

HAPPENINGS IN BELLEFONTE.

Local Events Briefly Told in a Few Lines.

PERSONALS, SOCIAL EVENTS.

What has Transpired During the Past Week—Movements of our People—What the Local Scribe saw worthy of mention—A week's local news in a few words.

—Undine concert and entertainment in the opera house on January 26th.

—Miss Vesta Hoffman, of Millinburg, is visiting T. H. Harter and family.

—We are printing sale bills, finest and best. Prices always reasonable with us.

—Mrs. J. A. Woodcock left last week for an extended visit to Chester Springs and Philadelphia.

—Mr. T. F. Oehl, postmaster at Clinton-dale, transacted business in Bellefonte during the past week.

—Our fire departments responded promptly on Sunday evening to the alarm. We have an efficient service.

—Dan Sully was an elegant attraction at the opera house, on Tuesday evening. It certainly was one of the best of the season.

—John Kline, Esq., has purchased the W. B. Maitland property, on Curtin street and will move there with his family this coming Spring.

—John Q. Miles, ex-treasurer, was in the mercantile business during the past two weeks for Sheriff Cronister. He finished up on Tuesday.

—F. E. Nagney returned on Wednesday from a week's trip to Carlisle and Philadelphia. He was away on pleasure and business combined.

—The Philadelphia Branch opened for business on Wednesday, with everything in shape. The fire in their basement did not reach their goods.

—Milton R. Wise, who holds a position as fireman in the electric light plant at Altoona, is spending a week visiting friends at Zion, Pa., his former home.

—Evangelists Weaver and Weeden, who were at Bellefonte last summer, are now conducting a successful series of meetings at Spokane Falls, Washington State.

—Miss Anne Mann returned on last Saturday from Philadelphia where she has been under treatment in one of the hospitals. She is much improved in health.

—Miss Fannie Baum, who has been connected with Katz's store since its opening, has resigned her position to spend the winter with relatives in Princeton, Ind.

—The Undine boys are calculating on furnishing a fine entertainment on Tuesday January 26th, in the opera house. They will have some rare features on the programme.

—Mr. Sam Harpster, of Gatesburg one of the enthusiastic democrats of that section, dropped in to see us on Monday morning and renew his subscription for the coming year.

—There will be a meeting of the Village Improvement Society on Tuesday evening, January 12th, at 7:30, in the Y. M. C. A. parlour. All members are earnestly requested to attend.

—The grand lodge of Pennsylvania I. O. O. F., will hold a special meeting in this place, Monday evening, January 18, at 7 o'clock for the purpose of conferring the past grand's degree and giving instructions in the unwritten word of the order.

—William Waddle, brother of Philip Waddle, has been appointed agent of the American Express Company in Bellefonte in the place of Nelson Robb, who is now commissioner's clerk. William is an efficient man and his friends hope for him success.

—We are sorry to hear of the illness of our friend A. Baum, the liveryman, who has been confined to his bed with a serious attack of rheumatism. Mr. Baum always enjoys the best of health and this is something unexpected for him. Hope to see him about ere long.

—Last week Rev. R. L. Gerhart, pastor of the Reformed congregation at this place, tendered his resignation to take effect after April '97. The Rev. has been elected to edit the Sunday school literature of that church, and expects to devote his entire attention in the future to it.

—One of the most important to offices be filled this year in our borough is tax collector. The present incumbent Hugh S. Taylor has done well in that position and his work is deserving of praise. We do not know whether he asks for a second term, but the public might act wisely by asking him to continue. Good service always deserves such a reward.

—Harry Schreyer, the grocerman, has invented a new kind of pump for drawing molasses from a barrel. It is an attachment to the ordinary pump that avoids placing the barrel on a rack, but can be turned on end and the sweetness extracted without any particular inconvenience. Now if Harry can contrive a pump, derrick, elevator, or extractor that can pull the necessary out of the average man's pocket to pay his grocery bills when due he will have a more valuable device.

—Ira C. Mitchell, Esq., will not move his law office from the Crider exchange to the Furst building, as had been announced.

—Robt. F. Hunter has been putting in his time of late selling type writers and has been quite successful with his Yost machine.

—Jeweler Frank P. Blair is one of the happiest men in Bellefonte since he heard from the Supreme Court. He truly can rejoice.

—A great many of our young people are enjoying these moonlight evenings for skating at Hocla Park. The ice is in the very best condition.

—Mr. S. K. Emerick, of Unionville, advertises some valuable real estate in this issue, known as the Jacob Hoover farm in Union township.

—The time for holding caucuses for spring election is drawing near. Our politicians in the borough are beginning to hobnob and figure on the offices.

—Landlord D. C. Keller dined a number of his friends on Tuesday noon. An elegant turkey dinner was served that was heartily enjoyed. Of course some of the half-starved editors were present.

—Several new departments of study will be introduced in the State College during the winter term and school year that opened on Wednesday. Most prominent among these is practical instruction in operating cars by electricity.

—Joseph Howley, a fourteen month infant child of Assistant Post Master Thomas Howley and wife, died at their residence on Bishop street Tuesday morning. It suffered with a weak spine. The funeral took place at nine o'clock on Thursday from the Catholic Church.

—On Tuesday Mr. W. H. Long, of Marion township was in town to arrange for his sale of farm stock March 17th. He expects to quit farming in the spring and will move to Howard, Pa., where he will devote his attention to his trade. He is a practical gunsmith, and will be prepared to attend to all orders in that line.

—County Chairman Hugh S. Taylor announces his list of democratic committeemen, in the various districts of the county. The time for holding caucuses, for the spring election is close at hand and each will be expected to attend to his duties. An active and energetic organization is needed at all times. The party's success depends largely upon the work done by the committeemen.

STRUCK BY AN ENGINE.

John Fulton Dies from His Injuries Friday Afternoon.

John Fulton, of Salona, who was struck by a train on the Central Railroad, opposite Mann's axe factory at Mill Hall, on Thursday, died Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Fulton and his wife and child were returning from Lock Haven and alighted from the electric cars at Mill Hall. In company with Charles Wallizer they walked up the Central tracks. When they saw the train coming toward them all of the party stepped off the track, but Fulton slipped and fell backward against the approaching engine. The side of his head was badly crushed. He was taken to Mill Hall, where Dr. McCloskey examined him, and afterwards taken to his home in Salona. He remained unconscious until Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, when he expired.

He was 52 years old and is survived by his wife and five children.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Installation of the officers of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., took place in their rooms in the Harris block, Saturday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. There was a large delegation of comrades present from Post 261, of Milesburg.

Retiring Commander F. Peebles Green called the meeting to order and then the officer of the day, S. H. Williams, escorted Commander Joseph Green, of Milesburg, to the chair to act as installing officer. The following newly elected officers were installed with the proper ceremonies befitting the occasion:

Commander, David Bartley; Senior Vice Commander, Thos. Donachy; Junior Vice Commander, John Bryan; Chaplain, James Harris; Surgeon, James Whittaker; Officer of the Day, John I. Curtin; Officer of the Guard, F. McMullen; Quarter Master, Wm. Jones; Ordinance Officer, Chas. Eckenroth; Trustees, S. B. Miller and Herman Miller; Delegates to Department Encampment, Chas. Eckenroth and David Glenn.

After these ceremonies a camp fire was held. Comrade S. B. Miller acted as Master of Ceremonies. The High School choir sang "The Star Spangled Banner," "My country 'tis of Thee," "America" and other patriotic songs during the evening which called forth hearty applause. The following young people composed the choir: Misses Alice Ishler, Jane McKee, Millie Wagner, Eva Crissman, Maud Miller, Daisy Keichline, Lyda Bell, and Messrs Joseph Twitmyer, Morton Smith, Willis Ishler, James Shook and Principal A. Reist Rutt. Both the past and newly elected commanders made short speeches in which they thanked the Post for the great honor of presiding over this organization.

Speeches were made by Clement Dale, Esq., D. F. Portney, and Comrade Swires, of Milesburg, told a few stories and sang a song entitled, "To the arms of Abraham" which brought down the house. W. T. Fitzgerald read a poem entitled "When we marched down to Dixie Land some thirty years ago." Comrades Joseph Green, of Milesburg, W. H. Musser, who was introduced as the Dutch corporal from Penns Valley, W. C. Young of Post 262, of Pine Grove, Mr. Oliver, of Philadelphia, formerly of Cooper's Battery and S. H. Williams, of Bellefonte, all contributed their chip to the camp fire.

William Miles Schell, of Dick's Run, and one of Union township's most enterprising farmers, died at his residence on the 4th of January, 1897, in the 64th year of his age. His remains were interred in Hall's Cemetery, on the 7th, followed to the grave by many of his neighbors and acquaintances. He leaves four daughters and a step-son to mourn his departure, his wife having died five years ago. These orphans have our sympathy and well wishes.

All About a Spring.

This week an interesting case is being heard in court in which Benj. Lambert is plaintiff and James Duck defendant. The parties reside on adjoining premises in North Gregg and obtain their water supply from the same spring. The difficulty between them is that one has taken more water than the other. About thirty witnesses have been heard in the matter. Furst and Hewes are the attorneys for Mr. Lambert. Orvis, Bower & Orvis are retained by Mr. Duck.

J. V. V. A. Encampment.

The Juniata Valley Veterans' Association will hold their annual encampment at Adamsburg, Snyder county, Pa., beginning August 23, 1897, and to continue five days. Generals Austin Curtin and James A. Beaver represent Centre county on the executive committee for the ensuing year.

Going to Centre Hall.

The Poulson Handle Factory, of Howard, Pa., are shipping their machinery to Centre Hall this week where they have erected a new factory and will begin operations before long. There is an abundance of the necessary timber in that section.

—Elizhu Spencer, supported by Frank Henning, and a strong company, will appear in Othello at Garmans Opera house, on Thursday January, 21st.

DAVY THE PEDDLER.

An Interesting Sketch of a familiar Curtin Township Character.

Davy Kohler, the peddler, is well known to most our readers. He is a resident of Curtin township where he owns a good farm. He was in Williamsport recently and a reporter on the Gazette and Bulletin wrote the following concerning him.

"Yesterday a man mingled with the throng upon the streets of this city who doubtless has walked more miles than any other person living in the United States. If his history could be procured, the minor events of his life written out and published, giving full details of his roving career, a volume perhaps, more strange and startling than much of the fictitious matter with which the country is flooded would resound in thunderous tones to the author's glory.

He is known wherever he chances to "turn up" by the name of "Davy Cochler." Whether or not that is his correct cognomen, there is no assurance. But if it is not, the frequent responses he has made to it during all these years must certainly give some assurance that it is.

Twenty-five years ago the writer knew "Davy Kochler" in Clearfield, where he would appear at intervals selling trinkets of all kinds from a large basket which he carried from door to door. Having thoroughly canvassed that town, he would journey to the next, calling at every house he passed, with a view of making a sale. He was constantly on the go, and being a proof against storm as a duck is against water, it made no difference to "Davy" whether the sun was shining in all its splendor or the rain descending in torrents. Distaining as though unworthy of his standing and character, he never utilized any conveyance save those provided by nature. In that manner he went from place to place until he had not only become a familiar object to a vast number of the people residing throughout this broad commonwealth, but has walked as many miles as would girdle this continent several times over.

Being afflicted with St. Vitus dance his peculiar and uncertain footsteps as he passes along the streets or byways, leave strangers under the impression that he is intoxicated. This however is a mistake, "Davy" is strictly temperate, a cause he never fails to espouse. He is also afflicted with a very bad impediment in his speech which makes it very difficult for the one whom he addresses to understand what he is saying. None know these misfortunes or feel them more keenly than "Davy" himself. He is very sensitive of his peculiarities, but at the same time he has great regard for the feelings of others. Knowing from long experience, that his appearance before one of the weaker sex, when she opens the door in response to his raps, never fails to startle her, his first words are, "Lady don't be scared. I intend you no harm." Then in his childlike but broken voice, he will offer her his wares.

Time is dealing gently with him. He looks no older than he did a quarter of a century ago, and he is still plying the same occupation, although the big basket has been discarded for a smaller one. He is a staunch Methodist and his non-appearance at any of the meetings of the Central Pennsylvania conference would seem strange.

Reduced Rates to Washington.

For the benefit of those who desire to attend the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of President-elect McKinley, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Washington March 1, 2, 3 and 4, valid to return from March 4 to 8, at the following rates: From New York, $8.00; Philadelphia, $5.40; Baltimore, $1.60; Harrisburg, $5.06; Williamsport, $8.79; Buffalo, $11.20; Rochester, $10.48; Altoona and Pittsburg, $10.00; and from all other stations on the Pennsylvania system at reduced rates.

The inauguration will be a most interesting event, and will undoubtedly attract a large number of people from every section of the country.

The magnificent facilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad make this line the favorite route to the national capital at all times, and its enormous equipment and splendid terminal advantages at Washington make it especially popular on such occasions.

One Minute Late

It makes no difference whether you were one minute or one hour late, if you missed the train. Better get there on time, even if you have to wait. One hour early is better than one minute late. Delay costs thousands of lives each year. "Neglected colds" is the beginning of the story; and consumption is the end. Few remedies, and but little of them, cure in the beginning. Later, many remedies long continued, and tedious journeys, too frequently end in disappointment.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites soothes the cough, heals the inflamed membranes, and restores the parts to a healthy condition. This it does promptly and permanently, if taken in time. One bottle does more now than five would accomplish later on. If weak, pale, and thin, Scott's Emulsion will give you strength, color, and flesh.
