Formal Transfer of Cuba to the American Authorities.

GENERAL CASTELLANOS WEPT.

The Retiring Captain General Unable to Control His Emotion as He Bade Farewell to Spanish Control on This Hemisphere.

Havana, Jan. 2.—The sovereignty of Cuba passed from Spain to the United States at noon yesterday. The form of the transfer was simple, consisting only of an exchange of speeches in the salon of the palace, the hauling down of the Spanish flag and the raising in its stead of the flag of the United States on the flagstaff on the palace roof. Salutes were fired from the heavy guns of the forts and the warships before and after the change of flags. The raising of the Stars and Stripes was greeted with cheers by the people who covered the roofs of the buildings around the palace and plaza.

Generals Wade and Butler, of the American evacuation commission, were the first to arrive at the palace, where they were met by General Clous and Major Mott. Then followed Generals Brooke and Chaffee and a number of Cuban generals. As they passed along the Spanish troops presented arms and the band played "The Stars and Stripes Forever." Then came General Fitzhugh Lee and his staff, who joined General Brooke.

On entering the palace the American generals went to the salon facing the plaza, which is on the second floor. Here were gathered the members of the captain general's staff.

Suddenly Captain General Castellanos entered the salon without ceremony from the left and greeted General Brooke and others. After shaking hands General Brooke sat upon a sofa, while General Castellanos moved towards the group of Cuban generals, British Vice Consul Jerome introduced him to General Maya Rodriguez. Shaking both the hands of the Cuban officer, in the usual Spanish fashion, General Castellanos said:

"We have been enemies, but I respect you for your correct attitudes and opinions. I have pleasure in shaking your hand."

General Rodriguez replied: "I thank you, general. I feel sorry for the Spanish army, which has defended the banner it was sworn to defend. I also have pleasure in shaking your hands." At the last stroke of 12 the boom of a gun brought all eyes to the point in the room where stood the captain general, who was talking with an American officer. Immediately all was silence. The captain general stepped to the left, taking his position directly in front of his staff.

At this moment the band on the plaza was playing the Spanish national hymn. As the guns at Cabanas fortress ceased firing there was a breathless pause in the salon. Everybody knew that the American flag was being raised on the staff on the roof of the palace by Major Butler, son of General Butler, and that the Stars and Stripes was going up on all the other official staffs in Havana. After this second of silence the band on the plaza played "The Star Spangled Banner," while the guns of the fleet and fortresses began to roar out the national salute of 21 guns.

Immediately Captain General Castellanos handed the manuscript of his speech to Captain Hart and began to speak.

Addressing himself to Major General Wade, president of the United States military commission, though he seemed to look at the floor, General Castellanos said:

"Gentlemen: In compliance with the treaty of Paris, the agreement of the military commissioners of this island and the orders of my king at this moment of noon, Jan. 1, 1899, there ceases in Cuba Spanish sovereignty and begins that of the United States. In conclusion, I declare you in command of the island, with the object that you may exercise it, declaring to you that I will be first in respecting it. Peace having been established between our respective governments, I promise you to give all due respect to the United States government, and I hope that the good relations already existing between our armies will continue until the termination of the evacuation of those under my orders in this territory."

After Captain Hart had translated the address General Wade said to General Brooke:

"I transfer this command to you." Major General Brooke said: "I accept this great trust in behalf of the government and president of the United States, and (addressing Captain General Castellanos) I wish you and the gallant gentlemen with you a pleasant return to your native land. May prosperity attend you and all who are with you."

Generals Brooke and Castellanos then shook hands, after which General Castellanos and staff retired from the throne room. As he bid farewell to his officers General Castellanos said, with tears in his eyes: "Gentlemen, I have been in more battles than I have hairs on my head, and my self possession has never failed me until today. Adieu, gentlemen, adieu."

Then he moved swiftly toward the stairway, escorted by General Chaffee, and followed by his staff. As he crossed the plaza the American ladies who were standing in the balcony of the barracks waved their handkerchiefs, and General Castellanos responded by bowing and kissing his hand toward them. At the corner of the plaza, with tears in his eyes, he turned to take a final look at the palace. He could see the American generals on the balcony. Without a word he turned sharply in the direction of the wharf. At the dock Generals Clous and Chaffee bade him farewell, and the retiring captain general put off for the Spanish transport Rabat, on which he will proceed to Matanzas.

After the departure of the Spaniards General Brooke held a reception, during which he told the Cuban officers that he would expect their hearty co-operation, which was solemnly pledged.

The parade of the United States troops gave Cubans an opportunity to show their regard for General Fitzhugh Lee, who was given a continuous ovation.

AMBASSADOR ROMERO DEAD.

Mexico's Representative in Washington a Victim of Appendicitis.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Ambassador Romero, of Mexico, died last Friday as the result of an operation for appendicitis.

THE LATE SENOR ROMERO.

He was 62 years old. The remains will be taken to Mexico for interment. The president sent a telegram of condolence to the Mexican government. The president and cabinet attended the funeral services this afternoon.

THE ILOILO INSURGENTS.

They Declare That Only Unarmed American Troops Can Land.

Manila, Jan. 4.—Advices just received from Iloilo say the rebels, at a meeting on Saturday, ratified the action of a delegation which assured the Americans that they might land unarmed, but that if the latter landed armed the natives would be uncontrollable.

It is further said that every preparation is being made for resistance upon the part of the rebels, and that reinforcements are arriving from Negros and the neighboring islands in spite of the efforts of the United States cruiser Baltimore and the gunboat Arizona to scare them with searchlights. The Spanish gunboat El Cano is still at Iloilo, but as her status is not defined she has not been molested. It is understood that she is destined to go to Sambangan, a town of the Philippine Islands on the southwest extremity of the island of Mindanao.

The American troops are restless. The rebels are drilling on the beach, evening and morning, in full view of the American expedition, which is still afloat.

The California volunteers were embarked on four transports at Manila yesterday. Their destination is unknown. The natives here are quiescent, but watchful.

The American expedition at Iloilo consists of a signal detachment, Battery G, of the Sixth artillery, the Eighteenth regulars and the Fifty-first Iowa regiment.

General Rios has cabled to Madrid confirming the report that all the Spaniards at Balabac, an island of the Philippine group situated 20 miles south of Palawan, have been assassinated, with the exception of the women, whose release is being asked for.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER EXPLODES.

Engineer Killed and Three Others Severely Injured—One May Die.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 4.—A terrible explosion wrecked Philadelphia and Reading engine No. 911, drawing an extra freight eastbound, a short distance east of Bowers station, this county, shortly before 2 o'clock in the morning. Those on the locomotive were: William Weaver, of Myerstown, engineer; Joshua Robeson, conductor; Adam J. Epp, front brakeman; Harry Young, fireman.

When the explosion occurred Young was standing in the tank and the others were in the cab. Young was hurled backward and severely scalded and burned about the face and back. As soon as the train came to a stop he hurriedly returned to the scene of the disaster.

Engineer Weaver was found pinned fast in the cab, dead; Robeson was unconscious, having sustained a crushed skull; Brakeman Epp was burned and bruised about the body. Robeson's condition is critical.

What seems remarkable is that not a single car was wrecked. Word was telegraphed to Reading and a relief engine hurried to the scene of the explosion. What caused the explosion is not known.

Imprisoned Judges Released.

Kansas City, Jan. 4.—Another chapter in the celebrated St. Clair county bond case was closed yesterday, when Judge Phillips, of the United States circuit court, ordered the release from the county jail of Thomas Newitt and Thomas Gill, judges of the St. Clair county court, who have been in contempt of the federal court since June last, when they refused to obey the order of the federal judge directing them to levy a tax upon the property holders of St. Clair county for the purpose of satisfying the repudiated bonds. The St. Clair county judges ceased to be in contempt of the federal court simply because their term of office had expired.

Cuban Soldiers Waiting For Pay.

Havana, Jan. 2.—The continuance of the Cubans in arms is the most puzzling question connected with the administration of the island. The negotiations for the payment of the soldiers are to be conducted from Washington, so as to relieve Major General Brooke of this difficulty. For the present the Cuban commanders are holding their men closely together and under discipline. They say that they expect the United States to pay them, and that they will not disband until they get an answer. There are probably 35,000 men able to work, but now sponging on the country.

The Massacre at Balabac.

London, Jan. 4.—The Madrid correspondent of The Daily Mail says: In the rebellion at Balabac Naval Lieutenant Bellamy was beheaded. The rebels also murdered a doctor and several other Europeans. A gunboat fired on the rebels, but its commander was unable to effect the release of the women.

WOOD COMING HOME.

The Commander at Santiago Will Lodge a Protest.

THE EXCITEMENT IN SANTIAGO.

The People Up in Arms Against the Order to Transmit the Customs Receipts Weekly to Havana—A "Hillo of Spanish Misrule."

Santiago de Cuba, Jan. 4.—Major General Leonard Wood, the American military commander here, cabled for permission to go to Washington for two days, and has been granted leave of absence. He left Santiago on board the United States transport Mississippi this morning. The Cubans made an elaborate demonstration on General Wood's departure. A band escorted him to the wharf and the members of the supreme court accompanied the Mississippi down the bay on a steamer, at the expense of the Cubans.

The reason of the general's departure is unquestionably the order received from Havana to transmit the entire customs receipts each week to that city. As already cabled, compliance with these instructions would involve the abandonment of many necessary public improvements, would throw 10,000 Cubans out of employment and send them to the hills to become bandits, and would revive Spain's practice of monetary centralization, which caused most of her troubles in Cuba. It is believed General Wood is desirous of seeing the president on this subject.

General Wood expresses the emphatic opinion that all customs receipts should be expended in the respective provinces in which they are taken, with the exception of such a percentage for Havana as may be necessary for governmental expenditure, geological surveys and other features of public business of that character.

There was a mass meeting here yesterday afternoon of business men of all kinds to protest against the order from Havana. The meeting was held in the Plaza and was attended by 3,000 persons. Energetic speeches were made against the policy of centralizing money at Havana. Most of the speakers declared that the principle which it was now proposed to put into effect again had been fought against by them for 20 years. All were exceedingly enthusiastic in their references to General Wood, imploring him to use his influence with the Washington government against the revival of one of the worst features of the Spanish regime.

Colonel Valente, the Cuban who was appointed chief of the gendarmes, was quite outspoken on the subject. He said the Cubans had fought 20 years against this policy, and they were ready to fight 20 years more if necessary.

The members of the San Carlos club are in a fever of excitement. They say, as previously pointed out, that the main cause for complaint against Spanish rule was the continual demand for money obtained from the different provinces, which they claim should remain in the provinces and be spent there.

The local papers again renew their assertions that if such an order is enforced it will mean, if not civil war, at least anarchy and riot in the province of Santiago, calling for a large force of United States troops.

Americans who are familiar with the situation here agree in saying the Cubans have good cause for complaint in this instance.

A SWINDLING BARON.

Through Using the Mails He Secured $50,000 in Two Months.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 4.—Postoffice Inspector W. S. Mayer, acting under the direction of the inspector in charge Major James E. Stuart of Chicago, caused the arrest at St. Augustine yesterday afternoon of Baron and Baroness De Bara for the using of the United States mail in an alleged scheme to defraud. Their home here is furnished with magnificence. They have been received with more or less social regard since coming to St. Augustine and their entertainments have been very elegant.

Baron and Baroness De Bara lived in Chicago from June 1 until Nov. 28 of last year, and it is estimated by the officials that the couple have secured at least $50,000 by their schemes, and the work was done in two months. The victims, it is asserted, live in England and Ireland, and number thousands. It is claimed by the postal authorities that the baron represented himself as the head of the Edison Phonograph company, and that by selling agencies in England and Scotland he mulcted his correspondents out of sums varying from £1 to £100.
