WOLFS STORE.

Another heavy thunder storm visited us last Saturday afternoon.

Our blacksmith, Daniel Delcamp, was to Union county recently on business.

Ira Brumgart did some heavy hauling last Friday when he hauled the large heavy boiler and engine of C. C. Lose's steam saw mill. Ira is like 'free silver,' sure to win.

Last Thursday night 'Young America' turned out in full bloom to serenade Hicks Noli, from Rebersburg, and his better half Miss Emma Sholl, of this place, but the joke, was on themselves as the parties are not married, and have not applied for license yet.

Mr. E. R. Wolfe has gone to Aaronsburg to teach his second term of school. We are sorry to lose him, but we wish him abundant success.

The Misses Mary Wolfe and Anna Sheatz have gone to State College to work in the College. Our best wishes go with them.

Many of our people will attend the Grangers picnic this week.

Two bright young gentlemen from Altoona, have found something attractive down here. Not free silver, but—

Mr. Moyer, from Green Berr, Clinton county, spent a few days visiting last week at Daniel Delcamp's.

E. L. Weaver lost a valuable mare last Sunday. Good old Flora is no more.

On the evening of the 9 inst., a party of young ladies and gentlemen gathered at the home of J. C. Auman to spend the evening in what they termed an old-time leap year party. It however resulted in what may be termed an ice cream party, with all the enjoyments of the season. However the only amusement of the evening that can be called old was a game of ring-tag in which all took an active part, when some of the number remarked, 'Why let such an interesting work die out since every one is so willing to lend a helping hand,' for well was it said by the young ladies 'why not keep it up for at least another decade of years, for in fact it will be cheaper than when purchased with free silver when a young man asked them to hold their peace until after November, when it could be purchased with that costly metal—gold. The young man did not even get a sample under his gold standard speech, and from then and there he concluded in joining the young ladies in blowing the trumpet for free silver as a standard. When the hour for returning to their quiet homes appeared, the party came to lose its name, for then and there the young ladies began to fully realize the courage it would take to ask a young man to see him home; they finally returned by the silent march on the tune of 'Must I go empty handed.'

SPRING MILLS.

The squirrel season is here and a great many have been killed. Daniel Kenley carries the belt. This far he killed ten in half of a day; so in all, if any one can beat that he will go again.

John Lee, from Centre Hall, is painting the two new brick houses. He is a skilful painter and knows how to do it.

The farmers are done seeding, and about all the corn is cut off. Which they claim is an unusually large one.

Quite a number of Bryan silver hats are worn in this place.

Rev. Illingsworth made a business trip to our town. He can talk gold, but with no affect on the silver men. It is all silver with us and no gold. It is fun to hear our friends, the republicans, talk gold. It is so scarce that if they could buy ten dollars of silver with one of gold, they would not have it. Some hardly know what it looks like.

A number of our business men attended the Hecla picnic with which they were well pleased; having a royal good time. It was a success in every respect.

Granger Picnic opened with a down pour of rain. What will it be by the last of the week.

C. P. Long spent a week in the eastern cities, where he purchased an immense stock of dry goods and novelties for Grangers Picnic, also two car loads of melons and sweet potatoes. He will sell on siding, of picnic ground.

W. G. Corl, of Philadelphia, agent for the great Eastern Publishing Co., spent a few days with Smith Bros.

Our town is not represented in tenting, at the picnic. Boy.

OAK HALL.

Mrs. Jno. Tressler and Mrs. Anna Rupp attended the centennial at Huntingdon last week.

Wm. Sellers and wife visited friends in Houserville last Sunday.

Mrs. Shoop, of Altoona, is visiting at the home of her brother, Harvey Williams, at present.

Wanted—a good saddler. Call on or address Fred.

A number of people attended services in Centre Hall last Sunday.

Jno. Gramley had an experience which he will not soon forget. Last Saturday while he was gathering butter and eggs for his father, below Linden Hall, a tramp called for him to halt, but John did not halt, so Mr. tramp pulled out a revolver which frightened John so that he hit the horses and got away from the traps. He had about $40.00 with him at the time.

School will soon open at this place, with D. W. Geiss, of Centre Hall, as teacher of the advanced school and Woods Bathgate, of Lemont, as teacher of the small school.

Mr. George Horner's youngest child is very ill. It is not expected to live.

Bicycle repairs of all kinds at Sheffers store, in Criders rooms.

REBERSBURG.

The Silver meeting on last Friday evening was largely attended by both democrats and republicans, silverites and goldites. The meeting was called to order by Prof. E. Bierly and after music by the violin and mandolin club, Hamon Sechler, one of Bellefonte's prominent business men, and a staunch democrat, was then introduced and proceeded to demonstrate the silver question. He brought out strong points and upset many of the arguments of the gold men.

The 'Glee Club' then gave another selection, after which thanks were returned for same. J. C. Meyer, Esq., then took the floor and took down the house by several anecdotes. He then proceeded to the silver question. He stated that youth is no crime, that many of our greatest men held the most responsible positions in the Union before they were 40 years old; also naming them. We have some citizens who are undecided as yet and who will, we hope, fall in line soon.

The music was furnished by the Rebersburg Mandolin, Violin and Guitar Club, which is composed of the following ladies: Miss Grace Miller, mandolin; Miss Winifred Wolf, guitar; Miss Alva Gramley, piano; and Miss Berdie Stover, Miss Rilla Morris and Mrs. Mary Frank, violin. Mr. Auman also gave them kind assistance. These young ladies are to be highly complimented for the exquisite music furnished, for playing at a political meeting, which had perfect order. This was their first public appearance, they being simply beginners.
