

MANY FLOOD VICTIMS.

Rescued from Submerged Homes and Taken to Memphis.

THE MISSISSIPPI STILL RISING.

Most of Those Rescued Are Negroes, Who Are Absolutely Helpless and Wholly Dependent Upon Charity for Sustenance. But Few Fatalities Reported.

Memphis, March 17.—The Mississippi river at Memphis gauges a fraction over 36.5 feet, a rise of over one-tenth since yesterday morning. The river continues to rise slowly. Two lives are known to have been lost yesterday. Two negroes who live near Marion, Ark., attempted to cross Mound lake in a dugout, when they were caught in the current, their boat capsizing, and they were swept away. The change in the situation has been decidedly for the worse in every respect, so far as the flood and the flood victims are concerned. Localities that were expected up to the last moment to withstand the overflow are at last under water. People who thought they were safe from the angry river find themselves hemmed in, and their danger is the greater because of the confidence that prevented them from providing against it.

From every direction come reports of unprecedented disaster. At Marion and in the adjacent country 400 people are reported to be lined up on the railroad track, over which occasional waves sweep and threaten to carry off the people and live stock that there find a precarious foothold. Along the other railroads leading out of this city into Arkansas a similar condition of affairs exists. Down on President's Island, where it was supposed that all persons in danger had been carried off, it was learned that from 50 to 100 people were last evening standing in the water and praying for the sight of a boat that would take them off. The steamer Harbin was at once sent to their relief. The Abbott and Isaacs are looking after Island Forty, and the C. B. Bryan, the Minnehaha and the Welcome are running far up beyond Marion. Barges are carried wherever necessary.

Nearly 1,000 people have been brought to this city already from the overflowed country. Only a few of these are white, and they have been able to take care of themselves upon arriving, as well as to extend a hand to the negroes. But most of the refugees are negroes, who saved nothing but the clothes on their backs, and in cases some stock, the latter being an incumbrance rather than an assistance in the matter of finding food and accommodations in town. But the citizens' relief committee have found places to house the refugees, and food is furnished them from time to time. Yesterday a quartet of ladies arrived on the levee with provisions. The substantial food put new life into the disconsolate negroes.

Many rumors of wholesale drownings are current, but these cannot be verified. A well defined report reached here Monday night that five colored people had perished near Marion, and a colored man and child are known to have been drowned at West Memphis. The conditions are such that there will undoubtedly be innumerable fatalities unless the helpless are relieved. Great throngs gather at the levee. It was almost impossible to reach the Bryan wharf boat when she pulled in from Marion yesterday.

From Island Forty come reports that the water is everywhere, and that human beings and dumb brutes are huddled together wherever shallow water offers standing places.

The people in and around Marion, Ark., are certain that in the woods to the rear of Marion there has been great loss of life. There is a rumor to the effect that several negroes had been drowned in attempting to get to a place of safety, but neither names nor facts could be learned.

The Memphis and St. Louis packet, Mary Morton, arrived in port yesterday, and reports extending relief to flood sufferers below Cairo. Something over a hundred men and children and a quantity of live stock were picked up and carried to Fulton. From all accounts there is great suffering in the districts mentioned, and aid is being asked of the citizens of Cairo.

At Greenwood, Miss., the Yazoo river is rising very rapidly, and the lowlands are now covered with water. The Talahatchie and Yaloburba, which flow into the Yazoo three miles above Greenwood, are reported to be higher than ever before known.

The Tennessee river at Florence, Ala., is still booming, the gauge registering the highest mark reached since 1886. The water is still rising half an inch an hour. A further rise of two feet is anticipated. The levee road is in danger of being swept away.

Remarkable Bullet Proof Cloth.

Chicago, March 17.—A "bullet proof cloth," the invention of Brother Casimir Zeigler, of St. Stanislaus Polish church, was tested yesterday by the Chicago police. Two pieces of the material, each about a foot wide and two feet long, were shot at for an hour, with the result that only one bullet pierced it, the force being spent to such an extent that the board behind the cloth was hardly dented. The fabric is rather thick, and somewhat resembles leather in texture.

Charged with a Heavy Defalcation.

Chicago, March 17.—In a bill filed in the superior court yesterday for a receiver for the Pacific Loan and Home-Steader association it is charged that DeWitt C. Butts, who until last summer was secretary of the association, is a defaulter, and has appropriated $222,000 of the funds of the association. The bill is filed by Bessie A. Woods, one of the shareholders of the association, and she alleges that the concern has been wrecked by officers who wasted its resources.

An Unruly Elephant Executed.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 17.—The unruly elephant Tip, belonging to the Barnum & Bailey show, was strangled to death at the winter quarters of the circus here yesterday. Death came in about 90 seconds. Efforts to poison Tip by concealing capsules containing large quantities of cyanide of potassium in his food were futile.

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 16.—The Lehigh Valley Railroad company has dispensed with the services of its yard-masters at Joxton, Fairview and Pinkerton yards, and reduced the wages of the engineers employed in the yards from $3 to $2.50 a day.

Allentown, Pa., March 17.—Oliver A. Krum, foreman in the Sun Steel company, at Slatedale, was caught in the belling of the sved bed at the factory yesterday and frightfully mangled in the machinery. Death must have been instantaneous. He was 32 years old, and leaves a widow and three children.

McKeesport, Pa., March 15.—John J. Griffin, a well known contractor, was assisting in excavating the cellar for the new Lisle block, and while in a trench 12 feet deep the wall on one side fell in suddenly without any warning, completely burying Griffin from sight. When the contractor's body was finally extricated life was extinct. Griffin was 62 years old and unmarried.

Oxford, Pa., March 15.—Upon the charge of having murdered his brother Peter, Harry Watson, colored, was locked up in the jail at West Chester yesterday. It is claimed that Harry was drunk Saturday night, and abused Peter's wife. Peter called him to account for it, and Harry is alleged to have left the house vowing vengeance. Yesterday he met Peter and shot him. The wounded man died soon afterwards.

Harrisburg, March 17.—The feature of yesterday's session of the senate was the final passage of the civil service bill applying to cities and counties having a population of 150,000 and over. This is known as one of the Quay reform bills, and although vigorous protests were made against some of the provisions of the measure it passed finally by a fractional vote, the Democrats lining up with the Quays members.

Pottsville, Pa., March 15.—By reason of an explosion of gas at the Middle Creek shaft, near Tremont, on the 3d inst., a fire broke out and has made such progress as to necessitate its drowning out. This means a big financial loss to the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, and much suffering and inconvenience to several hundred miners and laborers. The company looked forward to this particular colliery as one of the best in the region. The workings will be idle several years.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 16.—Some weeks ago a mad dog bit a number of people in the mining town of Duryea. Among the number was John Cramer. The wound was cauterized, but on Sunday young Cramer was seized with hydrophobia. His sufferings were terrible, and he had to be strapped in the bed. His father was not at home at the time. He was telephoned for, and arrived last night. Upon witnessing his son's agony he dropped dead by the bedside. The son died a half hour later.

Williamsport, Pa., March 15.—Mrs. Henry Pope, of Wharton, Potter county, the wife of a rich lumberman, drew $900 from the bank at Galeton and then departed on a train for Wellsboro. At Ansonia, while waiting for the arrival of the Fall Brook train connection, Mrs. Pope walked to the village hotel, one-fourth of a mile from the station. The road passes through the woods at this point. A half hour later she was found unconscious in the road. When restored she stated that a man had struck her on the head with a club. Her money was gone.

Bloomsburg, Pa., March 17.—Stephen Mensinger was arrested Thursday at his uncle's home, near Zion Grove, Schuylkill county, and yesterday was brought here and lodged in the county jail on the charge of murdering his father at the doorstep of the latter's home in Beaver township, Columbia county. Mensinger, the elder, was killed on Sunday night by being shot through the head. The son denies the charge. The father and son lived apart since the death of the former's second wife, and about two weeks ago quarreled, when the son left home.

Harrisburg, March 17.—Three more reform bills were last night introduced in the senate and house. They prohibit city officials and corporations from interfering in politics, prevent political assessments, and compel every man to pay his own taxes. The bills are most sweeping in character, including police, firemen and all city employees. For interference with the voter a penalty of $1,000 and one year's imprisonment is provided; for violating the political assessment law, $500 or one year's imprisonment; for attempting to vote on a tax receipt paid for by others, $200 or six months' imprisonment.

Bethlehem, Pa., March 17.—The 110th annual session of the Philadelphia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church convened in historic Bethlehem at 9 o'clock this morning, and nearly 500 ministers are in attendance. Rt. Rev. Bishop John P. Newman presides, and among other official visitors are Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, Revs. J. M. Buckley, editor of The Christian Advocate; George P. Mains, agent of the Methodist Book Concern; A. S. Palmer, missionary secretary; A. S. Hunt, corresponding secretary of the American Bible society, and W. V. Kelley, editor of The Methodist Review.

Harrisburg, March 17.—The Moore resolution urging Senators Quay and Penrose to vote for the ratification of the Anglo-American treaty was returned from the federal relations committee yesterday afternoon with a negative recommendation. The house, in committee of the whole, amended the bill providing that the material to be used in the construction of the proposed capitol building shall be furnished by Pennsylvania firms or corporations, and that none but citizens of Pennsylvania be employed in the construction of the building, by substituting "United States" for "Pennsylvania."

South Bethlehem, Pa., March 15.—A case of cruelty has been brought to the notice of the Bethlehem police. The stepmother of a family on East Church street punished her 9-year-old son repeatedly by branding him with a red hot poker. The boy's father punished him by exposing him to the weather stark naked. The boy, driven to desperation by the inhuman treatment, ran away, but was captured. His parents then made application to send him to a reformatory. Chief of Police W. Hufsmith has investigated the case, and found the facts as stated. Proceedings will be brought against the parents.

STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

Closing Quotations of the New York and Philadelphia Exchanges.

New York, March 16.—The opening of the stock market gave every promise of a repetition of yesterday's course of events, the strong buying movement in the Vanderbilt properties which gave animation and strength to the whole market being renewed at the opening. LATEST FASHIONS.

CHARACTERISTIC FEATURES OF THE NEW BONNETS AND GOWNS.

The Reduced and Diversified Sleeves—Unlimited Variety of Color—The Newest Skirts—Flowers, Paradise Feathers and Tulle Play an Important Part.

The distinguishing features of the present fashion are confined chiefly to the reduced and diversified sleeve and the unlimited variety in detail and contrasts of color which mark the striking difference between the new and the old. Applique figures of lace and batiste embroidery in white and varying tints of yellow, fancy silks, chiffon, spangled net and yards of ribbon are used to carry out fashion's extended plan of decorating bodices, wraps and hats with many kinds of material and unusual contrasts of color. Trimmings of various kinds appear on the new skirts, and many of them, especially among the thin dresses, are quite elaborately decorated.

GOWNS WITH FANCY WAISTS.

The tablier effect is much used for cloth gowns. Some skirts are trimmed all around with rows of white or colored braid less than half an inch in width, set on straight or with some scroll pattern at each seam. Fashionable skirts are all gracefully full, but they are not restricted to one style of cut. Skirts of silk and thin gowns are fuller than those of cloth and flare widely at the bottom. There are many kinds of gowns among the new importations with waists and sleeves entirely different from the skirts, and if you purchase a spring gown of the other sort it is well to have one or two extra waists of silk which will harmonize with the skirt. Flowered tulle and chameleon silks are particularly pretty for this purpose, and some of these waists are made of ecru batiste, with many rows of embroidered insertion set around or up and down to show the silk lining underneath. Solid waists of ecru batiste are one of the fads of fashion this season, and they appear in every imaginable style and price. Grass lawn is more attractive than ever.

The most noticeable changes in fashion are in the sleeves, which are not, with few exceptions, the close fitting variety which are the dread of all womankind. The really popular sleeves are pretty modifications of the balloon, neither small nor large and entirely without any stiff interfacing. Another feature is the variety of styles. You will hardly see two pairs of sleeves alike. The wrinkled sleeve with a medium puff at the top seems to be one of the favorites. The New York Sun, already quoted, illustrates a tan canvas gown, with fancy silk waist. The latter has a zovane effect and epaulets of canvas. Wide lace turns over the black satin collar, is placed in the middle of the back and forms a jabot in front. Black satin ribbon seen at the waist line is carried up the back and fastened with a bow. Three folds of fancy silk trim the skirt. Another pretty gown, illustrated and designed for a middle aged woman, is of black broadcloth silk, with gray spots. The revers and epaulets of plain black satin are decorated with white applique lace. The rest is of black net over white silk, and the belt, collar and bows are of black satin ribbon. Millinery is a picturesque jumble of brilliant colors framed in filmy plaitings of colored tulle. Of course fashion has furnished the usual variety in headgear, ranging from the toque to the broad brimmed hat, turned high in the back. Quite the reverse of last season's style, hats are worn well tilted forward over the forehead, and the shape is the great point in millinery art of the day. Some of the bonnets, and hats as well, have strings of ribbon or tulle, but it is hardly probable that this fashion will become popular. Large rosettes or plaitings of chiffon or tulle are used round the crowns of hats, and smaller rosettes underneath the brim, with a generous array of flowers. Tulle seems to reign supreme in the field of hat trimmings. A light effect is the aim, and many of the most beautiful hats have brims of shired chiffon or tulle with straw covers. Straw hats with rows of plaited tulle round the brim are one of the prettiest fancies. Every variety of flower is to be seen, and flower bonnets are shown among the newest arrivals. The flower toque is very becoming, and hats with brims having small bunches of violets almost entirely covering the brim and crown, with the addition of tulle to heighten them. Flower bonnets are pretty combinations of violets, roses and foliage, and mignon-

A Great Battle.

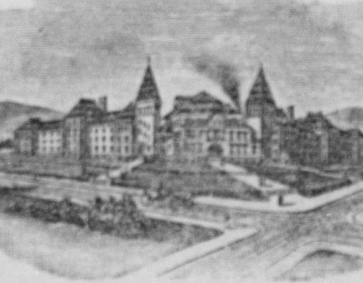

Do consumptives recover? Yes, thousands of them. Even after the disease has a firm hold? Yes, no doubt about it. After cavities have been formed and hemorrhages have occurred? Yes, even then. If the system is too weak, the disease will probably conquer, but if the body can be reinforced there is a fair chance for a winning fight. For twenty years, thousands have testified how they gained the victory.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites is still coming to the rescue. Out-door life, fresh air, and good pluck are of immense value. But in addition to these the body must be supplied with that peculiar kind of fat which is found only in cod-liver oil; combined with valuable medicinal agents; and there must be the tonic effect which comes from the hypophosphites. It is a great battle, and a great victory is often gained.

TESTIMONIALS.

AFTER HAVING TRIED 8 OF THE BEST DOCTORS IN THE COUNTRY, WITHOUT AVAIL, DR. SALM CURED ME. For more than 12 years I have suffered a good deal of pain, in fact, I was in distress and misery nearly all the time, particularly on sitting down. The misery was in my left side, in the region of the heart. It was very seldom that I could attend to my labors. I tried 8 different doctors, so said, the best in our country, but I got worse instead of better, at last, I went to Dr. Salm, who makes regular visits to Sunbury, and thanks to his skillful treatment, I am now entirely cured. Mrs. L. B. MUNSSELL, Dewart, Northumberland Co., Pa.

EVERYBODY OUGHT TO KNOW WHAT DR. SALM DID FOR ME. HE CURED ME OF A FEARFUL SKIN DISEASE. For more than 4 years I have had a most terrible skin trouble. I seem to be covered, like a fish, with scales all over my body, even to my face, not excepting my eyes. The pain was almost unendurable, and I walked the floor many a night, on account of my agony. To work, was out of the question, nor could I wash myself. I tried five of our best doctors, spent money on patent medicines, such as Cuticura, Golden Medical Discovery, Ointments, etc., got treatment from the Pierce Medical Institute, Buffalo, but it went from worse to worse. Then I heard of Dr. Salm's wonderful cures in this neighborhood, took his treatment, and to-day, I am a new man. No more skin trouble. I am working again, and as well as ever. Everybody ought to know this. FRANK RICHARDSON, Dunlo, Cambria Co., Pa.

CATARRH AND EYE TROUBLE CURED BY DR. SALM. For several years, my daughter Dilla, has had a bad case of Catarrh accompanied by all the usual symptoms attending the disease. Catching cold continually. At last the eyes became afflicted, they became weaker and weaker from inflammation, then we became alarmed, and brought her to Dr. Salm. After a course of treatment, she is now, thanks to his skill, entirely cured. JACOB B. MAURER, Globe Mills Snyder Co., Pa.

A FEARFUL CASE OF RHEUMATISM CURED BY DR. SALM. I have had a fearful case of rheumatism for over 3 years, so bad that I could not lift my arms to my head, and at every change of the weather the pains were most excruciating. Anyone, having ever suffered with rheumatism, can only appreciate what I mean, I have only had 3 months' treatment from Dr. Salm, you might almost say, I am cured, and I am happy once more. I was 71 years old at my last birthday. J. D. GARDNER, Howard, Centre Co., Pa.

AFTER HAVING TRIED PITTSBURGH, GREENSBURG AND INDIANA CO. PHYSICIANS, HER SUFFERINGS GREW WORSE AND WORSE, BUT DR. SALM CURED HER AT LAST.

For more than 30 years I have been leading a miserable existence on account of illness. I have tried, at least 10 doctors in Buffalo, Greensburg and surrounding towns. My sufferings grew worse and worse. I became thin, too weak to work, and so many sleepless nights. Couldn't eat, as my stomach was all out of order, and my nerves seemed all unstrung. I don't want to live through another such a time, for any thing in the wide-wide world, and often I have prayed to die. After I had given up all hope of enjoying health again, I decided to consult Dr. Salm, and, thank the good Lord, that I did so. After a course of treatment, I once more enjoy fine health, eat, sleep and can work once more, as heretofore. I am truly grateful to Dr. Salm. He certainly understands his business, as my case is not the only wonderful cure he has performed in this country. Mrs. S. E. MCCREARY, Tuguelton, Indiana Co., Pa.
