INSULTS TO GEN. MILES

Will Be Followed by the Court Martial of General Eagan.

DISMISSAL FROM THE SERVICE

May Follow the Action of the Commissary General in His Bitter Personal Attack on the General of the Army Before the War Investigators.

Washington, Jan. 18.-The president yesterday announced to the cabinet that he had decided to order a court martial to try Commissary General Eagan for the abusive and violent language he had used respecting Major General Nelson A. Miles, while on the witness stand before the war investigating commission last Thursday. The decision promptly met with the unanimous approval of the members of the cabinet. The personnel of the court was not taken up, that phase of the action being held to be not a cabinet matter, but one that rested between the president and the secretary of war. General Wesley R. Merritt has been mentioned as likely to preside over the court, and a cabinet official said he would not be surprised at General Merritt's designation.

In the absence of the announcement of the details of the court martial there was a good deal of speculation as to its composition. General practice is for a majority of the court to consist of the rs or superiors in rank of the defendant. This would make the task of selecting a court a hard one, because it is not easy to find a sufficient number of general officers ranking with a brigadier general to make up a desirable quota. But latitude is permitted the appointing authority in such selections, as the ninth article of war reads: "No officer shall, when it can be avoided, be tried by officers inferior in rank." It will be noticed that the phrase "if it can be avoided" leaves pportunity for the appointment of ju-

The mention of General Merritt's name as president of the court was due to the fact that he is the only available major general of the regular army the others being General Brooke it Cuba and General Miles here, neither regarded as available. The friends of General Merritt are hoping that he will not be selected, fearing that he will be accused of prejudice by one or perhans both sides.

The penalty for the offense with which General Eagan probably will be tried, conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, is one of the most severe known in the army, being dis missal. If the court shall find Gen eral Eagan guilty, even with extenuating circumstances, they must attach this sentence, and then the only hope for the officer would be in the exercise of clemency by the president, based perhaps upon the court's recommenda

In his testimony before the commis sion, which was read from carefully prepared typewritten copy, General Eagan denounced General Miles as a liar, a libeler and a vilifler of honest men, declaring with passion: "I wish to force the lie back into his throat, covered with the contents of the camp latrine." The statement goes on to say that General Miles should be "de nounced by every honest man, barred from the clubs, barred from society of decent people, and so ostracised that the street bootblack would not condescend to speak to him, for he has fouled his own nest, he has aspersed the honor of a brother officer without a particle of evidence or fact to sustain in any degree his scandalous, libelous, maliclous falsehood that this beef or any thing whatever was furnished the army under 'the pretence of experiment.' The "testimony" was so violent that the commission returned it to General Eagan, instructing him to resubmit it with the personal abuse eliminated. General Eagan has since done so.

The Deadlock in Delaware.

Dover, Del., Jan. 18 .- The legislature will meet in joint session this afternoon and vote for United States senator. It is probable that but three ballots will be taken on the first day, and that there will be no change in the total vote from that cast yesterday by each house. The ballots, which were ineffectual, totaled: Senator George Gray, Dem., 15; J. Edward Addicks, Union Rep., 15; Colonel Henry Dupont, Rep., 10; Congressman L Irving Handy, Dem., 3; John G. Gray, Dem., 2; William S. Hilles, Rep., 2 The regular Republicans, who are not bound by any caucus action, may scatter their votes. It is stated that if a senator is chosen the election will not occur for several weeks. Meanwhile a joint session will be held daily. It is the general belief that a compromise candidate must be named before anything can be effected.

NAVAL PERSONNEL BILL.

Passes the House Without a Division.

It Reorganizes the Marine Corps, Washington, Jan. 18.-The house yes terday passed the naval personnel bill without division on the final passage thus accomplishing what the officers of the navy have been striving for during more than a decade. By its pro visions the line and engineers corps are welded into an amalgamated line staff officers are given positive rank, but their command is limited to their own corps, and a system of voluntary and compulsory retirement on threequarters pay as next higher rank of 40 officers a year is established, which is designed to remove the congestion in the lower rank at 45. The bill also practically equalizes their pay with that of army officers. Three important amendments were adopted. One creates regeneration of the island, and is ready a judge advocate's corps, another abolishes prize money and a third provides for the retirement on three-quarters pay of enlisted men and petty officers in the navy after 30 years' service. But the most important change in the bill as reported was the adoption, after a hard fight, of a substitute for the organization of the marine corps, by which the corps is to consist of 6,000 enlisted men and petty officers, with general officers and staff. This will increase the marine corps by 1,300 men and increase the cost of its maintenance $1,500,000.

Growth of Carlism in Spain.

London, Jan. 18 .- A Times corre spondent in Spain declares that Carlism is growing. It is certain, however, that Don Carlos would reject such at

LUDLOW'S WARNING

As to the Terrible Conditions Existing in Havana.

CITY TWO CENTURIES BEHIND.

Spanlards Left Havana With Scarcely an Attribute of Modern Civilization, Which American Methods and Money Will Change as Rapidly as Possible.

Havana, Jan. 18 .- Some idea of the conditions here in Havana and of the real magnitude of the work before the military administration can be gathered from a letter sent recently by Major General Ludlow, military governor of the department of Havana, to the late mayor, Marquis d'Estaban, in reply to a letter complaining that certain United States staff officers had been operating in the mayoralty sphere without consulting him. After an expression of regret that the marquis had been inconvenienced in any way and an assurance that, whatever had been done, no discourtesy was intended, General Ludlow says:

"The retiring Spanish authorities have pillaged almost every building destined for public use, stripping all of everything of value with a few exceptions and leaving behind only the accumulated filth of generations. Within three months will come the wet season, with deplorable possibilities as to the outbreak of epidemics, particularly yellow fever, from which Havana suffers the year round owing to the gross neglect of all sanitary pre cautions. "In these circumstances, faced by the gravest emergency, with immediate measure of relief necessary in every direction, with all public institutions to be reorganized and re-equipped, with the streets to clean and pave, the sewers to be built, untold abominations by the thousand to be obliterated and the common people to be educated in the elementary principles of modern civilized life, it is simply impossible at this moment for the United States military authorities in every step they take to go through the tedious processes imposed by Spanish methods upon local administration."

In concluding his letter General Ludlow invited the marquis to join him in measures tending to ameliorate the deplorable conditions under which Havana suffers.
