cabs, very likely, but it would have saved the passenger coaches. Conductor Pinkerton, of the Reading train, said this in so many words. He added that any man of good judgment would know that at the rate the Reading train was running it could not be stopped before reaching the crossing. Pinkerton also gave the impression that the signals had not been properly worked. According to his interpretation of Engineer Farr's whistles, a certain signal had been given the Reading train and then suddenly changed to another. The first must have been the right of way sig-nal and the second the danger. Farr whistled to know which was right, but it was too late to stop the train. The testimony of all the witnesses proved, however, that the West Jersey had the signal to go ahead, and that the Reading express necessarily had the signal to stop.

The express train ordinarily had the right of way, but on this occasion Operator Hauser gave the other train the signal to go ahead.
