TERRIBLE TORNADOS.

They Bring a Harvest of Death in Wisconsin and Nebraska.

NEW RICHMOND'S DEATH LIST.

Fully a Hundred Killed in the Wisconsin fown, Which Is Practically Wiped Out-Herman, Neb., Tells a Similar Story of Destruction.

New Richmond, Wis., June 14.-Indescribably sad are the scenes of desolation wrought by Monday night's tornado, that has practically swept out of existence the prosperous little city of New Richmond. Out of 500 houses and store buildings comprising the town fully 300 were wrecked by the storm or destroyed by fire. Almost every family has one or more members among the dead, injured or missing, and little groups are seen everywhere searching for loved ones who may be buried in the piles of debris.

Thus far 54 bodies have been found. although the number of dead certainly will reach 100 or more. The recovered dead have, for the most part, been taken to the Catholis and Congregational churches, which, although in the very edge of the storm's path, miraculously escaped its fury. In these temporary morgues the sights are such as to touch the hardest heart, as the grief stricken living recognize in bodies, horribly mangled and often dismembered, the remains of missing dear ones.

The wounded find temporary asylums in the uninjured dwellings on either side of the path of devastation, where doctors and nurses from nearby cities and towns are doing heroic work.

The business part of the city covered a space of four squares each way. and was built solidly of brick and stone. This entire space was swept clear, foundation walls and in some places masses of debris alone marking where the business places formerly stood. Trees that had lined the streets of the neighboring residence district were broken clear off or twisted and uprooted. The tornado came up the river Hudson, where the camage was comparatively slight. Following the general course of the river and the branch of the Omaha road the storm gained in intensity as it progressed. and was at its worst when it struck the business center of New Richmond. Outlying residences in the path of the storm were stripped of shingles and boards or sides were blown off, or, as more frequently happened, were torn asunder and the fragments were shattered to the four winds of Heaven. Trees were uprooted and roadways blocked, washed away or so overflowed

The desolate view of New Richmond of today is one not soon to be forgot-Along the broken fragments of their homes the people wander helplessly, striving somewhat aimlessly and hopelessly to gather together what has been left to them. On the west and east limits of the city many houses are still standing, with little or no damage, and to these homes the occupants welcomed their less fortunate neighbors and friends. The property loss cannot be estimated at this time, and may never be accurately known. It was almost total, for the insurance agents report that no tornado insurance was carried in the town, and in r of places, where fire joined in the destruction of property, will the business men be at all as to be made entirely unrecognizable.

reimbursed for their losses. It is the average resident of New Richmond who estimates the loss of life most seriously. They claim that hundreds are missing who were buried in the ruits, and there incinerated One such is C. A. Nelson, who owned the Columbian restaurant, located on Main street. His estimate of the loss is 400 dead. He says that when the rain storm which preceded the cyclone broke not less than 20 persons rushed into his place for shelter. He is positive that not more than four besides himself escaped. More conservative estimates, however, give the death list as probably 100.

THE NEBRASKA TORNADO.

The Death List Here May Reach Half

a Hundred. Omaha, June 14.—A tornado that struck the village of Herman, Neb., last evening wrought fearful destruc-A conductor on the evening train from Sioux City passed through the place not long after the storm, and he says not a building is left standing in town. He counted 12 dead bodies lying in the streets. The fatalities will undoubtedly run up to half a hundred, if not higher. A special train left Blair, the county seat, ten miles distant, for the scene of the diaaster, carrying surgeons and all needed supplies. Wires are all down north of Herman, and it is not known how much further north the storm went, but reports are coming into the effect that a large portion of country north of Herman is laid waste. The entire eastern portion of Nebraska was swept by a terrific rain, wind and electric storm. The streets of Omaha are flooded.

Additional advices received state that every building in Herman is destroyed except the public school and a small dwelling, both of which are on the outskirts. The force of the wind was terrific, as scarcely one piece of any of the many structures destroyed was left intact. The wrecked buildings and broken furniture are strewn all around, while dead bodies He in many places, the corpses badly disfigured and some of them hardly recognizable The relief train from Blair arrived about an hour after the storm and the work of picking up the wounded was begun. Willing hands did what they could to help the injured, and in the course of an hour the train pulled out for Blair with 95 injured on board. They were taken to Blair, as there is absolutely no place left at Herman at which treatment can be administered. All the citizens of Blair have thrown open their houses to the wounded and the unfortunates are being cared for by competent surgeons. Many of the injured will die, but some of them received but slight injuries. It is impossible at this hour, owing to the confusion, to ascertain the number of dead, but 12 are known to be dead, and the list will run very much higher.

CUBANS CAPTURE ARMS

In Order to Claim a Share of the American Gratuity.

Guanajay, Cuba, June 14.—Lieutenant Colonei William H. Bisbee arrived here yesterday and began paying the Cuban troops, a large number of whom he found waiting. They received their shares of the American gratuity with enthusiasm, seeming to be very grateful for an opportunity to return to their homes with funds enough to meet their immediate necessities.

Colonel Bisbee strictly enforces his rule to make no payments except to applicants who bring arms or certificates that they have delivered arms to the local authorities. Thus far 471 weapons have been delivered to the mayor of Guanajay. Here, as elsewhere, applicants have appeared, and many of them with arms, whose names do not show in the list, and there are also applicants who have undoubtedly seen service, but do not receive payment because they do not come within Colonel Bisbee's rule. Among the latter there is considerable discontent.

Monday night, before Colonel Bisbee's arrival, a large party, knowing that a quantity of arms was stored at Callao, decided to secure these weapons, in order to enable them to collect their shares. Shortly after midnight the policemen who were guarding the storehouse were surprised by a strong party, which rushed the police guard. The latter fired and retained their position until their ammunition was exhausted, when the Cubans, who were armed with sticks, compelled them to submit. All the members of the party helped themselves generously to the arms. General opinion here is that the police really connived in the OCEAN STEAMER RUN DOWN.

Sunk by the Steamer Hamilton-Thirteen Persons Missing. New York, June 14.—During a dense fog last evening the Old Dominion steamship Hamilton, which sailed from New York yesterday for Norfolk and Newport News, ran into the German steamship Macedonia off Long Branch. and it is supposed that the Macedonia subsequently sunk. Three passengers and nineteen of the crew of the Macedonia were saved and brought to this

The Hamilton had on board a large number of passengers, many of whom were delegates to a railroad convention at Old Point Comfort. While proceeding at reduced speed and sounding her whistle the Hamilton suddenly ran into the Macedonia. striking her on the starboard side abaft the engine, and cutting into her hull about 12 feet. The shock was terrific and indescribable confusion prevailed for a time. Order was finally restored on the Hamilton, and the crew were sent to their quarters. The Macedonia's crew got out their boats as the disabled vessel drifted away from the Hamilton. One of the Macedonia's boats was lost in the fog. This boat contained Captain Kuffhal, Second Officer Gudeknecht, three passengers (Charles W. Moss, F. W. Wright and Herman Brandt) and eight seamen. As the collision occurred but a short distance off Long Branch it is supposed that the missing boat attempted to make the land on the Jersey coast.

The Hamilton was considerably damaged, but no one on board was hurt.

Generals of the Future. West Point, N. Y., June 14.-Out of a class of 135 candidates 95 passed their examination as cadets yesterday afternoon. Among them are the following from Pennsylvania: Louis C. Brinton, Jr., Leo J. Eallen, Francis H. Farnum, Harvey S. Greier, Louis A. Kunzig, Charles H. Patterson, Frederick E. Snyder and Andrew J. White. New Jersey: Garbit S. Hoffman, Maryland: Francis M. Hinckley, Charles H. Short and Ferdinand Williams. Virginia: Alexander M. Milton and George L. Morrison. At large, Ulysses Grant. Venezuela, Andres Ponte, Costa Rica, Luis Yglesias. The two last named were admitted under provisions of a joint resolution of congress.

The Old Dominion Struck a Rock. Richmond, Va., June 14 .- As the Oid Dominion line steamship Old Dominion was outward bound last night in passing the inward bound river steamer Pocahontas she made too close in shore and struck a ledge of rock. The big ship pulled off immediately and proceeded, but when a mile and a half further down the river her captain discovered that there was a large hole in her hull forward of the engines, and that she was making water. He then ran her on the mud flats, where she lies easily, with from 12 to 14 feet of water in her forward compartment. Tugs took off the passengers and brought them back to this city.

The Famine in Russia. London, June 14.-While the famine is now threatening the southern provinces of Russia, the correspondent of The Times at St. Petersburg writes that the condition of the seven provinces of East Europe and Russia is worse than it was during the famine of 1891 and 1892. "Quite half a population of 11,000,000," he says, "are undergoing terrible sufferings, starvation and disease, and the authorities every where appear incapable and unprepared to deal with the calamity. one district in the government of Kazan not one child born there this Village Destroyed by Forest Fires. St. John's, N. F., June 14.-The village of Bay of Islands, a settlement on the western coast of New Foundland, forming part of what is called the French shore, was destroyed by forest fires. Sixty-nine houses were burned to the ground, and 57 families rendered homeless. The French and British warships on the coast are affording assistance to the destitute people until other steps can be taken to relieve them.

Killed by Collapsing Brick Kiln. Sayreville, N. J., June 14 .- Joseph Francis, a laborer employed in a brick kiln here, was killed and Stephen Schultz, working in the same place, was seriously injured yesterday by the collapsing of the kiln. Both men were buried in the ruins. Francis was dead when taken out and Schultz unconscious.

LUNA ASSASSINATED.

Filipino General Reported Killed by Aguinaldo's Guard.

A DAY OF FIGHTING WITH REBELS

The Filipinos Boldly Attack the Gunboats in the Harbor and Make Vigorous Resistance to the Attack of General Lawton's Land Forces.

Manila, June 14.-Information believed to be reliable has reached here of the assassination of General Luna and his aide-de-camp, Lieutenant Pasco Ramon, June 8 by Aguinaldo's guard at the headquarters of Aguinaldo. Luna and Ramon, it appears, went to the Filipino headquarters to confer with Aguinadlo, got into an altercation with the captain of the guard and one of them drew a revolver. The guard then killed Luna and Ranon with their bayonets.

At daylight yesterday the rebels at Cavite Viejo dropped two shells from a big smooth bore gun mounted in front of the church into the navy yard. The only damage done was splintering the top of the nuge shears on the The gunboats Callao, Manila and Mosquito then proceeded to dismount the gun. After breakfast the rebels opened fire along the beach to Bakoor. After silencing the big gun at Cavite Viejo the gunboats ran close along the shore, bombarding the rebel position. The rebels replied with rifle fire and with the fire of some small pieces of artillery. So vigorous was the enemy's fire that at 9:20 a.m. the gunboat Helena joined the small gunpoats already named and the Princeon, Monterey and Monadnock, from their anchor ranges, dropped occasional big shells among the rebels. This, apparently, only served to incite the rebels, as they kept up an incessant fire of musketry and artillery near the mouth of the Zapote river, two miles north of Bakoor. The fire of all seven warships was concentrated on this point shortly after noon. The rebeis were eventually forced to abandon their guns after holding out for about four hours, only to be confronted by General Lawton's force on land and in their rear, where there was heavy fighting.

As soon as the land fighting opened the Americans were attacked by hidden riflemen on all sides, even the amigos or "friendly" natives, in the houses of the town, shooting into their

A little group made a desperate stand, General Lawton, Major Starr and Lieutenants Donovan and Sonnelly taking rifles from the wounded men and firing at the enemy, bringing down some of the rebel sharpshooters from a tree. Finally their cartridges were all gone and they were forced to break through the enemy's flank, carrying the wounded to the main body of the troops. Lieutenant Donovan, whose leg was broken, floundered for a mile through a bog, after leading his men in the face of a greatly superior force. General Lawton ceased firing until reinforcements could be brought up. Two battalions of the Fourteenth regiment and one battalion of the Ninth regiment were hurried to the front, and in the afternoon the battle was re-The only means of crossing the Zapote was by a small bridge, which the Filipinos commanded, with trenches spreading V-shaped, whence they could concentrate their fire on the bridge. They also had the advantage of the trees and jungle, so the Americans could hardly see ahead.

When the battle was resumed with the reinforcements, our battery having silenced the enemy's guns, the Americans wading waist deep in the mud of the salt flats, slowly, and pouring steady vollers of musketry at the rebels, drove their opponents beyond the river. Then the two armies lay facing each other across the deep stream, the enemy practically out of sight, while the men in blue lay on the mud and bushes, many of them without shelter, for three hours, without a moment's cessation in the firing. One battalion after another, General Lawton summoned the reserves from Las Pinas until only enough troops were left in the town to prevent the Filipinos from attacking the Americans in the rear. An army has seldom fought under greater handicap or more courageously than did our regulars, a majority of whom were, comparatively speaking, recruits, who could have been pardoned for retiring, in the face of such a fierce fire, from their exposed positions.

It is impossible at present to estimate the number of Filipino dead. There are many dead bodies in the fields the Americans traversed.

This battlefield, incidentally, was formerly the scene of several of the greatest struggles between the Spaniards and the Filipinos. The Zapote was considered impregnable, and hundreds of Spaniards and Filipinos have been killed while fighting over the same bridge in former contests for its possession. General Lawton, though exhausted by the morning's fight, rallied by sheer will power, and was the commanding figure in the battle. He went along the lines, directing and encouraging the troops,

General Wheaton and General Ovenshine were equally courageous. fact, the generals were among the few men on the battlefield who refused to take shelter under the hottest fire.

Exploding Rifle Killed Two Soldiers. Harrisburg, June 14.--Corporals Cummings and Bostle, of Company F. Nineteenth United States regular infantry, were killed last evening at Camp Meade by the accidental discharge of a Krag-Jorgensen rifle in the hands of Private Murphy, of Company B. Murphy is a raw recruit, and with about 400 others, has only been attached to the regiment a short time. While cleaning the rifle it was accidentally discharged, the ball first striking Bostle on the arm and then went through his head, killing him instantly. It then struck Cummings in the region of the heart, causing internal hemorrhages, from which the soldier died in two hours. Murphy will be tried by a summary court.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS.

twenty-one Avowed Candidates For Supreme Judge Nomination.

Harrisburg, June 13.-The state Democratic convention, which convenes in this city tomorrow, may not complete its work before Thursday. The present program of the leaders is to hold sessions tomorrow and Thursday, to avoid a session tomorrow night. The feature of the gathering will be the contest for supreme court judge. A nomination is equivalent to an election this year, and there are no less than a score of avowed candidates in the field. The managers of each insists that the name of his favorite be placed before the convention with a speech. This alone will consume four or five hours, even if the speeches are limited to five minutes. There is no contest for state treasurer, and Representative William T. Creasy, of Columbia, will probably be nominated by acclamation.

The avowed candidates for supreme court judge are George A. Allen of Erie, Judge Herman Yerkes of Bucks, D. C. Dewit of Bradford, Judge Smith of Scranton, ex-Congressman Wolverton of Sunbury, Judge Bechtel of Schuylkill, Judge Ermentrout of Berks, ex-Judge Krebs of Clearfield, C. M. Bower of Bellefonte, Judge Stewart of York, John G. McConahy of Lawrence, C. Larue Munson of Williamsport. Judge Mayer of Clinton, Judge Kennedy of Allegheny, Judge Mestrezat of Fayette, Levi McQuiston of Butler, William Trickett of Carlisle, Judge Albright of Lehigh, O. B. Dickinson of Delaware, Judge Lynch of Luzerne and ex-Judge Samuel Gustine Thompson of Philadelphia. All of these have headquarters at the leading hotels.

The executive committee of the state committee met last evening and selected William R. Brinton of Lancaster for temporary chairman, S. M. Smith of Greene secretary, B. F. Bryant of Philadelphia sergeant-at-arms and Miss Gertrude M. Shields of Altoona stenographer. Either ex-Governor Pattison of Philadelphia or Charles J. Reilly of Williamsport will be permanent chairman.

ROBBED OF HIS REASON.

John Monaghan a Second Victim of Blind Murderer's Rage.

Uniontown, Pa., June 13.-Wild, raving mad, behind the bars in a cell in the insane department at the Fayette county almshouse, John Monaghan sits, blaspheming his maker one minute, praying to him the next, now telling of some imaginary blood curdling crime he did, again whispering how he will kill some one of his friends, shricking, laughing, violent and pathetic, preaching and singing as the mood takes him, wrenching the bars to get out, his brain shattered by the awful crime that ended the life of his wife, Minerva Monaghan, Friday night, another victim to the rage and vengeance of the blind murderer, William C. McCormick.

Monaghan has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Louis C. Coldren, at Johnstown, since his wife, Minerva, secured a divorce from him three years ago, and came with his children to attend the funeral of his murdered wife. A day or two after his arrival his children noticed him acting a little queer. On Friday he became so violent that he had to be taken in charge, and was committed to the insane department. Monaghan has shown slight signs of insanity at long intervals during the past ten years, but never before became violent. It evident that his wife's tragic death unsettled his mind. His ravings are about the people he has killed during many years, some of them back in childhood.

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

Lebanon, Pa., June 13.-The third increase of wages within three months made by the Pennsylvania Bolt and Nut company, of this city, will take effect next Monday, on the scale of $3.50 per ton to puddlers. This increase is $1 more than the men received at this time a year ago, and there is every prospect that this rate will be kept up.

Pittsburg, June 12.-Hugh J. Scanlon, vice president of the Tin Workers' International Protective association, who attended the scale conference in Chicago, returned to Pittsburg this morning. The new scale, which was accepted on Saturday, provides a general advance of about 25 per cent. It affects about 10,000 workers in western Pennsylvania, who are not members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

Reading, June 12 .- Joseph Gardner, charged with cutting a young woman named Annie Faust in the head with a knife, is locked up at the station It is alleged that house in this city. when Gardner called at the woman's house last night and found her entertaining another male friend he made a murderous attack on her. He succeeded in inflicting an ugly gash in her head and face, from which the blood spurted. While the squabble between Gardner and the woman was going on the other man escaped. Gardner was arrested. Huntingdon, Pa., June 12.-Presiden; Judge John M. Bailey, of the Huntingdon-Mifflin judicial district, whose candidacy for the Democratic nomination for supreme court judge was warmly endorsed by the members of the Hunt ingdon bar and the Democratic committees of both counties, has declined to allow his name to be presented before the state convention. In a letter addressed to the district delegates Judge Bailey refers feelingly to his appreciation of the high honor accorded him, but prefers, he says, to pursue the duties of his present position.

Dubois, Pa., June 13.-The miners strike situation in this soft coal region remains unchanged. Delegations of miners, with bands, are marching from place to place holding meetings, discussing the situation and seemingly having a merry time. No visible effort has been made by the operators to resume and no propositions have been made, other than the reply to the miners in answer to their demands previous to the strike. In the meantime the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg railroad has practically suspended business, except the running of passenger and local freight trains. Besides 10,000 miners in the region, 500 shop and railroad men in this city are idle as a result of the strike.
