

FOUND THE GOLD AND DIED.

Solitary Ranchman's Life-long Search for Treasure.

FAMOUS BANDITS' BOOTY

The Reynolds Brothers of Civil War Fame Headed the Outlaws, Who Rode Through the Southwest Leaving a Trail of Blood and Ruin.

After a lifetime spent in fruitless search for gold, the most famous hermit in Colorado has passed away.

At the very last he had found, but too late, the treasure he sought, but too frail to survie the shock of his discovery the old man died before he was even able to tell the secret hiding place that thirty years' search had at last revealed to him.

The story of the hidden treasure is famous throughout the Rockies.

Jim and John Reynolds gathered together in 1863 a band of two hundred daring men and marched through Texas and New Mexico. They carried the Confederate flag, and boasted that they would wrest Colorado from the Union or waste its lands with warfare.

The attempt to capture the State failed, but the threat to leave a trail of blood behind them was carried out. Once they held up a stage coach, killed the driver and passengers, and escaped with a rich haul of gold and nuggets.

A few weeks later they overtook a wagon train. They shot the horses, massacred the passengers, and looted the stage of more than $60,000.

At this time they learned that they were being hotly pursued by troops from Denver under Colonel Chivington.

Fearing to keep the immense treasure longer in their possession, they sought a massive peak now known as the Lion's Head, and at dead of night, with gloomy brows and ghostly whispers, they buried the vast treasure.

The cave was marked by sticking a bowie knife in a pine tree, breaking off the handle, and leaving the blade pointing to the mouth of the cave.

Upon the face of a high cliff, with towering walls of granite upon one side, and a deep and dark abyss upon the other, the bandits were at last brought to bay.

Escape was impossible. There was a fierce struggle, but a short one. The bandits were lined up with their backs to the edge of the cliff, their arms bound behind them, and one by one were shot in the breast, while the lifeless bodies fell down, down, down into the abyss below.

(John Reynolds fell. The soldiers, thinking him dead, let him lie.)

Of all the miners who tried to locate the gold, none succeeded. But early in the 'seventies Anton Glasmann took up a claim near the head waters of Elk Creek, and in the shadow of the Lion's Head built himself a cabin.

Then he became a hermit. Not many days ago the old hermit came into the little village of Pine Grove, Col., and in great excitement, but with more rationality than he had displayed for years, showed nuggets and gold coins of great value, and told the villagers that he had at last found the treasure.

That same evening he took the train for Denver, and early the next morning was upon the streets inquiring his way to a notary office. His queer, bent form, his battered sombrero and muffled throat, his peerless eyes and shuffling gait, attracted much attention. Some one led him to the office of a notary public. The old man seemed spent and weary. He sank into a chair and began eagerly to try to pour out an incoherent story.

There was a pause, a struggle, the gray head sunk forward upon the tired breast, and the quest for treasure was ended. Anton Glasmann was dead with his secret upon his lips.

FATHER OF 41 CHILDREN.

First Wife Bore Him 15, Second Wife 12, Third Wife 14.

Levi Bresson, an old Frenchman of North Foster, R. I., recently celebrated the birth of his forty-first child—a boy of ten pounds. It was born to his third wife, who is the mother of fourteen. His first wife bore him fifteen children and his second wife twelve. Thirty-two of the children are still living, or were up to a few months ago, when the father last heard of them, when the father last heard from them. He kept the names of his grandchildren until they numbered over one hundred, and then gave up the record.

Bresson ran away to this country from Canada to marry his first wife, and settled in Connecticut. She presented him with triplets within the first year, and with twins the next, and they all lived. In 1862 Bresson went to the war. The family commenced to grow again as soon as peace was restored, and has been growing ever since.

After the death of his first wife Bresson married a neighboring farmer's daughter, who in her lifetime three bore him twins, in addition to six single babies. All of his children were remarkably healthy. At one time he had sixteen down with the measles at once. When he moved here from across the Connecticut line a few years ago the authorities thought an orphan asylum was coming to town.

INDIAN CANNIBAL JAILED.

Brings to Light a Horrible Custom in the Northwest.

MAN-EATING FRATERNITY

Hideous Rites Practised as a Spring Festival—In Ancient Times a Young Squaw Was Always Sacrificed for the Occasion.

An Indian cannibal has been sent to jail in Vancouver. His crime was part of an ancient rite. He was an initiate of the Ha-mattsa, an Indian secret fraternity which demands of its members that they acquire a taste for human flesh.

One of the prisoners was a well-known halfbreed named George Hunt. He had charge of a band of Indians exhibited at the World's Fair, and he acted as interpreter for Dr. Franz Boas, of the Museum of Natural History, New York, when the latter was in Vancouver collecting data for his important work on Indian customs, now filed at the Smithsonian Institution.

There was insufficient evidence for the conviction of Hunt, and the same is true of all the defendants save one. He was convicted of having devoured a portion of the body of a squaw. It is only among a few of the far northern and inland tribes, remote from civilization and stubborn in their resistance to missionary effort, that the horrible rites of the Ha-mattsa, or flesh-eaters, survive.

Every Spring the Ha-mattsa holds its initiation ceremonies for new candidates, accompanied by feasting and dancing and other wild orgies. The chief purpose of the initiation is to create in the aspirant the taste for human flesh.

Many curious facts about the cannibal fraternity are known. For initiation into the Ha-mattsa the novice must go and live four or five weeks in the forest, seeing no one and eating no food.

At the end of his banishment his "spirit" appears in the shape of some animal, which he at once kills and devours raw, whereby he is supposed to imbibe its courage and strength, which thereafter dwells in him.

He returns to the forest adorned with a headdress of cedar bark, dyed red, which is one of the emblems of the flesh-eating fraternity, and is worn by him during the progress of the initiation. He is met by a band of the secret brotherhood, who escort him to the village with much ceremony.

Blood Troubles: Cancer, Scrofula, Old Sores, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Chronic Ulcers.

As the blood contains all the elements necessary to sustain life, it is important that it be kept free of all impurities, or it becomes a source of disease, poisoning instead of nourishing the body, and loss of health is sure to follow. Some poisons enter the blood from without, through the skin by absorption, or inoculation; others from within, as when waste products accumulate in the system and ferment, allowing disease germs to develop and be taken into the circulation. While all blood troubles have one common origin, each has some peculiarity to distinguish it from the other. Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema and other blood diseases can be distinguished by a certain sore, ulcer, eruption or inflammation appearing on the skin. Every blood disease shows sooner or later on the outside and on the weakest part of the body, or where it finds the least resistance. Many mistake the sore or outward sign for the real disease, and attempt a cure by the use of salves, liniments and other external applications. Valuable time is lost and no permanent benefit derived from such treatment.

BLOOD TROUBLES REQUIRE BLOOD REMEDIES; the poison must be completely and permanently eradicated—the blood reinforced, purified and cleansed, or the disease goes deeper and saps the very life. Mercury, potash and arsenic, the treatment usually prescribed in this class of diseases, are violent poisons, even when taken in small doses—never cure, but do much harm by adding another poison to the already overburdened, diseased blood. S. S. S. Nature's own remedy, made of roots and herbs, attacks the disease in the blood, antitoxins and forces out all impurities, makes weak, thin blood rich, strong and healthy, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only one that can reach deep-seated blood troubles. A record of 50 years of successful cures proves it to be a reliable, unfailing specific for all blood and skin troubles.

Free Medical Treatment.—Our Medical Department is in charge of skilled physicians, who have made blood and skin diseases a life study, so if you have Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Eczema, an Old Sore or Ulcer, or any similar blood trouble, write them fully for advice about your case. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence. We make no charge for this service. Book on blood and skin diseases free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

A VALUABLE PUBLICATION.

The Pennsylvania Railroad 1900 Summer Excursion Route Book.

On June 1 the Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will publish the 1900 edition of its Summer Excursion Route Book. This work is designed to provide the public with descriptive notes of the principal Summer resorts of Eastern America, with the best routes for reaching them, and the rates of fare. It contains all the principal seashore and mountain resorts of the East, and over seventeen hundred different routes or combinations of routes. The book has been compiled with the greatest care, and altogether is the most complete and comprehensive handbook of summer travel ever offered to the public.

The cover is handsome and striking, printed in colors, and the book contains several maps, presenting the exact routes over which tickets are sold. The book is profusely illustrated, with fine half-tone cuts of scenery at the various resorts and along the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On and after June 1 this very interesting book may be procured at any Pennsylvania Railroad ticket office at the nominal price of ten cents, or, upon application to the general office, Broad Street Station, by mail for twenty cents.

Now is The Time!

For The Treatment of Catarrh, Deafness & Air Passages, Asthma, Bronchitis, Etc.

NOW IS THE TIME For treatment of Catarrh, Deafness and the Air Passages, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Etc. One month of Dr. Stites' New Treatment for Catarrh and Deafness is worth two months of the most careful treatment of any other treatment, and if all who suffer from Catarrh were wise enough to devote a little time to the new treatment as only is given by Dr. Stites, there would soon be few cases of Catarrh to treat. Deafness would become rare, Head Noises a curiosity, and Chron. Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption would be reduced to a minimum. Hence we can only repeat:

NOW IS THE TIME. Catarrh of the Head, Nose and Throat. Absolutely cured, and the poisons of the disease completely eliminated from the system by the new and better treatment administered by Dr. Stites. No injurious medication, no painful operative treatment, no a. e. d. sprays, no caustic burnings, no experimenting.

Dr. J. K. STITES, Nose, Ear, Throat and Lung Scientist, No. 21 North Allegheny Street, Bellefonte, Pa. HOME TESTIMONIALS.

A Bad Case of Gastric Catarrh and what Dr. Stites has Done for Her.

I have been a sufferer for eight years from Gastric Catarrh and stomach trouble. Could get no relief until I went to Dr. Stites, and he has done me so much good that I take pleasure in recommending him to all. Respectfully, MRS. ANNIE KAMMERER, Bellefonte, Pa.

Wonderful Cure Made by the New Specialist, Dr. Stites, after Other Doctors had Failed.

I had suffered for some time with a growth in my right ear, which gave rise to ringing and buzzing noises, and I gradually became hard of hearing. I became disgusted with the treatment I got from other doctors; they didn't do me any good. I consulted to try Dr. Stites and I am glad I did. The growth has entirely disappeared under his New Treatment, also those ringing and buzzing noises, and I now hear as well as I ever did. MRS. MARY KELLY, Bellefonte, Pa.

Remarkable Results Obtained During Only One Month of Dr. Stites' New Treatment.

I have had a bad case of catarrh and bronchitis for some time, was always taking cold and had to hawk and spit most of the time, then pains in the chest set in and at last a bad cough which got so bad that I coughed incessantly. I tried ever so many things, but nothing did good. In fact, I got worse so I thought I would try Dr. Stites. And now, after only a few weeks under his New Treatment
