

FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

Democrats Have Gained Twenty-one Seats.

SIBLEY WINS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Seven Other Democrats Also Defeat Republican Nominees—New Jersey Elects Two Democratic Congressmen and Maryland a Like Number.

New York, Nov. 9.—Returns received in this city from all over the country indicate that 85 Republicans and 109 Democrats have certainly been elected to seats in the national house of representatives. The same districts were years ago returned to the lower house of congress 105 Republicans and 9 Democrats. Based solely upon the estimates in these districts, a Republican loss of 20 and a Democratic gain of 21 is indicated. These estimates concede to the Democrats all of the congressional districts in Greater New York except one, the Fifteenth. The following are the Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland congressmen elected:

Pennsylvania—Galusha A. Grou and Samuel A. Davenport (at large), H. H. Bingham, Robert Adams, Jr., *Wm. McAleer, James R. Young, A. C. Harmer, Thomas S. Butler, Irving P. Wanger, *Daniel Ermentrout, Marriott Brosius, *Laird H. Barber, William Connell, Morgan R. Williams, *James W. Ryan, Marlin E. Olmstead, C. Fred Wright, Horace B. Packer, *Rufus K. Polk, Thad. M. Mahon, *Edward D. Zeigler, Joseph E. Thropp, Summers M. Jack, John Dalzell, William H. Graham, Ernest P. Acheson, J. B. Showalter, Thomas H. Higgins, *Joseph C. Sibley, *James K. P. Hall.

New Jersey—Henry C. Loudenslager, John J. Gardner, *S. Salmon, James F. Stewart, R. W. Parker, *William D. Daly, Charles N. Fowler. The Third district is in doubt.

Maryland—*John W. Smith, William B. Baker, Frank C. Wachtler, *James W. Denny, Sydney E. Mudd, George A. Pearce.

Those marked (*) are Democrats. The following table gives the number of congressmen elected in other states, with their party affiliations:

Table with 3 columns: State, Rep., Dem., Pop. Lists states from Alabama to Wyoming with corresponding counts.

Democrats Concede Ohio.

Columbus, Nov. 9.—Chairman Blacker, of the Democratic state committee, concedes the state to the Republicans by over 40,000 plurality, and Chairman Daugherty, of the Republican state committee, claims about 60,000. The Ohio congressional delegation remains the same as at present, 15 to 6, each party carrying precisely the same districts as at the presidential election two years ago. The Democrats do not concede the re-election of Congressman Weaver in the Seventh district, the home of Governor Bushnell. During the Hanna senatorial contest last January Congressman Weaver headed a delegation that called on Governor Bushnell and protested against the governor's action in the senatorial contest.

Republicans Carry Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Five and probably six congressmen have been gained in Illinois by the Democrats, and the next congressional delegation from this state is likely to be evenly divided, 11 Democrats and 11 Republicans. It is possible for the Republicans to have 12 of the 22 congressmen, as all the returns are not yet in, but the indications are for an even split on the delegation. The entire Republican state ticket is elected by about 30,000 plurality. In Cook county the vote has been very close, the Republicans carrying the county and the Democrats the city of Chicago. The Democratic plurality in the city is about 3,000, and the Republican plurality about the same in the county.

Wolcott's Plurality 70,000.

Boston, Nov. 9.—After a canvass without state issues and confined almost entirely to four congressional districts and a few local districts, the Republicans have again carried Massachusetts and elected Roger Wolcott governor for the fourth time, as well as the entire state and legislative ticket by safe majorities. Governor Wolcott's plurality over A. B. Bruce, his Democratic opponent, will be about 70,000, or 15,000 less than his lead last year. As in the past two years, Wolcott succeeded in carrying Boston, which is usually a Democratic city. The Republicans lost two, if not three congressional districts.

Both Parties Confident in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—Chairman Martin, of the Democratic committee, expresses himself as confident that the Democratic state ticket is elected by about 15,000 majority, together with a majority of the legislature. The Republican chairman makes the same claim for his side.

Fusion Defeated in California.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—At fusion headquarters at midnight it was conceded that Gage, Rep., had won the fight for the governorship.

VOORHEES CARRIES NEW JERSEY

The Republican Candidate Wins by a Plurality of 12,000.

Trenton, Nov. 9.—New Jersey has been carried by the Republicans, and Foster M. Voorhees, the Republican candidate, is elected by about 12,000 plurality. Essex county, which was conceded the fighting ground of both parties, has gone Republican by about 5,000, and both houses of the legislature will be Republican. This will insure the election of a Republican to succeed James Smith, Jr., Democrat, in the United States senate. Ex-Congressman John Keen is conceded to be the choice of the Republicans as Senator Smith's successor. The Democrats have elected two of the eight congressmen, Salmon in the fourth district and Daly in the Seventh. The only state senator elected by the Democrats is McDermott in Hudson county. This will make the senate stand 14 Republicans to 7 Democrats. Some irregularity in the printing of the ballots in Morris county may change the result there and defeat Pitney, the Republican candidate for the state senate, and also elect the Democratic assembly candidates. The assembly will probably stand 40 Republicans to 20 Democrats. This is all owing to the Republicans the two from Middlesex county, which is very close. The Democratic assemblymen elected are: Hudson, 11; Hunterdon, 2; Monmouth, 2; Salem and Essex each 1 and Warren, 2.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

A List of Senators and Assemblymen Elected Yesterday.

Burlington County—Joel Harner, Rep. Charles Wright, Rep. Bergen County—John M. Bell, Rep. Edmund W. Wakelee, Rep. Camden County—William J. Bradley, Rep. John R. McMurray, Rep. Edgar J. Coles, Rep.

Hudson County—The Democrats will carry Jersey City by about 2,800 and the county of Hudson by between 5,000 and 6,000. No Republicans will be elected to any position in the county or city. The Democrats have made a clean sweep. Allen H. McDermott is elected state senator.

Atlantic County—Atlantic county gives Voorhees over 300 plurality. The Democratic assembly ticket is probably elected.

Ocean County—Voorhees' plurality over Crane, 1,200. The Republican assembly ticket wins.

Union county gives Voorhees about 4,000 over Crane. The Republicans elect the three assemblymen.

Gloucester county gives Voorhees about 900 over Crane. The Republican assembly ticket is elected.

Middlesex county will probably give Crane 250 to 300 over Voorhees. It is thought 1 Republican and 2 Democratic assemblymen have been elected.

Mercer county will probably give Voorhees about 300 over Crane. The Republicans elect the 2 assemblymen.

Hunterdon County—Crane about 1,200 over Voorhees. The Democrats elect the two assemblymen.

Morris County—Voorhees about 205 over Crane. The Republicans elect the two assemblymen.

Sussex county gives Crane 600 over Voorhees. The Democrats elect the two assemblymen.

Northampton county gives Crane 500 over Voorhees. The Republicans elect the assemblymen.

Cumberland county gives Voorhees 1,600 over Crane. The Republicans elect the two assemblymen.

New Jersey Congressman in Doubt.

Trenton, Nov. 9.—The latest returns indicate some doubt as to the Republican majority in the senate. The third district for congress, Howell, Rep., has carried Middlesex and Somerset counties by 800, but returns from Monmouth are meager and conflicting. Monmouth is naturally a Democratic county, and Convery, Dem., may have defeated Howell.

The Vote in Utah.

Salt Lake, Nov. 9.—Tickets are badly scratched, and returns are slow. At 1 o'clock this morning returns from 24 precincts in city and state give Roberts, Dem., for congress 923; Eldredge, Rep., 767; Zane, Rep., for judge, 788; Baskin, Dem., 878. No reliable information on legislative tickets.

TWO VERY CLEVER SISTERS

Unique and Profitable Occupation of Two Chicago Women.

To Miss Beatrice Tonneson and her sister, Clara Tonneson Kirkpatrick, belongs the honor of having originated a unique and successful method of producing advertisements. When Miss Tonneson, whose work as a portrait photographer is already well known all over the United States, decided to come to Chicago in search of a wider career, her sister, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, furthered the project in numberless helpful ways. A year later she came to Chicago herself to take up the business management of her sister's studio, she being one of the "born managers" predestined to success in all their undertakings, and in her busy brain, it is said, the "Tonneson models," now attaining to fame and fortune the world over, were first born. Many of the clever advertising ideas of which Miss Tonneson makes a specialty also owe their origin to Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

The idea once understood, however dimly, the two clever sisters work them out together, the success of their efforts being proved by the fact that orders come to the Chicago woman photographers from almost every large city in the world. The advertising work, according to these two bright exponents of it, offers the widest possible scope of opportunity and variety of labor; in the making of the beautiful pictures—sometimes calling for the use of as many models and "properties" as would be needed for the production of an ordinary play—both Miss Tonneson and her sister find the greatest delight. The studio work is all done by the pretty young photographer herself; to Mrs. Kirkpatrick belongs the credit due to the successful engineering of the complicated preliminaries which make a "Tonneson picture" so valuable in the opinion of advertising managers.

A Town Without a Woman.

Situated on a promontory on the coast of Macedonia, known as the "Mountain of the Monks" because there are no fewer than twenty magnificent monasteries scattered in the sheltered recesses or on the tops of the lofty crags, lies Athos, a community where all the inhabitants are men, says the Girl's Own Paper. There dwell in this secluded spot, cut off from all the pomps and vanities of the world, the devotees of an extraordinary system of asceticism, quietism and superstition. The town proper is called Caryes, where there are to be found all the essential features of civilized life—streets of shops and bazaars, filled with bustling and eager customers, copper-smiths plying their trade, and fruiterers piling up their wares. But never is seen the form or face of mother, wife, sister, daughter, lover, child or infant.

Strange to say, the superstition runs that it was the Virgin herself who banished her sex from this spot. In one of the Athonite monasteries is a miraculous icon—an image or representation precious in the eyes of worshippers of the Russo-Greek Church. The legend, firmly believed by all, runs that one day the picture of the Virgin called to the Empress Pulcheria, as she was going to her devotions, saying, "What do you, a woman, here? Depart from this church, for women's feet shall no more tread this floor." The Empress obeyed the injunction, although she had greatly enriched and beautified the building. Since that day no woman or female animal has lived on the promontory, and only the birds have broken the order. But it is only on the wing they do so. When fowls are on the table they are sure to be cockerels, for not even dead hens are imported. The monks are celebrated for their kindness and hospitality.

Cast-Off Clothes of the Rich.

What do great ladies do with their gowns and their mantillas? When Mrs. Vanderbilt gets through with a dinner frock it is not worn out. Mrs. Astor seldom wears her ball dresses until they are entirely useless. What does become of the old dresses of the rich and prosperous? Once, when ladies used to bequeath "their second-best beds" to their friends, they used also to will their sealskin coats and their silk pelisses. Those days are gone. Nowadays women sell their finery to second-hand dealers.

One Fifth avenue "importer" imports most of her goods from the wardrobes of dead women. She keeps on hand a supply of French and English packing boxes. She buys the wardrobe of some deceased society woman and goes carefully through it. She selects the scarcely worn garments, freshens them up a bit, packs them daintily and re-sells them. Many of her customers have no idea of the way in which she obtains her goods. Of course, this is possible only with handkerchiefs, stockings, underwear, gloves, slippers and the like. Frocks would be too easily recognized.

Therefore, the wise dealer sells the gowns to dressmakers, who freshen them up for out-of-town customers.

True Only of Some Women.

No longer do the women go into the kitchen and put up their own preserves and make their own pastry and cake. Instead, they organize women's exchange bureaus, where they can buy such home-made things to help along the poorer women who still know how to cook.

A hat suitable for large women this year is of braided straw, the crown being encircled by three flounces of turquoise taffeta ribbon, a tight band running around the crown. A spiral of ribbon and bunch of morning glories form the side trimming.

A MODERN WASHINGTON.

"No, mamma, I cannot tell a lie; I stamped all the jam."

"She was originally a New York girl who married a Chicago shoemaker, and was left a widow without a home."—Harlem Life.
