

PEACE TREATY SIGNED.

Points of the Famous Document That Ends the War.

NO CLAIMS FOR INDEMNITY.

The United States Will Settle the Claims of Its Citizens—Spaniards Remaining in Conquered Territories May Preserve Allegiance to Spain.

Paris, Dec. 12.—The work of the peace commission was concluded on Saturday evening, when the treaty was signed by both the Spanish and American commissioners. The treaty consists of 17 articles, it having been found advisable to subdivide two or three of the articles in the draft formerly agreed upon.

Spain relinquishes all claims of sovereignty over and title to Cuba, and as the island is, upon its evacuation by Spain, to be occupied by the United States the latter will, so long as such occupation shall last, assume and discharge the obligations in respect to protection of life and property which may, under international law, result from the fact of its occupation.

Spain cedes to the United States the Island of Porto Rico and the other islands now under Spanish sovereignty in the West Indies, with Guam, in the Ladrones Islands.

Spain cedes to the United States the archipelago known as the Philippine Islands.

The United States will, for a term of ten years from the date and exchange of ratifications of the present treaty, admit Spanish ships and merchandise to the ports of the Philippine Islands on the same terms as the ships and merchandise of the United States.

The United States will, upon the signature of the present treaty, send back to Spain, at its own cost, the Spanish soldiers taken as prisoners of war on the capture of Manila by the American forces. The arms of the soldiers in question shall be restored to them. Spain will, upon the signature of the present treaty, release all prisoners of war and all persons detained or imprisoned for political offenses in connection with the insurrection in Cuba and the Philippines and the war with the United States.

The United States will release all persons made prisoners of war by the American forces and will undertake to obtain the release of all Spanish prisoners in the hands of the insurgents in Cuba and the Philippines.

The United States will, at their own cost, return to Spain and the government of Spain will, at its own cost, return to the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico or the Philippines, according to the situation of their respective homes, the prisoners released or caused to be released.

The United States and Spain mutually relinquish all claim for indemnity, national and individual, of every kind, of either government, or of its citizens or subjects, against the other government that may arise since the beginning of the late insurrection in Cuba and prior to the exchange of ratifications of the present treaty, including all claims for indemnity for the cost of the war. The United States will adjudicate and settle the claims of its citizens against Spain, relinquished under this stipulation.

Spanish subjects, natives of the peninsula, residing in the territory which Spain relinquishes, may remain in such territory or may remove therefrom, retaining in either event all their rights of property, including the right to sell or dispose of such property or its proceeds, and they shall also have the right to carry on their industry, commerce or profession, being subject in respect thereof to such laws as are applicable to other foreigners. In the event of their remaining in the territory they may preserve their allegiance to the crown of Spain by making a declaration of their decision to preserve such allegiance, in default of which declaration they shall be held to have renounced it.

The civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territory hereby ceded to the United States shall be determined by congress. The inhabitants of the territory over which Spain relinquishes or cedes her sovereignty shall be secured in the free exercise of their religion.

Spaniards residing in the territories over which Spain cedes or relinquishes her sovereignty shall be subject in matters civil as well as criminal to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country in which they reside, pursuant to the ordinary laws governing the same, and they shall have the right to appear before such courts and to pursue the same course as citizens of the country to which the courts belong.

The rights of property secured by copyrights and patents acquired by the Spaniards in the ceded territories shall continue to be respected. Spanish scientific, literary and artistic works shall continue to be admitted free of duty into such territories for a period of ten years.

Spain shall have the right to establish consular offices in the ports and other places of the territories, sovereignty over which has been either relinquished or ceded. The government of each country will, for a term of ten years, accord to the merchant vessels of the other country the same treatment as it accords to its own merchant vessels not engaged in coastwise trade. This provision may at any time be revoked on six months' notice given by either government to the other.

The treaty must be ratified within six months.

Marsh Gets Twelve Years.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—Gideon W. Marsh, president of the wrecked Keystone National bank, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Butler in the United States district court to 12 years and three months in the Eastern penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $500 and the costs of prosecution. The sentence is the heaviest given to any prisoner in the United States district court in this city within 20 years.

Harcourt Resigns Leadership.

London, Dec. 14.—Right Rev. Hon. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, member of parliament for West Monmouthshire, and, since the resignation of Gladstone, the official leader of the Liberal party in the house of commons, has resigned the leadership. Lord Rosebery will undoubtedly succeed him as the Liberal leader.

BRYAN TO FIGHT EXPANSION.

Declares Our Country Cannot Endure "Half Free and Half Vassal."

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 14.—Colonel W. J. Bryan, upon his leaving his command yesterday, the Third Nebraska regiment, gave the following interview: "My reason for leaving the army was set forth in my letter to the adjutant general tendering my resignation. Now that the treaty of peace has been concluded, I believe that I can be more useful to my country as a civilian than a soldier."

"The people of the United States, having rescued Cuba from foreign control, may now resume the discussion of the domestic problems which confront this nation and to the consideration of the new questions arising out of the war."

"I may be in error, but in my judgment our nation is in greater danger just now than Cuba. Our people defended Cuba against foreign arms; now they must defend themselves and their country against a foreign idea—the colonial idea of European nations. Heretofore greed has perverted the government and used its instrumentalities to interfere for private gain, but now the very foundation principles of our government are assailed."

"The imperialistic idea is directly antagonistic to the idea and ideals which have been cherished by the American people since the signing of the declaration of independence. Our nation must give up any intention of entering upon a colonial policy (such as is now pursued by European countries) or it must abandon the doctrine that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. This nation cannot endure half republic and half colony—half free and half vassal. Our form of government, our traditions, our present interests and our future welfare all forbid our entering upon a career of conquest."

Colonel Bryan favors ratifying the treaty of peace and then "dealing with the subject in our own way." He left last night for Washington, and intends to enter actively into the fight against a colonial policy.

SENATOR KENNEY'S TRIAL.

The Prosecution Springs a Surprise on the Accused.

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 14.—The taking of evidence in the trial of Senator Kenney was concluded yesterday, and the district attorney began his argument, which he continued today. It is believed the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

The most sensational testimony yesterday was that of W. H. Miller, treasurer of the Bay State Gas company. Mr. Miller presented a bill rendered the company in July, 1896, by Senator Kenney for legal services for one year, payment in advance. The bill was for $5,000, and showed over Mr. Kenney's signature that 300 shares of Bay State Gas at $10 a share had been paid on account. The bill was properly vouched for and approved by the executive committee of the company and paid to the senator.

Mr. Kenney in his cross examination by the district attorney said he never acted as private counsel for the company. He admitted that he had received a retainer of 100 shares of the gas stock from a gentleman, whose name and the relations existing between them he refused at that time to make public. Yesterday he said the voucher was given for legal services to be performed for J. Edward Addicks, president of the Bay State Gas company, in the following Delaware legislature in the matter of a divorce from his wife.

The trial of Senator Kenney occupied all of last week, the principal witnesses being the senator himself and Boggs, the convicted teller of the Dover bank. Boggs testified that he frequently loaned the senator the bank's money when the latter had no money in bank, that the senator was aware of his (Boggs') thefts, and had advised him to flee to Cuba. These statements the senator vigorously denied. Colonel Cooper, serving time in Trenton for complicity with Boggs, testified in the senator's behalf.

GENERAL GARCIA DEAD.

The Distinguished Cuban Soldier a Victim of Pneumonia.

Washington, Dec. 13.—General Caixto Garcia, the distinguished Cuban warrior and leader, and the head of the commission elected by the Cuban assembly to visit this country, died here shortly after 10 o'clock Sunday morning at the Hotel Raleigh. The commission has its headquarters here. The sudden change from the warm climate of Cuba, with the hardships he had there endured, to the wintry weather of New York and Washington is responsible for the pneumonia which resulted in his death. On Tuesday night General Garcia, in company with the other members of the commission, attended dinner given in his honor by General Miles, and it was a result of the exposure to that night which culminated in his death.

By direction of Major General Miles a detachment of soldiers from Battery E, Sixth artillery, at the barracks here, under command of Lieutenant Cox, was detailed as a body guard for the remains.

The funeral of General Garcia took place today at St. Patrick's Catholic church. The honorary pallbearers were Generals Miles, Shafter, Wheeler, Lawton and Ludlow, Secretary Hay, Senators Proctor, Thurston, Money and Mason and Hon. John H. Proctor, of the civil service commission. After the services at the church the remains were taken to Arlington and placed temporarily in a receiving vault pending their final interment in Cuba at a time to be hereafter determined.

Spanish Bunco Game Checked.

Washington, Dec. 14.—From information received here it appears that the autonomist government of Cuba, established about one year ago, is making a strenuous effort to dispose of a number of very valuable franchises and concessions before the advent of the military government of the United States. These franchises and concessions include the right to construct and operate the Central railroad line of the island, including 11 branches, and also a network of electric tramways for Havana. The Spaniards proposed to dispose of the franchises on Dec. 29, two days before American occupation, and they were to run 99 years. An order from President McKinley, however, has nipped the scheme in the bud.

EIGHT WORKMEN KILLED.

An Appalling Accident on the New York Central Railroad.

THE BODIES HORRIBLY MANGLED.

The Men Were Shoveling Snow, and in Leaving the Freight Track to Escape an Approaching Train Stepped in Front of an Express.

Buffalo, Dec. 14.—Eight men were killed and three injured yesterday at Winesapre bridge, near Corfu, on the New York Central railroad. The men were engaged in shoveling snow, of which there were numerous drifts on the line. All were frightfully mutilated. The men stepped from one track to avoid an approaching train, right in front of a fast express train running in the same direction as the first, and were literally ground to pieces.

John Warner and gang were working on track No. 3. A freight train was laboring its way ponderously up the steep incline. Its motion was so slow that the men continued their work until the train was almost upon them. Then they jumped out of the way. Some jumped to the right, others to the left. Those who jumped to the north were struck by the express train coming down track No. 2 with fearful velocity. There is a straight piece of track here, and the engineer had a clear view down the stretch. No snow was falling. As soon as he realized the appalling situation he brought the train up with a jerk that threw the passengers out of their seats. It was too late, however, to avoid the calamity.

The bodies were scattered over a large area. Some had been thrown a distance of 60 feet. Others were thrown against the freight train and their bodies horribly cut and dismembered. The body of one man was hurled on to the top of the freight train and carried nearly two miles. The bowels of some of the men were scattered along the track. Brains oozed from shapeless skulls. Dismembered legs, arms and bodies strewn the crimson snow.

The more fortunate companions of the dead and injured gathered up the remnants together as nearly as they could judge in human form, and placed them tenderly in the baggage car of the train that killed them, and they were taken to Buffalo.

The dead are: John Warner, of Buffalo, foreman of the shoveling gang, instantly killed; Henry Gunnison, Buffalo, instantly killed; six unidentified men, supposed to be Poles.

Engineer Smith, of the express, in an interview said: "I could see nothing ahead of me, but I thought the place looked bad and blew the whistle. I had let up on the whistle, when I heard my fireman give a yell. He did not call for brakes, but I stepped on the air the minute I heard him. He had seen a man beside the track, though he had not seen any one struck then. A moment after I applied the brakes I saw a man shoot up into the air on my side of the cab. He was as high as the smokestack when I saw him. He came down on the freight train, which was running along on that side. My train stopped in about two train lengths, and the sight that I saw when I got out was the most horrible I have ever witnessed. The dead and mangled were lying on the right of the track just as they had been thrown. I did not see them until after we had struck them. I did not see them come on the track, and until my fireman yelled I did not know they were there."

MAMMOTH TANK COLLAPSES.

Three Known Dead and Many Nearly Drowned by a Sudden Flood.

New York, Dec. 14.—The great steel gas tank of the Consolidated Gas company, at Avenue A and Twentieth street, the largest of its kind in the world, collapsed late yesterday afternoon. It went down with a crash and a roar like a great explosion. Masonry of granite blocks and bricks to the height of 50 feet fell like a child's toy house of blocks, loosened from bondage 8,000,000 gallons of water, deluged the streets and in a ten foot tidal wave carried death and destruction through the surrounding neighborhood. It is not known how many were killed and injured. The list of injured is very large. The dead so far recovered are: Andrew Wendt, workman; Pious Baum, chief engineer of the Consolidated Gas company, and said to be jointly responsible for the work with Contractor Logan, was also placed under arrest. Both were charged with homicide, and their bail was placed at $10,000 each.

Ex-Cashier Steele Convicted.

Philadelphia, Dec. 13.—William Steele, former cashier of the Chestnut Street National bank, was yesterday found guilty of conspiracy and making false reports to defraud and deceive the comptroller, bank directors and public. The jurors were at once discharged, and Steele taken into an ante-room, where he said good-by to his wife and family, all of whom were overcome with grief. He was then taken to the county jail to await sentence. Steele did not profit a dollar in the bank looting. He obeyed the orders of the late William M. Singler in violating the law.

Secretary Bliss May Resign.

Washington, Dec. 14.—It is very probable that Secretary Bliss will tender his resignation within a short time to the president. He has had the step under consideration for some time, deeming it necessary that he should be free to devote more time to his large business interests. His resignation, it can be stated, will not be due in the least to any differences with the president or his other advisers. It is presumed official announcement will not be made until the president has chosen Mr. Bliss' successor.

Modern Treatment of Consumption

The latest work on the treatment of diseases, written by forty eminent American physicians, says: "Cod-liver oil has done more for the consumptive than all other remedies put together."

It also says: "The hypophosphites of lime and soda are regarded by many English observers as specifics for consumption."

Scott's Emulsion

contains the best cod-liver oil in a partially digested form, combined with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This remedy, a standard for a quarter of a century, is in exact accord with the latest views of the medical profession. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion.
