ADMIRAL DEWEY HOME.

The Hero of Manila Bay Arrives in New York Harbor.

GRATEFUL TO HIS COUNTRYMEN

For the Magnificent Preparations Made to Welcome Hlm Home-He Disclaims Opinions Credited to Him on Political Matters.

New York, Sept. 27.—Admiral George Dewey arrived off New York at dawn resterday, and the Olympia is now anchored in American waters in the light of Sandy Hook.

The first shout of welcome was from the pilots and crew of pilot boat No. 7, 15 miles south of the Hook lightship. It happened to be Pilot John Peterson's turn, and at 5:30 a. m. be was put aboard the Olympia and brought her around the Hook and into the lower bay. The marine observers along the coast had sighted the Olympia in the first light of the morning. The shore batteries of Fort Hancock, manned by gunners called from breakfast, let loose 17 guns. The flagship replied with 21, and let go her anchors not far from where the cup challenger Shamrock is moored. The admiral was in his own country again, after 23 months' absence. He had returned "great with the arduous greatness of things done," and he scarcely seemed to realize it. The pilot had brought aboard the Sunday papers and a press reporter was received by the admiral in a cabin littered by the illustrated Dewey editions which together made hundreds of pages in black and white and in colors, all concerning the great admiral and the preparations made to receive him.

"It almost saddens me," he said, "to see what my people are doing for me. The pride and gratification is immense, and I cannot express the appreciation I feel. I did not know, I did not really perceive until this morning the splendid welcome that my countrymen are giving me. The governors of many states are coming to see me, and troops from Florida, on their way to take part in receiving

The admiral said the he felt tired, but he did not look so. His complexion is a clear bronze, his hazel eyes bright, his bearing brisk and rather eyes and around his mouth, but his Prince Cantacuzene, Count Speransky. voice is singularly clear and pleasant The admiral's whole presence is that of a man in his fullest powers. His manner is gentle and kind, but he is exceedingly wary, and did not permit himself to wander off into politics or to exercise those positive views he no doubt holds about the Philippines and American affairs there. His attention was brought to interviews in which he is described as going rather fully into the character of the Filipinoa and their fitness for self government.

"I cannot stand for any interview giving my opinions on political sub-jects and the Philippines," he said. I disown any views ascribed to me on those subjects."

Alluding to his arrival two days ahead of the time he was expected Admiral Dewey said: "I am sorry that I am ahead of the schedule. The Olympia has been steaming at the uniform rate of ten knots an hour since we left Gibraltar. Several days ago we knew that we would arrive before Thursday unless we moderated our speed or went somewhere out of our course. Captain Lamberton, Lieutenant Brumby and I held a consultation. The propriety of running into Hampton Roads or some other port in the south was spoken of, but we concluded that we ought not to touch land first anywhere except at New York. It was suggested that we cruise some distance outside New York harbor until Thursday, but we knew that if we did that we would be discovered and reported. The weather looked a little squally, and it seemed to be better to be inside the Hook than outside. But the consideration that really decided us to come into port was to give Captain Lamberton a chance to clean up the ship before our voyage up the harbor. Captain Lamberton and I are very proud of the Olympia, and we wanted enough time at our anchorage to rub her down and make her look spick and span.

The Olympia looks as smart now as The anchors were hardly down before details of the crew were washing the ship's white sides and touching up the stains with paint. The admiral's first business was to send an officer ashore with telegrams for the navy department, Mayor Van Wyck and General Butterfield, anpouncing the arrival. He then spent most of the morning in looking over newspapers and receiving reporters. He was just finishing a midday breakfast when Sir Thomas Lipton called guished. on him. With Sir Thomas were Dr. Mackay and other visiting Englishmen.

Admiral Dewey then had a succession of notable callers, including Rear Admirals Sampson and Philip, Captain Chadwick, Commander Kelley, Lieutenant Commander Winslow and ethers. Later the New York reception Ignacio Mariscal, minister of foreign committee called on the admiral to relations, to go as his representative.

acquaint him with the preparations made for his reception. He declared the arrangements perfectly satisfactory to him, and announced that he would remain on board the Olympia until Friday morning, and would then receive the official visit of Mayor Van

Dr. Sanborn, of the port physician's staff, visited the Olympia and looked at her papers. Eleven of the crew of 375 men have typhoid fever. Some of the cases are convalescent and all of them are of a mild type, according to Dr. Percy, the ship's surgeon. No one has died of the fever, and with this exception the sailors and marines are well. Dr. Percy is unable to account for the presence of typhoid on the ship. The cases are not numerous or serious enough to cause him alarm. The North German Lloyd steamer Baale, outward bound, passed close to the Olympia. The Saale's passengers crowded to the rails. Admiral Dewey responded to waving pocket handkerchiefs by lifting his cap several times. The Saale's band played the "Star Spangled Banner," and the Olympia dipped her flag. The Cunarder Urania passed out half an hour afterward. She fired 17 signal bombs. Admiral Dewey directed the Olympia's band to play "God Save the Queen."

All day tugs, sailboats and excursion steamer came up near the Olympia and took a look at her. Everybody who asked was permitted to come on board. Some of the parties of sightseers on launches and steamers were invited by the officer of the deck to come up the gangway.

The admiral, about 5 o'clock, returned Sir Thomas Lipton's visit, Lieutenant Brumby and the admiral's son, George G. Dewey, were with him. Sir Thomas met the admiral at the starboard gangway, with his friends, and the entire party went to the after cabin, where the health of the admiral, the Shamrock, and of course the Columbia, were drunk amid enthusi-

The admiral remained on board for nearly half an hour and then started for his ship. As his launch drew away the entire ship's company, led by Sir Thomas, gave three honest cheers, the kind that the admiral heard from the British warships in Manila bay. Admiral Dewey waved his gold bound cap like a schoolboy as he stood on the rail of his little white canopied launch, being given a hearty welcome in his own home waters by a hundred foreigners.

Five Grand Army posts yesterday made application to General O. O. Howard, commanding the Sixth, or unarmed division, for a place in the line on the occasion of the land parade in honor of Admiral Dewey. General Howard said they would be invited to participate and would be given a prominent place in the line. Applications were also received by General Howard for a place in the line from the Veterans' Protective association, 50 men: the Veterans of the United States Navy, 60 men, and United States Regular Army and Navy Veterans' association, 100 men. The commander of the Sixth division said that it was now assured that 1,000 veterans would be in line, the number alloted by Major General Roe.

AN AMERICAN PRINCESS.

Granddaughter of President Grant Weds a Royal Russian.

Newport, Sept. 25 General Grant's granddaughter is a Russian princess. Today at noon the American ceremony, according to the rites of the Protestant Episcopal church, following the Russian service last evening, made Miss Julia Dent Grant, daughter of General and faunty. Some deep lines are under his Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, the wife of

PRINCESS CANTACUZENE.

It was the closing and the crowning society event of the Newport season of 1899, and among the most brilliant affairs of the kind ever chronicled in the society annals of this city, bringing to an end a series of entertainments in honor of the bride and groom which has probably never been surpassed in number and elaborateness of arrangement.

The American service was performed by Rev. Emery H. Porter, rector of Emanuel church, the Rhode Island law requiring that a resident clergyman shall officiate, and he was assisted by Bishop Potter, of New York, and Rev. Dr. R.J. Nevin, of the American church in Rome, Italy.

The Russian ceremony was performed by Father Hertovitsky, of the Russian church of New York. Only a few relatives and friends witnessed the first ceremony.

To Provent a General Strike of Workmen in Havana.

GEN. LUDLOW'S PROCLAMATION.

He Warns the Workingmen Against Following the Lead of "Self Seeking Demagogues," and Declares He Can Find Room For 2,000 Prisoners.

Havana, Sept. 27.—Owing to the police breaking up the meeting Monday night which had been called by the general committee of the labor unions for the purpose of deciding whether a general strike should be ordered, the question has not yet been settled. Those who had organized the meeting had failed to give the authorities the requisite 24 hours' notice, as required by law, and the 2,000 men who had assembled were therefore dispersed and the headquarters of the strikers were occupied by the police and some secretaries. A number of the leaders have been arrested for circulating leaf lets containing an inflammatory attack on the police.

"There will not be a general strike," said General Ludlow last evening. "I have sufficient assurances to satisfy me on that point."

Civil Governor Rivera says the matter is out of his hands and entirely within the jurisdiction of the military authorities. To all intents and pur poses the city is under martial law. General Ludlow says that if it should be necessary he can find room at the presidio for 1,000 prisoners, and at Cabanas for as many more. Where all the rights of citizens are at stake he considers that existing military power should supercede any legal tech-

The military governor has issued a long proclamation, which is in part as follows:

"The present functure, when certain irresponsible and seditious individuals are seeking to destroy the peaceful industries of the city and to mislead the workingmen into a general conspiracy to paralyze the life and movement of the community, it behooves me, for the interest of all concerned and as the immediate representative of the United States government, to publish a word of warning.

"The workingmen of Havana are being tempted toward a fatal step, which if taken will set back their exercise of liberty and the enjoyment of the rights of man for an indefinite period. At the instigation of a few self seeking demagogues, backed by a more numerous element that prefers idleness to labor, and excitement of any kind to the calmer life of thrift and protection of the family, the workingmen of Havana are urged to forego all labor, to extinguish the lights that protect property and discourage crime, to close the bake shops that furnish food and, if that could be accomplished, to cut off the water supply. Meanwhile the trades and occupations are to be abandoned, industry is to perish and food is to fail.

Upon whom would this punishment fall? Who would be at once, and fatally, the victims of this iniquitous conspiracy? Who but the poor, the destitute and the sick? Who but the ailing children and mothers weak and helpless? Who but the ignorant and destitute, thousands whom exist in Havana, whose daily resources are essential to their sustenance? Should there be a strike within 48 hours the cries of hunger and wails of distress will arise from multitudes whose sole fault it is that they are the wives and children of men who have been driven into sacrificing them without thought or reason

"It is known to the authorities that but a small proportion of the workingmen are in sympathy with the movement, and that the majority have been coerced into assent. Let there be no misunderstanding as to the outcome. Order will be maintained Violence and tumult will be crushed. Where so much is at stake there will be no hesitation in applying such remedial and correctional measures as may be necessary to preserve the peace and safety of the city. No man can be compelled to work against his will. But if he can work, yet will not, he is only a vagrant and a burden, and he must take the responsibility for his own acts and the needless and innumerable sufferings which he imposes upon his kindred, as well as upon the

The Olympia to Go to Norfolk. Norfolk, Va., Sept. 27 .- The visit of the big Virginia delegation to Washington to secure the presence of the Olympia and the North Atlantic squadron in Hampton Roads early in October has borne fruit. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen notified Senator Martin, of Virginia, that the North Atlantic squadron will be in Hampton Roads between the 2d and 6th of October. This is construed to mean that the Olympia will be one of the warships in the squadron. The occasion is to be made a grand holijitsinhji, the famous Indian cricketer, and his English eleven began their first match in this country yesterday on the grounds of the Belmont Cricket club, at Elmwood, a suburb of this They had as their opponents the Philadelphia "Colts," a team picked from the various local amateur cricket clubs. The attendance was disappointing. When the game began at noon but 300 people were present, the crowd increasing during the afternoon to 1,200. When stumps were drawn at 5 o'clock the locals, who went first to bat, had made 180 runs for a loss of 15 wickets. It had been arranged to allow 22 "colts" to take the field against the prince's team, but at his request it was decided to use but 14 fielders, 22 men to bat. He also stipulated that he should send 12 men to bat and 11 to the field.

Philadelphia, Sept. 27.-When play was resumed yesterday in the interna-tional cricket match between Prince Ranjitsinhji's English eleven and the Philadelphia colts on the Belmont Cricket club's grounds at Elmwood 7 of the 22 locals were still at the bat, 15 wickets having fallen before the foreign bowlers on Monday. All the colts were out with a total of 205 runs. Despite the fact that Prince Ranjitsinhji was to bat not more than 1,500 people were in attendance. When stumps were drawn the prince was not out and had made three runs. The Englishmen scored 36 runs for three
