He is looking well and was heartily greeted by his many friends here. DEATH OF ROLLIN DECKER: Once more it becomes our solemn duty to record the death of one of our respected citizens in the person of Rollin Decker, which sad event took place at his late residence on west Main street on last Thursday afternoon about four o'clock. His death was quite a surprise and unlooked for, as he had only been confined to the house for about two or three days, and on the Monday previous to his death had been engaged in making cider, preparatory to cooking apple butter on Tuesday. Diabetes is assigned as the direct cause of his death, and although he was able to work till only about a week ago, it is supposed that he had been ailing for some time with the disease. His age was about 37 years and he is survived by his second wife and two children. A short service was held at his residence on Monday morning, after which the remains were taken to the Heckman cemetery near Penn Hall for interment, where services were continued by Rev. A. G. Why do We Wear Hats?

At Lake George and other summer resorts men as well as women have very generally adopted the practice of going bareheaded. Why not? Why should men wear hats anywhere, except perhaps sou'westers when it rains? The hat is not only superfluous but detrimental in the opinion of Dr. Hammond it threatens to produce a hairless race of men within a few generations. The silk hat requires as much care as an Easter bonnet, a Presidential boom or a baby. The derby is hard, uncomfortable and almost ingeniously ugly. Even the soft felt hat too much constricts scalp circulation and tends to baldness. Women do not grow bald because their hats do not encircle their heads, but rest lightly on top. The premature baldness of men occurs only on that part of the head above the hat-band. Savages, who wear no hats at all, always have luxuriant heads of hair, except where the scalp knife has introduced a different fashion.

In brief, the case against the hats complete. If we care to retain our hair we must quit wearing hats or very radically change the form of their construction. Body of the Giant Cannot be Found. A message was received at Eleanora, Jefferson county, that Col. Henry Cooper of that place, who had been traveling with the Wallace Bros. show, as the "large man" had died suddenly on Vancouver Island, in British Columbia. Inquiry was also sent as to what disposition should be made of the body. Word was sent from Eleanora to have the body sent home for burial. Then word came back that it would cost $200 to send it. The reply sent was to have it shipped home no difference what the expense might be, for the cost would be promptly paid. The next words were to the effect that the body had been stolen and since then the relatives and friends have not received any word. Col. Cooper was 37 years of age, 7 feet 10 inches high, and weighed 330 pounds. His mother and a sister lives at Eleanora and have considerable property on Sugar Hill, a suburb of Eleanora.

A Trying Situation.

When the car had stopped at the corner, a poor looking woman got on. "Please take a seat further forward," said the conductor, and he waited for her to do so. The woman paid no attention. The conductor repeated what he had said before, adding that she was in the smoking seat. But the woman did not budge. The conductor said it all again with greater emphasis. The woman looked somewhat uncomfortable, but did not stir, nor did she say a word. The conductor was getting exasperated as the car had been waiting at the corner all this time. So he went along to where the woman sat and helped her to alight. It became evident then that she did not know what she was expected to do, as she started for the curb stone, to wait for another car. But the conductor motioned her to another seat and helped her on. Then she said her first word: "Ich ferstehe nicht Englische."

Good Law.

Out in Oregon parties who operate sawmills are required to dispose sawdust in a way that does not allow any of it to get into the streams on account of the fine fish there. The fine is $50 for first offense for letting sawdust run in streams and $100 for second offense, and so on. Such a law would be valuable in Pennsylvania if it were possible to secure it, because the companies are running things in this State.

The New Way.

The disposal of dead bodies by the liquid air process is a new scheme. It is said that it causes instantaneous transformation into flames of dazzling brilliancy, with the result that not even ashes will remain in the furnace. The proposed innovation is creating a good deal of talk among funeral directors and undertakers generally, but it is looked upon with little favor as yet.

Good Enough to Take.

The finest quality of loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to that of maple syrup, making it very pleasant to take. As a medicine for the cure of coughs, colds, la grippe, croup and whooping cough it is unequalled by any other. It always cures, and cures quickly. For sale by F. Potts Green, Druggist, Bellefonte, Pa.

This is to certify that I have had chronic diarrhoea ever since the war. I got so weak I could hardly walk or do anything. One bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me sound and well. J. B. Gibbs, Fincastle, Va. I had chronic diarrhoea for twelve years. Three bottles of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me. S. L. Shaver, Fincastle, Va. Both Mr. Gibbs and Mr. Shaver are prominent farmers and reside near Fincastle, Va. They procured the remedy from Mr. W. E. Casper, a druggist of that place, who is well acquainted with them and will vouch for the truth of their statements. For sale by F. Potts Green, Druggist, Bellefonte, Pa.

Cheaper to Pay Rent.

We have often heard the old saying, "It is cheaper to move than pay rent," but according to the following, this rule will not hold good: A decision recently handed down by the supreme court says that a landlord can compel his tenant to come to his office and pay rent; He need not look up the tenant and ask: "How about that little matter?" but can sit down, sue and get a judgment against him. A landlord telephoned his tenant last January and asked him to come around and pay his rent, but the tenant said "come and get it." More words passed, with the result that both engaged lawyers. It has just been decided in the landlord's favor, and it cost the lessee $200 to find this out.

Took Root.

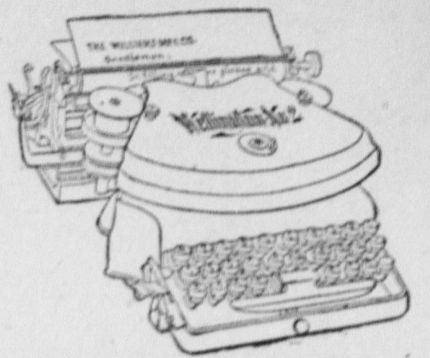

During the great flood of 1884 a small apple tree floated into the court house yard in Lock Haven and lodged at the south end of the building in an upright position. It took root and grew rapidly and is now quite a large tree. This year it is loaded with fruit until its branches are bending. The apples are large and fine looking.
