This always proves a most delightful affair and is largely attended. —This Thursday evening Dr. J. J. Lewis will deliver an illustrated lecture in the opera house, subject "Through the Canadian Rockies." This is No. 6 of the People's Popular Course. —Dr. Thomas Orbison, of Philadelphia, is home visiting his mother, Mrs. Nannie Orbison, on Curtin street. This is the first time Tom has been home since he came back from Porto Rico. —During the past week numerous repairs and improvements have been made about the Garman house that add to its equipment. They always keep their hotel up to the highest standard. —The notice of the applications for liquor license appears in another part of this issue. There are forty-two at present, about the usual number. About a half dozen new applications have been filed. —On account of the extreme cold weather the workmen at the scale works were compelled to lay off until it gets warmer. The planing mills and other places about here were closed down on Monday. —M. H. McLaughlin, one of Snow Shoe's popular young democrats, came to town on Monday and was snow bound. Among other things he paid us a pleasant call and ordered the Democrat for the ensuing year. —Mrs. Lyons and her children, of Pittsburg, are at present staying with the family of Ellis L. Orvis on Linn street. Mrs. Lyons will, during the summer, reside in the handsome cottage owned by William Nichol, on Curtin street. —On Monday the steam heat plant, at this place, was in a predicament. Their supply of coal run low, and there was no assurance, owing to the blockade, as to when a new supply would arrive. For half a day wood was used to fire the boilers and while the blizzard was raging the pressure began to go down. Fortunately that evening two carloads of fuel came in over the Central and our people felt easier. —Landlord Al Garman spent Sunday in Bellefonte. He came up to meet other members of the family who assembled at the home of Daniel Garman, on Sunday, in honor of their father's 80th birthday anniversary. Owing to the severe weather Robert, of Coatsville, Pa.; Dick, of Philadelphia; and Mrs. Minnie Maitland, of Williamsport, were unable to be present. Barring a recent attack of the grip, Mr. Garman has been enjoying good health and is as hearty and active as many men of younger years.

—Don't miss Dr. Holloway's lecture in the court house. —Landlord Henry Yeager spent the past week visiting friends at Altoona. —J. S. McCargar was indisposed last week and kept indoors for several days. —Mrs. A. M. Desendorff, of Kansas, has made her home with her son at this place. —Ollie Miller left last week for Philadelphia where he has secured a position at his trade. —On Sunday night Dr. Holloway will preach a sermon in the Lutheran church, on "The Religion of Washington." —Will Larimer has accepted the position of engineer at the Bellefonte creamery, formerly held by Harry Showers. —Wednesday morning all the trains coming into Bellefonte were out on time for the first since last Saturday morning. —Ralph Mallory, the photographer, is attending the State Photographers Convention, in session at Wilkesbarre, Pa., this week. —This week the county commissioners are busy packing up election tickets and supplies that are being sent out for next Tuesday's election. —Green, the druggist, is giving away gold fish with aquariums, free, to his customers. Read his advertisement on another page of this issue. —Jacob Wilson, on East Bishop street, has been quite ill the past week and his recovery is much doubted. He has been in failing health for over a year. —A. C. Mingle and wife will leave this week for Philadelphia to visit friends. Mrs. Mingle's mother is now living in Philadelphia with her son, Ollie Hoffer. —The Thespians, a dramatic organization composed of students of State College, presented "A School for Scandal" in the opera house, to a good sized audience on Tuesday evening. —This kind of weather has interfered considerably with work on the new telephone line. Considerable indoor work is being done, such as placing telephones in business places and private residences. —The storm not only demoralized business for a few days, but knocked the bottom out of the matrimonial market. Only one license was granted during the week by Register Rumberger. It is quite likely that a reaction will soon follow. —Just before going to press a communication was received from T. F. Kennedy, of State College, requesting that his announcement for sheriff be inserted in this issue. Mr. Kennedy is a prominent citizen of that community. —The musical convention at Pleasant Gap commences next Monday and will close with two grand concerts on Thursday and Friday evenings. It will be under the direction of Prof. P. H. Meyer, of Boalsburg, who is a success in his work. —The "Roof Garden" entertainment in the Armory, last week, was a well prepared affair, and had many meritorious features. Owing to the severe winter weather many people who would have attended, hesitated about venturing out. —Many claim that the severe cold weather has killed many of the buds on the fruit trees. Before the present snow fell the grain fields were exposed to frosts and cold winds that killed much of the wheat. The winter has been unfavorable for the grain crop. —Rev. Goodling, of the Evangelical church, is holding very successful revival services in his church on Willowbank street. On Sunday evening nearly a dozen young people arose to their feet and asked an interest in the prayers of the Christian people that gathered there. —On Friday evening the roof at the steam heat works caught fire from the iron stack becoming heated. The fire departments responded in short order and quickly extinguished the flames. The thermometer was down to 15 degrees below zero at the time, but that made no difference. —On Tuesday noon Dr. John Seibring Jr., of this place, and Miss Frederika Lower Woltjen, were married at the home of the bride's parents, at Pottsville, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Seibring will arrive in Bellefonte about March 1st where the Dr. has permanently located and has established a lucrative practice. —On Saturday Mr. Samuel Harpster, Jr., of Ferguson twp., was in town and circulated among his many friends and announced that he would be a candidate for the office of sheriff. He did not fail to call around and have his announcement inserted in the paper. Mr. Harpster is a sterling democrat and will make a vigorous campaign. —J. D. Miller, of Hublersburg, dropped in on our office last week, just as the last copy of the paper went through the press, to order his announcement as a candidate for County Treasurer. Of course it had to wait until this issue. Mr. Miller is a pleasant gentleman and has hosts of friends who will support him, and comes from a democratic stronghold. —This year our townsman, Wm. T. Speer, with a merry twinkle in his eye and a jolly good word for everybody, will canvass the democratic vote of Centre county for the nomination for County Treasurer. He is one of those good-natured fellows who makes you feel good wherever you find him. His announcement appears in another column of this issue.

KLONDYKE BREEZES. During the past week we have been getting our mails at any old hour of the day. Nothing has been certain or sure, and there is no use in kicking. Nearly every train coming into Bellefonte has been late and few people are traveling. Business among our merchants is practically at a standstill. The lowest thermometer registered was 32 degrees below zero, at Snow Shoe. In Bellefonte at some points it was down to 22 and 24 below zero. Several sessions of school were not held, as the children could not stand the severe weather, and in several instances some of the little ones were badly frosted by the cold. This probably has been the longest severe spell of cold weather known for many years. The above may not be news to our Centre county readers, but it is written for the benefit of our numerous readers, who reside in the Sunny South and even on the Pacific Slope. We want them to know that Centre county is strictly in it—enjoying genuine Klondyke breezes. For some years this paper has not missed its regular time of issue. This week owing to the railroad blockade and delay of trains, some of the important matter in this issue would have been omitted, had we not postponed our time of issue six hours later. Hereafter we promise to serve our patrons with the former regularity. WHAT DOCTORS THINK OF RUBBERS. Here's the first law of health: Keep your feet dry. We all know it. We all know that pneumonia and consumption always start with a cold, and that the shortest cut to a cold is a pair of wet feet. But it's so important a matter that we can't be reminded too often, especially when the reminder carries the weight of authority. Dr. Wendell C. Phillips, one of the most distinguished physicians in New York, was recently giving a lecture on "Colds, and How to Prevent Them." It was a rainy night, and he began:—"How many persons here wore rubbers to-night? Hands up." "Not half of you. Now, that is what I thought. Every one of you should have rubbers on a night like this. To go without them is to invite colds, bronchial trouble, catarrh, and pneumonia. It is astonishing how people neglect their feet. Rubbers are fifty cents. You can save a lot of money on the investment—perhaps a ten days' doctor bill, to say nothing of medicine." The doctor might have made it still stronger and said that a fifty-cent pair of rubbers would not only save doctor bills and medicine bills, but often life itself. Don't try to save on rubbers; it's the most expensive economy in the world, especially just now, when everybody is getting the grip. JOSEPH W. BAILEY, DEMOCRATIC LEADER. To become at the age of thirty-four years the recognized leader of a great party in the popular branch of the highest Legislature in the land, is an event hardly possible out of the United States. Over a year ago Congressman Bailey, of Texas, won this distinction, and within a few weeks events indicated the satisfaction of his party in the House of Representatives with his course. In boyhood Mr. Bailey gave no promise of future brilliancy or greatness. He did not know the alphabet when ten years old, nor the difference between a preposition and an adverb when sixteen. His early years were an intellectual waste, and he was expelled from the University of Mississippi in the middle of the course, although he had worked himself to the head of his class. From this time he became exceedingly industrious, and when twenty years old graduated from a law school. When twenty-seven he was first elected to Congress, where he at once became conspicuous by his oratory and championship of democratic principles. The Revolt Against the Program. The revolt against advertising in church and fair programs is spreading. A business man in Chester, Pa., writes to the Times of that town that he has set himself firmly against worthless advertising. Taking the chances of a loss of trade. In fact, he lost nothing, and he urges his brother merchants to follow his example. A few years ago, some merchants in the northern suburbs of New York City combined to resist the blandishments and implied threats of solicitors for lodges, clubs, etc. They pledged each other that any one of their number who advertised in a program or a "souvenir" should forfeit $500. When the canvasser came around, this arrangement was explained to him, and he was invited to prove that an advertisement in the medium he represented would bring in more than $500. This usually ended the discussion. —The local politicians are busy this week. —Where is our Board of Trade? What has become of our enterprising business men? A large insane asylum will be located in the central portion of the state and while other towns are making a strong effort to secure this institution, our people have done nothing. What is wrong? Let a meeting be called at once. Centre county can get it; it is worth fighting for.

Lent began Wednesday, February 15, Ash Wednesday. The following regulations for its observance have been issued: All the week days of Lent, from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday, are fast days of precept, on one meal, with the allowance of a moderate collation in the evening. The church excuses from the obligation of fasting (but not of abstinence from flesh meat, except in special cases of sickness) the infirm, those who are attaining their growth, those whose duties are of an exhausting or laborious character, women in pregnancy or those nursing infants, and all who are enfeebled by old age. The following dispensations are granted for the diocese by the authority of the holy see: 1. The use of flesh meat is allowed at every meal on the Sundays of Lent and at the principal meal on Monday, Tuesday and Saturday (Ember Saturday and Holy Saturday excepted). 2. The use of eggs and white meats is allowed every day at the principal meal, as also at the collation. 3. A small piece of bread, with a cup of coffee, tea or chocolate, may be taken in the morning. 4. Where it is not convenient to take the principal meal at noon, it is lawful to invert the order and take a collation in the morning and dinner in the evening. 5. Dripping and lard may be used in preparing food. 6. On Sunday there is neither fast nor abstinence, but flesh and fish may not be used at the same meal. Those who are exempt from the precept of fasting may eat meat at the three meals on meat days. By a special indulgent granted to the bishops of the United States for ten years, dating from March 15, 1895, working people who cannot easily observe the common law of the church are dispensed from the obligation of abstinence on all days of the year, except Fridays, Ash Wednesday, holy week and Christmas eve. REV. DR. H. C. HOLLOWAY'S LECTURE. Among the many press notices of Dr. Holloway's lecture, we clip, among other things, the following very complimentary one from the "American Sentinel," Westminster, Md., county seat of Carroll county: "Westminster at last has been compelled, so to speak, 'to take water.' Dr. Holloway's lecture at Odd Fellow's Hall, on 'Sights and Insights in Europe,' puts our people rectus in curia. To our knowledge it was not only the largest lecture audience ever seen in Westminster, but largely in excess of the best dramatic and musical entertainments. Many of his descriptions could not be improved. His lecture is one of rare beauty, and was eloquently delivered. There is wit and humor. The visit to Pompeii and ascent of Mount Vesuvius were a rich treat to the intelligent audience. If the reverend gentleman would take counsel of his success as a lecturer, we would advise a continuance in this new field. 'Sights and Insights' met with universal approval and delighted all." Be sure and hear this lecture, in the court house, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Feb. 27th. Admission 25 cts. For the benefit of the Lutheran church. For the Stamping of Letters. Before very long letters mailed or received at the Bellefonte post office will be stamped by electricity. A machine for this purpose is to be placed in position and will soon be in working order. A dynamo of one-third horse power is used and the result is very rapid work, it being geared to 400 per minute and it does its work like a charm. It is known as the Barr-Pyke stamping machine and is reuted by the government. It will expedite the business of the office to a great extent and besides is a vast improvement on the old hand stamp, the postmark made by this latter often being illegible. Persons using the mails will confer a favor upon the "stamper" by placing their stamps on the upper right hand corner of the envelopes.
