

WEYLER OUTGENERATED

The Spanish Commander Falls Into an Insurgent Trap.

MACCO MAKES A FLANK MOVEMENT.

Another Dispatch from Havana Again Announces the Death of the Dashing Insurgent Leader, Together with a Son of Maximo Gomez.

HAVANA, Dec. 9.—There was much excitement here when it became generally known that Maceo had crossed the military line with it, understood, a strong force of insurgents, especially when coupled with the fighting between Spanish troops and insurgents close to this city.

It seems evident that the insurgent commander has not only cleverly turned the flank of Captain General Weyler, but has succeeded in getting in his rear and crossing the famous military line near the port which has been used as a base of supplies for the Spanish troops in Pinar del Rio.

The exact whereabouts of General Weyler is not known, but he is believed to be hunting for Maceo in the mountains in the extreme eastern part of Pinar del Rio, while the insurgent chief has seemingly doubled on his tracks, turned the flank of the Spanish general, and passed in his rear in the direction of this city, crossing the military line at will, and possibly being by this time in the vicinity of the capital of Cuba.

Nothing appears to be known of the insurgent force with Antonio Maceo in this province. In fact, it was not until the news was being passed from person to person in the streets that the authorities would give a half-hearted admission of the truth of the report that Maceo had crossed the military line.

MACCO'S DEATH AGAIN REPORTED.

With Him, Say Spanish Reports, Died the Son of General Gomez.

HAVANA, Dec. 9.—It is stated in most positive terms by the Spanish authorities that Antonio Maceo, the great insurgent leader, and the heart and soul of the Cuban cause, has been killed in Havana province, after having effected the passage of the western trocha near Mariel, at its northern extremity.

Insurgent sympathizers, however, point to the fact that according to this story Maceo's death was not known until after the battle, and was not reported until a day later. They assert that had Maceo been killed in Havana province on Tuesday the fact would have been widely published at once.

Time and again reports have been received from Cuba of Maceo's defeat and rout, his death in action or his suicide, always to be refuted by his later activities. There is no doubt that many people will doubt the authenticity of the report now received of his death, though no previous report has given such explicit details of the circumstances of his death or the facts of identification.

Will Probably Investigate the Texas.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The probability of an investigation by the house naval committee of the battleship Texas, whose numerous mishaps culminated recently in her sinking in a few feet of water at the Brooklyn navy yard, is strong. An inquiry into the alleged defects of the ship was started during the last session. In response to a resolution. The secretary of the navy sent to the committee a voluminous statement containing detailed information regarding the construction of the Texas, which tended to prove that she was entirely seaworthy, in consequence of which the investigation was informally dropped.

Dr. Talmage to Wed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A special to The World from Sing Sing says: Rev. T. De Witt Talmage and Miss Susie Mangam, of this city, are to be married. The announcement was made yesterday in Sing Sing by relatives of both persons. The exact date of the wedding has not been determined, but the event will in all probability be within a week. The young lady is the daughter of Daniel D. Mangam, of New York city. She is a brunette of 30. Dr. Talmage's daughter is married to Miss Mangam's brother.

General Lee Going Back to Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Consul General Lee called at the White House Monday evening and said farewell to the president, as he was about to start for his post, taking the first steamer from New York for Havana. It is understood that Mrs. Lee will not accompany the General to Cuba.

ECKERT COMMITS SUICIDE.

A Few Hours Later He Would Have Been Hanged for Murder.

WILKESHAIRE, Pa., Dec. 9.—At 6 o'clock yesterday morning Warden Boland was aroused from his slumbers by one of the night watchmen, who reported to him that Abraham Eckert, who was to have been hanged at 10 o'clock for the murder of Frederick T. Bittenbender on July 7, 1895, had taken poison, and was dying.

When Eckert's wife and children left the jail shortly before Monday midnight the condemned man appeared to be in excellent spirits. He showed not a trace of the death which he was soon to face. He had previously read aloud in a firm voice, the published report that Governor Hastings had declined to interfere, and that nothing could save him. Then followed an impressive religious service, in which Eckert took unusual interest.

When prayer had been offered for the murderer he and his wife sang Eckert's favorite hymn, "God be with you till we meet again." He sang with great fervor, and his deep voice could be heard above all the others.

During the leave taking a very pathetic incident occurred. When his little daughter, Rebecca, his favorite child, clasped her arms about his neck, she said: "Papa, mamma says that tomorrow you will come home to us, and oh! I'll be so glad." He well understood what the child did not. He would go home to them, but it would be cold in death. He pressed the child close to his breast and nodded in the affirmative. There was not a dry eye in the room. Even Eckert, who had maintained such composure throughout his entire confinement, was visibly affected.

When Eckert retired at midnight he requested that he be called at 9 o'clock in the morning. It is supposed that the swallow the poison, which he had probably had concealed for some time, while lying with his back toward the death watch.

The crime for which Abraham Eckert was condemned was the murder, on July 7, 1895, of Frederick T. Bittenbender, a prominent resident of Nanticoke, this county. The murder was one of the most cold blooded in the annals of Luzerne county crime.

Eckert was the janitor of the high school at Nanticoke, and had an imaginary grievance against Bittenbender, who had but recently been elected a school director, and who was chairman of the building committee. For some time Eckert had been neglecting his work at the school house, and Bittenbender spoke to him about it, and told Eckert he was in danger of losing his place unless he was more attentive to his duties as janitor.

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—Governor Hastings yesterday announced the appointment of W. W. Willbuck to succeed Judge Harsh in court of common pleas No. 2, and Frederick Y. Anderson for the vacancy in common pleas No. 4, caused by the retirement of Judge Thayer.

SENBERTY, Pa., Dec. 9.—Elmer Knies, an employe in the Pennsylvania railroad machine shop, met a tragic death yesterday. He was trying to throw off a large belt when he was caught and before assistance could be rendered he was whirled around with the belt and almost torn to pieces. His arms and legs were badly broken and crushed and his body was likewise considerably bruised. He was dead when finally released from the shafting.

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 9.—The color question in the schools of Carlisle, which has caused so much agitation in the borough, came up before Judge Biddle yesterday in an appeal from the decision of the school board of the high school for white children refusing to allow the entrance of colored children. The court overruled a writ for a peremptory mandamus, and sustained the school board. The borough for many years past has had separate schools for white and colored children.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Narowitz, of Ben's Creek, was fatally and two of her children probably fatally burned by an explosion of oil at the woman's home. She was starting the fire in the stove with the oil when it suddenly exploded and the house caught on fire. Before the flames could be extinguished two other buildings were destroyed. Neighbors succeeded in carrying Mrs. Narowitz's children from the building alive, but they are not expected to live. Mrs. Narowitz's remains were found in the ruins.

SHROUBSBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—Ulysses G. Gentry, a prominent merchant and well known member of the Knights of Malta, is missing. Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Learn closed up Gearhart's place of business. Among the number of executions issued is one of Cleo Gearhart, a lawyer and brother of the missing man. It amounts to $1,025. The missing man, who is a wife and two daughters, who are grief stricken. It is thought Gearhart has a large sum of money with him. Lawyer Gearhart left town last night in search of his missing brother.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—Several hundred striking Italian miners are causing trouble at the Forest Coal company's mine at Archibald, a few miles north of this city, and excitement there is intense. Bloodshed was narrowly averted Saturday night by the employment of armed detectives to preserve order. The Italians objected to the deduction from their pay of the cost of the employment of expert overseers who were keeping watch over the miners to prevent the robbing of pillars in the mines. They also opposed the removal of coal stored in forty cars in the drift of the mine. The detectives dispersed the men and made eight arrests.

THE SILVER SENATORS.

Bolting Republicans Refuse to Attend the Party Caucus.

THE DOOM OF THE DINGLEY BILL.

The Caucus Refers the Measure to Its Steering Committee—The Cuban Question to be Pushed in Both Houses—A Joint Resolution Probable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The action of the silver Republican senators in refraining from attendance upon the Republican caucus yesterday has led to little speculation as to whether the caucus pursued is a forerunner of the future, or whether they will not at some time return to the party. Some Republicans think it possible the recalcitrant senators regard yesterday's meeting as merely preliminary, and will come back into the fold after a time. This supposition is apparently without foundation or justification.

The silver senators are very chary about discussing their motives or intentions for the future. They decline to talk on the subject for publication, but from remarks dropped they can be gathered they consider that they have attended their last Republican caucus. They say without exception, however, that in taking the position they have they do not mean to place themselves in the attitude of opponents of a protective tariff policy, but rather that they desire to be in an entirely independent position, where they can accept or reject any tariff proposition presented by their former party associates.

When asked for statements they declined to say anything specific. "There is nothing to say except that, no doubt, I intend to be there, but it was not the first Republican caucus from which I had been absent. My action cannot be construed as an intention on my part to enter a Democratic or Populist caucus. Nor does it necessarily mean that I shall never again co-operate with the Republicans."

The notice of the opening of a Cuban discussion was about the only feature of interest developed yesterday at the brief session of the senate, which lasted only twenty-five minutes. Senator Cullom gave notice of a speech on Cuba tomorrow. The senators had expected to attend the wheels of actual business, but the appearance of a house resolution relative to the death of ex-Speaker Crisp led to the customary adjournment as a mark of respect. A large number of bureau reports were received, including that of the government directors of the Pacific railway.

The action of the Republican senatorial caucus in referring the Dingley tariff bill to its steering committee, and the circumstances under which this action was taken, were accepted in the senate as practically the end of the agitation in the interest of this measure.

The Cuban question will be forced upon the attention of the house committee on foreign affairs again this session. Several of the most enthusiastic friends of the insurgent cause, who were disappointed by the failure of the president to take action, are drafting resolutions, which will be referred to the committee, and must be disposed of in one way or another. A movement is on foot to bring joint resolutions before the house if the committee can be induced to report them.

The house proceeded to business, and before the session closed had passed three bills of considerable importance and the first of the regular supply bills—that for pensions. Three of the bills passed related to postal matters. One provided for the use of private mailing cards of the same general size and character as the present postal cards when one cent stamps are affixed. Another provided for a limited indemnity of $10 for the loss of registered mail matter, and the third provided for a private carrier service in cities, towns and villages where no free delivery exists.

Ex-Minister White Is Willing.

ITHACA, N. Y., Dec. 9.—Andrew D. White was interviewed relative to the reported offer to him of the secretaryship of state. He said: "I think it is too soon after the election for cabinet positions to be made upon. Frequently presidents-elect make up a provisional cabinet and then determine to recall it later. Then, also, it is often found necessary to obtain the consent of all before any can be agreed upon. Sometimes circumstances demand the appointment of some one to the premiership, but I think McKinley has a goodly number from which to choose, and no one has any absolute claim on the place. I think the best human being known who will compose the cabinet. Of course, if I can serve the country and party in this way I will be glad to respond, but I can say nothing definitely." Mr. White refused to state whether President-elect McKinley has offered him the place or not.

Valentine Gets Ten Years Imprisonment. NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—William E. Valentine pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery in the second degree and abduction in the Kings county court yesterday. He was sentenced to ten years imprisonment by Judge Hurd. Valentine was at the head of a gang of forgers and swindlers whose operations extended all over the United States and Canada, and involved, it has been estimated, as much as $7,000,000. Valentine's arrest was brought about by the testimony of May Winters, who, out of remorse and fearing arrest, tried to kill herself by firing a bullet into her breast. She recovered. They had lived together in a number of different places, and for the latter offense the abduction charge was drawn against the prisoner.

Awarded Damages Against Boycotters. NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Joseph Connell, former treasurer of the Journeymen Stone Cutters' association, has obtained a verdict of $400 against the association, under the statute making boycotting illegal. Connell had a disagreement with the association concerning his books, and a resolution was adopted that none of the members should work with Connell until he gave up the books. The organization, through its walking delegate, when Connell persisted in his refusal, ordered all the men at work on St. Luke's hospital to boycott Connell. Connell was kept out of work for nine weeks in consequence.

Massacre of Philippine Insurgents. MADRID, Dec. 9.—An official dispatch received here from Manila announces a terrible massacre of insurgent prisoners in the Island of Luzon, one of the Philippine group. It appears that a number of prisoners succeeded in escaping from the fortress of Cavite, the fortified seaport of Luzon. The fugitives were pursued by the troops, who overtook and killed sixty of them in the streets. The others were recaptured.

would make no impression on the number of the germs of consumption that exist in one affected lung. All germs are little enough, but those which cause consumption are very minute. Cod-liver oil won't kill them. We don't know a remedy which will. The germs float in the air and we can't keep from breathing them into our lungs. Then why don't all of us have consumption? Because a healthy throat, sound lungs, and a strong constitution won't allow the germs to gain a foothold.

Much interest has already been manifested and awakened by this free distribution.

Peruviana is a new botanical discovery that has proven itself to be a true specific for the complete and permanent cure of kidney, bladder, blood and urinary ailments, and all diseases the origin of which can be traced either directly or indirectly to deranged action of the kidneys and urinary organs.

Dr. Dio Lewis, an acknowledged authority said: "Nineteen diseases of twenty originate from diseased kidneys." And those who have made pathology a study will agree with the eminent physician in the opinion that where the kidneys are inactive or sluggish, or fail to perform their functions in any way, the whole system becomes enervated and the body diseased. When the kidneys fail to perform their wanted task, effete and injurious matter is carried to all parts of the body.

Peruviana will speedily and effectually cure all diseases of the kidneys, whatever their origin or name, or however chronic and deep-seated they may be. The owners of Peruviana certainly have great faith in its merit, because they are going about it in an honest and straightforward manner by giving away a package free to convince you of its great curative effects.

The Hon. Walter Cleary, member of the Kentucky Legislature, writes: "It gives me unbounded pleasure, unsolicited, to say to you that your great Peruviana is undoubtedly the best kidney medicine the present century has ever seen. I can truthfully say that after three months of suffering, three bottles of your wonderful medicine entirely cured me, and I take this means of expressing my thanks to you."

Dr. J. R. Fortson, a prominent physician of Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "I used a single bottle of Peruviana on David Webb, 87 years old, for kidney trouble and rheumatism in his ankles, that he says has existed since he was a child and which has cured him."

Mrs. Marcella Morse, Columbus, O., writes: "May God bless you! I feel very grateful to you for the good medicine I have done for me. I am sixty years old, and never expected to be as well as I am."

Mr. J. W. King, a prominent farmer at Danville, Ill., writes that it cured him of bright's disease which two doctors pronounced incurable. Mrs. Serene Stanley of Shelburn, Ind., writes that she had tried many doctors and remedies and was about to give up in despair when induced to try Peruviana, which promptly cured her. Mrs. S. W. Butler, Belle, Tenn.; Miss Alice Ramsey, Glenock, Tenn.; Mrs. J. A.
