Rebersburg.

We hope our burg will not die over Christmas. A number of our people are taking advantage of the sleighing.

The sausage subject is now old, since nearly every family of our burg has a fair supply.

Mr. Reigel, the Salona butcher, was in our burg on Monday to buy a new supply of pork.

Wm. Losh and wife, of near Hublersburg, were the guests of Mr. Steininger over Sunday.

Our registration assessor, L. B. Frank, despite the severe storm of last week, was around attending to his duty.

The Methodist people, of Kreamerville, we understand, have a good revival meeting; two have confessed conversion and four are penitents.

Rev. Salem, of Scalp Level, who preached a trial sermon in the Lutheran church, was almost unanimously voted for by the Lutheran congregation. No doubt he would be the man who would suit nearly every Lutheran member.

The sale of our ex-landlord, Austin Gramley, was well attended on last Friday. Things were disposed of at a fair price. In a few weeks Mr. Gramley will take charge of a Millinburg hotel. We are sorry to see such an old citizen leave.

The fair daughter of our landlord, Miss Annie Nearhood, did just more than a little enjoy her week's visit to Salona and Lock Haven. No doubt Annie is now convinced of the fact that there are some fine young gentlemen in Clinton co.

Miss Lulu Erhard left our burg last Thursday for Lock Haven, where she will spend the winter in learning the dress-making trade. Miss Lulu will be very much missed by her friends, and yet still more in the Lutheran choir, of which she was a faithful member.

Mingoville.

W. R. Shope has moved his mill into another tract, owned by Harvey Runkle. Wm. Maize who has been sick for quite a while, is able to be around again.

Jno. Maize bought a Winchester shot gun. Now lookout for the game. He knows how to handle it.

There has been quite a number of wild turkeys killed on Nittany mountain, and the sporting men with their hammerless, breech-loading, double-barrel-shot-guns, pointers and setters, are not getting them all. The farmer boys, with their old muskets, fags, terriers and hounds are getting the majority that are killed.

Miss Edna and Mattie Miller, of Pleasant Gap, were the guests of their cousin, Mrs. D. M. Dunkie, a few days last week.

Miss Lulu Johnson is around soliciting orders for soap. Everyone should patronize her as the soap is alright.

T. Dunkie and wife spent a couple days with their daughter, over at Blanchard last week.

Our hunters have been having some sport chasing a large bear. They saw him several times, but did not get the chance to kill him. There is not snow enough to track him to his den.

J. H. Dunkie was unfortunate enough to lose a valuable cow last week. It had been gored by another cow, and was the best one he owned.

Miss Gertie Zong spent a few days with Mrs. J. B. Royer, of Bellefonte.

S. Zimmerman and family spent Sunday at Chas. Ghas's, of Marion.

Lyman Bickle and family, of Zion; Chas. Zong and Maggie Pierce, of Juniata county, were the guests of M. M. Zong, on Sunday.

A party of young men started for the mountains on Tuesday morning to hunt for pheasants and rabbits.

Miss Snook went over to Millheim to spend the winter.

Quite a number of rabbits have been killed in this vicinity.

J. T. Daakle is spending this week at the county seat. He is jurymen.

THREE SPORTS.

There were three sports from Reading. But one wild Turk they got; But, while down the mountain leading, Another they should have shot.

Nine and thirty pheasants They bagged along the line; But counting good shots missed, They should have fifty-nine.

And when the quail were started With a "wiz," so full of fun, They emptied quickly thirty shells, Yet bagged but twenty one.

And when the bonnie rabbit-- Jumped the heather 'er, They bagged just one round dozen And then could see no more.

And the chipper little squirrel, That jumped from tree to tree, Now mourn with "wavy hair"-- For those gunners, they got three.

And far up the mountain side, Near a log as dry as punk, With guns reversed and muffled drums, They buried a white-faced skunk.

And now we leave this joyous hunt, And on our hearts forever Will linger memories of this hunt, And how all our limbs grow stiffer.

The mountain climbing being done, And to the club return, Our old friend Peck was full of fun; His fires most brightly burned.

Then to the dining room we'd go, Each trying the first to start, And you can bet we were not slow To test our mamma's art.

Take all together, we do not know (Though we've traveled round the hub) Of better service than they show, At the Nittany Gun Club.

Big Hogs.

Our farmers always take pride in raising large porkers. Since the butchering season has commenced there are reports of some nice ones already. Anyone killing anything above 500 pounds, in this line, is requested to send the weight of same to our office for publication.
