DEATH: After a lingering illness, Mrs. Sadie Weaver, wife of Mitchell Weaver, of this place, died at her home near Eagleville, on Tuesday, Sept. 14, 1897. Her sickness was of a strange nature, her lungs having given her considerable trouble for several years. For about six months her suffering was almost unendurable, but she bore it all without a murmur until death laid its cold hand upon her, at 5 o'clock on Tuesday morning. She was a devout Christian, for several years, being a member of the Christian church at Blanchard. "Blessed are they which die in the Lord." Her pastor, Rev. M. S. Blair, officiated at the funeral, taking as his text, Rev. 21: 25. The pall-bearers were Messrs. W. R. Welch, K. D. Packer, D. R. Confer, J. I. Wensel, R. A. Poorman, and P. Ferringer. Interment was made in the Christian cemetery at Romola, on the 16th. The deceased was in the prime of life being only 24 yrs. 8 mos. and 16 days old. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver had been married about four years. Their home had been blessed with one child which died one year ago. The bereaved husband and other near relatives have our most sincere sympathy.

"We see but dimly through the mists an vapors:
Amid these earthly damps
What seems to us but sad, funeral tapres
May be heaven's distant lamps"

"There is no death: What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian,
Whose portal we call death."

"In that great cloister" stillness and seclusion.
By guardian angles led,
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,
She lives, whom we call dead."

A table had been prepared on the lawn in front of the residence about 60 feet long. It would be impossible for one to describe or give credit enough to the ladies who got the dinner up. Every thing was on the table that a man could ask for. After dinner was over and every one settled down, Mr. John A. Daley delivered an elegant speech telling all present to be aware of how fast time is passing by. Next was a speech by Mr. James M. Packer. Mr. Packer paid great credit to Mr. and Mrs. Robb as neighbors. Next was a song, "God be with you till we meet again." After this every body departed for their homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Robb would live to enjoy many more pleasant birthday's.

Inherited blood diseases are much more difficult to cure than those which are acquired. One of the most common hereditary diseases is Scrofula, which the medical profession admit is most obstinate and deep-seated, and their efforts to cure it meet with little success. A child afflicted with Scrofula is always puny and sickly, and can never grow into healthy manhood until the disease is eliminated. Scrofula leads into consumption nine times out of ten, so that it is important for this reason that immediate attention be given to all children who inherit the slightest taint.

Mrs. S. S. Mabry, 360 Elm St., Macon, Ga., writes:

"My boy, Charlie, inherited a scrofulous blood taint, and from infancy was covered with terrible sores, his sufferings being such that it was impossible to dress him for three years.

CHARLIE MABRY

His head and body were a mass of sores, and his nose was swollen to several times its natural size; to add to his misery he had catarrh, which made him almost deaf, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. A dozen blood remedies were given him by the wholesale, but they did not do the slightest good. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S.S.S. (Swift's Specific), and at first the inflammation seemed to increase, but as this is the way the remedy gets rid of the poison, by forcing it out of the system, we were encouraged and continued the medicine. A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health."

Mr. A. T. Morgan, one of the prominent druggists of Macon, and a member of the board of aldermen of that city, says: "I am familiar with the terrible condition of little Charlie Mabry, and the cure which S.S.S. effected in his case was remarkable, and proves it to be a wonderful blood remedy."

S.S.S. is the only cure for deep-seated blood diseases, such as Scrofula, Rheumatism, Cancer, Eczema, Catarrh, etc. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed
