Happenings In And About Bellefonte.

PERSONALS, SOCIAL EVENTS

Items That Are Worth Noting in a Few Lines—What Has Transpired in This Community During the Past Week—Movements of Our People.

—The Groundhog's weather predictions are not holding out this season. It is just the opposite.

—There will be a local teachers institute held at Eagleville, on Feb. 23 and 24th, to which all are invited.

—Carpenters are getting Sim Baum's room in order for the reception of his brand new stock of goods, about March 1st.

—The entertainment by the Franklin & Marshall Glee and Mandolin clubs will be worth hearing next Wednesday evening.

—Samuel Rowe, of Hagerstown, Md., is visiting friends in town this week. He is engaged in the furniture business with his father, at that place.

—The I.O.O.F., of this place, will hold their annual banquet on Friday evening, February 23rd 1900, in their spacious rooms on the third floor of Crider's block.

—Dr. A. Wingrove Daniel, of Mill Hall, will in the course of a week or ten days remove his family to Bellefonte, where he will engage in the practice of his profession.

—Don't forget that the annual Spring election, for local offices, takes place next Tuesday, the 20th. These elections are often of greater importance to you than that of either state or nation.

—Mrs. Herman Miller, of East High street, met with quite a serious accident on Sunday morning, when she slipped on the pavement in front of her house and fell breaking her right wrist.

—Next Thursday Gregg Post will give a turkey dinner for the benefit of their monument fund. It will be at the noon hour, and all will have ample opportunity to be served on that occasion.

—Detective Joseph Righthour arrested some boys last week for fishing with a dip net in Buffalo-Run. He was after some one who was fishing out in the old car shops dam, but that offender escaped.

—J. K. Johnston, Esq., is still confined to his bed where he has been the past six weeks. His ailment is a breaking down of the system, nervous prostration. He has been having a serious time of it.

—A social will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist church, Thursday evening, February 15th, by the members of the Ladies'Aid Society. Refreshments will be served. All are cordially invited to attend.

—Services of unusual interest will be held in St. John's Lutheran church, on Sunday evening in the interest of Foreign missions. It will be rendered by the Sunday school. A special program has been prepared.

—Harry Hartsock, of Pleasant Gap, will enter the Pennsylvania freight office next Monday to fill the vacancy as clerk, caused by the resignation of Thad Longwell. Mr. Hartsock has been teaching the grammar school at Pleasant Gap.

—The cellars of a number of houses on the north side of upper East Howard street were flooded with water in some to a depth of four feet, on Friday, doing considerable damage. This is an old trouble due to improper surface drainage and the need of good sewers.

—The County Commissioners have been quite busy the past few days packing up election supplies for the coming spring election. Ticket printing has also kept the various printing offices about the county on the hustle to get the work out in good time. It is quite a job.

—J. B. Mayes, the marbleman of Houserville, was in our office the other day to renew acquaintance and transact some business. He recently erected a very fine sarcophagus at Mill Hall cemetery, at the tomb of the late Robt. Mann. It was of Quincy granite and a fine piece of work.

—The politicians about Bellefonte are beginning to hustle around as there are only a few days left for them to get in their heavy work. The Daily News is cutting a wide swath this season, only the crop they are handling is a little rank and will not be fit for market when the time come for gathering it in.

—An exchange says that merchants who want newspaper men to roast grocery peddlers, cheap John stores and the like, would make newspaper men feel more like doing so if they would quit using free letter heads of soap firms and wholesale gargling oil envelopes, baking powder statements, sidewalk advertisements and rubber stamps and patronize home printing offices.

—It is amusing to see the political huns and professional beats chasing candidates about town these days. They can be seen standing on the street corners any hour of the day with parched throats watching for a victim. Even a 10 cent piece will give them temporary relief. Such things seem to have grown to be a necessary evil and people who claim respectability freely indulge in the practice. It is no wonder that politics becomes offensive to some people.

—Musical convention is in progress at Centre Hall this week.

—Franklin & Marshall Glee and Mandolin Club will entertain you.

—Harry Kline, of this place, who had been seriously ill with pneumonia, has entirely recovered.

—D. F. Fortney, Esq., delivered an able lecture before the local teachers' institute at Aaronsburg last week.

—This issue contains the County Commissioners Annual statement of the receipts and expenditures of the county officials.

—The gold standard bill is to be voted on by the Senate this week. Quay's case may never come to a vote as he fears the result.

—Mrs. Emma Kline, of Haverdygrass, Md., arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday evening to spend several weeks visiting at the home of Mrs. Edward Lindsay.

—Nearly all the schools in the county will have elaborate exercises on next Thursday, appropriate to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the rebellion; and the life of Ex-Gov. Curtin will receive especial attention in the same connection.

—Howard Spangler, who has been at the Memorial hospital in Johnstown since last Thursday, badly frozen a week or so earlier, on Saturday submitted to an operation. One hand and two fingers on the other hand and one foot were taken off, and it is believed that more of the remaining hand will have to go to avoid gangrene, which, in Mr. Spangler's weakened condition, would probably prove fatal.

STRUCK FOR WAGES.

Miners to the Number of 3,000 Throw Down Their Tools.

A dispatch from Altoona says: In the neighborhood of 3,000 miners in the northern Cambria field threw down their tools Saturday, and went out on a strike. The miners held a secret convention Thursday, and decided to go out unless an advance of from fifty to sixty cents per ton was granted. A committee was appointed to confer with the operators and yesterday morning the miners received their answer. The big coal firms, the Sterling Coal company of Spangler and Hastings, the Mitchell Coal and Coke company, of Hastings, and the Barnes Coal company, of Barnesboro, announced unequivocally that the demand of the men was abused and ruinous, and could not be complied with. The miners then dropped their tools and quietly went to their homes. A few watchmen were placed at the deserted collieries, but their presence is superfluous.

Counting the Tioga county men at Arnot, who have been out for eight months, there are now 4,000 to 5,000 men out in the central Pennsylvania field. Unless the recent strikers are speedily placated there is great danger that the strike will spread, ultimately involving about 60,000 men.

A CALLING DOWN.

Elaborate accounts of Charles Schadd finding rich deposits of gold, silver, lead, kaolin, etc., in an old abandoned mine in Armor's Gap, close to Bellefonte, have been circulating in the daily papers. The Pittsburgh Times sizes the story up in the following appropriate style:

"Every once in a while a story comes down from Centre County telling of the discovery of the lost mines of the aborigines, and the treasure that the finder unearths in his imagination is richer than the land of Ophir. And is most cheering, each time the mine is located anew it comes to the front with new resources. The last appearance of the modern Potosi as described by a correspondent, says that some startling discoveries have been made. Not far below the surface if a vein of lead to feet thick assaying over 70 per cent. Under this is a vein of kaolin and below that a paying deposit of yellow and white ochre. When this much had been unearthed—along came the inevitable Western miner who also pointed out the unerring veins of gold and silver which will assay a profitable figure.

Some folks would think a property like this valuable enough but it is a mere bagatelle to what might be found if Centre County were properly searched. No doubt above the lead vein is a potato lode that might assay 150 bushels to the acre and which if planted regularly each spring would prove inexhaustible. Over the potato tops, perhaps, might be observed an outcropping of apple blossoms which is rather promising when found in the Centre county ridges.

"And there are prospectors in that county who have located fishing worm diggings, and woodchuck holes in close proximity to other deposits. No doubt a vein of ginseng is hidden away in the cool gulches, and ginseng is worth $4 a pound. Outcroppings of spring onions will be found by the active prospector up that way, indications of roast beef and sirloin steak have been noticed on some of the hills, and along the streams. All Centre county wants is development."

Farm Sold.

Benj. Gentzel sold his farm in Spring Twp., to John Rishel, of Benner township, for $8,400, and will make a delightful home for Mr. Rishel's son Al, who has now given up the idea of going into the livery business in Philipsburg. The sale covers 118 acres of farm land and also acres of mountain land. This is considered one of the most desirable properties in this valley.

—The Muslin Sale, at Aikens store, is attracting attention this week. It is important for the ladies to take note of this.

RECENT DEATHS.

ELLIS ASKEY:—Ellis Askey, one of the oldest residents of Ridott, Stephenson county, Ill., died Wednesday, Jan. 17, 1900, at 10 o'clock. His age was over 83 years. The cause of his death was rheumatism. Ellis Askey was born near Howard in Bald Eagle township, Centre county, Pa., Oct 6, 1816; died at Ridott, Stephenson county, Ill., Jan. 17, 1900. He was married in Centre county, Pa., to Miss Eliza Fox, Nov. 7, 1844. She died at their home in Ridott, Ill., on June 6, 1892. Their children, to wit: Lizzie, widow of Herman Shellenberger, Red Oak, Iowa; John T., Iowa; P. M. and Albert Askey, of Ridott, Ill.; Mary, wife of William Beard, Maywood, Ill. Two children, Nelson and Orpha, died in infancy. One sister survives, Mrs. Pietcher, still living at Mount Eagle, Pa. Ellis Askey moved to Stephenson county in 1849, located upon his farm south of the village of Ridott, now occupied by his son, F. M. Askey. His ancestry—he comes of rugged Scotch-Irish revolutionary ancestry, paternal and maternal—whose history is traced in the annals of the earliest settlements of central Pennsylvania.

BENJAMIN AIKEY:—Benjamin Aikey was born in Union county, April 26th, A. D. 1820; was married to Catharine Pickle; moved to Centre county about fifty-one years ago where he remained till the day of his death, Saturday, February 3rd, 1900. His wife died some years ago and his surviving children are: three sons—Louis, William and Theodore; four daughters—Mrs. Jane Barnhart, Mrs. Fannie Shultz, Mrs. Mary Gregg and Mrs. Rachel Glenn, one son and one daughter are dead. Deceased was a man of few words, a good neighbor and peaceable citizen; and was given to meditation and reading, and prayer, especially during his last years. He passed peacefully away trusting in God as his Savior and friend. Age 79 years, 9 months and 5 days. His remains were buried on the 6th inst. in the cemetery near Curtin. The surviving children and grandchildren share our condolence.

MARGARET COONEY:—Youngest daughter of Lawrence Cooney, of this place, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Dillon, in Bradock, on Wednesday 7th, after an extended illness with consumption. Miss Cooney was a native of this place and about thirty years of age. She is survived by her father, three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Bridget Dillon, Mrs. Mary Fox, Mrs. Alice Brennan, Lawrence, Michael and Martin. Interment last Friday in the Catholic cemetery.

HENRY BANEV:—A former well known citizen of this place, but who of late has resided with relatives in Atlantic City, died in that place Wednesday 7th, at the advanced age of ninety one years. Death was due to old age. He is survived by several children. The remains arrived here on Saturday morning. Interment in the Union cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM MCKAN:—Died at her home in Mackeyville, last Friday morning, with dropsy. She had been a resident of that place for forty years and was thirty years a member of the Disciple church. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. Dainel Ulrich and Mrs. Uriah Reifnyder, of Millheim, and of Emanuel Bower, of near Aaronsburg.

MRS. EDWARD MARSHALL:—Mrs. Edward Marshall died at her home near Fillmore, Wednesday, at 1 a. m. She had been an invalid for over a year with consumption. Age about 51 years. She is survived by a husband and seven children—three sons and four daughters. Funeral, Friday morning; interment at Meyers cemetery.

SAMUEL MCGONIGAL:—Of Pottersdale, near Kärthaus, died suddenly Thursday night at his home aged about 52 years. He leaves a wife and five children and a large circle of relatives.

The disguise of the wolf in sheep's clothing is likely to be far-fetched.

The man who puts his trust in a widow will never suffer through Miss placed confidence.

BORO ELECTION.

The indications now are that W. Harrison Walker, Esq., will be the next Burgess of Bellefonte. He seems to be in close touch with the people, is popular, they have confidence in him being able to officiate without outside parties dictating his course. He has no strings tied to him.

H. S. Taylor will simply have a grand sweep; the taxpayers want him continued as taxcollector.

For Overseer of the Poor there is uncertainty. Stewart Brouse showed that he is a politician by defeating James Houser and Samuel Gault, for the nomination, in their own wards. He is a wire-puller, and many conservative people are not satisfied that he is suited for handling the poor funds of this town. Daniel Eberhart is a poor politician, not much of a schemer, but he made an honest upright Overseer of the Poor the past three years. He is past the age where he can follow his trade and earn a living by manual labor; this office would help him support himself and family. He was a hard-working man all his life. There are a great many people who look on this question in the same way. Before you vote for Poor Overseer, think it over.

GLEE AND MANDOLIN CLUB.

As announced last week, the Franklin & Marshall Glee and Mandolin Club will give an entertainment in Garman's opera house, on Wednesday evening, February 21st. The organization is composed of twenty-two well-trained musicians, under the leadership of Charles M. Guthrie, who is well known in this town, and who has the reputation of being an accomplished musician. The soloists of the club are Messrs. Guthrie, Creamer and Kauffman. These three gentlemen appeared as soloists last year in the entertainment given by the quartette connected with this organization. Our people will remember the excellent entertainment this quartette furnished in the court house last winter and we can assure all that the entertainment to be given on the 21st by the full club will be far superior to that of last year. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Reformed church. Tickets are on sale now; reserved tickets 50 cents. Don't fail to secure your tickets in good time.

County S. S. Convention.

The next annual county Sunday school convention, will be held in Center Hall, on Tuesday, March 20. The Sunday schools of the town having united in a hearty invitation. Rev. Chas. Roads, D. D., our general and efficient State Secretary and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, Supt. of primary work, who in her field has few equals, will be present the entire day. Pastors, superintendents and workers will find it helpful. We would like to see each school represented with two delegates, pastor, superintendent, primary superintendent and as many others as possible.

For further information, programmes, etc., send name and address to the county president.

Pastor A. G. MEYERS, Philipsburg, Pa.

Married at Elmira.

Friday's Lock Haven Democrat says: For sometime Miss Sarah T. Wolfe, of Madisonburg, has been residing in this city. She was courted by a young gentleman from her home by the name of K. A. Miller. The young couple hearing of the opposition of the sweetheart's parents of their union, determined to take the matter in their own hands. Accordingly Monday morning they left for Elmira where they were married by Rev. Mr. DeCamp, pastor of a Presbyterian church, in that city. The newly married couple returned to Lock Haven that night. The young wife will remain here for a short time, while her husband, who is working in Williamsport, will get things together to go to housekeeping.

Engine Wrecked.

Thursday morning of last week engine No. 2, on the C.R.R. of Pa., was wrecked west of the summit, opposite the residence of Harrison Kline, in Spring twp. It was coming to Bellefonte and in going over the curve it very suddenly went off the track and down an embankment of about ten feet, toppling over. A ten-inch tree was cut off that stood in its course. The cab was smashed and other parts were dismantled. Engineer Jos. Cushing had his leg broken, fireman Wm. Royer was bruised, Wm. Daley and Mr. Stanley, brakemen, also on the engine, were not hurt. The engine was put on the track Saturday and will require few repairs only. Plowing up the soft mud saved it.

Religious Convass.

The plan by which Bellefonte is to be canvassed to ascertain its religious status has been completed and the work is to be done on the 20th inst. The town has been districted and a board of canvassers appointed representing all the Protestant churches of the town. We have no doubt that so praiseworthy an object, in the hands of the pastors and Sunday School superintendents, will meet with the hearty co-operation of all our people, and assist the worthy canvassers in their noble efforts.

When your shoes are about worn out, you may then to the cobbler's as a "last" resort.

A PHILIPPINE LETTER.

Several years ago Lepo Bronwell moved from Milesburg, this county, to Plano, Kendall Co., Ill. He recently received a letter from his son, now in the Philippine campaign from which the following extracts are made:

TAVUG, P. I., November 26, 1899. DEAR FOLKS:—We are now up in the mountains giving "Aggie" a hot chase. If I were to be seen in some towns in the states in my present condition I would be arrested for a vagabond. I have but one suit of clothes, and when I wash them I have to hide behind a bush. I have one pair of shoes, and the toes of them are out. The Lord knows where I will get another pair, for things look pretty tight just now, transportation being almost impossible. All we get to eat is what we capture from the natives, which is chiefly rice. For meat we bring in a small buffalo. We have lots of cigars, and the very finest at that.

In our march we passed through roads where the mud was actually waist deep. We had to dismount and lead our horses along the side of the road, then turn with about a hundred men, attach a long rope to the escort wagons and bull carts and pull them through, a distance of a mile. In some places a man would get stuck and it would be impossible to get out alone; all he had to do was keep a tight grip on the rope. We have had to swim rivers where both men and horses were drowned. In one river we lost one lieutenant, three privates and two horses, and others had narrow escapes. The water is very swift, and the current carries them away like straw fire.

It seems almost impossible to get a "scrap" out of the insurgents up here any more, but on the south line they are doing considerable fighting. The American troops have completely surprised the rebel forces by their past movements. They are chasing them like the wind from town to town. It is hard to tell how long this will continue. The last we heard of the advance guard, they were ten miles behind "Aggie," with General Young at their head.

This island is not as small as some people have an idea it is. It is over 400 miles long and over 200 miles wide. It is as large as all the other islands put together, or almost as large as England and Ireland together. There is a population of about twenty million people on this island, so you may form some conclusion of the immense army they could raise by drafting.

There have been times when we sat in the saddle and marched one night and nearly two days. They are losing lots of horses here, mostly large ones. Our ponies seem to stand it pretty well. When one gives out we turn him loose. The large horses can't stand the forest march.

A. BRONWELL, Address, Manila, P. I. Troop I, Fourth Cavalry.

FOR LOCAL APPLICATION

Cardinal Gibbons preached at the Cathedral in Baltimore recently on "The Christian Woman." He said woman is indebted to the Christian religion for the elevated station she enjoys in social and family life. In pagan countries she had no rights, even in our country she is too often the victim of pernicious principles and of moral degradation. The Cardinal said: "I regard woman's rights women and society leaders in the higher walks of life as the worst enemies of the female sex. They rob women of all that is amiable and gentle, tender and attractive; they rob her of her innate grace of character, and give her nothing in return but masculine boldness and brazen effrontery."

NEVER PREACH ON RESPONSIBILITY.

"They are habitually preaching about woman's rights and prerogatives, and have not a word to say about her duties and responsibilities. They withdraw her from those sacred obligations which properly belong to her sex, and fill her with ambition to usurp position for which neither God nor nature ever intended her."

"Under the influence of such teachers we find woman, especially in higher circles, neglecting the household duties, gadding about, never at peace unless she is in perpetual motion, never at ease unless she is in a state of morbid excitement. She never feels at home except when she is abroad."

DOMESTIC LIFE IRKSOME.

"When she is at home the home is irksome to her. She chafes and frets under the restraint and responsibility of domestic life. Her heart is abroad. It is exalting in imagination, in some social triumph, or revelling in some scene of gayety and dissipation. Her afflicted husband comes home to find it empty or occupied by a woman whose heart is void of affection for him. She is ill at ease; then arise disputes, quarrels, recrimination, estrangements and the last act in the drama is often divorce."

WOMEN CAUSE OF DOMESTIC WRECK.

"I speak the sober truth when I affirm that for the wrecks of families in our country woman has a large share of the responsibility. The remedy for this is found in the teaching of Christ."

"The woman finds the charter of her rights and dignity in the Gospel. The Catholic Church, following the epistles of St. Paul, proclaims woman to be the peer of man. But it is chiefly by vindicating the sanctity of the marriage bond that the Church has vindicated the dignity of the female sex."

Rev. Jones Dismissed.

Huntingdon presbytery met at Millington January 25 and dismissed Rev. D. E. Jones, of Bellefonte, to the presbytery of Newark, N. J. The pastoral relations between Rev. A. N. Raven and the Millington congregation were dissolved. Mr. Raven was too ill to go to church and presbytery adjourned to the parsonage, where the business was transacted.

WRONG CALCULATIONS.

Our good friend Henry Musser gave us the following cruel dig in the ribs, in last week's Gazette:

A CARD.

ED. GAZETTE:—The statement in last week's Centre Democrat that I had expended the sum of fifty dollars for stationery and supplies for the office of justice of the peace is about as close to the mark as were that editor's estimates of the big Democratic majorities in the campaign of 1896. Respectfully, W. H. MUSSER, Bellefonte, Pa.

If our estimate of his expenditures was too high, we only repeated what Bro. Musser's political master, Ed. Chambers, Esq., was using as an argument, in his futile effort to save Musser at the primaries.

Yes, Henry, we missed the mark in 1896, and we can sympathise with you; you were badly ripped up on the back in monkeying with Hastings' "buzz-saw." Do you realize that you are a political corpse?

Boro and Township Auditors.

In 1879 an act was passed that the term of township officers should begin on the first Monday of March, and that township auditors shall meet on the second Monday of March to audit accounts except school directors and school treasurers. In 1883 a similar act was passed relating to borough officers and auditors. So the time for township and borough auditors to meet to settle these accounts is on the second Monday of each year.

It isn't always wise to tell all you know, but it isn't always wise to know all you tell.

If the clock wanted you to let it go, it would not say "Unhand me!"

"Actions of the Just Smell Sweet."

The fragrance of life is vigor and strength, neither of which can be found in a person whose blood is impure, and whose every breath speaks of internal troubles. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, gives a good appetite and makes the weak strong.

Run Down—"My husband was run down in health and all tired out. Those excellent medicines, Hood's Pills and Sarsaparilla, built him up again." Mrs. H. L. Mowry, Towanda, Pa.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

How Are Those Shoes Wearing?

Perhaps you are one of the very large number of persons who bought shoes at this store within the last few months. If you are, the question we ask above applies to you.

We are interested in every pair of our shoes that are in service. Our interest never ceases while the shoes "live."

We want to know just how the shoes we sell wear. If any make that we handle isn't up to the mark, we are just as eager to know it as anyone could be—and if you don't tell us how the shoes wear we can never know whether our shoemakers are living up to their contracts or not.
