Mt. Eagle.

J. I. Dunkle is now dealing in crackers. Miss Delia Heverly spent Sunday at Mt. Eagle.

The water in the creek was very high on Sunday.

Mrs. Nancy Leathers purchased a valuable cow from Dixon Hall.

Our new constable was made the happy possessor of a girl baby, last week.

Miss Maud Dietz, who has been ill for some time, is able to be about again.

It is rumored that a sociable is on the program for Saturday night a week.

George Heverly, of Marsh Creek, spent Sunday with his uncle, E. E. Heverly.

Miss Anna Dietz is believed to be taking scarlet fever. We hope the report is not true.

Thomas Yeager and son William have taken a contract to cut paperwood for John Glenn.

Mr. Lecker, of Sunbury, and Rev. Berghan, made a short call in town on last Thursday.

The elders of the church, at Howard and Mt. Eagle, transacted business at J. L. Leathers'.

S. C. Bower is seen enjoying the refreshing March sun. His hand is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Verna Frauntz, of Tyrone, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vandorfen.

H. W. Reeder now spends Sundays in Bellefonte, taking voice culture and singing in the Episcopal choir.

It is reported that Amos Lucas is going to move to Greensburg. His place will be occupied by Sam'l Yeager.

Dixon Hall and daughter Lydia, left last week for Johnsonburg, where they will unite with the rest of his family and live with his son William.

A. A. Aikey and P. C. Leathers are now combining their talents on a patent medicine, which they claim will make fish bite, if used on the bait.

Many friends from this place attended the funeral of Mrs. Esse DeHaas, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scantling, of Eagleville, on Sunday.

Miss Florence Leathers and Chas. Bower are going to Lock Haven Normal this spring. We wish them success and hope they will be industrious students.

In six weeks nearly all the young folks of the town will have gone away. Tracie has commenced to make a large doll to amuse herself during the long summer evenings.

What is the future of the once thriving village of Mt. Eagle? To-day it contains but 28 houses, 25 per cent of which are empty. We hope the booming times of which we hear so much will soon visit this forsaken place, and restore it to its former position of industry.

Last Friday night ended a series of one of the best literary societies ever held in the history of this place. In all there has been fifteen nights of society, all but two of which have been well attended and much benefit derived therefrom. On last Friday night a large crowd assembled early. After a number of speeches were rendered the audience was entertained by a play entitled "The Widower," which showed careful preparation. The male quartet sang two songs which won great applause. After which J. K. Baney played several violin solos, also sang a solo. His graphophone played a number of the latest pieces and the society adjourned to meet next Christmas.

MT. EAGLE NO. 2.

Many of our people who have been preparing their ground for sowing seeds, are now shaking around the stove.

The school directors of our township formed themselves into a body and visited the schools of our township on Tuesday of this week. Their visits were very acceptable and gave the schools some good talks.

The Mt. Eagle Glee Club, of this place, and other young people of our vicinity, expect to go to Yarnell on Friday to give an entertainment under the instruction of Prof. J. E. Johnson, of Rote, Pa., consisting of chorus singing, solos, quartets, recitations and comic songs. Proceeds for the benefit of the organ, which the school purchased at that place.

Some of the scholars of J. F. Leather's Sunday School class made a pleasant call on Monday evening, namely: Miss Velta Williams and brother Clair, Miss Catherine Parker and Latimer Curtis. Mr. Curtis started for Oklahoma, on Wednesday morning, where he will take a three-year course at college, under the instruction of his uncle, Prof. Geo. Holter.

Kreamerville.

Oh, yes! we are living yet.
For Sale—A load of good hay; inquire of H. H. Stover, here.

John Mallory will have early spring chickens, no doubt, to sell.

Wanted:—More people that can and will live up to the Golden Rule.

We have the constable in our town for the next three years. Now look out.

Geo. A. Corman has two horses and some farming implements for sale at a bargain.

Birdie Walker was home on a visit to her parents, Sunday, and brought with her, her better-half.

W. H. Leitzell informs us that there are more prospects for work in the line of painting than there has been for some time.

Geo. Kreamer has commenced a series of auction sales, for a brief time, in which time he will dispose of quite a lot of goods. George looks forward to something else.

Quite a number from this place and surrounding country expect to start for the west, in a few days. We'll wait boys until you go, and then we'll give you good-bye.

Mrs. Erma Stover left here for Salona, Clinton county, Wednesday the 1st, where she and her husband will go to housekeeping. We wish them a happy and prosperous life.

C. E. Bartges, who was arrested for counterfeiting last May, was seen here one day last week. He looks like the same fellow yet, although he said the soup was pretty thin.

One of our gentlemen, together with a gentleman of Rebersburg, both single, were to Loganton Saturday evening, for some reason known to them alone; but of course we can guess.

Rev. Paus preached his last sermon here, Sunday. The Rev. does not expect to come back on this charge another year; he has been here for three years, and we are sorry to see him leave, as he was liked very much by the majority of the people.

A certain young lady of this place is very fond of little onions, as we learn she spilt some while in company. Of course it is a cheap kind of perfume, and we don't blame anyone for investing in that kind of goods. For sale by G. W. Kreamer, at the extremely low price of 5 cents a quart.

All the moving to take place in this town is of very small mention, as only five flittings will take place, as far as can be found out: Wm. Bair will move to day, Thursday, into the house purchased from the Kreamer estate; Manasse Gilbert will occupy the house vacated by Bair; John Housman will move to Millheim, and H. H. Stover will occupy his house; Luther Miller is expected to move back to his father, but it is not a certainty, although a possibility.

It is reported that J. M. W., of this place, has found a new cure for grip—a very simple ingredient, cheap, safe and sure. It consists of onions, hence he is called the "Onion Doctor." The muddy roads have been a little severe on the doctor, in traveling, but this was overcome by a few of his friends who were kind enough to scatter sawdust so he could reach his patients in a more agreeable way. Well done, boys.

Runville.

Mud is plentier than news.

Oran Poorman, who had his leg broken, is again able to be around.

Lucy Smoyer and Annie Witherite are visiting friends at Jersey Shore.

John Shirik, of Sinnemahoning, visited his brother W. T. Shirik, last week.

The time will soon be up for the ground hog and "Dawell" to appear again.

Moving has begun already; there will be considerable changing around this spring.

Charles Shawley and sister Cora, of Fairview, visited at G. W. Heaton's, last week.

Every one should look out for the critic or "Dawell No. 2," to be read at the entertainment.

As cold as the weather was on Sunday morning, there was a woman in our town that took a cold water bath, before breakfast.

One of our young men went to see his girl, on Saturday night. He went by rail, but by all appearance, came back by water. How about it, F—?

Any one wishing to subscribe for the Centre Democrat can do so by handing your name to the Little Boy, and your order will be promptly delivered and receipted.

The times seem bright since the election. The mill has started on full blast and everybody seems to be in a bustle. Our "Dan" says the road machine will soon start, too.

Some of the Runville people are contemplating attending the lecture, to be given at the teachers' institute, next Friday. The subject is "A Handful of Hits," at Unionville.

AN ADVENTURE: On last Sunday evening there was preaching at this place, and a young lady from out of town was present, and as a result, had to have some one to escort her home; a young man volunteered, although he knew there was a wild cat in the woods near this town. Well, things went alright until he got there and started back, when he saw one of the "awfuls" looking animals for its size, in existence. He said it had eyes like saucers and was standing in the road right in front of him, and he didn't know what to do. He didn't want to go back, for at the house there was a cross dog, and the girl would be in bed; so he stood planning what to do, when his hair began to raise so fast that it made sparks of fire fly and his hat fell off, it frightened the animal and it ran, and the fellow also began to run and yell fire. He was unable to be out until Wednesday.

LITTLE BOY.

RUNVILLE NO. 2.

S. T. doesn't want her—you know who.

Maggie says Eddie went to Pittsburgh—boo! ho! h-o-o! h-o!

Mr. Cower, of Port Matilda, was seen in our town last Saturday.

Sammie, you are a dandy; and when you come to get our ax, we'll feed you on mixed candy.

Mrs. Walker says the peanuts which James brought, gave May a wonderful appetite.

Mrs. Walker gave a large oyster supper last Tuesday evening; the guests present were James and May.

Now, Little Boy, since you know that I am still here, and wish any more information, just call on Falsehood Avenue.

Friends, I hope you will not get cross for what I have said, or get provoked as I really mean no harm—it's only a joke.

It has been rumored in Runville that one of our friends will make a visit in the near future. Sam, what do you suppose they want with so many suits of pants.

Duwell has heard that some people can stop his writing; but don't think I am alarmed, as long as the editor runs his own paper. I am not a fifteen center either.

Undoubtedly there is an old widower in Runville who must think a heap of his old girl, when he would go through all that mud and rain Saturday night. How about it Daddy?

Duwell has not been heard of for a long time, and the "Little Boy" seems to be greatly alarmed about his absence; but he is like all the rest of the ground-hogs, just comes out every nice day.

A certain man of our town purchased a valentine at the Racket store in Bellefonte, and then mailed it so far away as Fleming. Now, you were seen by two persons and it would be best for you to make an apology, for you know what a blow-out Duwell is.

The saying is "all things work together for good." We hope in earnest, now, that the Little Boy has secured a detective to hunt up Duwell. I would say, work on in faith, for if at first you don't succeed, try, try again; faith is the substance hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Duwell did not see the young man make up the box of good things when his best girl could not attend the grand dinner at his father's house, but she got some of the turkey
