Disappointed Thousands Unable to Hear the Candidate.

STREETS THRONGED WITH PEOPLE.

Six Thousand People Crowd Into the Academy of Music Long Before the Speaker's Appearance - Overflow Meetings Addressed by Local Orators.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.-Mr. Bryan made his first campaign speech in New Jersey yesterday afternoon at Washington Park, a pleasure resort a few miles below this city. He spoke from the grand stand of the bicycle track inclosure, and fully 25,000 stood for over an hour and listened to him. John S. Wright, the fusion candidate for congress in the First New Jersey district, presided and introduced the distinguished visitor. His address aroused the greatest enthusiasm.

Mr. Bryan was greeted in Philadelphia last night by a crowd which, according to the police and other authorities, exceeded any outpouring of the people on a similar occasion in the history of the city. He spoke at the Academy of Music, which has a seating capacity of about 3,000. Every available inch of space in the house and on the stage was occupied two hours before Mr. Bryan arrived, and experts estimated the audience at fully 6,000. Gathered in the street outside the Academy were fully 35,000 people, who stood patiently until 10:30 p. m., hoping to see or hear the candidate, half a dozen overflow meetings being addressed by local speakers. The crush was something awful. Many of those who succeeded in getting inside the Academy had their clothing almost torn from them. Many cases of more or less severe injury were reported to the police, one man with a broken arm being taken to the hospital. Hundreds of policemen were powerless to keep the crowds in

Mr. Bryan, owing to the dense crowd in front of the Lafayette hotel, was unable to reach his carriage, and walked to the hall by a back street. He got into the hall after an experience with the crowd that he will long remember. Only by the strongest efforts of the police was he saved from the crush of enthusiastic admirers. When he appeared on the stage his reception was tremendous, the cheering lasting several minutes. His speech was in substance as follows:

'The gold standard papers ask why I come to Pennsylvania. I come, first, to secure, if possible, the electoral vote of the state of Pennsylvania. If you deny that, if you will not give me that vote, if we are defeated in this campaign, then I come upon another mission, and that is to tell the people of Pennsylvania that the agitation for free coinage will never cease in this country until the gold standard is driven back to England. They say that the craze is dying out. I care not what they call the silver cause. You may apply to it such epithets as you will, but I know that the silver cause will not die, because truth never dies.

*Our cause appeals to the masses of the people because the masses are interested in equal laws. Our cause is opposed by those who want to use our government for profit because we are opposed to government instituted for any such purpos Your city is called Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love. I come to proclaim to you the gospel that is described by the name of your own city, and yet you say you will give a hundred thousand marity against that doctrine. I come to which saw the Declaration of Independence signed more than a hundred years ago.

The issue which is raised now was raised before. There were people then who said that we could not obtain independence unless some foreign nation would help us. There are those who say it today, and those who say it today stand in the same position as those who said it then. The people who a hundred years ago declared in favor of foreign supremacy were the people who had business dealings and acted as the agents of the people who employ them over there. You have no banks in this city today which are not controlled by the influence of London, and I have no more respect for the American who takes his patriotism from Lombard street than I have for the Tory who took his patriotism a hundred years ago from England.

"One of your papers said that I lacked dignity. My friends, I have been looking into the matter, and do you know that I would rather have it said that I lacked dignity than to have it said that I lacked backbone to meet the enemies of this government who conspire against this nation's welfare in Wall street. I believe that a man ought to be dignified enough, not too dignified and not lacking in dignity. Now, it might be more dignified if I would stay at home and have people come to see me. But you know that I said I wasn't going to promise to give anybody an office, and therefore a great many peo ple who might come to see a candidate under some circumstances would not come to see me at all.

"I don't like to be lacking in any of the essentials, but do you know I can't see that there's any lack of dignity shown if I go before the people and talk to them and tell them what I stand for and what I am opposed to. They say I am begging for votes. Not at all. I never asked a man to vote for me. In fact, I have told some people to vote against me; that is more than most candidates do. I have said that if there was anybody who believed in the maintenance of the gold standard until foreign nations came to us and graciously permitted us to abandon it, not to vote for me at all.

'There is one party-no, it is not a party -it claims to be a party-which puts up one ticket in order to elect another. I am more dignified-I am too dignified to advocate one thing when I mean to do another thing. I am too dignified to nominate one ticket for the purpose of voting for another ticket. I am too dignified to practice deception upon the American people.

"The Democratic party never declared for a gold standard, and no man in office ever agitated a gold standard after he was elected until he betrayed the people who elected him. I deny the right of any publie servant to secure office upon a platform and then abandon the platform. When I find that my conscience will not permit me to carry out the platform on which I was elected I will resign and let some other man have the office. I stand here not only as the regular nominee of the Democratic party, but I stand here representing the principles that have been Democratic from the time there was a Democratic party.' The remainder of Mr. Bryan's speech was devoted mainly to a discussion of the recent bond issues, in which the syndicates were vigorously denounced.

HE FIGHT AGAINST THACHER. Hill Declares for the Chicago Ticket, but

Opposes the Platform. NEW YORK, Sept. 24.-The Democratic state central committee held a long and heated meeting at the Hoffman House last pight. A sensation was created by the appearance of Senator Hill, who arrived from Albany late, bearing a proxy. In the preliminary work contested cases were heard and the Hill men were seated on a vote of 25 to 19. The fight over Mr. John Boyd Thacher, the nominee for governor, was precipitated by the reading of his letter addressed to Chairman Danforth and defining his position. John B. Shea, of Tammany, introduced a resolution calling upon Mr. Thacher to resign his nomination. Mr. Shea declared that Mr. Thacher could have given his views upon the financial question before the convention had he intended to be honest. Senator Hill then took the floor. For thirty minutes he held the attention of his auditors, basing his whole argument upon the ground that the candidate for governor in the state this fall should be a strong man upon state issues, and that there was no need of forcing national issues into the campaign.

State Senator Grady replied, bitterly excoriating Mr. Thacher. The resolution was read again, and Senator Hill again spoke at length, attacking the Chicago platform, saying that to support the ticket was enough. It was after midnight when Senator Hill concluded with an attack on the free coinage clause, and Senator Grady began his rejoinder. Senator Hill made in all six speeches. Several amendments were proposed and withdrawn, and finally a resolution was adopted appointing a committee to notify the candidates, such committee to report back to this committee.

Major McKinley's Southern Stump.

CANTON, O., Sept. 22.-Major McKinley received by express yesterday a finely polished and embellished stump of a tree is intended for use in delivering his front porch addresses, and is of a convenient height for that purpose. The stump was sent by Jesse Grover, sheriff of Knoxville, Accompanying the stump was a letter which said: "The loyal people of east Tennessee are intensely in earnest in your behalf in the present national con-test, and being desirous of impressing that fact deeply and firmly on your mind I have sent a token of our devotion as a people to the cause of good government, which you so ably and fittingly represent. Since we cannot have you on the stump in the south this fall, we hope you will do us the honor to deliver your home speeches from the southern stump.

Used Sewall's Name Without Authority. BATH, Me., Sept. 22.-Mr. Arthur Sewall, Democratic candidate for vice president, has withdrawn from membership and presidency of the American Merchant Marine association. He claims that some of the members have tried to precipitate the association into politics. Mr. Sewall's resignation is brought about from the fact that Secretary A. Smith, of the association, has sent out circulars appealing to the voters to support McKinley and Ho-bart because the Republican platform favors discriminating duties for the protection of American shipping. The circular is headed "Arthur Sewall, of Bath, Me., president." Mr. Sewall says the use of his name was unauthorized.

Another Fast Day Proposed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 .- At a union meeting of Christian ministers and laymen of all denominations yesterday, which was called by D. L. Moody, and which completely filled the Central Auditorium, the suggestion was made that, in view of the present political and industrial crisis, it would be desirable to have a day of humiliation and prayer throughout the whole nation. The suggestion so manifestly reflected the feelings of all present that a call to the Christian patriots of the nation was at once proposed and unanimously adopted by a rising vote. It urges that Thursday, Oct. 8, be observed as a day of fasting and Russia, Japan and Korea.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Times expresses the belief that Russia and Japan have agreed to join protectorate in Korea, Russin virtually taking the position there that China held before the war. The king of Korea will quit the Russian legation, where he has been since the assassination of the pro-Japanese ministers, and will return in triumph to the palace. This arrangement, The Times asserts, will be carried out simultaneously with Japan's evacuation of Korea. "Russia," says The Times, "thereby obtains a virtual ascendancy in Korean affairs, leaving Japan only a nominal share in the control.

Turks Were Ready to Fight.

LONDON, Sept. 22.-The Berlin corre spondent of The Times quotes a Constantinople dispatch to The Vossische Zeitung from an unusually well informed correspondent which is said to have evaded the censorship of the Turkish officials and which says: "Last Wednesday and Thursday everything was ready for a general massacre of Christians and a bombardment of Constantinople should the European warships attempt to pass the Dardanelles. There were forty-eight guns placed in position on the heights above Pera, and the Turkish fleet in the harbor was cleared for action.'

Shot the Girl He Called Upon. CASSVILLE, Mo., Sept. 22.-Ben Bethel, a photographer, of Cassville, called upon Miss Maude Hayes and spent the evening with her. About 11 o'clock Mr. Haves heard a pistol shot, followed in quick succession by another. ## BATTLE OF LEADVILLE.

Deadly Conflict Between Mine Strikers and Armed Guards.

FIVE OF THE LATTER KILLED,

They Had Succeeded in Causing a Conflagration at the Coronado Mine, Which Burned $25,000 Worth of Property. The State Militia on Duty.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 22.-Driven to esperation by starvation, Leadville's locked out miners, who have been threatening the peace for two months, attacked the Colorado mine with dynamite and guns at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, arousing the city and throwing its inhabitants into a panic.

The explosions were followed by many rifle shots from the vicinity of the barri-cade surrounding the mine, which were fired by the armed defenders of the mine. The shooting lasted about ten minutes. Suddenly the oil tanks and boiler house of the Coronado were discovered in flames, and despite the efforts of the firemen were almost totally destroyed. At 3:30 a. m. an attack was made on the Emmett. There were over a hundred shots fired, but so far as known only one life was lost and no damage to property resulted. The attack was repulsed. Five dead bodies lying at the morgue and half a dozen wounded, with damage to property to the amount of $25,000, are the visible effects of the lawlessness. It is believed that when all is known the list of dead and injured will considerably exceed these figures. The death list so far is as follows: Bert Meier, James Benson, John Mahoney, William O'Keefe and Michael Daugherty. All were strikers.

A largely attended meeting of representative citizens was held yesterday afternoon. Their proceedings were secret, but it is understood stringent measures were decided on. Two companies of state militia from Pueblo and Cripple Creek arrived yesterday afternoon, and are now on duty. General Brooks, with several other companies, arrived during the night. Despite the presence of troops and the unusual quietness of the streets there is a very uneasy feeling.

Prince Bismarck on Bimetallism. Dallas, Tex., Sept. 21.-In a speech Saturday night Governor Culberson read a letter from Prince Bismarck in response to a communication from himself on the subject of bimetallism. The great German statesman writes as follows: "I hold that this is the very hour that would be advisable to bring about between the nations chiefly engaged in the world's com-merce a mutual agreement in favor of the establishment of bimetallism. The United States are freer by far in their movements than any nation of Europe, and hence if the people of the United States should find it compatible with their interests to take independent action in the direction of bimetallism I cannot but believe that such action would exert a most salutary influence upon the consummation of an international agreement.

Six Probably Drowned.

Boston, Sept. 22 .- The twenty-one foot cathoat Hebe, of Dorchester, with six men, started out for a fishing trip Saturday morning, expecting to return Saturday night, but has not been heard from. At Washington Park speeches by colored orators from Chicago, Jacksonville and Springfield were delivered.

The Fall of Dongola.

KERMA-ON-THE-NILE, Sept. 21. - Dongola has fallen, and the nominal objective point of the British-Egyptian expedition has been reached. The river forces of the expedition, pushing up the Nile from El Hafit, landed a force at Dongola and occupied that place before the dervish forces, retreating from El Hafir, reached that point. El Hafir and Dongola are, therefore, both in the hands of the expedition, while the dervish forces are somewhere between, seeking a refuge.
