THE CENTRE DEMOCRAT, BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1897.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The Needs of the Government Briefly Pointed Out.

NECESSITY FOR PROMPT ACTION.

The Chief Magistrate Tells How the Revenues of the Government Have Decreased During the Past Five Years, and How Ample Revenues Can be Provided.

Washington, March 15 .- The Fiftyfifth congress met in extraordinary session at noon today in pursuance of President McKinley's proclamation. The work before it-the passage of a tariff bill-is pretty well cut out in advance, but the indications are that it will be a stormy session, and its length and scope are as yet mere matters of speculation.

The first business in order in the house after the formal opening was the election of officers of the Fifty-fifth congress, and, in accordance with the action of the Republican caucus on Saturday night, all the old officers were re-elected, as follows: Thomas B. Reed, speaker; Rev. Henry M. Couden, chaplain; Alexander McDowell, clerk; Benjamin F. Russell, sergeant-at-arms; W. J. Glenn, doorkeeper; Joseph C. Mc-Elroy, postmaster. The complimentary vote of the Democrats was cast for John W. Bailey, of Texas.

The senate began its work in extra session with 87 senators present, and with the galleries packed to their full limit. The whole business of the day was confined to the reading of the president's mesage, the seating of the new senator from Kansas, Mr. Harris, and the reference of the credentials of Mr. Corbett as senator from Oregon to the committee on privileges and elections. The president's message, the reading of which was listened to with the closest attention, was as follows: To the congress of the United States:

Regretting the necessity which has required me to call you together, I feel that your assembling in extraordinary session is indispensable because of the condition in which we find the revenues of the government. It is conceded that its current expenditures are greater than its receipts, and that such a condition has existed for now more than three years. With unlimited means at our comand we are presenting the remarkable spectacle of increasing our public debt by borrowing money to meet the ordinary outlays incident upon even an economical and prudent administration of the government. An examination of the subject discloses this fact in every detail, and leads inevitably to the conclusion that the condition of the revenue which allows it is unjustifiable, and should be corrected.

We find by the reports of the secretary of the treasury that the revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892, from all sources, were $425,-868,260.22, and the expenditures for all purposes were $415,953,806.56, leaving an excess of receipts over expenditures of $9.914,453.66. During that fiscal year $40,570,467.98 were paid upon public debt, which had been reduced since nual interest charge decreasd $11,684,- ficient to meet the demands upon it, and that bonds would necessarily have been issued for its repletion. Be this as it may, it is clearly manifest, without denying or affirming the correctness of such a conclusion, that the debt would have been decreased in at least the amount of the deficiency and business confidence immeasurably strengthened throughout the country. Congress should promtly correct the existing condition. Ample revenues must be supplied not only for the ordinary expenses of the government. but for the prompt payment of liberal pensions and the liquidation of the principal and interest of the public debt. In raising revenue duties should be so levied upon foreign products as to preserve the home market, so far as possible, to our own producers; to revive the manufactories; to relieve and encourage agriculture; to increase our domestic and foreign commerce; to aid and develop mining and building, and to render to labor in every field of useful occupation the liberal wages and adequate rewards to which skill and industry are justly entitled. The necessity of the pasage of a tariff law which shall provide ample revenue need not be further urged. The imperative demand of the hour is the prompt enactment of such a measure, and to this object I earnestly recommend that congress shall make every endeavor. Before other business is transacted let us first provide sufficient revenue to faithfully administer the government without the contracting of further debt or the continued disturb-

Its Author Declares It Will Increase Revenues $112,000,000.

Washington, March 16. -- Chairman Dingley, of the ways and means committee, in response to a request that he furnish a synopsis of the new tariff bill presented by him yesterday, makes the following statement: "The bill has two purposes, namely, to raise additional revenue, and to encourage the industries of the United States. On the basis of the importations for the last fiscal year the bill would increase the revenues about $112,000,000, divided among the several schedules roughly as follows: Chemicals, $3,500,000; crockery and glass-ware, $4,000,000; metals, $4,000,000; wood, March 1, 1889, $259,076,890,and the an- $1,750,000; sugar, $21,750,000; tobacco, $7,-000,000; agricultural, $6,300,000; liquors, ttons, $1,700,000 $1 800.0 and hemp, $7,800,000; wool, $17,500,000; manufactures of wool, $27,000,000; silks, $1,500,000; pulp and paper, $58,000; sundries, $6,200,000. "This estimate is on the supposition that the imports of each class of goods would be the same the next fiscal year as in the fiscal year ended last June. But as the imports of wool were three times as great and those of woolen goods more than twice as great in pounds as in 1893 the committee assume that this excessive importation would be largely reduced by the proposed bill, although the fact that our domestic production of wool has diminished 8,000,000 pounds since 1893 will necessitate the importation of much more wool now than in the latter year." The Pretident Reopens a Thoroughfare. Washington, March 17 .-- President McKinley has issued an order that undoubtely will increase his popularity among a large portion of the citizens of the district. It is that the road back of the White House and running through the White House grounds be restored to its former function as a public thoroughfare. It is part of the president's grounds, and is subject to his orders. Up to within the last four years it has always been open to the use of the public. During the excepted period the grounds were given over to the use of the Cleveland children, and the gates were closed to the general public.

Greece Will Fight Turkey.

RESENTMENT TOWARD RUSSIA.

Greek Newspapers Strongly Denounce the Attitude of the Czar's Government and the Greek Royal Family Seriously Disappointed.

Athens, March 17 .-- It is the general belief here that nothing can prevent war, and that the government has its plans fully prepared. The cabinet had a long session yesterday as to the attitude to be taken in face of the coercive program of Europe, and it is reported that a decision was reached that active measures are the only solution possible for Greece.

The center of interest is now transferred from Crete to the Macedonian frontier. It is evident from the haste which the government has displayed in getting all its available troops off sea before the commencement of by the blockade that there is a strong conviction that they will be needed at

With the sea route closed the transportation of troops must be overland, and this would be an exceedingly slow and difficult process, owing to the lack of horses and the very incomplete railway system in the northern portions of Greece. Many of the war correspondents have already arrived at Volo, Larissa and other frontier points. The Greek officers on the frontier find the utmost difficulty in restraining their men, and the departure of Crown Prince Constantin for the front was deferred until advice was received from the general commander, who fears that his presence would have a dangerously exciting influence upon the troops.

It is reported that Turkish forces on the Macedonian frontier are raising a double line of fortifications, and being constantly reinforced from Salonica. Since the publication in the semiofficial press of the exposition of Count Muravieff's Cretan policy, which appeared at the moment when it was most calculated to influence the French government, the feeling of the public press of Greece has been one of the fiercest resentment toward Russia. The Greek royal family is also seriously disapponited by the attitude of Russia. and France is believed to have sacrificed her Cretan sympathies upon the altar of the Franco-Russian entente.

Turkey Encouraged by the Powers.

London, March 17 .- According to a Vienna dispatch to The Times there is some curiosity manifested in Austrian official circles as to whether the pro gram of the powers is to hold good in the event of an outbreak of war in Macedonia. The porte has been encouraged, it is said, by several of the great powers to send large bodies of troops to districts along the Greek frontier, and there is no doubt that, in the event of war the Turks would be allowed to deal with the Greeks without fear of European Intervention.

576.60. The receipts of the government from all sources during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, amounted to $461,-716,561.94, and its expenditures to $459,-374,887.65, showing an excess of receipts over expenditures of $2,341,674.29.

Since that time the receipts of no fiscal year, and with but few exceptions of no month of any fiscal year, have exceeded the expenditures. The receipts of the government from all sources during the fiscal year end-ing June 30, 1894, were $372,802,498.29, and its expenditures $442,605,758.87, leaving a deficit, the first time since the resumption of specie payments, of $69,8vo,200.05. Notwithstanding there was a decrease of $16,769,128.78 in the ordinary expenses of the government. as compared with the previous fiscal year, its income was still not sufficient to provide for its daily necessities, and the gold reserve in the treasury for the redemption of greenbacks was drawn upon to meet them. But this did not suffice, and the government then resorted to loans to replenish the reserve.

In February, 1894, $50,000,000 in bonds were issued, and in November following a second issue of $50,000,000 was deemed necessary. The sum of $117,-171,795 was realized by the sale of these bonds, but the reserve was steadily decreased until, on Feb. 8, 1895, a third sale of $62,315,400 in bonds, for $65,116,-244 was announced to congress.

The receipts of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, were $390,373,203.30, and the expenditures $433,178,426.48, showing a deficit of $42,805,223.18. A further loan of $100,000 .-000 was negotlated by the government February, 1896, the sale netting $111,166,246, and swelling the agg-egate of bonds issued within three years to $262,315,400. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, the revenues of the government from all sources amounted to $409,475,408.78, while its expenditures were $434,678,654.48, or an excess of expenditures over receipts of $25,203,245,-70. In other words, the total receipts for the three fiscal years ending June 20, 1896, were insufficient by $137,811,-729.46 to meet the total expenditures.

Nor has this condition since im-proved. For the first half of the present fiscal year the receipts of the government, exclusive of postal revenues, were $157,507,603.76, and its expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $195,~ 410,000.22, or an excess of expenditures over receipts of $37,902,396.46. In January of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,316,-994.05, and the expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $30,269,389.29, a deficit of $5,952,395.24 for the month. In February of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,400,-997,38, and expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $28,796,056.66, a deficit of $4,395,059.28, or a total deficiency of $186,061,580.44 for the three years and eight months ending March 1, 1897. Not only are we without a surplus in the treasury, but with an increase in the public debt there has been a corresponding increase in the annual interest charge from $22,893,883.20 in 1892, the lowest of any year since 1862, to $34,387,297.60 in 1896, or an increase of $11,493,414,40.

It may be urged that even if the revenues of the government had been sufficient to meet all its ordinary expenses during the past three years the gold reserve would still have been insuf-
