

HAPPENINGS IN BELLEFONTE

Local Events Briefly Told in a Few Lines

PERSONALS, SOCIAL EVENTS

What Has Transpired During the Past Week—Movements of Our People—What the Local Scribe Saw Worthy of Mention—A Week's Local News in a Few Words.

—Master Ellis Myerle, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is a student at the academy this winter.

—Earl Tuten, of the Daily News, is taking in the Veteran's Encampment, at Philadelphia.

—Prof. Harry Stephens, of Carlisle, was visiting his father Rev. Dr. Stephens on Linn Street.

—Mrs. W. B. Parker, of Somerset, Pa., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. Ross Parker on Thomas street.

—Mrs. Margaret Funk and Mrs. Viola M. Burns, of Bradford, Pa., are guests at the home of Albert Roberts.

—Mr. Lucas, of East Lamb street, with his family moved from Bellefonte to Snow Shoe where they will reside in the future.

—Miss Petrik's select school for children will open for the reception of old and new pupils on Monday, September 11, 1899.

—Ed. Harper left Thursday last week for Pittsburg, to accept a lucrative position with the American Steel Hoop Co., of that city.

—The Grange Picnic will be the next large public gathering. The indications are that there will be the customary attendance this year.

—The Bellefonte Glass Works expect to resume operations on the 15th of September. A number of extensive repairs will be made before work is resumed.

—Charley Atherton, of State College, who had been sold to Washington by the Wilkesbore ball team has been released by the Senators, because of a falling off in his hitting.

—Mrs. James R. Pierpoint, of Philadelphia, arrived in town last week and is the guest of Miss Brockerhoff. The Brockerhoff's have reopened their old home at the corner of Spring and Bishop streets.

—Miss Rose Fox, who spent the past summer visiting friends at Newton, Kans., arrived home on last Saturday evening and has resumed her position as one of the instructors of the Bellefonte schools.

—Mrs. Templeton Cruse departed Friday afternoon for Millheim to visit her father William Musser who is suffering from the effects of a wound received several years ago by the accidental discharge of a gun.

—Saturday afternoon Mr. Jesse Fravel, of Dayton, Ohio, was a pleasant caller at our office. Mr. Fravel formerly was a resident of Boggs township but left there for Dayton, about thirteen years ago. He now is here visiting his friends in this section.

—Large delegations of old soldiers left on Saturday and Monday for Philadelphia, to attend the annual national encampment at that place, this week. Many did not go because they considered that the railroad companies did not give them a fair rate. They charged more to haul the old soldiers to Philadelphia than to carry people to Atlantic City this summer, which was 100 miles further and the railroad companies hauled anybody there for about $1.00 less. That did not seem quite right, and we don't wonder that some of them kicked on the rate.

—Last Friday evening the last of the summer series of assemblies by the young people of Bellefonte was given in the armory. The decorations for this were of golden rod and the large room presented a fine appearance when the festivities were at their height. The inclemency of the weather was the only unpleasant feature of the evening. A great many guests from a distance were present. Music was furnished by Chappel's orchestra of Williamsport. We understand that the young ladies of the town contemplate giving an assembly in return, Friday evening.

—During the recent storm that passed over this valley, several weeks ago, there were many narrow escapes from lightning. On Friday, Mr. Isaac Frain, of Abdera, was in our office and told us that they had a regular electrical exhibition down their way during that storm. It was heavy and plenty of it. One flash struck their barn which contained all the season's crop, also a large number of horses and young cattle. They rushed out, expecting to see the building in flames, to rescue the live stock. They found timbers charred along the course the flash took in the building, and some straw was blackened, but fortunately there was no fire kindled. Some of the horses were overcome in the stalls but soon recovered. Of course they felt much easier after they found that no harm was done, as the loss would have been considerable.

—Harris Mann and wife, of Lewis-town, are visiting in Bellefonte.

—Mr. and Mrs. Claud Jones and son, of Tyrone, spent Sunday at the home of Monroe Armour, on East Linn street.

—George Bottorf, for the past eight years fireman in the electrical department at State College, has accepted a position in the Allegheny R. R. shops at Pittsburg. He will move his family from Lemont to Pittsburg immediately.

—Anyone who reads the report of the Grand Jury, which appears in this issue from last week's court proceedings, can't help but smile at the wording of that document. It is hardly creditable to the county, and as we are expected to publish such documents verbatim, we give same as it now is on record.

—Friday evening the young ladies of the town will give an assembly in the armory to their gentleman friends. This has been the custom of the gentler sex in the past, and they always succeed admirably in showing their brothers how to conduct such an affair. This is considered the closing event of the summer's gaiety in our city, which always is considered a social centre at this season of the year.

—L. A. Schaffer, justice of the peace, for the North Ward, of this place, has tendered his resignation to the Governor of the state. He finds the office more annoying than profitable and never cared much to have it. The successor will likely be immediately appointed by Gov. Stone to fill out the unexpired term, which runs till May 1900. This will give some of the hungry republicans about Bellefonte a chance for an office, and it will be a Quayite, if one wants it.

—On Saturday morning one of our early callers was Mr. Fred Gummo, of Stormstown, who is a constant reader of this paper. He reports the heaviest oats crop through that section in many years, and he ought to know as he is engaged in threshing this season in that section. This season the oats was short in stock but the heads were large and exceedingly well filled. Owing to the dry weather the farmers up there are not in a hurry to plant their wheat on account of the fly getting into it.

—On Tuesday morning Sheriff Cronister took Harry Corman to the Huntingdon Reformatory. The young lad was convicted at the last term of court for stealing Geo. Bush's bicycle. The other evening the young lad got a piece of an iron bar in his cell and at night began digging through the wall. He succeeded in removing a large amount of loose stone and mortar, but the outside stone of the wall were wedged in place too tightly and he could not budge it. After that he was confined in one of the steel cells. The interior walls of the prison are nothing but loose stone and mortar. Sheriff Cronister says he often ploughed through stonier ground than that. The prison walls certainly are not secure.

—Monday evening there was an original entertainment on the streets of our town by some jolly individuals from Williamsport, who had come up to take in the K. G. E. picnic at Hecla Park, that day. The boys continued their journey on to Bellefonte to see the sights and enjoy themselves in their own peculiar way. Their specialty was a bear dance that created much amusement for our people and everybody stopped to take a laugh at the unique performance. They had a splendid black bear uniform with muzzles, which one of the chaps wore, while one of his companions lead him about the streets and another played the bugle. It was well enough done to be intensely ridiculous and create amusement, which was their purpose.

—Saturday afternoon the down town people had the opportunity of seeing a first-class knockout. A chap by the name of Frank Lochar was pretty well enthused and was hunting the "best man of the town" to show him that he could "do him." Along came a big Canadian pugger who had some bug juice up his "snute," and was not in a mood to stand much trifling. The Canadian would not stand much annoyance and soon the two began to exchange compliments with their fists. The Canadian put his man out in short order, by punching his face in great shape until his victim yelled "enough," which according to the code is the signal among gentlemen to cease hostilities. Lochar was seen later with a piece of raw beefsteak, nursing his eye which looked decidedly the worse for his interview.

—Among those who attended curb market on Tuesday morning was H. M. Confer, of near Howard, who had a nice load of potatoes on his wagon. The unusual thing about those potatoes was that they did not require any digging. Last Saturday a severe rain storm passed over that section and caught Mr. Confer's property as well as others. They had very high water and a stream plowed right through Mr. Confer's potato patch and washed out every hill of potatoes as well as the soil on which they grew. The only good feature about the flood was that after the water had subsided he went out and picked up his potato crop on the top of the ground, and they were all washed nice and clean, ready for market. Confer thinks this a handy way to gather a potato crop, but he is not so sure that it pays as all the top soil is gone. In addition to this the water rose so high as to go right through his kitchen and washed chairs, tables, etc., out in the yard, and even put the fire out of his kitchen stove.

—Wednesday morning Mr. Henry Moore, of St. James, Mo., arrived in town and one of the first things he did was to come up and have his name put on our list for the ensuing year. He came east on the veteran's excursion and visited Washington and Philadelphia and was on his way to see his brothers, Chas. D., of Boalsburg and S. B., at State College. He left Centre county thirty years ago, yet he remembers many of the older citizens. He is a farmer in Missouri, and reports big crops of wheat and corn this year. Mr. Moore is a democrat who resides in the famous 8th Congressional District, which last week elected a successor to the venerable Dick. Bland and the issue was fought on anti-expansion, in which the McKinley administration got such a black eye—an account of which will be found in another portion of this issue. Mr. Moore says the Missouri democrats are for Bryan stronger than ever, and the same feeling exists in all the Western states.

—Did you hear about Jim Derr's narrow escape? Well, ask him.

—Mrs. E. R. Chambers and family have returned from their visit at Kennet Square, Pa.

—Carlo Cueno, an Italian fruit dealer, will open a stand in the Brockerhoff House block, next door to the hotel office.

—George Scott, of Alliance, Ohio, arrived in Bellefonte on Monday evening to attend the funeral of his son's wife, Mrs. Jas. E. Scott.

—The wedding of Miss Mable Cowd- rick, at Niagara Falls, will take place on Wednesday September the 27th, instead of the 25th, as stated in our last issue.

—Wm. Fisher, of Hubersburg, has accepted the position in Joseph Bros. store, formerly filled by Paul Fortney, who is now an instructor in the boro. schools.

—Ed. Beizer, of this place, has opened a new meat market at Snow Shoe and will handle the very best that market can afford. He understands the butchering business.

—It is said that N. A. Crissey the aeronaut, who met with a fatal accident at Punsutawney last Wednesday by falling 1800 feet from his balloon, was a native of our neighboring town of Howard. He was 27 years old and unmarried.

—Last Friday little John Parks, son of Wm. Parks, stepped on a piece of a broken bottle and cut his foot severely, by severing an artery. Dr. Seibert had to be called in order to check the flow of blood. The lad is getting along nicely, but he was quite weak from the loss of blood.

—Wednesday afternoon, 13th, the household goods of James Scott will be offered at public sale, at his residence, on Logan street. Since the death of Mrs. Scott it is his intention to discontinue housekeeping and return to his former home, at Alliance Ohio, where his parents still reside.

—Editor Harter and wife are down at Shamokin Dam, this week, where they have joined a fishing party that is camping on an island in the Susquehanna. Mr. Harter finds it necessary to take this trip as his meat supply is growing short, at home. As the hunting season will soon be here he does not expect to have any trouble along that line for sometime.

—Miss Jennie Ackerman, the celebrated traveler, lecturer and writer, will speak in the M. E. church Sunday afternoon, and in the Court House on Monday evening. The subject of her discourse will be announced later. Admission will be free, but collections will be taken up. The lady comes to Bellefonte with some most flattering press notices and no doubt she will be worth hearing.

—Tuesday, September 26th, at 10 a. m., a car load of coach and speed horses from the private farms of W. Fred Reynolds, will be sold at Philadelphia, in Harkness' Bazaar. The sale will be under the direction of Thos. Radon, Mr. Reynolds' expert horseman, who has handled and trained these animals for the market. There is some exceedingly fine blood among the lot, and they will be sure to attract the attention of choice buyers.

—Word comes from Huntingdon, Pa., of the serious condition of Charles Bell, who holds a position in the Reformatory at that place, as an instructor. Several nights ago he was found along the railroad in an unconscious condition and was taken to his home. A bruise was found on the abdomen above the left hip and how he came to be injured no one seems to know. For a time his condition was considered critical. Various rumors are afloat, but nothing definite is known of the nature of his accident.

—The employees at the postoffice don't know their onion, as the saying goes. On all legal holidays the department allows them to observe the same, by refraining from work such as delivering and collecting mails and closing the office the greater portion of the day to cause as much public inconvenience as possible. The above comments are general—we do not refer to our local postoffice attachés. Last Monday was a legal holiday, "Labor Day," and not a one of them realized the situation until the day was far spent, and they were not a bit sorry either, for they all prefer to wait on the public, than to be lounging around killing time—nit.

—Wednesday morning Mr. Henry Moore, of St. James, Mo., arrived in town and one of the first things he did was to come up and have his name put on our list for the ensuing year. He came east on the veteran's excursion and visited Washington and Philadelphia and was on his way to see his brothers, Chas. D., of Boalsburg and S. B., at State College. He left Centre county thirty years ago, yet he remembers many of the older citizens. He is a farmer in Missouri, and reports big crops of wheat and corn this year. Mr. Moore is a democrat who resides in the famous 8th Congressional District, which last week elected a successor to the venerable Dick. Bland and the issue was fought on anti-expansion, in which the McKinley administration got such a black eye—an account of which will be found in another portion of this issue. Mr. Moore says the Missouri democrats are for Bryan stronger than ever, and the same feeling exists in all the Western states.

—Latest importation of Ladies Glaze and Kid Glove. The Peerless—Sovereign—Triano—Surety—Majestic—in all the proper shades—from the well known importers—Wertheimer & Co., New York.—Ladies hosiery, handkerchiefs neckwear, collars and cuffs.

—The venerable William P. Fisher, of Unionville, spent Tuesday in town.

—Richard Taylor is now employed by Schad brothers, plumbers.

—Mrs. Edward Rankin returned to her home at Harrisburg, Wednesday afternoon.

—We are informed that the pugalist of East Logan street, has abandoned the ring for good. How about it, Johnnie.

—Samuel Greninger and wife, of Howard, visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Greninger, on Sunday last.

—Rev. Elmer Williams expects to leave next week for Carlisle where he will enter Dickinson College and study for the ministry.

—Adam Miller, of Millheim, was in Bellefonte one day last week and took dinner at the home of his nephew, A. M. Greninger, and family.

—Mrs. Gilbert Beaver returned to her home in Bellefonte, Wednesday morning, after an extended visit at her home in Harrisburg and at the sea shore.

—Morris Kelley has accepted a position in the depot of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. He has taken the place lately made vacant by William McClellan in the freight department.

—Miss Cora Campbell, of Punsutawney, sister of Mrs. James K. Barnhart, is visiting at the pleasant home of the Barnharts, on North Thomas street. She will remain with them for several weeks.

—Patrick Toner, an employe at the electric light works, cut his arm badly on Wednesday evening. In some way he accidentally thrust it through a window pane and cut a deep gash in the flesh. It was necessary to call a physician to dress the wound.

—Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rote and daughter, Lulu, arrived in town on Monday, from Punsutawney, where they moved last spring. They have come back to stay and will make their future home at their old homestead, near Coleville where Mr. Rote has several homes.

—The 5th "Annual Convention of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, Susquehanna District, met at Hecla Park on Labor Day. There were about 1500 present. Addresses were made by C. B. Wood, Past Supreme Chief of Philadelphia; Hon. Jas. Schofield and W. Harrison Walker, Esq., of Bellefonte.

—Miss Jennie Crittenden, eldest daughter of Rev. Crittenden, arrived in Bellefonte Tuesday evening. It is a little over three years since Miss Jennie left Bellefonte for her Uncle's home in Waterbury, Conn. Miss Crittenden now holds a responsible position in one of the largest insurance offices in Waterbury.

—Every night for two weeks we will have a free show by a medicine company who have erected a large tent on the meadow, near the depot. You are invited to come and bring your sweetheart with you as the show is moral and clean, nothing to offend the most delicate or refined, excepting the vivid account of how various individuals in this community had narrow escapes from 14 foot tape worms, and such like.

—The rendition of the "Wedding March," in the opera house, on Monday evening, was witnessed by a large audience and the receipts amounted to $155. with about $25 expense. The receipts of the evening were materially increased by a subscription of $100, from Hon. James Milliken. The money will be appropriated for a public library fund. The production was a very creditable one and was appreciated by the audience.

—For several days past the friends of Alfred Brisbin, who is a naval cadet on the training ship Monongehala, were uneasy as the ship was over nine days past due, at Annapolis, on its return from the summer cruise. On Wednesday word was received here that the vessel had been sighted and the crew would be ashore in a few days. Alfred expects to be home for a short vacation and then will take up the regular course of studies in the naval academy. He was recently appointed from this district.

Wedding Hunt.
Wednesday noon a pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the residence of ex-sheriff David Woodring, this place, when his eldest daughter Miss Anna Mabel, and Mr. William T. Hunt, of Williamsport, were united in the bonds of matrimony by Dr. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate friends of the young couple. After the wedding breakfast the newly married couple departed on the afternoon train for Washington, D. C., and upon their return will be at home in their newly furnished home on Curtin street, known as the Burnsides house.

Mr. Hunt is a former resident of Williamsport, and of late has held a good position in the machine shops of Jenkins & Lingle, at this place. He is to be congratulated upon the selection of a life-partner, as he secured one of Bellefonte's charming young ladies.

Our New Department.

ROLLING MILL TO START.

Another industry in this community is to start, in order to get a bit of the present boom in the iron business. On Monday H. S. Taylor, Esq., informed the writer that he had recently returned from New York city where he had closed the necessary negotiations with the Empire Iron & Steel Co. for the lease of three puddling and rolling mills at this place for a term of years. The plant referred to is commonly known as the "Valentine Rolling Mill," on the outskirts of our town, and for many years operated by the Valentines in connection with their furnaces nearby.

The plant is favorably located, close to the large modern furnace, has water power for all necessary purposes, all the principal machinery is there in good shape and will require very little repairs to get the entire plant in operation, which is now in progress and in the course of several weeks will be completed. The mill has four double turn furnaces and when running double turn will give employment all told to about fifty. At this time puddlers are in demand and get the highest wages known for many years, from $4 to 4:50 per ton. The furnace has a capacity of about fifteen tons per day. There are a number of old puddlers about Bellefonte ready to go to work, and others who are anxious to come back, so that there will be no such trouble, in securing the workmen, as at some other points. Charles Case, an experienced ironworker, will be foreman of the plant.

This new enterprise is being undertaken by Messrs. Hugh S. Taylor, Esq., and his brother R. B. Taylor, the coal dealer. The firm will likely be under the name of the "Nittany Rolling Mill Co.," and they will have all the financial backing to conduct it in good shape. Both are active and energetic young men and we think will make a success of it, if it can be done by pluck and attention to business.

The Difference.
A newly married editor gets off the following: "What's the difference between a honeycomb, a honeymoon and a pretty girl? A honeycomb is a small cell, a honeymoon is a big sell and a pretty girl is a damsel."

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache. Easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

CHARGED WITH HOUSEBREAKING.

On last Friday morning Howard Traummel, a colored gentleman who has been in the employ of Col. Spangler for about five years, was arrested on the charge of attempting to enter the residence of Scott Lose on the previous night. He was given a hearing before Justice Kelchline, who bound him over for an appearance at next term of court to answer the charge. He succeeded in securing the necessary bail.

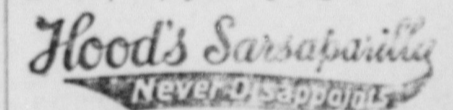

From the testimony it appears that Mr. Lose was awakened that night at about 3 a. m. by two men attempting to get in the kitchen window. In failing to get a reply, Mr. Lose shot several times after the intruders. Mr. Lose and his son each identified Trammel as one man. Trammel admitted that he had been drinking that day and claims that he has no knowledge as to his doings that night. He had a scar on his arm, supposed to have been caused by a shot from the revolver. The other man made his escape.

Jackson-Borches.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Mary Wooden Jackson, daughter of Mrs. Mordecai William Jackson of this place, to Mr. Joseph Erwin Borches, of Knoxville, Tenn. The ceremony will occur on Tuesday evening, September 19th, at 8 o'clock at the St. John's Episcopal church Bellefonte, to be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Wilbur F. Reeder, on North Allegheny street. Mrs. Jackson and her daughter, formerly were residents of Berwick, Pa., where Mr. Jackson was a wealthy manuf. factor, who died several years ago.
