THORN CONVICTED.

The Electric Chair Awaits William Guldensuppe's Murderer.

HE ACKNOWLEDGES HIS GUILT.

After the Verdict Was Rendered and He Was Removed to His Cell the Flend Declared That Mrs. Nack's Confession Was True.

New York, Dec. 1.-Martin Thorn was yesterday convicted of murder in the first degree in killing William Guldensuppe, his predecessor in the affections of Mrs. Augusta Nack, at Woodside, L. L, on June 25. At the request of Thorn's counsel the passage of the death sentence was deferred until next Friday morning. Thorn heard the jurymen polled on their verdict, and listened to each of them sealing his fate with a nervously uttered "yes." Thorn gazed at each one of them and appeared to less impressed with the solemnity be of the occasion than any one in the jury box. His face never changed color during the trying ordeal, but with lips firmly compressed and jaws hard set he faced the judge, jury and court room full of spectators with well feigned stoicism.

About three weeks ago Thorn's first trial on the charge of murder was begun in the Queens county court at Long Island City, but owing to the illness of a juror it had to be abandoned after three days. A second trial opened a week ago last Monday, and counting out three days on which the court did not sit the trial consumed only six days.

Mrs. Nack's testimony during the mistrial made it compulsory for Thorn's lawyers to change their line of defense in the second trial, and they immediately adopted the only plausible defense that could be conceived under such trying circumstances. They made a direct charge against Mrs. Nack, and insisted that her alleged confession was a lie, and that she herself was the instigator and perpetrator of the murder, Thorn being ignorant of the killing until after Guldensuppe had been shot by Mrs. Nack. The woman was not produced during the second trial, but Thorn went on the stand and substantiated all the assertions made by his lawyers as to the midwife's guilt. His story, if anything, was more dramatically told than that of Mrs. Nack, but, as the verdict shows, it did not have the desired effect upon the jurymen.

When court opened yesterday Lawyer Howe began a summing up in behalf of Thorn. He made an earnest, thoughtful and impressive appeal to the jury for his client, and it was thought by many who had the privilege of hearing him that his efforts would leave a very great impression on the jurors. Mr. Youngs followed, and held the attention of the jurors throughout his speech, which lasted almost an hour. Judge Maddox's charge was carefully prepared and well delivered. It was acknowledged by the lawyers for the prisoner to be extremely lucid, fair and impartial.

The jury remained in deliberation just three hours, when they sent word in exclusive society. to the judge that they were ready to render a verdict. The fact of their rene to the

PATHETIC SCENE IN COURT.

Severe Sentence of Eugene Moore, Ex-State Auditor of Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 1 .- Ex-State Auditor Eugene Moore, found guilty on Monday of embezzling $23,000 state funds, was yesterday sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary. The sentence was a surprise and a crushing blow to the prisoner, who had expected nothing but nominal punishment, and the scene in the court room was as affecting as it was dramatic. Moore, with his wife standing by his side, pleaded with the court for mercy, making a long and somewhat rambling statement. At its conclusion he sank in his chair, sobbing bitterly, his wife trying vainly to comfort him.

Judge Cornish, visibly affected, spoke slowly of the crime committed and of of 12 perishing. The bodies of the capthe entire absence of extenuating cir- tain and five seamen, all wearing lifecumstances. He said he believed no less than ten years in the penitentiary would satisfy outraged justice. As he paused Mrs. Moore threw her arms about her husband's neck and shouted, "Oh, please, judge, have mercy on him; have mercy.

ENGLAND GALE SWEPT.

One of the Worst Storms of Recent Years on Britain's Coast.

BIG LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

Many Large Vessels and Hundreds of Smaller Craft Wrecked, With Serious Damage to Property Ashore at Many Important Towns.

London, Nov. 30 .- The latest reports from various points along the coast show that the gale which swept English waters Saturday and Sunday night was one of the worst storms of recent years.

In many places it was almost cyclonic in its violence, and the long list of disasters includes a large loss of life, many wrecks of large vessels and the loss of scores, if not hundreds of smaller craft, with serious damage to property ashore at many important towns. In the north the wind was accompanied by blinding snow and hail that hid the lights and immensely increased the difficiuties of navigation. Many ships building, the bringing of a corps of are known to have foundered, in most cases, it is feared, with all on board. Scarcely a town on the coast has escaped with more or less injury, falling walls and flying debris adding to the loss of life.

> There have been rocket and lifeboat rescues almost without number. Stories of thrilling escapes come from all points. On the Norfolk coast, between Bacton and Mappisburg, five vessels, as yet unidentified, went down, and the crews of all perished. A number of bodies have been washed ashore near Yarmouth. The British brig Ruby was wrecked off Hemsby. The coast guard service made desperate efforts to save the crew and succeeded in getting a line on board. A dying woman was "rocketed" in safety, and then the brig capsized, all the rest of the ship's company perishing.

A large steam collier dashed upon Flamborough Head, the famous promonotory on the North sea coast, floated off, and then foundered with all on board. A steamer, not yet identified, was wrecked on Bridlington sands with her entire company.

Sunday evening the ship Rose of Devon, Captain Davis, went on the rocks near Red Ruth, Cornwall, where she pounded all night long, her crew belts, were washed ashore.

The British ship Larnica. Captain Burgess, was driven ashore near Fleetwood, at the entrance of Moretown bay, about 18 miles northeast of Preston. The crew were saved, but the position of the vessel is dangerous.

LIZZIE DE KALB'S ORDEAL.

She Takes a Ride to the Scene of the Kalser Murder. Norristown, Pa., Dec. 1.-There were no sensational developments yesterday in the Clemmer-DeKalb-Kaiser murder story. The alleged confession of Miss Lizzie DeKalb, which District Attorney Strasburger said, would be given out for publication within 24 hours, has not yet materialized. Counsel for Miss DeKalb said last evening that the latter had told the district attorney all she knew about the murder. He said that his client would probably be held as an accessory.

Yesterday afternoon Miss DeKalb was taken from the jail for a drive over the scene of the murder. She was accompanied by District Attorney Strasburger, ex-District Attorney Holand, her counsel, Mr. Jenkins, and Chief of Polie Dodenbaugh. No stop was made until the place where Mrs. Kaiser's watch was found was reached. The next stop was made near where the murder of Mrs. Kaiser is supposed to have been committed. by the defense, will prove beyond a doubt that Clemmer was a long dis-defense, but as each one of them took his seat in the jury box his facial expression told very distinctly the result of the three hours' conference. "Guilty of the charge preferred" were the ominous words which fell from the lips of the foreman of the jury, and although this verdict was not an unexpected one, it hit the defendant's counsel very hard, as they had built up the hope for a disagreement or a verdict in the minor degree. Thorn's lawyers moved for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was not in accordance with the weight of evidence, but the motion was overruled.

When Thorn had been led back to his cell after the conviction he admitted that the verdict was just, and that he. and not Mrs. Nack, killed Guldensuppe. This acknowledgment of guilt took place while Thorn's cell in the jail was being prepared for him. During the trial Thorn has been under charge of Police Captain Methven, of Flushing. Captain Methven had him under his watchful eye when the jail officials searched the cell Thorn is to occupy for a day or two. While this was being done Thorn talked with the police captain. He said:

"I am glad it is over and the verdict given. I am convicted, and I am contented. It was I who killed Guldenword that Mrs. Nack said upon the stand was substantially correct. When I was on the stand I lied when telling the story I did, but I lied to clear myself. It is no use carrying it any further. I am guilty and am convicted. It is what I expected, and what I suppose people think I deserve, and perhaps I do."

Just what will become of Mrs. Nack has not been made known by the Queens county authorities, but it is generally thought that the people will accept a plea from her which will not call for capital punishment.
