CONGRESSMAN-GENERAL

Joe Wheeler Explains Why He Does Not Resign His Seat.

MILITARY POSITION TEMPORARY.

The Southern Leader Thinks the President Should Not Be Prohibited From Selecting Members of Congress For Special Missions.

Washington, Jan. 25 .- The inquiry ordered by the house of representatives as to what members were holding outside offices-originally intended to determine the status of Major General Wheeler and other members in the army-was begun yesterday by the committee on judiciary. The main interest attached to the statement of General Wheeler, which was formally prepared, and was in part as follows:

If the extreme view is taken that the clause in the constitution is mandatory and that it applies to all members of congress who accept offices of a temporary character, which may be terminated at any moment, then the government will frequently find itself embarrassed in selecting men for certain duties. For instance, it would have been unfortunate if the president had been inhibited from appointing Senators Davis, Frye and Gray on the peace commission, Senators Morgan, Cullom and Representative Hitt on the Hawaiian commission, and Mr. Dingley and Senators Fairbanks and Faulkner on the Canadian commission. It would also have been unfortunate had he been inhibited from appointing such a distinguished and able man as Senator Morgan on the arbitration court in

"The committee will readily understand my embarrassment in a matter of this character. There are three other members of this house who have ac cepted military commissions, and some 28 others who have accepted civil positions. It would be very unjust to them for me to have assumed to decide this question by attempting to resign, as it has been urged that such action on my part would be used as an argument against their right to retain their seats in congress. Again, I have received continued and urgent appeals from my constituents not to resign.

"In deference to the views of the distinguished members of congress who are insisting upon my seat being vacated, I have studiously refrained from taking an active part in the proceed ings of congress. I have not drawn any congressional pay, mileage or clerk hire since May 4, notwithstanding that George A. Jenks. I have been compelled to employ clerks at my own expense to perform routine

NO BKIGANDAGE IN CUBA.

Our Cavalrymen Prepared to Suppress Any Disorderly Bands.

Havana, Jan. 25 .- Should Cuban soldiers take to the woods and turn bandits the United States military administration will know what to do. They will be followed by a force of cavalry and persistently pursued. The same general method will be observed as has been followed in dealing with the Indians on the plains and mountains of the west. The subject has been carewho are confident they could catch the bandits, notwithstanding the climatic conditions.

The Seventh cavalry regiment is sta tioned in the province of Pinar del Ric the Second cavalry in the province Santa Clara and Matanzas and the Eighth cavalry regiment in the prov ince of Puerto Principe. Clearing House Records Broken New York, Jan. 25 .- Monday's enormous Stock Exchange business caused a breaking of the records yesterday in the clearing house of the city banks as well as in the Stock Exchange clearing house. It is estimated that if all the clearings had been made through the former institution, as was the case during the speculative era in the 80's, the total clearings would have reached $500,000,000. The total clearings at the banks' clearing house yesterday amounted to $347,216,833. The next largest clearings were on Jan. 4, when they aggregated $315,236,000. This was th largest total since Feb. 28, before the Stock Exchange clearing house was established, when $295,281,422 were cleared in a single day.

Miners' Wage Question Settled. Pittsburg, Jan. 25 .- Carnegie Hall, in Allegheny, rang with the hymn of "America" last night in ratification of the settlement of the wage differences, which was effected between the coal operators and miners of the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania. AGUINALDO'S RIDICULOUS DEMAND.

An Alloged Proposal Unknown in the Law of Nations.

Berlin, Jan. 25 .- The North German Gazette, commenting upon the declaration of Premier Sagasta that Aguinaldo had made the liberation of the Spanish prisoners in the Philippine islands conditional upon Spain recognizing the Philippine republic and allying herself thereto, and that Aguinaldo had similarly demanded the Vatican's recognition of the Philippine republic,

"The conditions which the Filipinos seek to attach to the liberation of the Spanish prisoners, who include women and children, is unknown in the law of nations, and unless there is some misunderstanding the leaders of the Tagalos have thereby placed themselves outside the limits of civilization.

CLAIM TO RECOGNITION.

Agoncillo's Letter to the Secretary of State.

BROUGHT TO THE VERGE OF WAR.

The Filipino Urges Necessity of Prompt Action on the Part of Our Government in Assuring the Filipinos That We Are Not Bent on Conquest.

Washington, Jan. 25 .- In a communication to the secretary of state Senor Don Felipe Agoncillo, the Filipino agent, calls attention to the fact that on Jan. 11 he addressed a letter to him upon the question of recognition, forwarding with it a memorandum demonstrating that according to all American precedents the Philippine republic was entitled to recognition, and in the same letter he invited the attention of the secretary to the present strained conditions at Manila, where over zeal on either side might create a condition resulting in grievous loss of life, and urging the necessity of an early and frank communication between the representative of the two countries. He further calls attention to the fa . that since his letter was written the very circumstances he feared have brought the two countries to the edge of war, and says that the language used by him was so prophetic that subsequent facts have amply justified its employ-He now desires to call the attention of the secretary to certain conditions which in his opinion require immediate alleviation. There are, he says, at the present time 20,000 American troops at Manila, controlling a population of about 300,000. "A number of war vessels are stationed in the harbor and many other American men-of-war and transports are to be found within the archipelago, although the actual possession of the American troops extends over not to exceed 143 square miles out of more than 200,000." Despite the enormous forces now in this extremely circumscribed area "we are informed through the public prints that other vessels of war have been ordered from distant parts of the globe to reinforce these now among the islands in question, while a few days ago a transport sailed from New York city carrying about 2,000 soldiers and having Manila as its destination, and as we are further informed, regiments of troops are under orders to proceed by way of San Francisco to the Philippines. The public prints inform us also that an attack is contemplated upon the Philippine Islands; the islands to be taken in detail, the smaller ones first, the larger ones blockaded so that they may not assist those first attacked." He says that it is naturally the impression of his government and people that these warlike preparations indicate existing or immediate military operations in the Orient and they readily conceive that it must be contemplated that such operations are to be leveled at the existing government of the Philippine Islands. "As the representative of the Philippine government," he continues, "I hesitate to give adhesion to this idea, for I cannot believe that there is any present or future difficulty between the American and Philippine government setifying warlike activities, and as a believer in the humanity of the Amer ican people refuse to acquiesce in the idea that America designs war upon the Philippines Island." He points out that the Philippine Islands are in a state of order, possessing a government satisfactory to their inhabitants, and without an enemy within its borders offering any resistance to its operations, and are at peace with all the world.

He is sure the secretary of state will appreciate, in view of the circumstances detailed, the quieting, reassuring effect upon the minds of his countrymen to result from a disclaimer upon the part of the American government of any intention to attack their liberties and independence.

He expresses his gratitude to Ameria for services rendered, hopes that friendly relations may continue, and urges the importance of an immediate
