EDITORIAL.

THE DINGLEY DEFICIT.

President McKinley's excuse for calling an extra session of Congress and keeping it in session from the 15th of March to the first of August was that a revision of the tariff was necessary for increased revenue, and that the country could never prosper until the revenues were in excess of expenditures.

What has been the result of President McKinley's extra session and Republican legislation? Let the official figures tell the story.

Table with 2 columns: Month and Amount. July: $1,075,545; August: 14,594,432; September: 3,435,718; October: 9,309,097; November: 8,572,109.

The Dingley bill became a law July 24. The deficits for the last four fiscal years, ended June 30, have been as follows:

The three last years named were under the Wilson tariff and included the panic years. The McKinley tariff was in operation in 1894.

In round numbers the deficiency for the three years of the Wilson tariff was $86,000,000. That was bad enough.

In discussing the Dingley tariff in the Senate on May 26 Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, who had charge of the bill in the upper body, said:

"The adoption of a revenue bill which should fail in this purpose [of producing revenue], which should create an additional deficiency in the immediate future, which would require a further issue of bonds to meet current expenditures, would certainly be fatal to the hopes of future success of any political party responsible for such legislation."

What political party--what administration--is responsible for this illstarred, blundering and deficiency creating tariff?

SILVER TO GOLD.

The announcement is made that a life sized statue of President McKinley, made of pure gold, will be one of the wonders of the Paris Exposition of 1900.

"D" stands for: Dingleyism, Deficit, Depression, Despondency, Distress, "Damn a Democrat"

ZION NOTES.

Times are as dull as ever. The foot ball game expected to come off on Saturday, failed to materialize.

Mr. Sidney Miller, of Pleasant Gap, spent Monday here as the guest of B. A. Noll and wife.

Mr. S. F. Dorman and daughters, Anna and Katie, went to his father's at Clintondale, on Monday, to assist in butchering.

Commissioner's clerk, Nelson Robb, would like to see Mr. Chas. Diehl. We wonder if Charles had a lady friend who wanted a buggy ride.

Nineteen of our young men attended "Little Tixie" on Thursday night. They say that Johnson sat on the railing in the gallery.

That a certain young gentleman here says that his favorite kind of leather is Whiteleather.

The Gypsy fortune teller, who was with us once in the summer, has returned. She wears a linen duster and a straw hat.

X-MAS SERVICES--Christmas is near at hand and with it comes the annual exercises. There will be two entertainments here this year.

Mrs. Edward Cole is at Nittany, nursing her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Robb, who is suffering from a severe attack of diphtheria.

Although the necessary papers for the post office have arrived, our new post master, Mr. S. F. Dorman, has not taken charge as yet.

Rumor says that a new blacksmith shop will be opened some time during the summer. It will be located near the store room, occupied by B. A. Noll & Bro.

Miss Fannie Shaffer will entertain a few friends on Friday evening next. No doubt an enjoyable time will be spent by all present.

One might judge, by the number of hours a certain young man, from a neighboring town spends here in our town, in one night, that Cupid has let loose some of his deadly darts and that we may soon lose one of our young ladies.

A FAKE--Last Wednesday the people were very much excited over the report of Mr. Bickle being held up, while on his way to Bellefonte, and relieved of fifteen dollars.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams was buried last week.

Mr. Roland Richard moved on the old homestead, near Julian, recently.

Some of our teachers complain of poor attendance--the cause being the mumps.

Samuel Holobaugh will put upon the market, in the near future, a carbolic saive which he claims is unexcelled for its purposes.

Mr. Geo. Stevens, from Half Moon, expects to move on the farm now occupied by H. M. Stuart.

Mr. Wm. Gingery, who has been a victim of that dreadful disease, typhoid fever, is improving and will soon be able to be about again.

Mr. Jacob Hicks, and daughter Alice, of Half Moon, were helping to butcher at Ellis Williams' on Monday of this week.

Our Commissioner-elect, W. S. Williams, has already received lists of names from friends to put in the jury wheel, but as Mr. Williams will not be commissioned until January, and the wheel being filled by the old officers for the ensuing year, he will be unable to make use of such lists.

Tell a tale of love, This town has got its share. To some it is but fun, To others it is tires.

And still the wedding bells will ring, Miss Gertrude Keller, is recovering from a recent illness.

Thomas Williams expects to go to farming in the Spring.

William Bigger is weatherboarding his farm house, near this place.

Mr. John Mulfinger, who has been sick for the past week, is slowly recovering.

Rev. Leisher is holding meetings in the Lutheran church every night this week.

Mrs. Mary Gerbet, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday at the home of Sidney Miller.

transacting business in our town last week. The agent for Dr. Baker's famous medicine "Kings of Pain," was through this section recently.

Mrs. James Lambert, of Bellefonte, is visiting at the home of Mr. Thomas Noll, on Horntown Avenue.

Spring Mills. John S. Siegal, son of Daniel Siegal, died on Sunday morning, of catarrh fever. The body was taken to Madisonburg, on Tuesday for burial. His age was 8 months and 7 days.

M. L. Smith, the hustling installment dealer, of Johnstown, is in this section, visiting his brother.

C. F. Long is busy with his crew of men, lumbering near the Simon Henry farm. They turned their attention to coon hunting for a few hours. When the men were chopping a tree down they found that it was inhabited with coons and in cross-cutting a log they cut a coon in two. The coons found that there was no safety for them and commenced to come out and all hands then went for the coons. There were no guns, but the handspikes came in very handy. Every man to his post with a gun, they soon succeeded in bringing down two fine coons, while four made their escape.

COST ONLY $1.00--A year's subscription to this paper, for some friend, would be an appropriate X-mas gift, and cost but $1.00 when paid in advance. It would furnish them with all the news from this section regularly.

Stealing is still kept up. Mr. D. H. Ruhl lost a lot of chop the other evening. Keep it up, you will get to the right place where some one will be in wait for you, to give you the contents of a shot gun. Boy.
