C. Keller, that two of the party had come to the conclusion to forsake single life and enter upon the highway of hymeneal blessedness, and at once Rev. E. E. Hoshour of the Lutheran church, was sent for and at about eleven o'clock J. C. Hackett and Miss Mary A. Close joined hands and entered upon life's highway together. A Great Surprise is In Store. For those who will go to-day and get a package of GRAIN-O. It takes the place of coffee at about 1/2 the cost. It is a food drink, full of health, and can be given to the children as well as the adult with great benefit. It is made of pure grains and looks and tastes like the finest grades of Mocha or Java coffee. It satisfies everyone. A cup of Grain-O is better for the system than a tonic, because its benefit is permanent. What coffee breaks down Grain-O builds up. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, 15c. and 25c. JAS. CORNELLY FOUND GUILTY. Continued from 1st page. and the next day. George Cunningham testified to being in the Logan House the night of the fire at the Electric Light station and that it was but a very short time from the time of the blowing of the whistle until the lights went out and that he got the cart out and he with others ran down to the corner of Lamb and Spring streets, thinking that there was a plug there and there were two men standing there, and one of them told us to go on down to the Central railroad station, and that he thought the man that spoke was Cornely by his voice. William Dalley, watchman at the Central station, testified that Cornely came to him for the hose, not a minute from the blowing of the whistle. Pat Toner, lives in the same house that Cornely lived in. He testified that upon hearing the alarm of fire he ran to the window and that Cornely came to his window about the same time, and upon seeing the light told him that he believed that it was at R. B. Taylor's coal office, whereupon he put on his boots and ran down past the fire to the office and passed Cowher; did not see Cornely after speaking to him at the window until after the fire. Anthony Toner also living in the McKnight house saw Cornely on the sidewalk in front of the Humes house, and Cornely asked him to help him get Mrs. Nolan out, who was living in the Humes house. Charles R. Kurtz, editor of the Centre Democrat testified to having an interview with Mr. Faxon, the morning after the fire, and he told him that it was about five or ten minutes from the time he first smelled smoke until he blew the whistle. William Rogers testified that Gillespie was at the Electric Light station four times including the time he notified him of the Armory fire and that he had on an old suit and slouch hat, and that he had been at the Electric Light plant but three times prior to the night of the Armory fire, during his employment there. That the waste around the engine beds had caught fire twice. John Bauer, merchant testified that Cornely was working for him on April 28th and 29th the days Gillespie stated that he was talking with him at the Lamb street bridge, when he alleges he made the statements about seeing a big fire, if he is well acquainted enough. James McCalley testified that he knew that Cornely worked for Mr. Bauer on the 28th and 29th of April. Samuel Solt testified that he knows that Cornely ate his dinner at Meeks for a week, while Gillespie was boarding at Stines. John Trafford, overseer of the poor, testified to talking to Cornely the evening of the 20th of May, and that Cornely had been drinking some that day and evening and he started towards home when he left him. John Caldwell, a half brother of Cornely's, testified to Cornely and one soldiering for Mart Garman on April 19th and 20th when Gillespie alleges he had long talks with him. George R. Meek, assistant editor of Democratic Watchman, testified to inviting Cornely to meals and that he ate his meals quite frequently at their place during April, and that he had him doing work for him at his Thomas street house. Winifred Meek corroborated her brother. Walter Hampton testified to Cornely cutting sod and sodding for Mart Garman on the 19th and 20th of April. Calvin Dault, chief of police of Rochester, Pa., testified that he is well acquainted with A. W. Gillespie and that his reputation for truth and veracity is very poor, and his reputation for good behavior is not very good. Joseph Welsh and R. M. Cable corroborated Mr. Dault. Defendant rests at 5:15 and the commonwealth opens in REBUTTAL TESTIMONY. Thomos Faxon recalled, testified that Cornely stated to him and John L. Knisely that when the whistle blew, he bet it was the Electric Light station; corroborated by Mr. Knisely. Robert Carr, Samuel Black and W. D. Reno, of Rochester, Pa., testified that they had never heard Gillespie's reputation for truth and veracity questioned. Amos Mullin, police officer, testified to seeing Cornely at about eleven o'clock on the night of the Armory fire, and did not think he was intoxicated, but would not swear as to his condition. At 5:35 evidence closed on both sides and court adjourned till Friday morning when Ex-Judge Furst summed up the case for the defendant in an hour and thirty-three minutes, and the court then very ably charged the jury, instructing them as to the law applicable to the case, when the jury retired at 11:50 a. m. for deliberation. The indictment for burning the Electric Light station contained four counts: first attempting to burn the Electric Light plant; second, setting fire with intent etc.; third, burning Electric Light plant; and fourth, aiding, counselling, abetting, etc. The indictment in reference to the Armory contains three counts: first, attempt to burn the Armory; second, setting fire with intent etc.; third, aiding, counselling, abetting, etc., to burn. The jury returned at two o'clock with a verdict of not guilty on either count in the indictment for burning the Electric Light plant, and guilty in attempting to burn the Armory. Counsel for defendant moved for a retrial, reasons to be filed within ten days. OTHER COURT PROCEEDINGS. Com. vs. Allan Wagner, indicted for betrayal, prosecutrix Clara Shawley. The prosecutrix was removed from Philipsburg to Allegheny City sometime in April 1896 and employed the defendant to haul her goods to the railroad station for shipment, who kept one of her rocking chairs on account of a bill which the family owed him, and which the prosecutrix had agreed to pay. Verdict not guilty, and divided the costs equally. Com. vs. Jacob Prantz, charge: surety of the peace, prosecutrix Mary Prantz. The prosecutrix and the defendant are husband and wife, but have been separated for something over a year, and the prosecutrix alleges that the defendant has threatened to put his mark upon her, and she is afraid of him. After hearing the evidence the court discharged the defendant and ordered that each party pay one half of the record costs and pay their own witnesses. All the jurors were discharged and court adjourned until Saturday morning, at nine o'clock. Considerable time was taken up on Saturday morning in hearing petitions and motions, and several auditors were appointed to distribute the funds in decedent's estates. To the Honorable, the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Centre, August Sessions, 1897. Inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania inquiring for the County, in all matters relating to the same, do respectfully report: That we have acted upon twenty-four bills of indictment and have found twenty-one true bills and have ignored three. We beg leave to further report that we have visited and inspected the jail, jail yard, and grounds and find them as far as the housekeeping part is concerned in a good condition, but as to the sanitary condition of the jail we find it in a very unhealthy condition, and recommend the repairing of the water closets. We would recommend the following: papering of the hallway, hall and kitchen, also the sheriff's office; also new furniture for the same. We would also recommend that new locks for the prison doors or cells be procured and placed upon the doors, soon, also that at least three steel cells be placed in the jail. The cistern at the jail is in a very poor condition and would recommend its repair. Also, would recommend that the water closet that stands at one side of the jail near the jail yard, be removed and placed immediately behind the jail, sufficient distance from the jail wall to make it more secure from use as a means of prisoners escaping by this way. We also find the roof of the barn in very bad condition and recommend its repairing, along with a light for the barn. We would especially call attention to the ladies department, as not being a fit place for occupancy, for either sex, and would recommend its immediate remodeling, and further the jury has examined and inspected the court rooms, offices and grounds and have found that they have been kept in excellent condition, but find that the Court House and jury rooms need repairing and would recommend the repairing of the same. We desire to return thanks to the Court and District Attorney for uniform courtesy and assistance during our deliberations. J. M. PARKER, Foreman. August 26, 1897. No Match Race. The report that Lester Shaffer, of Bellefonte and Bud Moore, of Williamsport, had arranged for a race, for $35, is incorrect.
