New Clothing Store.

"The Cash Clothing House" has leased the large store room in Bush block, opposite Bush House, on High street, and will open Monday, Feb. 15th, one of the largest clothing houses in Centre county. In order to introduce this firm, they will have a red letter sale—a sale that will benefit the farmer, the rich and the laborer. This sale will consist of very fine, ready made overcoats for men and boys; suits for men and boys; pants for men and boys; fancy silk vests for young men, and a full line of barbers and waiters jackets. We have one of the most complete lines of furnishing goods, which consists of underwear, hosiery, white and fancy suits and neckwear in all styles. Also a full line of gents shoes rubber boots.

This will be one of the greatest red letter sales that ever took place in Bellefonte. It will pay you to come fifty miles to attend this red letter sale. Remember that we are "one price only." Our goods will be marked in plain figures—a child of five years old can buy as cheap as a man of fifty years, at this great sale. This is once in a life time—such a great opportunity to buy tailor made clothing at such enormous low figures. Remember this is a sale that only comes once in a life time; it is not a sale that lasts forever. It will only last fifteen days. The reason why we give this opportunity to the people of Bellefonte and surroundings to buy good goods, at such a wonderfully low price, is for the simple reason to introduce this firm. Remember the place, look for the great red letter sign, Bush block, opposite Bush House, High street, Bellefonte, Pa. "The cash one price clothing house."

In Trouble.

According to the Pittsburg Post a young lady by the name of Miss Blanche Stonerode, who gave her home as "in the Bald Eagle Valley, near Philipsburg" had been arrested in that city for taking things that did not belong to her. She was visiting a cousin in that city and had been doing sewing for different families, who missed various articles. The young lady confessed to the crime and was locked up in the station house last Saturday. The property taken she invariably gave away, and made no use of it herself. This peculiar conduct is what surprised her friends. She seemed to have a queer fascination in this direction.

An effort is being made by her relatives to have her released and sent home.

Should be Rewarded.

It was nothing else than the prompt response and efficient service rendered by the two volunteer fire departments of Bellefonte that saved the Court House from destruction, on Monday morning. The flames had a good start and in a short time the building would have been only bear walls and smoking embers.

The commissioners of the county would be justified in awarding to each company a handsome check for services rendered on this occasion. The money would be devoted to their necessary equipment and expense account. The county owes at least that much to the firemen. We urge them to do the proper thing in this direction.

Drilled Through It Lengthwise.

While drilling a well on Four Mile run, the drill struck wood at a depth of 100 feet. Contrary to expectations, the drill did not go through the wood at once but continued in it for over 50 feet and it is believed that a maple tree, standing upright, was struck. The story seems improbable, if it is true scientists have the platform to explain the phenomenon.

—General reduction sale of all goods at the Philadelphia Branch. Winter stock must be moved.

—Jacob Gross, the tailor, has something special to say in his advertisement this week.

SCUFFLED WITH A BEAR.

And Then Plunked Two Bullets Into His Body.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schroeder, of this city, has in her possession a bear that was killed under exciting circumstances. John Gentner of Bald Eagle township, a few days ago was tramping over the mountain in the Scootack region is quest of game when he saw a bear under a rock. The brave hunter approached in close quarters to the animal, so close indeed that Mr. Bruin came out and swiped the man with his paw. A scuffle ensued, but Mr. Gentner finally broke loose and stepping back a few paces, up with his gun and sent two shots into the bear's head, which killed him. The bear is seven and a half feet long and weighs 500 pounds.

Mr. Gentner is known hereabout as a mighty bear hunter. There is a report among his friends to the effect that a few years ago while on the mountain he had an encounter with a bear, which, if true, places him high in the estimation of bear hunters. He met the bear and having no weapons he took refuge between two fallen trees and pummelled the bear on the nose with his fist until the head of bruin was badly bruised. He finally so weakened the animal that he secured an opportunity to pick up a big stone and bring it down upon the bear's back, breaking it. Mr. Gentner, the story goes, was so worn out by the fight that he fell back exhausted.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Death of Samuel Wyland.

Samuel Wyland, a veteran of the late war, died at his home over McCalmont's store, Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, from stomach trouble. He was born at Rock Forge, Centre county, and was 59 years of age. During the rebellion, he served in Captain H. H. Montgomery's Company of the 148th Regiment, Penna. volunteers. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon. Interment at Curtin's Works.

The funeral of Samuel Wyland took place Tuesday afternoon. The services were under the charge of Geo. L. Potter Post, of Milesburg, of which the deceased was a member. A squad of soldiers from Co. B, were in attendance. Rev. J. W. Rue, of the Methodist church preached the funeral sermon.

Yerger—Rapp.

A pretty wedding occurred Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Catholic parsonage on Bishop street. The contracting parties were Harry Elmer Yerger, son of H. C. Yerger, of Spring street, and Miss Mollie Rapp, daughter of Jacob Rapp, of Half Moon Hill. Only the immediate members of the family were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father P. McArdie. Oscar Yerger, a brother of the groom, acted as best man; and Miss Regina Rapp was bridesmaid. A short reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony after which the happy couple departed on the 4:44 train for Altoona; where they will make their future home.

Death of Mrs. George Mock.

Grace, wife of George R. Mock, of Philipsburg died Friday afternoon after an illness of several months, during which she suffered greatly from heart and lung troubles and from which there was no possibility of recovery.

Mrs. Mock was a daughter of the late John Moore, of Lemont. Her mother and two sisters, Mrs. McKee, of Bellefonte, who has been with her during her illness, and Miss Maude Moore, of Lemont, also survive her. The funeral took place Monday.

No More Scalp Bounties in Huntingdon Co.

The commissioners of Huntingdon county have made up their minds that under the act of April, 1889, they are not warranted in paying scalp bounties for any other animals than wolves and wild cats. They claim that the law is unconstitutional because of certain defects in it.

This ruling will put old John Swoope, of Alexandria, out of business. He is an noted trapper of that region and received over $1200 in bounties last year.

School Directors Meeting.

D. F. Fortney, Esq., is in Harrisburg to-day attending the annual meeting of the state school directors. It will be an important gathering of prominent people interested in educational work. Mr. Fortney delivered an able address on Wednesday before the meeting, upon the "Operation of the compulsory attendance law" in which he is well informed. His remarks were well received and highly spoken of by the press.

Death of a Lamar Lady.

Mrs. Sarah Matilda Eddy, widow of the late Thomas Eddy, of Lamar, died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Watson, aged 78 years. Her surviving children are Lyman T. Eddy of Milesburg, Mrs. Samuel Watson of Lamar, and Ira C. Eddy of Williamsport.

To Be Buried Monday.

—To cure a cough or cold, in one day, take Krumrine's Compound Syrup of Tar. If it fails to cure, money refunded.

DEATH OF A MOTHER.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Hugh S. DeLong, of Romola, departed from this world, and her spirit took its flight to the God who gave it.

For several years Mrs. DeLong suffered with stomach and bowel trouble, and a short time ago Drs. Ball, of Lock Haven, and McEntire, of Howard, pronounced the case congestion of the kidneys, which probably terminated in brights disease, thus causing her death on Saturday, Jan. 30, 1897.

She lingered in an unconscious state during the last twenty-four hours that she lived and no one can describe her intense suffering during all that time. Sister DeLong was aged 46 years, 4 months and 16 days. She gave her heart to God four years ago and was identified as a member of the Christian church, at Romola.

There are left to mourn her loss, a husband and six children, two sons and four daughters, also three sisters and a brother. They have that blessed consolation that mother was a Christian and has only gone home where they can meet her around God's throne, if they live in accordance with his divine will. Her loss is keenly felt in the home, and the words of the poet will find room in every heart of sympathy.

"There is no flock, however watched and tended,
But one dead lamb is there;
There is no fireside, however defended,
But has one vacant chair."

It seems hard to say farewell to one so near and dear, but mother died saying she had found sweet peace with Jesus. Among her dying words we quote one sentence which she uttered several times: "O, it is so hard to sever these earthly ties." No mother could more truly love her husband and children than did Mrs. DeLong, and the love she extended to them was duly returned.

All that was mortal was laid to its last rest in the Christian cemetery at Romola, on Tuesday February 2. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor Rev. M. S. Blair, taking for his text, St. John XI: 25. Bro. Blair was assisted by Rev. N. L. Atwood, of Girard, and Rev. J. W. Forrest, of Howard M. E. church. The singing was rendered by Misses Emma Robb and Ella Hall, and Messrs Wilber Hall and Joseph Fletcher, Chauncey DeLong acting as organist. The hymns sang are the following: "Welcome for me," "Jesus is mine," "Some sweet day," "Sweet peace, the gift of God's love," "Looking this way," and "We'll never say goodbye."

The pall bearers were four nephews, Messrs Bert A. Mann, William and David Jones, Eugene Kline, Edward Williams and Newton Wilson.

The flowers presented in her memory were very pretty. One wreath was from her nieces Mrs. Prof. Geo. D. Robb, and Miss Clara Kline, of Altoona; the other was presented by her son's school.

The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of all their friends and relatives. There is truth in the following poem—

"We watched her breathing through the night,
Her breathing soft and low,
As in her breast the wave of life
Kept heaving to and fro.
So silently we seemed to speak,
So slowly move about,
As we had lent her half our powers
To eke her living out.
Our very hopes belied our fears,
Our fears our hopes belied;
We thought her dying when she slept,
And sleeping when she died.
For when the morn came, dim and sad,
And chill with early showers,
Her quiet eyelids closed; she had
Another morn than ours." X

Book Reception.

The students of the Bellefonte High school will hold a book reception, on the afternoon of February 22nd, for the purpose of adding to the school library. This effort of these young people is a very proper one and should have the support and encouragement of the entire community. Nine-tenths of all our information is acquired in reading. And that the knowledge obtained may be of wholesome character the source from whence obtained must be well guarded, just as the tree is influenced by the soil upon which it feeds just so is the boy affected by the book upon which he feasts. If plenty of pure reading be furnished them, our young will thus live up to all that is good in literature; and at the same time they will be shown how to provide themselves with all information and the way for all intellectual attainment within their capacity will be opened to them.

Church Re-dedicated.

On Sunday February 21st, the Lutheran church, at Rebersburg will be re-dedicated with appropriate services. On this occasion the pastor, Rev. J. C. Mumma, will be assisted by Dr. E. J. Wolf, of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary, who will deliver the dedicatory sermon. In the evening Rev. Rerick, of Centre Hall, will preside. The edifice at Rebersburg has been remodeled and much improved.
